BURLINGTON LADY INJURED

MISS PINK COWEN SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL IN AUTO-MOBILE ACCIDENT HERE SUNDAY.

Miss Pink Cowen, 72, of Burlington suffered a semi-fracture of the skull and a fractured collar bone when she was struck by a car in Burlington Sunday afternoon.

According to reports, Miss Cowen was starting across the road, and evidently did not see the car approaching. Before the driver, Frances Southern, Burlington, could bring the car to a stop, she was struck, the car knocking her down. The cause of the accident was due to the slippery condition of the road.

She was removed to the office of Dr. M. A. Yelton, for examination, and then rushed to Christ Hospital, Cincinnati by Chambers & Grubbs ambulance.

Reports received here Wednesday morning stated that "Miss Pink" as she was known by everyone, wish for her a speedy recovery.

County Court In Session Monday

County court was in session Monday (New Year's Day) with very little business on docket. Two wills were probated and three others offered for probate, but held over for a short time.

The will of Edwood Warner naming Hazel Vines, a cousin, as sole beneficiary to his estate of approximately $4,000.00 and the will of Hubert Gaines, naming his wife to receive his entire estate, were probated. The estate of Mr. Gaines' will was not estimated. Edward Sterling, Covington, who has been held in jail here since his conviction in the last term of court for obtaining money and property under false pretense, was removed to La Grange Wednesday of last week to serve his sentence.

Farmers, Hunters Urged To Feed Birds

Charles W. Riley, President of the Boone County Game and Fish Protective Association, stated Wednesday that birds in Boone County should be fed by hunters and farmers rather than hunted during the prevailing cold weather. He stated that if birds are scattered during such weather as we have had in the past few days they will freeze, thereby depleting our supply of birds for next hunting season. He asks that all hunters and farmers cooperate in feeding birds during the cold weather.

There are lots of folks shining in society, due to a high shine on blue serge.

SCHOOLS CLOSED UNTIL JANUARY 8

HIGHWAYS SAID TO BE UNSAFE FOR TRANSPORTATION OF CHILDREN TO AND FROM SCHOOL.

School children in Boone County are enjoying an extended Christmas vacation this year, as schools will not open until January 8th, due to the unsafe condition of all highways in the county.

D. H. Norris, Superintendent said Tuesday, that a change is expected in weather conditions before Monday and the highways freed of ice and snow. School will get underway January 8th unless the weather remains cold enough to cause the roads to remain in their present condition.

Several cases of scarlet fever have been reported in some of the school. However, none will be closed on account of the disease unless it continues to spread.

BURLINGTON F. T. A.
The regular meeting of the local F. T. A. will be held at the school the first Tuesday night after our school re-opens at 7 o'clock. Members are urged to attend, and we also wish to invite anyone who might be interested in our school to attend our meetings.

CRITTENDEN MAN SAYS RECORDED ADS. PAY

B. D. Adams, of Crittenden placed an advertisement in our classified column recently, and few days after the advertisement appeared, we received the following note from Mr. Adams:

"Those two bull calves I had advertised in last week's Recorder have been sold, and they went to a Boone County man. I always sell when I advertise in the Boone County Recorder."

Mr. Adams is a former resident of this county, being born and reared in the Hathaway neighborhood.

Temperature Drops To Zero In County

Farmers in Boone County were kept busy during the past few days feeding stock and making arrangements for water supplies. All creeks and ponds in the county were frozen solid, and many farmers were compelled to have water hauled for their stock.

Reports from two above to two below zero were received here Tuesday morning. Wednesday morning the mercury fell to the zero mark.

According to Weather Bureau officials New Year's Day was the coldest since 1928, when the high temperature was 6 degrees and the low 3 degrees below zero.

Hunters Must Purchase 1940 License

The hunter's attention is called, by Major James Brown, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, to the fact that after December 31, the 1939 hunting license will be out of date and before anyone can legally hunt during the new year, the 1940 hunting license must be purchased.

The new hunting and fishing licenses are now in the hands of county clerks and other places where game and fish licenses are handled and sold.

All persons are urged to retain their license holder and to use it with the new licenses that they buy. The container, in numbers sufficient to take care of the two hundred thousand or more hunters and fishermen, run into quite a bit of money. By saving the old container, the sportsman will be saving the Division money, and this money saved can be used in some other manner for the re-stocking of streams with fish or the fight with wildlife, thereby helping the sportsman.

The open season on rabbits and Bob White quail will extend thru January 9, 1940, so all hunters are requested to get their new license in order to enjoy the last nine days of the present hunting season, which has been one of the best in the history of this state.

Elsmere Youth Loses Arm In Hunting Accident

Edward Napier, 26, of Elsmere, lost his left arm as the result of a hunting accident last week. The hunter was injured when the shotgun he was carrying accidentally discharged.

On account of the first Monday in January being a legal holiday the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Peoples Deposit Bank was held on Wednesday, January 3rd. After the meeting adjourned the members of the board and employees of the bank were entertained with a turkey dinner at the home of the Cashier, A. B. Renaker.

James Vice Recommended For Ministry Of Church

On Thursday afternoon, December 28, a group of pastors and laymen assembled at the Burlington Baptist Church for the purpose of examining Bro. James Vice for the gospel ministry, after an hour and a half of examining, the council voted unanimously to recommend him to the church.

At the evening hour the ordination services were held. Rev. Cline L. Vice of the Mt. Moriah Baptist Church, Boston, Ky., delivered the ordination sermon, Rev. R. L. Lee, pastor of the local Baptist Church offered the ordination prayer, Rev. Charles Harmon of Hoooves, Ohio, delivered the charge and Rev. Leo Drake, pastor of the Bullittsburg and San Run Baptist churches, presented Bro. Vice with a Bible as a gift from the church.

J. P. BROTHERS NAMED CHM'N.

OF BOONE COUNTY INFANTILE PARALYSIS CAMPAIGN—COMMUNITY CHAIRMEN NAMED BY BROTHERS.

J. P. Brothers, of Limaburg has been appointed chairman for Boone County in the 1940 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign.

In accepting the appointment, Mr. Brothers announced the appointment of the following community chairmen for the county: Sherman Burcham, Newton Sullivan, Elmer Goodridge, Mrs. Fannie Scott, Clinton Creek, Miss Lizzie Vest, Mrs. Mahan, Thomas Huff, Miss Lizzie Miller, Mrs. Ollie Kottmeyer.

The county chairman was named by Arthur Carpenter, Knoxville, Tenn., regional director of the Committee for the Celebration of the President's Birthday.

"This is part of a national campaign carried on annually to raise money for combating this dread disease which attacks without warning, usually upon children," the county chairman said. "It will reach its height during January, and will conclude with the celebration on Jan. 30, 1940, of the birthday of President Roosevelt, who is a former victim of the disease."

"The campaign plans vary in different communities, but in general will include a 'March of Dimes' campaign, a 'March of Spots' and various parties and special events."

Last year this county raised $84.80 in the campaign. This year, Mr. Brothers said, the tentative county quota has been fixed at $135.00.

Hebron Lodge No. 757 ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

The Hebron Masonic Lodge No. 757 met on Wednesday, December 27th for the annual St. John's Day meeting, at which time the officers for the ensuing year were elected.

The new officers for 1940 are as follows: Robert Reimer, Senior Warden; Wilford Selkman, Junior Warden; Elijah Stephens, Secretary; Chas. W. Riley, Treasurer; W. C. Stephens, Senior Deacon; E. E. Stephens, Junior Deacon; B. F. Hossman, Tyler; Robert Reimer, and Edgar Goodridge, Stewards. The election of officers was held at the lodge hall at 3:00 p. m. followed by a delightful banquet served at the school dining room at 6:00 p. m. for all members and families. Installation services were held following the banquet.

Boone Poultrymen Plan Winter Meeting

Boone County poultrymen are planning for their annual one-day winter poultry school to be held at Burlington during the week of January 22nd, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The exact date of the meeting will be announced next week.

The services of Jim Humphrey, poultry specialist and Dr. T. P. Polk have been secured as speakers on the program. Plans are also being made for several leading poultrymen to take part in the discussions. The committee in charge of plans for the meeting is composed of Grant Maddox, Mrs. Cud Sullivan and Lucy Lee Grant.

Soil-Building To Be Discussed At Meeting In Independence Jan. 5

Soil-building practices that are proving most profitable for Kentucky and on which payment will be made under the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program will be discussed in a district meeting at 9:30 a. m. at the County Agent's Office in Independence, on Friday, January 5th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The soils crop field agents of the College of Agriculture and A. A. Bond workers will speak on the program. The County A. C. P. committee and community-committee chairmen have been requested to attend this meeting. All other community and farmers who are interested are invited to attend. The meeting should close around 3:30 p. m.

Well-known Coca-Cola Salesman Gets Trophy

Widely known in both Northern Kentucky and Northwestern Ohio, John M. Lea, 3512 Wabash Avenue, Cincinnati is the current winner of the "Masburn Trophy." The silver cup is given by W. O. Masburn, Jr., president of the Coca-Cola Bottling Works Company, Cincinnati for the sales representative making the best period record. Lea serves a Northern Kentucky route extending from Covington southward along the Dixie Highway to Dry Ridge.

Gayety Theater News

Fri. & Sat.—"Timber Stampede." Sunday and Monday—"Blondie Brings Up Baby." Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday Jan. 9, 10, 11—"Beau Geste."

George O'Brien is starred in "Timber Stampede" supported by Chill Wills and Marjorie Reynolds, which will be shown at the Gayety Friday and Saturday. O'Brien fights the robber lumber barons in this big western thriller. Also Chapter 8—"Dick Tracy's G-Men."

Once a Bumstead—always in trouble! "Blondie" and her family prove it. "Blondie" is "Blondie" meets the "Boss" and in "Blondie Takes a Vacation." Coming to the Gayety Theatre is the latest in the hilarious series of Columbia comedies, "Blondie Brings Up Baby." This new Blondie film has been hailed as the funniest of the hectic film to date. If advance accounts of the story are to be considered, and fond memories of the previous performances are to be recalled, there can be little doubt as to the intrinsic merit of the preview commences!

Action of "Blondie Brings Up Baby" begins with Blondie's purchase of a twelve-volume encyclopedia on child training. To the consternation of Dagwood, Baby begins bawling and their endearing little neighbor, Alvin, she proceeds to regulate Baby Dimples' life in accordance with the dictates of the books. Complications mount with amazing rapidity and reach the peak of hilarity with a kidnapping scene.

D. R. Blythe Loses Valuable Bird Dog

D. R. Blythe, local bird dog breeder and trainer lost his most valued dog last week. "Old Dog" as he was known to all the hunters was an English Setter, and those who had the pleasure of hunting behind "Old Dog" were proud in their praise as to his worth as a bird. Although he was 10 years old, he never missed a season, and was hunted with younger dogs the greater part of time. He was always ready to go to the field at his master's call.

According to his owner D. R. Blythe, he had been ill only a few days, and the cause of his death was undetermined. The Cocker Spaniel of Elmer Kirkpatrick, reported to have been infected with rabies was killed last week. The dog's head was sent away for analysis, but as we go to press, no report has been received on the specimen.

All persons owning dogs should use every precaution, and any dog showing signs of rabies should be confined immediately.

Farm Record Service Offered Local Farmers

Farmers who are interested in keeping complete farm account records as a basis for making more money from their farms are offered a farm account service by the College of Agriculture, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. From 15 to 25 farmers in the county have received this service during each of the past thirteen years.

Farmers cooperating in this project are offered a strictly confidential service. Those keeping records throughout the year receive a business analysis of their farm enterprise. The service is rendered by the farm management department of the college free of charge. Those cooperating in the project must purchase their first farm record book at a cost of 15 cents, but after completing their first year's record keeping, they receive additional books free.

Those interested in this project should receive their farm account record book from Mr. Ernest J. Neisius of the farm management department, who will be at the County Agent's office in Burlington, on Monday, January 8th. Those who want farm inventory blanks previous to Monday may receive them at the county office on request.

BURLINGTON MAN ANSWERS CALL

B. B. GRANT WAS LIFE-LONG RESIDENT OF BOONE COUNTY—FUNERAL SERVICES HELD DECEMBER 27TH.

Benjamin Bartlett Grant, son of the late William and Jane Willis Grant, was born near Petersburg Boone County, December 9th, 1859. He passed away December 25th, 1939, at the age of 80 years and 16 days.

He is the last of a family of seven brothers and two sisters. He was united in marriage to Ida May Barrott, March 10, 1887. To this union were born three children, a daughter, Edna, who died in infancy, two sons, Robert E. and Chester, both of Boone County. He is also survived by ten grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

He united with the Bullittsburg Baptist Church more than fifty years ago and remained a member of that church until his death. He spent his entire life farming in Boone County, with the exception of the past 13 years, having retired in 1927. He then moved to Burlington, where he spent the remainder of his life. He was a devoted husband and father, a Christian gentleman and a loyal citizen.

He will be greatly missed by his wife, children and a host of other relatives and friends. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday, December 27th at the Bullittsburg Baptist Church, with Rev. Leo Drake officiating. Burial was in Petersburg cemetery. Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

COMPLIMENTING THE FINNS

The people of Finland ought to appreciate the compliments that are paid them by Russian writers, one of whom referred to them as "perfidious, shrewd, treacherous and vicious."

The nation, or people, who can earn such epithets from the communist rules of Russia, deserve special commendation from the civilized peoples of the world.

We do not know how long it will last, but the truth of the matter is that the Finns are making a good defense. Whether the Russian attack has been slow to develop, or brave soldiers of Finland have surprised the Russian Bear in his march, is a question. Taking advantage of short defensive lines, the Finns have certainly slowed up the progress of the Soviet Army.

Just how long the Finns can maintain their resistance, we do not know, but the people of the United States wish them well.

IT HAPPENS EVERY YEAR

About this time of the year, the newspapers begin carrying stories telling of the explosion of heating plants, hot-water heaters and other devices used to heat homes during the cold weather.

Annual tellings of the newspapers of the United States also reveals a number of accidents caused by the careless use of kerosene or gasoline in starting fires. It would seem that every individual should know, by this time, that it is dangerous to use kerosene or gasoline in connection with stoves and grates where fires have burned out. Too often under the ashes a burning ember causes a sudden flare of flames which sears the individual pouring oil on the hot coals.

Of course, it is too much to expect that this article will prevent all of our readers from taking chances with fire. It is just possible, however, that it may emphasize the danger to some more cautious individual and thus lead to a practice of greater care in connection with their heating problems.

It is also important to have your heating plant thoroughly overhauled and constantly inspected in order to avoid the danger of an explosion. This is especially urgent whenever there is the possibility that water pipes have frozen or that, for some reason, the water supply in the boiler is below requirements. A little caution may save several lives.

Coast Guard Is Given Hard JobTheir's the Task of Keeping Europe's War Away From American Shores.

WASHINGTON.—The United States coast guard is grimly tackling the biggest and most difficult job in its century and a half of existence. Its land, sea, and air forces have been expanded into vast "neutrality patrol" designed to keep Europe's war away from America's shores.

The nation's "third fighting service" already has started taking over its part in enforcement of the proclaimed 300-mile Atlantic safety belt around the Americas.

Part of the job is to warn merchant and passenger ships of lurking raiders.

Organized in 1790 as a "baby patrol unit" of 15 small vessels to suppress piracy and collect customs revenues, the coast guard within a few weeks will be operating for 24 hours a day a fleet larger than those of many nations.

Strength Nearly Doubled.

With the addition of 4,000 men ordered by President Roosevelt, consolidation of the lighthouse service facilities and personnel of 6,000 under one command, and immediate recommissioning of 80 or more additional craft, the coastal patrol organization will be operating at a strength nearly double any it has known in peacetime.

Officials estimate 25,000 men will be engaged. The fleet of recommissioned boats will join an already expanding fleet of more than 400 craft, including 34 large cutters and approximately 50 smaller cutters.

The coast guard's air force now totals 55 planes, seven of which have 4,000-mile cruising radius and are equipped for landing and aiding distressed persons far at sea. An unrecalled number of planes is to be added.

Auxiliary shore facilities are to be enlarged. Radio and telephone communication facilities are already in process of expansion.

The surface fleet has been allotted special zones of hunting grounds of thousands of square miles to be patrolled from Canada to the Canal Zone. Ranging even farther at sea will be a new armada of commissioned World War destroyers.

New Work Waters Vital.

Most vital of the districts under coast guard surveillance is an area of 30,000 square miles around the harbor of the city of New York, into which run the world's greatest searuns.

Responsible for supervision of this giant task is Capt. R. W. Dempwolf, head of the New York division. Over the Dempwolf, in command of the entire organization is the coast guard's commander, Rear Admiral Russell R. Waesche.

General operations of the navy's patrol fleet, expected to number more than 100, will be directed by Rear Admiral Hayne Ellis, commander of the Atlantic squadron, aided by Commander James L. Holloway Jr., his chief of staff. In some areas, it will include coast guard units.

Under certain circumstances, as suggested by President Roosevelt, the extraordinary police surveillance mission may be extended as far as 1,000 miles to sea, along the more heavily traveled routes used by seafarers where submarine activities are most feared.

Every Stradivarius Not A Fortune, Expert Warns
CHICAGO.—If your hope of sudden wealth rests in a violin case labeled Stradivari, 1716, you may as well abandon it.

Kenneth Warren, violin appraiser for a national music instrument firm, counsels:

"It is significant that of all the hundreds of so-called Cremonese violins that have been brought in for appraisal not a single genuine instrument has ever been found."

"Hundreds of persons a year who have violins bearing the labels of the Cremonese masters, Stradivari, Guarneri and Amati, come to us to sell them."

"These instruments were not made to deceive anyone. They were originally made for models from those of the Cremonese and a ticket put inside to indicate they were copies of the maker. In the course of time people think they are the original instrument. There are only about 450 Stradivari instruments left and we know where all of them are. The chances of another turning up are exceedingly slim."

Florida Now Protecting
Nearly Extinct Alligator

MIAMI.—Live baby alligators, stuffed alligators, alligator heads and pocketbooks—for years familiar articles in Florida souvenir shops—will be difficult for tourists to find this winter because of a new law. The state law, intended to protect alligators from hunters who have brought near extinction the reptiles once common in Florida, is effective in only 10 of Florida's 67 counties, but those 10 counties take in major tourist centers.

The law imposes a closed season on alligators and forbids possession or sale of live or dead alligators or alligator products.

THE CHRISTIAN'S CONFESSION OF FAITH

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 16:13-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.—Matthew 16:16.

Many outstanding miracles had been performed by our Lord during His ministry in Galilee, and now as that period of His earthly work was drawing to a close He went with the disciples north into the great heathen center, Caesarea Philippi. Here He asked them life's greatest question, "What think ye of the Christ?" and Peter, blessed of God with true utterance, became the instrument for that confession of Christ upon which He could found His Church. Then there came from Him the great prophecy of His death and resurrection which would make it possible for all who believe to become the sons of God and members of that Church.

The Question—Who is the Son of Man? (vv. 13-17).

The question of Christ was general at first, and in the answer we find that the people of our Lord's own day had a very high opinion of Him. They saw in Him the combined characters of the outstanding characters of their generation. They knew that He was no ordinary individual. He had made a striking impression on His own age; as indeed He has on every age of human history.

Observe carefully that such a confession of Christ is not sufficient. It is not enough to acknowledge Him as the great teacher, the perfect example, or the way-shower. To deny His divinity, to take from Him His place as Son of the living God is to make of Him an impostor and a false prophet.

The personal question which follows, "Whom say ye that I am?" is the supremely important question for which no man can escape. Naturally in answer to this question we do fail to do declares our position. "What think ye of Christ?" is the touchstone which determines character, condition and destiny.

Peter by the grace of God had come to the place where he recognized the one with whom he was having blessed fellowship in service as the Messiah, the Anointed One, the Son of the living God. We too should be so exposed to the guidance and control of the Holy Spirit that He may be able to teach us spiritual truth, which flesh and blood can never reveal.

II. The Church—Its True Foundation (vv. 18-20).

Jesus, the Son of the living God, is the rock upon which the Church is built. The confession by Peter of this fact is in response to the question of Christ, "Whom say ye that I am?" and hence clearly related to the question of Christ. It is Peter's confession that He is the Christ, the Son of the living God, that gives Him the right to build His Church upon the rock and bear the good name of the Church.

III. The Cross—for Christ and for Me (vv. 21-24).

The shadow of the cross falls across the little gathering of disciples as the Lord tells them of His impending death on the cross. Note that He rightly coupled with the fact of His death the truth of the resurrection, which gives it true meaning and which carries us beyond the darkness of Calvary to the light and beauty of Easter morning.

Peter who had a moment before spoken for God, now becomes the mouthpiece of the devil. From confessing his Lord, Peter turned to tempting Him to avoid the cross. That he "meant well" does not excuse Peter's folly, nor does it excuse the blundering though well-meaning misdirections which are giving to the souls of men in our day. Had Jesus yielded to the solicitation of the Evil One through Peter, there would never have been any redemption from sin wrought out on Calvary's cross.

But we observe in verse 24 that there is a cross for the Christian as well as for Christ. Obviously we can never bear His cross. He alone could do that, but we are to take up our own cross and deny ourselves and follow Him. Self on the cross—Christ on the throne—such is the secret of real discipleship.

Much water has run under the bridge since Mother used to take all of the children to church every Sunday night.

Have you noticed the high cost to being free and equal?

WEEK'S BEST RECIPE

Prune Cake: Cream together one-third cup shortening and 1 cup sugar. Beat in 2 egg yolks. Add 1 cup prunes (cooked, pitted and cut into small pieces). To 1 cup prune juice, add 1 teaspoon soda. Dissolve thoroughly and add to first mixture. Stir in 1 tablespoon cocoa and 2 cups flour sifted together. Bake in layer cake tins in moderate oven for 20 to 30 minutes. Put together with mocha or plain icing.

A TASTY BIT

Have you ever tried orange with pumpkin? Add a little orange juice or grated rind to the pumpkin pie filling. A fourth of a teaspoonful should be sufficient to give a delicious flavor.

The Care Of The Feet During Pregnancy

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT
Shop and Madison Covington

Preventive medicine plays a very large and useful roll in the practice of obstetrics. It is from this standpoint that the care of the feet should be considered.

The feet should be considered from two important angles; first, the increased weight which they will be called upon to bear, and second the impairment of return flow of blood from them, when the uterus begins to press upon the large vessels to the pelvis.

In most cases are complaints enumerated as follows: swelling of the ankles and feet, pains, cramps, tingling, numbness, corns, calluses, ingrown toe nails and varicose veins. Varicose veins may be avoided by improving the circulation of the feet.

Flat feet in pregnancy are caused by a rapid increase in the length and weight of the skeleton, apart from an equivalent increase in strength of muscles and ligaments throwing undue strain upon the structure of the arch. In early stages the patient complains of fatigue or weakness along the inner side of the legs, feet or ankles, exercises ordered should by all means avoid jolts, running, sudden motions, going up and down stairs quickly, horse back riding, cycling, golf, tennis, etc. Walking should be encouraged. I cannot remind you too often that high heels are condemned; they do not only lead to affairs and backaches, but are often the direct cause of falls and accordingly are at times responsible for miscarriages.

As stated before, the American woman wishes to emerge from her confinement in as nearly perfect shape in every respect as possible and is very desirous that the functions of each bearing should not leave here in an ugly shape. Only wish painstaking prenatal care and seeing to that her feet get proper attention, can the obstetrician give her assurance of such results.

A very important part—your shoes should be correct—to be sure they are correct—go where specially trained shoe specialists will put your feet in balance relieving all foot strain—Adv.

1940 CONSERVATION PAYMENT RATES SET FOR KENTUCKY CROPS

Conservation payments on corn, cotton, wheat, tobacco and commercial vegetables will be made to Kentucky farmers who plant within their acreage allotments for these crops in 1940, the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has announced.

Rates of payments on these five commodities in 1940 are as follows: Corn, 10 cents a bushel; cotton, 18 cents a pound; wheat, 9 cents a bushel; burley tobacco, 1 cent a pound; fire-cured and dark air-cured tobacco, 12 cents a pound; and commercial vegetables, $1.50 an acre.

Payments for corn, wheat and tobacco will be by parity payments from a separate appropriation of $225,000,000 if the 1939 season average price is less than 75 percent of the established parity price.

Soil building allowances will remain about the same under the 1940 program as in 1939. A $20 minimum soil-building allowance for participating farmers will be provided for general agricultural conservation practices. The principal change in allowances will be the addition of $30 per farm to be earned by planting forest trees.

As in 1939, farmers who exceed their acreage allotments will be subject to deductions from their performance payments.

The 1040 national acreage goals for each of the special allotment crops are: Corn, 88 to 90 million acres, a decrease from 1939 of about 12 percent; wheat, 60 to 65 million acres, an increase from 1939 of about 18 percent; cotton, 27 to 29 million acres, no change from 1939; burley tobacco, 360 to 370 thousand acres, a decrease from 1939 of about 10 percent; fire-cured and dark air-cured tobacco, 155 to 165 thousand acres, no change from 1939. The commercial vegetable acreage also remains unchanged.

In addition to sharing in these acreages of special allotment crops, Kentucky farmers share in the national goal of 145 to 150 million acres for general crops, which is the same as the 1939 goal.

The total soil depleting goal under the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program has been set at 270 to 285 million acres, the same as the 1939 goal. At normal yields, AAA officials estimate, this acreage will provide ample supplies for all domestic needs, for export requirements and for an adequate reserve.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

Claude Frye, Pulaski county farmer, is planning to make his supply of manure available to help neighbors earn their 1940 soil-building allowances. He has several thousand loads of manure accessible to trucks and wagons.

Montgomery county cattle raisers are improving the feeding value of inferior hay and stover by the use of a hammer-mill and molasses. There is increased interest in the county in best of calves, and purebred sires are in demand.

Bath county sheepraisers hope to keep off disease among ewes by careful feeding and salting. Most of them are feeding legume hay, soybean oilmeal and crushed oats or other ground grain.

J. T. Thompson, Taylor county, took up his soil-building allowance by burning lime. The cost was less than $3 a ton, including allowance for his own labor. He had a good supply of wood near the kiln.

Seven hundred and fifty Knox county farmers used 11,087 tons of limestone in 1939. Seven hundred farmers in the county sowed 30,000 pounds of rye grass seed, and approximately 500 acres were seeded to crimson clover.

Starting with 290 pullets, K. W. Williams, Johnson county, gathered an average of 193 eggs per bird last year, and made above expenses $525.42. He culled heavily throughout the season.

TURKEY SHOW DRAWS FROM FOUR STATES

Turkey breeders of Kentucky, Tennessee, Indiana and Washington contributed to the fifth annual turkey show at the University of Kentucky Experiment Station. Bronze, Narragansett and White Holland were exhibited.

Mrs. J. Leslie Brown, Paris, won the grand championship on a young White Holland hen. Highest number of points were made by the Lusby Turkey Farm, Owen-ton, and The Broadway Turkey Farm, Yakima, Wash. won the championship award in the carcass division.

Other exhibitors winning high places included J. Lewis Judy, W. E. McCauley and E. Y. Van Deren, Cincinnati; Mrs. T. Vallandigham, Georgetown; H. V. Askins, Brookville; Irion Farms, Frankfort; Mrs. Thomas Moore, Petersburg, Tenn.; and L. P. Perry, Straughn, Ind. The show was held under the direction of the Poultry Club, an organization of students in the College of Agriculture, with the assistance of the poultry section of the college.

To help promote the production and consumption of turkeys, the Kentucky Turkey Breeders' Association was organized during the show, with Ralph Lusby, Owen-ton, president; Mrs. J. Leslie Brown, vice president; and Mrs. E. Y. Van Deren, Secretary and treasurer. The organization will be affiliated with the Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association.

STOCKRAISERS TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Stockraisers and dairy farmers will meet in joint sessions two mornings during the annual Farm and Home Convention at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington Jan. 30-Feb. 2. The first morning they will discuss pastures, ensilage and dairy cows; the second morning, pastures, finishing beef cattle on grass, and dairy cows.

At separate meetings in the afternoons, the beef cattle men will consider the kind of beef cuts consumers want, producing cattle on grass alone and on grass and corn, the value of shows, and hog types. Dairy men will discuss health problems in the dairy, hold a judging contest, and attend meetings of dairy associations.

Speakers at these sessions will include Dr. Siefert Bull, beef cattle expert at the University of Illinois; Dr. W. E. Peterson, dairy authority at the University of Minnesota and Dr. J. G. Hardenbergh, director of the Walker-Gordon Laboratories, Plainsboro, N. J.

Kentucky farmers to speak are Mack Hopson, Christian county; Harry Gatton, Muhlenberg county, and Thomas Clore, Henry county. All meetings will be open to questions and general discussion.

CORN PAYMENTS UP

The increase in the rate of conservation payments for 1940 will enable farmers who plant within their corn acreage allotments to earn 10 cents a bushel on the normal yield of their allotments. Commercial corn producing counties in Kentucky are Ballard, Cassie, Crittenden, Davies, Fulton, Hancock, Hickman, Henderson, Livingston, McLean, Union and Webster.

NOTES TO TEACHER

We paid attention to the words of a teacher who remarked how often parents made their children dishonest through notes to school. We realized the truth of her statement and pass along her advice to Boone County parents. There are many times when Junior is absent due to illness or when Mary was excused due to necessity at home. There are many times when notes are justified and each teacher expects to receive them from parents. But the complaint is that too often a parent will use an untruth to impress a child with its importance. The instructor would far rather have it that the family attended a picnic or the circus, or that the child dawdled over breakfast and was late to school, than that "illness prevented." We must practice truth to impress a child with its importance.

Kentucky Banks Make 200,000 New Loans, Renew 350,000 Others

New York—That banks in Kentucky are actively serving the credit needs of their communities is evidenced by the results of a survey of bank lending activity announced by the American Bankers Association indicating that the commercial banks of the state made more than 200,000 new loans totaling $120,000,000 to business firms and individuals during the first six months of 1939, and renewed 350,000 outstanding loans totaling $220,000,000 during the same period.

The survey also reveals that business firms in the state are using only about one-third of the open lines of credit maintained for their use on the books of the banks.

These estimated figures are based on reports received from 66 banks in Kentucky holding membership in the A. B. A. or 18 per cent of the 415 commercial banks in the state, and make allowance for the concentration of lending activity in the metropolitan areas of Louisville, Lexington, and Covington.

The 66 banks reported that they made $1,907 new loans totaling $58,644,236 between January 1 and June 30, 1939, and renewed 78,449 outstanding loans totaling $84,514,742. In addition, they reported 2,013 new mortgage loans to business concerns and other real estate owners totaling $2,769,689.

The average number of new loans per bank was 785, and the average new loan was for $1,132.

The average number of renewals per bank was 1,189, and the average renewal was for $1,077.

The average number of new mortgages per bank was 31, and the average mortgage was for $1,376.

In addition to making loans on individual applications, the banks of the larger cities maintain what are known as "open lines of credit" on their books, available at all times to regular business borrowers.

Seven banks reported such open lines of credit totaling $22,838,300. However, only $8,870,367, or 38 per cent of this credit was being used by business firms on June 30.

AMERICAN RED CROSS
SEPTEMBER 1-DEC. 6TH

Europe has not been at war for more than three months. At this writing battle lines have been extended from the western part of the continent to the north, along the Finnish-Soviet border. As hostilities continue, the number of refugees and wounded non-combatants become greater.

"The suffering among the victims of warfare on this newest battle front already is very great, I am informed," Chairman Norman H. Davis said, "and as the war continues it may reach appalling proportions. First relief measures inaugurated by the American Red Cross included a large quantity of medicines, and will be followed immediately by shipments of 50,000 surgical dressings, warm clothing and knitted garments, but this aid will be wholly inadequate in face of the hardships threatening the people of Finland."

Obligated by treaty and bound by its congressional charter to carry on a system of international war relief with the Red Cross societies of 62 other nations, the American Red Cross took steps to relieve war suffering on September 1—the day German troops crossed the Polish border. Since that time problems of refugees and non-combatants have been intensified.

On October 13, the Central Committee of the American Red Cross, meeting in its extraordinary session, appropriated $1,000,000 to finance the most urgent war relief needs. Ten days prior to this date, a Red Cross delegation from this country left by clipper plane for Europe to survey needs in belligerent countries and to report these needs to our society.

Up to date $259,586 has been contributed in this country for Red Cross war relief operations. Of this amount $247,118 has been specified by donors for Polish relief. The largest contribution forwarded the Red Cross was $150,000 a gift of the Polish National Alliance, an organization composed of American citizens of Polish descent.

Through December 5, the American Red Cross through the International Red Cross committee at Geneva and the League of Red Cross Societies in Paris, has given the following relief supplies and emergency funds:

To Germany-occupied Poland: $250,000 for relief. Shipments of clothing, medical supplies are now being readied in this country for immediate shipments to Cracow, via Trieste.

To Finland: $25,000. Surgical dressing and warm clothing to go immediately.

To Rumania: $72,000 in cash for emergency purposes. 45,000 refugees are now quartered in Rumania.

To Hungary: $30,350 in cash for emergency purposes. 55,000 refugees are quartered in Hungary.

To Lithuania: $31,850 in cash.

retained Sunday their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Muntz and daughter, of near Price Hill, and Miss Virginia Mae Tanner of Price Pike. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Eggleston and sons Junior and Billie and Miss Fannie Utz motored over to Florence Baptist Church for the Christmas entertainment.

Experts Find Uses For Cotton 'Waste'

New Fields for Lint, Seed And Stalks Is Sought.

PITTSBURGH.—An attempt to bolster the cotton industry is being made in the laboratory of Mellon Institute of Industrial Research here.

Eight research scientists are engaged in the laboratory to develop new uses for lint, seed and cotton stalks. Dr. Lawrence W. Bass, assistant director of the institute, has announced.

"Facing with huge overproduction and large inventories plus severe competition from substitute materials," Dr. Bass explained, "cotton has no other hope for regaining economic health than to dig up some new jobs for itself."

Already the program, handled through the cotton research foundation, is to have developed an oil-free cottonseed meal and an effective sweeping compound from seed hull bran.

Under way are several projects, including the production from hulls of activated carbon of the type useful for gas masks, and the finding of uses for gossypol, a toxic material present in cotton seed. The research and like products may be made from cotton stalks.

In addition to the institute program, plans are being made to include the production of cotton fellowships at Southern colleges next year.

Since the cotton program was inaugurated here two years ago, laboratory technicians have been studying methods of fire-proofing, water-proofing, and rodent-proofing cotton textiles.

Sleeping-Sickness Tests Turn Suspicion on Mice

ST. LOUIS.—The theory that the common house mouse is the reservoir and carrier of encephalitis-sleeping sickness—germs has been set forth in the preliminary report of a study of the disease made by three bacteriologists at Washington university here. The report said that for the past two years the experimenters have been studying the possibility of a reservoir in animals of the virus of encephalitis in St. Louis, the center of several epidemics of the disease.

"Among others, wild gray house mice have been tried and found susceptible," the report said. The virus was transmitted from wild mice to laboratory mice and they again 10 times and still retained its potency.

The germs were injected into the brain and implanted in the noses of house mice.

Special permission making the study were Drs. S. E. Sulkin, C. G. Harford and Professor J. J. Bronfenbrenner. The report did not explain how the virus might be transmitted from mice to human beings.

Student Tries Crossbow

ARCHERY for Recreation

CAMBRIDGE, MASS.—When low thuds sound through Lowell house at Harvard, fellow students know George F. Snell Jr. is practicing with his crossbow.

Special permission had to be obtained before Snell could bring the deadly bow into his room. He made the weapon, after research in the Library of Congress, from a black walnut stock, a 20-inch automobile spring and a cooking device fashioned from a billiard ball. The bow string is made from 40 strands of shoemaker's twine.

British Soldiers to Get Steel and Wire Helmets

LONDON.—Derby-like hats soon will replace the tin helmets worn by British soldiers in France, it was announced.

The "bakelite bowlers" will be used as soon as they can be produced in volume. They are made easily and cheaply by molding and incorporating thick steel and wire mesh.

Recent tests showed the new-type helmets can withstand many more hundreds of pounds pressure than the tin hats.

North Carolina Has No Official Flower

RALEIGH, N. C.—North Carolina has no official flower, contrary to general belief that the goldenrod has been so designated.

In answer to an inquiry, Assistant Attorney General Wade Burton recently announced: "There is no official state flower, so designated by an act of the North Carolina state legislature."

North Carolina school children voted the ox-eye daisy the state flower in a state-wide poll, but the legislature never ratified that vote.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

On Tuesday, January 2nd, your Representatives and Senators met in executive Session to pass new laws to change existing ones in order to better serve the citizens of Kentucky. Through changing conditions and the advance of progress many laws become outmoded and many new laws must be passed.

In order to speed the passing of these laws and in order to meet these changing conditions the Legislative Council was planned to study and draw up bills necessary and beneficial to our State government. This body, composed of ten Representatives and Senators and five of the elected State officials presided over by the Lieutenant Governor, study the needs of the State and outline bills for the executive session of the Assembly to vote on.

The bills planned by the Legislative Council to be brought up at this session are:

1. An appropriation bill to keep the State within its income of 24 1/2 million dollars a year. This income is based on revenue of the past four years brought in by existing taxes.

2. A new chain store tax that will take the place of the old one ruled unconstitutional by the courts.

3. A teachers retirement fund of $500,000.

4. Extending the old age pensions to give a maximum of $30.00 a month to those in need of that much. The present law provides for a maximum of $15.00 of which the State pays half.

5. Removal of State gas tax on farm tractors.

6. Creation of a farm tenancy commission.

7. Further study and rehabilitation of penal and elementary institutions.

8. Creation of a bureau of markets in the Department of Agriculture.

These bills are Administration bills planned by the Legislative Council are certain to be brought up during this Session. The most important one to the taxpayers is the first one, that will keep the State within its income and provide for no new taxes. The Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation favors numbers 5, 6 and 8.

In addition to these bills the Kentucky Municipal League wants certain bills passed which we believe will be hard to regulate and almost impossible to enforce. Most of these bills they plan will take money from State revenue and return it to the cities. They want, for example, one cent out of each five of the State gasoline tax to be apportioned and paid to the several cities of the Commonwealth according to the population each city bears to the total population of the State.

They want an act providing for the return to the respective cities of the Commonwealth of all State automobile license fees collected on cars registered in the city.

An act exempting the cities from the payment of gasoline tax on gasoline purchased by municipalities and used for municipal purposes.

An act providing for the return to the cities of a portion of the State utility tax.

An act passed that will give the cities authority to set original utility rates, in franchises, and another act that grants the power to local authorities to assess public service corporations where as much as 50 percent of that property is in the city limits.

Many of these acts we believe the Municipal League knows are impossible of passing and impractical in enforcement, but we believe they go on the idea that by asking for a lot they may get a little.

The most dangerous of these Acts to the Commonwealth are the ones relating to the return of part of the gasoline tax, the exemption of municipal vehicles from gasoline taxes and the return of license fees on automobiles. Many States have tried these measures to their sorrow. They result in much tax evasion and in many instances graft and corruption, and we know that the State officials have unofficially stated their opposition to these measures.

The Administration slate for Assembly officers in all probability will be:

MOTHER And I

The following poem was written by Thomas Bentham and sent to Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hempling, Christmas, 1938. The author of this beautiful poem died at his home in Baltimore on May 27, 1939.

"Our lives are rivers, gliding free to that unfathomed, boundless sea
The silent grave.
There all are equal, side by side
The poor man and the son of pride Lie calm and still."

Quiescent, alone, gazing upon the glowing YULE TIDE log Thoughts, specters of by-gone days like twinkling phantoms flit
Reminiscent of hopes darkened by dense mental fog Encompassing life's journey, in affectionate tranquility we sit Listening to the Cricket chirp, the "clock's dull tick."

Mother and I.

This "vale of tears" traversing, thru experience wiser made,
Reflected, o'er life's joys and sorrows disclose to view
Fancies of exuberant youthful days, when "love is blind" 'tis said.
Our life replete thru mutual love 'emblem of eternity' deep and true Rejoicing o'er conjugal blessings abundantly bestowed upon.

Mother and I.

Our outlined course, not always the wisest or the best
Yet, with united Spartan courage each day accomplished much,
Unquenchable buoyant firmness increased our zest
Each day made easier vicissitudes with which we mortals cope;
In nobilities rich, hearts throbbing with fervent love made joyful

Mother and I.

With Cherubs blest, perception sharpened by childish prattle,
Reflected to heaven hearts filled with parental love and hope,
Gave urge and strength to contend 'gainst life's recurring battle
Each day made easier vicissitudes with which we mortals cope;
Alas! deep in solitude, lonely, 'midst multitudinous reflections are left

Mother and I.

Autumn of life upon us, children's mellifluous voices no longer heard, Gone! Never to return, we sit in the "relation of one to one,"
Days of golden dreams recalling, "chilled with the north wind" feared Await, "the inevitable hour" when the grim reaper the battle has won!
Our love, sweetness of life, synonym of God, only death can discover,

Mother and I.

No holiday hath Death. Dying embers in the once glowing YULE TIDE log Having their purpose served, twinkle as if to warn us as they fall,
Of the recurring deepening shadows, precursors of the returning fog,
Which is declining, year again arise; "or sleep between tears and dreams" awaiting all.

When in extremis the last ember of fading life shall twinkle for

Mother and I.

Happy
New Year

Our greeting for the New Year is sincere; may each of the next 366 days see a hope realized, a wish come true.

REFUND DECLARED BY CINCINNATI PRODUCERS

The Board of Directors of the Producers Co-Operative Commission Ass'n., Cincinnati, recently declared a patronage refund of 20 percent to members on business handled during the year 1939. This means that the members of this livestock marketing co-operative will receive early in February their portion of the savings which amount to 20c of each dollar paid for selling services. The association's business shows some increase over the volume handled the previous year.

The Annual Meetings of the association is scheduled to be held on Thursday, February 15th, 1940.

at the Netherlands Plaza Hotel in Cincinnati.

During January and February, throughout the market area, will be held county-wide livestock committee meetings. Programs of livestock improvement and marketing will be featured.

Current Livestock Situation

The New Year holds somewhat more favorable prospects in slightly better demand and some improvement in prices for marketable livestock as compared to the past few months, according to the Producers Co-Operative Commission Association, at the Union Stock Yards, Cincinnati.

Hog prices reached their low at $5.55 per cwt., the second week of December. Since that time a gradual recouping of prices has helped materially. During January and February still further increases should be in evidence especially if winter weather conditions are more normal than what has been the case throughout the fall and early winter. It is expected that we will see a further marked increase in hog prices during the next several weeks as the bulk of poultry will be out of the way, employment is on the increase and business conditions greatly improved. However, caution in marketing may well be observed by selling at desirable market weights of 180 to 225 pounds, and to distribute receipts during the spring when supplies will be more adequate.

Light increases may well be carried for more desirable weights and be marketed a little later on.

The slaughter of hogs under federal inspection for 11 months of 1939, total 3,672,895 head as compared with 3,048,407 head during the same period in 1938.

In the case of sheep and lambs the market has held relatively strong in face of relatively heavy market receipts. The Corn Belt has a large supply of winter lambs on feed which will call for orderly marketing. The coming few weeks may find too large a supply on the markets. However, the late winter and early spring looks quite favorable and lightweight lambs may well be finished for this period. The wool situation is a strong support of sheep and lamb prices. This is one species of livestock that war conditions affect largely because of wool. Should the war cease, sheep growers will need to beware.

Moral Re-Armament And Industry

By Dubois Morris, Jr.

"Fear is the real problem in industry," says the operating head of one of America's large shipping fleets. "I couldn't cure my men of fear when I had fears in myself. Moral Re-Armament is bringing confidence and trust between men and management and answering that overhead of fear."

To look at Chris Taylor you would never think he'd be afraid of anything. Broad shouldered and heavy set, he is so tall that a policeman once showed that a crowd in which he was standing watching a parade to tell him to "get down off that box." But he tells the story of a great labor conflict four years ago in which he became involved.

"Our sailors struck in five ports simultaneously," he relates. "I was afraid financially and physically and hired a personal bodyguard and hired two private detectives to watch him! The fleet was crippled, with great losses on both sides."

That was the atmosphere until Moral Re-Armament came along—an atmosphere typical of conditions along the waterfront and in many industrial cities from coast to coast. What is the secret of MRA in such a situation? How does it bring labor and management together in a co-operative determination to "make the wealth and work available for all and for the exploitation of none?"

Started in Home

It was started with Taylor in his own home. He discovered, when he let God take over his life, that he got on better with the wife and children. He didn't lose his temper or get irritated so often. He began to see and apologize for his own faults and not always blame the rest of the family when things went wrong.

He took the new spirit with him to the office.

"My fears went," he said. "I recognized by own selfishness and lack of consideration for the men. I had to put certain things right." He called his staff into his office and told them what had happened to him and the new basis of honest, unselfishness, purity and love on which he was going to run his life and his business. Then he came out from behind his desk, went down on the docks and began to get to know the men. He took the initiative in making apologies and straightening out strained personal relationships.

As a practical by-product of this new concern for the company's employees he began to listen to God for direction about their wages and working conditions. He put thru a $75,000-a-year pay raise above the union wage level and introduced many improvements in working conditions which he had previously thought unnecessary.

The men responded to this new loyalty and consideration in the management.

New Spirit in Fleet

"In the nation-wide strike two years ago," Taylor explains, "I asked some of the men what the real cause of the trouble was. It's fear," they said. "We've got no complaints about wages or working conditions now. They're satisfied with my motives. Not a ship was tied up. So the fleet emerged with a higher morale and no lost time. Neither side had gone thru the folly and bitterness of a fight."

A few weeks ago I lunched with Mr. Taylor. He told me that Moral Re-Armament is a lasting proposition. In another maritime tie-up this spring, his ships had again operated on schedule through it.

The port superintendent explains: "There's a new spirit in this fleet. It doesn't take a very bright seaman to know when he's getting a square deal."

Chris Taylor's story is just one of many that could be told of how workers and employers are finding thru experiment this secret—that the forgotten factor in industry, God, has a plan.

There is Farrar Vickers, managing director of a large oil company, of whom a British labor leader says, "That man has done more for his employees voluntarily thru Moral Re-Armament than any radical government could force him to do in the next 20 years."

Boss, Workers Co-operate

There is George Eastman, head of a building materials company, who invites all his employees to meet with him in his office or the lumberyard each morning before work begins, to listen to God and ask His direction for the day. "These times together have created a bond of honest and confidence between truck drivers, yard workers, the office men and the executives that nothing can break," he says.

During a recent strike, his was one of the few yards that was not picketed, although most of the men are unionized.

Moral Re-Armament means that the men know the boss now has their interests at heart. No longer are his favors due to self-interest with an eye to greater efficiency. The boss earns the right to the men's loyalty and trusts them to give an honest day's work and real co-operation, and they do.

In his speech to the workers of East London launching MRA in June, 1938, Dr. Frank Buchman said:

"Only a new spirit in men can bring a new spirit in industry. Industry can be the pioneer of a new order, where national service replaces selfishness, and where industrial planning is based upon the guidance of God. When labor, management and capital become partners under God's guidance, then industry takes its true place in the national life."

Permit your porcelain-topped stove to cool before you attempt to wash it. The porcelain might crack if it is washed while warm. Always use a soft cloth, warm water and a soft cloth for the work.

PARAGRAPHS

Boys will congregate outside of the church to take girls home. Why not take them to church in the first place?

MONEY TALKS

By Frederick Stamm, Economist and Director of Adult Education University of Louisville

Moderately higher retail prices for many commodities now seem certain.

Prices of many important raw materials have gone up from five per cent to eighty per cent this year which means manufacturers are paying higher prices for materials which go into finished goods. Labor costs have also increased. All this is reflected first in higher wholesale prices and eventually in higher retail prices. It is foolish to believe that manufacturers, wholesalers, and retailers will labor over some commodities, as always, will be passed on to the consumer.

Great Britain and France have opened buying offices in New York City, and they are already asking our manufacturers for bids on shoes, clothing, and certain food-stuffs as well as war materials. Our own government is increasing the purchase of goods for our army and navy. Such new demand is bound to be reflected in higher prices for some commodities.

Several weeks ago I said I did not look for any violent rise in prices, as occurred in the last war. This still holds true. Factors which should prevent violent price advances are large surpluses of raw materials stored in this country, increased productivity of factories and farms, the desire of businessmen to keep prices at their present level and the watchful eye of the government. The most powerful weapon against unwarranted price advances is the consumer himself who ceases to buy when he thinks prices are too high.

Legitimate price advances of as much as five per cent to fifteen per cent in many lines are bound to come, and careful buying now should save you some money. Advantage should be taken of any price concessions retailers are now making for food, and clothing, and such goods. A five per cent to ten per cent saving is not to be taken lightly; it will help the budget later on.

HOW MANY LINES?

We have more to bother us in this county than whether Adolph Hitler will appear in England's new book of "Who's Who." As we recall it, two years ago Hitler's name was present with a follow-up of five lines, then last year due to increased activity on his part, he was given an additional twenty-four lines. Each line seems to count in a "Who's Who." The French Premier received less notice than any other government head. Our own president and his wife were given three new lines, if that should matter to you. There will be some interest in the appearance of the new book for 1940 to see what England will do with these names next year.

NEW STREET FOR WALTON

IN CONJUNCTION WITH PARKING LOT WILL ELIMINATE PARKING HAZARD—WILL JOIN MAIN STREET AT TWO POINTS

The Walton Rotary sent representatives before the Fiscal Court Tuesday for the purpose of obtaining county road equipment for the construction of a new street and parking lot in the town so that in case of emergency, through traffic will not be hampered.

The street will be built near the railroad crossing and join with the through street at two different points. This will permit persons to turn automobiles in the town without doing so on the main thoroughfare. The parking lot will be built on the corner of the square, to accommodate persons desiring to park cars any length of time, thus helping to eliminate the congested parking condition that now exists on the main street.

The committee reported that the L. & N. Railroad had agreed to donate the stone for the street, the State Highway Department would furnish the steam shovel, the CCC boys would donate labor, and asked the county to furnish the graders and trucks. This request was granted by the fiscal court with the understanding that the town was to pay the operating expense of this equipment. The necessary funds for this and other expenses will be raised by popular subscription in the town.

The members of the Rotary committee were R. M. Hall, Clinton Cleek and Powers Conrad.

Judge Ward Yager Hears First Case Here Monday

Ward Yager, newly elected Circuit Judge for this district, occupied the bench for his first time in this capacity in Boone County on Monday, January 8th, to hear a motion in the case of Lucille Nestley and Lillard Profit.

It is customary for a new official to be received for the first time with flowers appropriate to the season, and this custom was followed this time with snowflakes and snow, making the traveling of school buses dangerous.

School Expected To Re-Open Monday

School children in Boone county were enjoying another week's vacation, due to roads throughout the county being covered with ice and snow, making the traveling of school buses dangerous.

Supt. D. H. Norris, stated that he would set no specific time for school to re-open, but that all schools would open as soon as the roads in the county were safe to travel. If continued warm weather prevails it is expected that the roads will be cleared by the latter part of this week or the first of next week.

COUNTY NURSE URGED BY P.-T. A.

COMMITTEE FROM COUNTY SCHOOLS APPEAR BEFORE FISCAL COURT TUESDAY—CONSIDERATION PROMISED.

A committee of eight persons representing most of all the schools in the county appeared before the Fiscal Court Tuesday for the purpose of pressing the importance of employing a county nurse principally through the several schools.

Those composing the committee were Mrs. Raymond Newman, Mrs. Walter Ferguson, Prof. Caton, of Florence, Prof. J. F. Moore, Grant, Prof. Edwin Walton, Burlington, and Mrs. C. D. Benson.

Although no definite promise was made that a county nurse would be employed, the court promised to consider this matter when the next yearly budget was planned and to give due consideration to it at that time.

The county nurse has been one of the neglected items in our county program for several years, and it is believed by many that it is one of the most important of all offices for its protection to our school children.

R. E. A. Awarded Franchise To Construct Line

The Boone County Fiscal Court awarded on Tuesday of this week the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation a franchise to construct electric lines to serve rural people in Boone County. The Association's bid was $100.00 and costs.

Mr. Chester Roland, Manager of the Association, states plans are all completed for the staking and construction of lines as soon as the weather permits.

Hebron Building And Loan Association Hold Meeting Mon.

The Hebron Building and Loan Association held its annual stockholder's meeting last Monday evening, and the following were elected officers to serve for the ensuing year:

W. W. Goodridge, president; Henry Gatie, vice president; Hubert Conner, secretary; B. F. Hossman, asst. secretary; directors, Emmett Kilgour, W. R. Garnett, John Conner, Chester Goodridge, John Crigler, Chas. W. Riley, S. M. Graves and Smith Goodridge.

This was the forty-ninth annual meeting of the Association.

CHRISTMAS SEAL HUGE SUCCESS

ACCORDING TO R. V. LENTS, BOONE COUNTY CHAIRMAN—APPROPRIATION EXPRESSED BY ASSOCIATION.

The Boone County Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale, apparently falling short of last year's sales, but nevertheless was a success, according to a report made by R. V. Lents who was in charge of the county campaign.

Mr. Lents requests that it is not too late to send him a dollar if you received 100 of the little stamps, and have forgotten to mail him your check.

The Boone County Tuberculosis Protective Association, an organization of all Boone County schools desire to thank each, and every person who either sold or caused to be sold and helped in anyway toward the success of the seal sale, and especially thank the Boone County Recorder and Walton Advertiser for the free space given to the publicity of the sale.

SISTERS SUFFER FROM EXPOSURE

MARIE AND ELIZABETH DORSEY AGED COUPLE FOUND UNCONSCIOUS AT HOME NEAR FLORENCE.

Miss Elizabeth Dorsey, 76 and Miss Marie Dorsey, 80, were found Friday by Paul Duvall, at their home near Florence nearly frozen in their small two-room house.

The sisters were removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital by the Covington Life Squad, which drove over a snow-covered field to reach the house. Monday the sisters were said to have a fair chance for recovery.

The Dorsey sisters were residing on a farm owned by J. B. Duvall, who purchased the place three years ago. When Duvall purchased the property, he agreed to permit them to live on it.

Paul Duvall visited the house Friday to build a fire for the women. He and several neighbors had been cooperating in caring for them. He found Miss Elizabeth Dorsey unconscious on the floor and her sister in bed. Miss Marie asked Duvall to summon a priest.

After administering first-aid and notifying his brother, Duvall called Rev. Edmund Priest of St. Paul Church, Florence.

This is the only report to reach this office of anyone suffering from exposure in this county during the recent cold weather.

Two Boone County Men Purchase Registered Jerseys

Registered Jersey cattle have been purchased by two Boone county breeders, both of Burlington, according to the American Jersey Cattle Club.

Sam Roberts purchased Raleigh Fair Bonny Lushie, 1227309, a cow, from Sallie Willis Huey, of Union. Mrs. H. C. Steward, purchased two cows, Estella Volunteer Evelyn 1227305 and Estelle Golden Dawn 1225632 from Mrs. James W. Huey, Union; a third cow, Raleigh Sultan's Girl Jenny 1227308, from Sallie Willis Huey, Union; and X of Oakland King 402788, a herd sire, from Mae Frances Huey, of Union.

Membership Drive Is Announced

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Florence Volunteer Fire Department announce a membership drive to start on the second Thursday in January and to continue for one month. Every effort will be made to obtain all new members possible during this campaign, it was announced by Mrs. A. Hue.

Homemakers And 4-H Members To Study Music Leadership

Leaders for group singing are being trained in a series of classes held in Burlington. The second music leader's training class will meet next Tuesday, January 16th, in Burlington at 1:00 p. m. Central Standard Time. Leaders from each Homemaker and 4-H club will be invited to attend the meeting according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Miss Florence Cattadori, a trained music specialist, will conduct the classes. The first hour, 1 to 2 p. m., will be devoted to leaders from the Homemakers' group; while from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m. will be given to 4-H members.

Leaders who attend the training class will conduct group singing in their local clubs. Six monthly classes will be held during the winter and spring.

Snow And Cold Slow Up Shipment Of Tobacco

Heavy snow and the cold weather which has prevailed for the past week have slowed up shipments of tobacco to the various markets, and unless the snow and ice melt off the roads it is doubtful that much of the weed will be hauled to market to continue the sales the remainder of this week.

All warehouses opened Monday of this week, and with warmer weather predicted by the weather bureau, there is little doubt but what the roads will be cleared sufficiently to permit safe travel, and a large amount of tobacco will be hauled to the various markets.

BOONE FARMERS PLAN MEETINGS

TO DISCUSS VARIOUS AGRICULTURAL PROBLEMS AND TO DECIDE WHAT LINES OF IMPROVEMENT IS NEEDED.

Boone County farmers are planning for a series of community agricultural program planning meetings during the next two weeks, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

Leading farmers of the communities will meet to discuss their various local agricultural problems and decide toward what lines of improvement they will devote their attention in 1940. These problems will probably cover a wide range, varying from soils, crops and livestock improvement projects to marketing problems and meetings on various related subjects.

The dates of the planning meetings scheduled to date are as follows:

Hebron, Hebron Bank, Thursday, January 11th at 7:00 p. m. (slow time).
Burlington, Courthouse, Wednesday, January 17th at 1:00 p. m.
Verona, Verona Bank, Saturday, January 20th, at 1:30 p. m.
Grant, Schoolhouse, Friday, Jan. 19th at 7:00 p. m.
Petersburg, Schoolhouse, Thursday, January 18th, at 7:00 p. m.
Florence, Florence Feed Store, Wednesday, January 24, at 7:00 p. m.
Walton, Walton Bank (Dixie State Bank), Thursday, January 16, at 7:00 p. m.

The dates of the Constance, New Haven and Hamilton meetings will be announced in the near future.

Everyone interested in helping plan the agricultural improvement program for his community is invited to attend.

The W. M. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. M. A. Yelton Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

COMMITTEEMEN ATTEND MEETING

HELD AT INDEPENDENCE LAST FRIDAY—PROGRAM WILL CLOSE AUGUST 31ST, ACCORDING TO H. R. FORKNER.

Boone County A. C. P. committeemen attended the first meeting of the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program held at Independence on last Friday, January 6th.

Those attending were Mark Cook, H. E. White, John E. Crigler, H. R. Forkner and H. B. Drake.

The 1940 program will close August 31st, two months earlier than last year—with most soil-building practice payments except limestone and phosphate at one-half the rate paid last year. The allowances, however, will be practically the same as last year.

Research work under the A. C. program shows that the largest amount of soil improvement is secured for the amount paid through the use of limestone and phosphate, therefore, these two practices are being paid for in higher relationship to seedling practices this year.

Phosphate is again available through the program with one increased advantage that no charge is made for freight at the time of delivery. Because of the short year farmers desiring phosphate should file their order at the County Office now for future delivery.

LARGE APPLE DISPLAYED
J. F. Moore of Burlington, was displaying a large Stark Delicious apple Tuesday, which weighed 17 ounces. The apple was sent to him by his brother-in-law, R. M. Miller of Murray, Ky., and was grown in Eastern Arkansas. The apple is on display at The Recorder office.

Stanley C. Ryle

Stanley C. Ryle, 49, a lifelong resident of Boone county, died late Monday at his home, Florence, after a six-month illness.

He was a former employee of the Blue and Grey Trading Co. and also was employed for sometime by the W. R. Huey Express Co.

Mr. Ryle was a member of the Florence Baptist Church. He leaves to mourn his passing, his widow, Mrs. Lillian Ryle; a daughter, Miss Mary Lou Ryle; two sons, Hubert and Glenn Ryle, all of Florence; three sisters, Mrs. Lon Clore and Mrs. Lula Presser, both of Waterloo, and a brother, Hogan Ryle, Petersburg.

Funeral services will be held at the Florence Baptist church at 10 p. m. Thursday. Interment will be in the Florence cemetery.

Funeral arrangements are in charge of Tharp & Sulth, Florence funeral directors.

Mrs. Florence Floyd

Mrs. Florence Floyd, 87, passed away Monday at her home, Florence, after an extended illness.

Mrs. Floyd leaves her husband, Ben Floyd, to whom she had been married 65 years. She also leaves a daughter, Mrs. Perry Allen of Price Pike, Florence, with whom she made her home.

Mrs. Floyd was well known throughout Boone county, as until the past few years, was a resident of the Gunpowder neighborhood. Her friends were numerous throughout the entire county.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at Mrs. Allen's home. Burial was in the Hope's cemetery.

Philip Taliaferro, Erlanger funeral director was in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Annie Allen

Mrs. Annie Allen, age 76 years, passed away January 1, at her home on U. S. 42, following an illness from double pneumonia.

She leaves three sons, Jim and Tom Allen, of Elmore and Martin Allen, of Boone county. Her husband died in 1913, and she has been beyond some 27 years ago, and one son John Allen 4 years ago. She was of the Catholic faith.

Funeral services were conducted from the home, with mass at St. Patrick church, Verona, said by Father Jobst. Burial was in St. Patrick cemetery.

Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Jasper O. Arnold

Jasper Oliver Arnold, 75, retired lumberman, died Wednesday of last week at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, after a brief illness. He lived at May and Wells streets, Erlanger.

Mr. Arnold was the father of three prominent railroad and business men. His sons are Gayle W. Arnold, formerly of Erlanger and now of Baltimore, Md., manager of commercial development of the Baltimore and Ohio and Alton Railroads; Guy T. Arnold, Erie Hill, yardmaster of the Erie & O. and G. C. Arnold, Covington, superintendent of transportation for the Cincinnati Ice Manufacturing & Cold Storage Co.

A native of Owen county, Mr. Arnold had made his home in Erlanger the past forty-one years.

He had been associated with the Sexton Box Co., Cincinnati, for many years. He retired 15 years ago.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 p. m. Friday at the Philip Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger, with Rev. J. B. Young, minister of the Graves Avenue Church of Christ, Erlanger, officiating. Philip Taliaferro was in charge of funeral arrangements.

CO-FOUNDER OF RECORDER SUCCUMBS AT AGE OF 83

Was Native of Boone County and a Universalist Pastor of Local Churches For Several Years

Rev. Charles Chambers Conner, former minister of the Universalist Church, co-founder of The Boone County Recorder and originator of the Conner system of shorthand, died at his home in Vermont on Wednesday, December 20th, at the age of 83 years.

He had been in failing health for several years and had been seriously ill for six weeks.

He was born in Burlington, December 23, 1856 and resided on the East Bend Road about 4 miles south of Burlington on the farm now owned by W. L. Carpenter.

In 1875 Mr. Conner and Mr. W. L. Riddell established the Boone County Recorder, its location then being over Conner's restaurant in Burlington. They operated the paper as partners for several years.

Later Mr. Conner sold his interest in the newspaper to Mr. Riddell, and in his early life entered the ministry as a Universalist preacher. He served as pastor of local churches for several years, later serving pastorates in Ohio and Wisconsin, and then moving to Vermont and Massachusetts. He was a minister of the church in Barre, Vt., until his first wife, the former Sarah Stedman, of Lawrenceburg, died in 1907. He then became minister of the Second Universalist church in Springfield where he remained for seven years.

After his marriage to Rev. Mary Andrews in 1914, they went to California for a time but returned to work in Vermont and North Adams before moving to Northfield. He served as pastor here from 1930 to 1932. His wife continued as minister of the church after his health failed.

Mr. Conner was a tireless worker in his church, and in his parish as well as in his study. He entered the ministry in 1880 and for 59 years carried on a literary work which he titled "A Topical Multimanual."

This work was accumulative and covered many years of literary effort. It embraces nearly 12,000 subjects.

Besides his widow, he leaves two daughters by his first wife, E. E. Conner, of Pasadena, Calif., and Mrs. George C. Green, of Burbank, Calif., and a brother, James M. Conner, 88 years of age, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The body of Mr. Conner was taken to Springfield for cremation by the Rev. George K. R. E. memorial service was held in the Universalist Church Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Rev. H. B. Ingalls of the Northfield Seminary church in charge. Mrs. C. H. Webster presided at the organ and the double quartet of Sunday students under the direction of Mr. Gallagher, sang. There was a large attendance, filling the church with friends of his parish and from several surrounding towns.

DISTRICT COMMITTEE TO MEET IN ERLANGER
The Gunpowder District Boy Scout Committee will hold its regular meeting at the Lloyd High School Erlanger at 8:00 (fast time). Plans for the coming Father and Son Banquet will be discussed at this meeting.

BOB WHITE FED IN BOONE COUNTY

BY STATE OFFICIALS AND CCC ENROLLEES—SHELTERS ALSO CONSTRUCTED ON GAME REFUGES IN COUNTY.

Two crews of CCC enrollees, under the supervision of Edwin Johnson, Northern Kentucky district conservation officer, and Ward T. Darnell, superintendent of the CCC camp at Walton, Saturday distributed grain and constructed bird shelters in Boone county game refuges.

Mr. Johnson purchased grain and feed and prevailed upon CCC boys and two trucks to carry supplies for the construction of shelters in the various game refuges in the county.

Work of this nature was necessary Mr. Johnson said, due to the heavy snow and bitter cold weather. He stated that birds in the various refuges were badly in need of feed.

Sportsmen throughout the county who know where there is a covey of birds are urged to feed them until the heavy snow has disappeared. A few pounds of feed will feed a covey of birds for several days, Mr. Johnson said.

"For Over Fifty Years"

TOO CLOSE!

"Unless we watch out we will be in it ourselves." These words are used too carelessly and are frequently dwelt on the possibility of the statement being true. The fact that our shoreline has now become a haven of refuge for ships of warring nations, is an item not to be discounted in the summing up. Look at it in the light of sunshine and palms, tropical nights and sandy beaches and you will see how pleasant our southern coast for security. The winter is cold and raw in climates where pop the guns. Why not steer into a season of farm breezes and bounding surf warmed by the Gulf Stream. What a talking point for a Florida real estate dealer. For those who wish to enjoy the comfort of the sun come south and get our your binoculars and view a few sea engagements of belligerent nations, off our coast! In all, Florida has highly advertised her warm semi-tropical climate. But we may cease to be pleasant about the affair and become slightly cross with them for bringing their private wars to our shores. The fact that England refuses to regard the Pan-American pact is not going to cause us to shoot a gun across her bow, but we have tried to remain out of the hostilities abroad and here in this country we would like to have those hostilities stay home and not dumped in our lap.

SAVE THEM!

Any of us who have a radio or read a newspaper or magazine, recognize that it is a wise policy to study our empty boxes before discarding them for we may be throwing away a chance to "get something for nothing" or almost nothing. There is usually some member in each Boone county family saving a label or box-top for a premium offered by companies for advertising purposes. It doesn't matter if it be dog food or figure in a gift of a salad bowl, scissors, silverware, so on. It's a safe bet that few wastebaskets hold cartons that will bring home a prize. Of such importance has this business become, that one mortal advertises his occupation as catering to the premium-minded individuals by maintaining a business founded on the sale to you of those varied pieces of cardboard needed for such contests. He doesn't seem to be in business for his health, either! Today is a day of contests, questions and answers, puzzles and name-its, and most of us bite upon them during the year. You will sometimes hear the question asked of how a concern can afford to give that and that away, but the solution is simple, the manufacturer uses this as a medium of advertising to get you on his list of satisfied customers.

A LARGE CROP

The largest tobacco crop ever produced in the United States is recorded for the year 1939. With this comes an item that one manufacturer is putting on the market a ladies cigarette with tip colored red and lipstick proof. The agencies of farm may be charged over this increase of tobacco but may be they will figure it is another case of a surplus crop. A dog may be man's best friend, but a pipe smoker is very apt to argue about this! We know how much enjoyment comes with a puff of tobacco. This editor hopes the tobacco growers receives his price, the manufacturer his just receipts and smokers in Boone county their favorite brand.

USELESS DEATHS

A father uses a daughter, a boy shoots his girl because she refused him a date, a mother slays a baby because it kept her home at night, and we call ourselves a civilized people! This is the beginning of a new year and what better way would there be than to think twice and count to ten in order to prevent the needless deaths of living. Too many unwarranted suits, too many unmerciful deaths, all facts horrible and ridiculous. We are a sane people, as a whole, but when we hear and read of these cases of viciousness and crime, we begin to wonder if we are mentally competent, as a whole.

RELIGION IN SCHOOL

"Twenty million American youths are spiritually illiterate." There are some who will doubt this and others in Boone county who have long felt the need of religious education for our young. We figure this is a Christian nation, but it is the younger generation who will keep us a Christian nation. One city starts a course in their public high schools in religious education and there will be many educators waiting to see the results of the experiment. This has been avoided in schools due to the objections of various religious sects. It is a delicate subject and approaches the same explosive tendency as bringing politics into the schoolroom. Perhaps obstacles may be overcome to bring into being a new respect and appreciation, understanding and belief, of this book, Bible.

NOT COMPLETELY FREE

It is not a case of fighting for liberty in the Philippines, it is a simple wish of "safety first" with them. The many years of agitation for their independence from this country, are overlooked in the island's more recent anxiety to continue under the protection of our government. Their complete freedom is scheduled for 1946 and already there is beginning to be a slight stirring of an unwillingness to accept this complete independence. Looking about them at the way small independent countries have suffered at the hands of larger and aggressive nations, the Philippines prefer a partial freedom, a freedom that is still safety and protection. If any such agreement will be reached, it will be on our terms we hope, for if we are to risk war with a nation through our protection of the Philippines, must justly insist upon using the islands for a military base and demand first rights in commerce and trade, besides other phases necessary in this serious matter of a protectorate.

THE FARM VOTE

Young Mr. Dewey pays heed for two or three half hours to words of advice propounded by ruralites on the farm problem. Many suggestions worthy of notice come to any politician hopeful of proving the choice of the people. So often aspirants to public office know little of farm program and problems confronting the nation and often refuse to consider the situation until the farmer's vote is sought. Permit the occasion to arise when enters the ballot-box, and up pops plans, concern and a fulfillment of every farmer's dream. To follow the need and appreciate the situation before a campaign presents itself, is what farmers in Boone County desire. A comprehension and study of the acute need should come before throwing the hat into the ring.

MORE TROUBLE

And while Rome burns, an Ohio governor argues with the national government, the municipalities of Ohio argue with the governor and the needy of the state hope for a settlement before they starve. Leading cities of this mid-western state ask for a meeting of the legislature to come to an agreement whereby the state can take care of its own. The state has balanced its budget and drastic relief means would unbalance it. Hot words are passed around, many of them inspired by politics rather than sympathy and concern for the country. The editorial pages of the country comment and the Ohio winter proceeds to bear down. This condition is in the rows.

GIVE IT!

The varied opinions of what to do about the sad case of Finland brings forth again the incident of 1939 when this country suggested reducing the war debt owed to us by Finland. On the grounds that "this is a just and honest debt," Finland declined to have the payment reduced. Our sympathy goes out to this nation. It is not necessary to involve ourselves in a war in order to help the Finns. One way of showing our respect for her integrity and our sorrow for her mangled people, is through gifts to the American Red Cross who have asked for contributions. Everyone in Boone county who desire to give assistance to this Scandinavian country can do so thru this medium, a very worthy cause in any time of need.

WANT TO REDUCE? DRINK BEFORE MEAL

Here's a way fat persons can keep from eating too much: Drink water or milk before meals. This is because this will tend to satisfy the appetite partially, and thus lower the food intake. The Kentucky College of Agriculture. On the other hand, if a gain in weight is desired, finish the meal and then drink a glass of milk in addition.

Several glasses of water a day—three to six, depending on the person. Occasionally one hears that "so-and-so never drinks water." This indicates that he or she is getting water from vegetables and fruit, through coffee, milk or other drinks.

MOUNTAIN LAND GROWS TOBACCO

O. B. Barrett, Estill county, grew an average of 1,401 pounds of tobacco to the acre in 1939. Twelve years ago the field received applications of 600 pounds of 16 percent superphosphate and five tons of limestone to the acre. In the 12 years, the land has been in alfalfa eight years, a year each in corn and soybeans, and two years in tobacco. Tobacco last year yielded alfalfa, and 400 pounds of 3-8-6 fertilizer per acre was drilled in the rows.

Migrant Labor Seen as Pariahs

Study by WPA Finds Roving Agricultural Workers Are Ostracized.

PHOENIX—Stories of exploitation and social ostracism of migratory workers presented in "The Grapes of Wrath" and other works of fiction are closely paralleled in a report on migrant families prepared by WPA research workers. The report, entitled "Migratory Cotton Workers in Arizona," gave a detailed account of the activities of 518 migrant families in this state early in 1938. It said homeless workers were attracted to Arizona by distorted advertising, only to find below subsistence wages, unsanitary living conditions, and social barriers as rigid and inflexible as to be found anywhere.

Seek Cheap Labor.

"Although Arizona's most valuable crop (cotton) can be harvested without them," the report said, "itinerant cotton pickers are regarded as pariahs, and farmers feel their children are degraded by contact in schools with poor migrants." The report said as much as $300,000 had been spent by Arizona producers in a single year to attract a cheap labor supply to this state. Medium usually used were display advertising in newspapers, handbills, and publicity, all promising good pay, good living conditions in the camps and a "healthy, salubrious climate."

"Actually," the investigators reported, "possible earnings appear to have been much lower than those stated in the advertising. Under prevailing wages their jobs ordinarily provide only a meager day-to-day existence at best, and the workers have no reserves to tide them over slack times." Average earnings of a cotton picker were found to be about $6 to $8 a week, and only in one instance was a worker able to earn as much as $10 a week. Large families with four workers or more averaged a gross income of $18.38 for a week's work.

Willings to Work. The report presented a scene of poor living conditions in the camps, describing them as "filthy, makeshift lack of shelter, frequently lacking even elementary sanitary facilities."

Many migrants must appeal for direct relief upon completion of the harvest, the report said, because their meager earnings will not carry them as far as the next area where a harvest may be found. "The migrant's plan for further movement at the end of the season reflects his bewilderment and hopelessness in a situation where few had enough money to go anywhere. "The very fact of this migration is an indication of his will to undergo hardships for the sake of a job. The migrant workman is not a bitter applicant by choice, but by bitter necessity."

THE PROBLEM OF FORGIVENESS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 18:21-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.—Matthew 6:12.

Christianity and forgiveness belong together. Among the religions of the world, Christianity stands out as the one true faith because it properly and adequately meets the problem of sin. In Christ is provided forgiveness for sin, cleansing from unrighteousness, and a new birth by which one enters into a life of holiness and power.

Since these things are true it would seem to be almost unnecessary to urge God's children to be of a forgiving spirit. But as Bishop Ryle says, "It is a melancholy fact that there are few Christian duties so little practiced as that of forgiveness. It is sad to see how much bitterness, unmercifulness, spite, harshness and unkindness there is among men." Surely these things ought not to be.

I. The Extent of Forgiveness (vv. 21, 22).

"How long do I have to stand it?" is the question of the human heart untouched by the spirit of Christ. The injustices of life, the offenses of our fellow men against us, all seem to pile up until the burden is about to crush us. What is the answer to man's cry?

The Jews had an answer. Three times a day they said, "Forgive us, Again, yes. But the third time, no. Peter was big-hearted enough to more than double that allowance of mercy. He was willing to forgive not just two or three times, but seven times. The point to be kept in mind, however, is that whether forgiveness means three times or seven times, if there is a limit, it is a matter of reckoning of keeping track of and ultimately bringing down our judgment upon the heads of the offenders.

The spirit of Christ swept all of this aside and said that one should forgive 70 times seven. In other words, Christian forgiveness is to be untiring, unlimited, to know no weariness and have no boundaries. Here again we find that one should have a forgiving spirit, and that spirit is not exhausted by use, but rather grows by exercise.

A word of caution is in order at this point. Let no one suppose that the forgiveness of God is to be against the good order of society are to be overlooked and condoned. It relates to the cultivation of a personal attitude of forgiveness, the laying aside of revenge, of malice, of retaliation which do not become the Christian.

II. The Motive of Forgiveness (vv. 23-27).

Two motives are given in our text, the first being that since we ourselves are daily and hourly in need of forgiveness at the merciful hand of God, we should in turn be merciful toward those who sin against us. Compared with our offenses against the law of God, we know that the misdeeds of our neighbors against us are mere trifles. Remember what God has done for you, and then when you are tempted to be hard and ungracious with your brother, remember the mercy of God.

The second motive is the remembrance that a day of judgment is to come. There is always a time of reckoning ahead even as was the case with these servants. Remember not only what God has done for you and is doing for you, but what you must yet expect Him to do in that day of judgment.

III. The Importance of Forgiveness (v. 35).

A man is dealing with his fellow man is apt to think that it is merely a matter between man and man. We are not dealing with a straight line between ourselves and our brother (that was Peter's error), but with a triangle at whose apex is God Himself. If I expect God to forgive me, I must let that same forgiveness flow out to my brother. If I deal with him as though God had nothing to do with the matter, then I must not try to count God's forgiveness into the picture when I stand indebted before Him.

Again we express a word of caution. Let no one suppose that our redemption in Christ is contingent upon what we do toward our brethren. "For by grace are ye saved through faith, and that not of works; it is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast" (Eph. 2:8, 9). Nor does the truth of our lesson mean that we are somehow going to bargain with God, trading a bit of our forgiveness toward others for His forgiveness to us. God is not interested in such transactions. But it does mean that if you cannot or will not forgive, you may well consider whether you are a Christian at all.

Angry Words. Seest thou a man that is hasty in his words? There is more hope of a fool than of him.—Proverbs 29, 20.

URGES CHICKEN RANGE ROTATION

A four-year rotation range plan for poultry raising is presented in Kentucky College of Agriculture circular 265, "Poultry Parasites and Sanitation."

It is especially important, declares Dr. F. E. Hull, the author, that growing chickens should not be given ground that has been used for any kind of poultry during the past two years.

All the work of keeping a brooder house clean is lost by placing the chickens on range that is infested with parasite eggs. The best plan is to provide four ranges, at least 100 yards apart, a different one to be used each year.

RAILROADS IN BOONE COUNTY ASSESSED TOTAL OF $23,202.64 IN 1938

Every minute of every day of 1938 the railroads of Kentucky paid $2.98 in taxes for general government purposes and for use by Kentucky schools. It was indicated by Gardner C. Hudson, executive secretary of the Kentucky Railroad Association, in commenting on a pamphlet published by that Association this week.

"While the railroads were paying $2.98 each minute, common carrier for-hire trucks were being assessed less than 6 cents for identical purposes," Mr. Hudson said.

Railroad, express agency and Pullman Company assessments for Kentucky for 1938 amounted to $4,717,379.37 and common carrier trucks—vehicles that haul freight on highways in competition with railroads—were assessed only $26,577.32, the pamphlet showed.

Figures for Boone county revealed that railroads were assessed a total tax of $23,202.64, of which $11,946.28 was for our county and city schools and $11,256.36 for use by our county and city governments.

Common carrier truck assessments in Boone county amounted to a total of only $319.26, of which $152.68 was for use of our schools and $166.58 was for county and city governments.

"The only taxes paid by the operators of big common carrier trucks which are fairly comparable to railroad taxes are real estate, personal property and franchise taxes, and they amount to only a few dollars in each county," Mr. Hudson explained. "Other so-called taxes" paid by those who operate common carrier trucks for private profit on public highways are not true taxes, that is, they are not spent to operate schools or other necessary activities of government. They are used," Mr. Hudson said, "only to build and maintain the public highways which those trucks use in exactly the same way that a railroad uses its own tracks, and without which those trucks could not operate at all. All license or registration fees and all gasoline taxes fall into the same class; they cannot fairly be compared with railroad taxes, but simply correspond to the money a railroad spends to build and maintain its own tracks and roadbed," he added.

In pointing out that taxes against the railroads for educational purposes in counties and in the state amounted to $2,290,791.48 in comparison to the assessment of $12,108.90 against common carrier trucks for the same purpose, Mr. Hudson said it readily could be ascertained that one of the fundamental factors of good education in Kentucky lies in the ability of railroads to pay taxes.

Operators of for-hire trucks cloud the issue by claiming credit for the total amount of license and gasoline taxes paid by all trucks, including amounts paid by farmers to run their own trucks, and the amount local merchants pay to operate their delivery trucks, which never run on the state highways on which their gasoline taxes are spent, the pamphlet said.

"Careful estimates based on the best information available indicate that all for-hire trucks paid in Kentucky in 1938 less than $620,000 in gasoline tax, license fees, weight tax and other items combined out of a total of more than $1,229,757, paid in gas tax, license fees and other highway taxes by the 348,951 automobiles and 63,699 trucks of all types then registered in Kentucky," Mr. Hudson said. The taxes paid by the commercial trucks, in addition to the ordinary gasoline and license taxes paid by private trucks, amounts to only $213,775.82 per year.

"Yet," he added, "in return for this relatively insignificant contribution, the operators of these for-hire trucks receive, without additional charge, the right to use state and county highways which have cost the people of Kentucky more than $400,000,000."

"And these operators of for-hire trucks are now the ones who are chiefly interested in destroying the present law fixing weight and size of vehicles allowed on Kentucky's highways, because the law does not in any way affect the average farm truck or city delivery truck," Hudson said.

"Any change in the law increasing the existing limits and permitting operation of larger, heavier commercial trucks would make highway travel more dangerous, and vastly more inconvenient for all private motorists and for the operators of lawful revenue thru their gasoline taxes and license fees. It would also increase the cost to all people of the state to maintain our highway system as a result of the damage which would be caused by operation of heavier and larger trucks."

"The railroads, as Kentucky's largest taxpayers, have a legitimate interest in preventing any increase in general taxes, especially when such an increase, as in this case, would benefit only a very few private transportation companies," he concluded.

GRANT GROWERS WANT WEED COOP

UNFAIR SELLING PRACTICES AND UNDUE CAUSE FOR LOWER PRICES IS CHARGE—UNFAIR TO SMALL GROWER.

The Grant County Farm Bureau at its annual meeting, December 13, at Williamstown, after a discussion of the prices being paid for tobacco, and the present loose-leaf marketing system, adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, the present auction system of selling tobacco on loose-leaf floors has been tried for more than 20 years, and during this period of time has been proven very unsatisfactory and continues to grow worse every year, from the growers standpoint, we call attention of tobacco growers to the following unsatisfactory marketing conditions:

1. Irregular prices between growers' crops, checking with government grades, the price on the same day will vary from 3 to 10 cents per pound on the same grade.
2. The small grower is unable to place his tobacco on the floor until the large growers have disposed of their crops.
3. Collusion and trickery are practiced by certain favored growers to get higher prices at the expense of other growers.

It is practically impossible to get a fair sale on a crop of tobacco without some warehouse or buyer "pull." Farmers are forced to be parties to this practice to get a fair price, although they condemn and disapprove of them.

4. As a further evidence of the failure of the system, although the production has declined for the last three years, which would normally result in a higher price for tobacco, the price of tobacco has on the contrary declined and is now selling below parity price $3 to $5 per hundred.

5. On a declining market the cost of selling under the auction system has increased from year to year, culminating this year in an increase of the percentage fee of 20 percent.

6. The shortening of the selling season from three months to six weeks has caused much dissatisfaction, inconvenience and expense to the growers.

We favor a co-operative selling system that will protect the grower up to parity price.

We ask that commodity loans be made available on burley tobacco, so that we can formulate and finance a co-operative selling system and sustained production control.

We urge all farm organizations and county Farm Bureaus to contact the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation in an effort to bring about an organization of tobacco growers for co-operative selling and improvement of marketing

HOW TO BE YOUR OWN DECORATOR

By

Helen Koues

Director, Good Housekeeping Studio

"What shall I put on my mantel?" This is one of the questions I'm frequently asked. First, of course, it depends on what type of mantel you have and in what type of room the mantel is placed. You put the type of ornaments on your mantel which suit the type of the room, but the articles themselves are often the same: a clock for instance or candlesticks are often used articles. The difference is that in a Colonial room, use a Colonial clock and brass or crystal candlesticks on a Colonial wooden mantel painted white or a light color. On a stone mantel in an early English room, or one of deep brown walnut, heavier types are right. Iron candlesticks, or those of heavy brass or pewter and a clock with a heavy case, are in keeping. There are not many clocks of the 17th Century type to be found. The old "wag on the wall" was used in those days, the forerunner of the Grandfather clock. It has a brass face and the long pendulums hang exposed. It is not a mantel clock, of course, but following it came a brass faced clock in a wooden case which looks well with a heavy mantel. But on such a mantel why struggle with a clock at all? Instead put a row of small books between heavy book ends in the center of the shelf with the candlesticks on each side. Or, again perhaps you are a collector of something, and if you are not, why not start now and be one? Collect pewter jugs or Toby jugs or china animals and put a row on the mantel, using your choice of three or five.

It's a great thing to have a hobby. But "Life is real, life is earnest" and you haven't time, or money, I hear you say. I wonder if you really haven't the time and if you wouldn't be happier to make those around you happier for a harmless hobby which does not take much of either time or money. It's a relaxation, cultivates that good old thing, a sense of humor, and the less serious side of life. It's something to laugh over. It's rather like knitting. The busiest people knit, if they once get started—so try "collecting" if you are interested in decorating your house, and be surprised at the attractive articles you will acquire of history and how our forefathers lived.

But there are lots of other things to be put on mantels—vases or mantel. If it's a fine mirror, then hang that. Perhaps you have neither and can't afford to buy them. Then get a piece of decorative chintz and hang it from the picture molding to within four inches of mantel, leaving about six inches on each side. Or perhaps you have two or three small pictures. In such a case make a plain colored fabric as a background and group your small pictures on it, in the center. It's amazing the attractive small pictures the ten cent store has, if you don't happen to have any.

The question of side lights is important. If you have side lights you don't want candlesticks, so instead of something comparatively low in the center and high on each side of the mantel shelf, you may want something high in the center and low on the ends. And then what to choose? Dozens of things. A pair of jars or figures which are ornaments in themselves—or small open jars filled with ivy or Chinese lilies which decorate the space between the side lights and the mantel shelf. If decorative china vases are used at the ends, then a shallow bowl for flowers may be put in the center. In a 17th Century room, old pewter tankards may be end pieces with a group of small metal articles such as Scottish dice (if you like them) in the center.

STAINS

Put garments stained with perspiration to soak for a few minutes in lukewarm water in which a bit of carbonate of soda is added. . . . To remove lipstick stains from cotton or linen, wash out as usual with plenty of warm water and plenty of soap suds. . . . A tablespoon of paraffin added to water when washing linoleum will remove stains and preserve floor covering.

WASHING WOOLENS

Never dry woolen garments in extremely hot or cold temperatures. Absorb excess water by wrapping in heavy towels. A good way to dry woolen sweaters is by pinning them to a large blanket with damping needles and then hang the blanket on the line. The garments will hold their shape nicely.

SEWING HINTS

Fasten a safety pin to one end of your newly made belt for turning. . . . Use the ready made bias binding for your seams. It is cut so perfectly and makes a smoother finish than you could accomplish yourself. . . . Try new ways of pleats tucks and gathers on sleeves. You can get smart effects without using a pattern.

FLANNELS

If flannels have been incorrectly washed and have become hard and have shrunken, you can restore their shape and softness by soaking them in gasoline for a few hours. Wash the garment afterwards in soft suds and rinse in lukewarm water.

J. C. W. BECKHAM IS SUMMONED

WAS PROMINENT FIGURE IN POLITICAL AND CIVIC LIFE FOR DECADES—HAD BEEN ILL
SEVERAL MONTHS.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 9—John Crepps Wickliffe Beckham, prominent figure in the political and civic life of Kentucky for two decades, died at 6 a. m. today at his home in this city.

Once governor himself when he succeeded to the office in 1900 at the assassination of Gov. William Goebel, he was the grandson of a governor and the nephew of a governor. He had been ill for several months, having suffered a stroke last fall.

Quiet, easy-going, not overly industrious, Mr. Beckham, 70, extreme conservative and anti-New Dealer, held a name that almost spelled magic among Kentucky Democrats for 40 years.

He first came into prominence 40 years ago with the assassination of Gov. William Goebel. Beckham was catapulted into the governorship as a result of Goebel's death, held that post for seven years, having been elected in November, 1900 to fill out the Goebel term and in November, 1903, for a full term in his own right.

Beckham's name was before the public often as a candidate for public office. He met defeat with his party only once in a career covering 46 years. He lost two state-wide popular elections to Republicans at a time when Democrats were winning for other offices. He lost a race to a Republican before a Democratic General Assembly.

Despite his reverses his name meant much to many Kentuckians who stood by him loyally throughout the years. He was usually in the fray as a sort of crusader, espousing prohibition and abolition of the pari-mutual system of betting at race tracks.

During his single term in the U. S. Senate—an office he sought four times—he opposed woman's suffrage despite a personal plea from President Wilson to support it.

He was Kentucky's youngest governor, being only 30 years of age at the time he attained the office. His public career dated back to 1894 when he became a member of the House of Representatives. He was re-elected in 1896 and in 1898 when he became speaker, largely due to the rise of the late Percy Haly to a position of influence in Democratic party circles.

Toward the close of his career as governor he became a candidate for the U. S. Senate. He championed prohibition and brought the war of distilleries down on his head. He won the Democratic nomination against James B. McCreary in a primary held two years in advance of the time for election of a senator.

Al Pearce

Big genius Al Pearce, whose "I hope, I hope, I hope" has become a national "gag," is conducting research work to discover whether or not he was the first person to conduct a musical broadcast over the air. Al, who appears with his "gang," for the benefit of WHAS listeners from 7 to 7:30 p. m. each Wednesday, believes he was the first.

When Pearce was 16, he broadcast over a radio arc transmitter in San Jose, Calif. At that time an Edison "morning glory" type of microphone was used. All theme song in those days was "Hello, Hawaii, How Are You," which was the hit of the season in 1914. Al is seeking information of any such program prior to 1914.

Al began his career as a milk salesman, when he was 15, seeking buyers for the milk from the family cow. His brother Cal did the milking. His playing, performing of impersonations and singing helped his salesmanship and the "dairy" prospered. He moved to San Francisco, got a job selling insurance and when singing doorbells, he would mutter "There's nobody home today—I hope, I hope I hope." It was thus that he conceived the idea for "Elmer Blurt, low pressure salesman." He returned to radio and his popularity has risen steadily.

NEW, IMPROVED MOTOR FUEL ANNOUNCED BY STANDARD OIL

Crown Gasoline Given Highest Octane Rating in Its Long History.

Standard Oil stations and dealers are today offering their customers the new, improved Crown Gasoline—a popular priced gasoline that meets specifications for premium anti-knock performance.

Road tests have proved that this new gasoline gives motorists quicker starting, faster pick-up, smoother operation, more mileage, and a new high in knockless power. It also contains a unique solvent action, which helps to reduce the tendency of carbon formation.

Today's purchasers of popular price gasoline demand the performance heretofore obtainable only in premium grade at premium price, and the development of this new, improved gasoline was to meet this demand.

CONSTANCE P.-T. A. NOTES
The regular meeting of the Constance P.-T. A. will be held January 17th at the usual time 2:30 p. m.

Don't forget the pound party for the luncheon on this date.

CLEAN AIR
If your room is heavy with smoke from a crowd of smokers and you want to air out before morning, it isn't necessary to open the window to do so. Put a basin of water in the room and by morning the air will be fresh in the room.

COUNTIES USE FARM PROGRAM LIMESTONE

Farmers in 14 Kentucky counties received 30,125 tons of agricultural limestone in lieu of cash payments, as grants of aid in 1939 from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the State AAA office has announced.

Counties receiving this material and the tonnages supplied in each are: Ballard, 1,211; Bell, 834; Calloway, 4,454; Carlisle, 1,688; Fulton, 448; Graves, 6,044; Henderson, 1,187; Hickman, 2,465; McCracken, 2,112; McCreary, 62; Marshall, 4,748; Martin, 65; Union, 4,321; and Webster 478.

This ground limestone is supplied as a grant of aid in connection with the Agricultural Conservation Program in counties where limestone is not readily available in local quarries and is designed to help those farmers who want limestone but are unable to secure it from other sources.

These grants represent only a small part of the total tonnage of limestone used in connection with the Agricultural Conservation Program throughout the state in 1939, and do not represent the total amount used in these counties. The amount of limestone supplied, however, is more than 50 times as high as the total of 57,745 tons used by these 14 counties in 1938.

Last year these 14 counties, representing about 12 percent of the state, used only about 1 percent of the 781,983 tons of limestone applied by farmers throughout Kentucky. These grants of aid in 1939 are expected to bring lime application in these counties into line with that in other parts of the state, AAA officials said.

THE FARM AND HOME

When cooking bacon, start with a cool skillet and turn often. A large quantity may be cooked in the oven. It takes longer but is easy and requires little watching. Ham should be baked in a slow oven of around 300 degrees.

Corn used as the grain feed for hens or as a part of the grain mixture by farmers throughout Kentucky, is eaten readily by hens and is fed with little waste. Yellow corn is preferred to white because it is rich in vitamin A.

Boysenberry is one of the best pie berries yet discovered. It was formed by crossing the blackberry, raspberry and loganberry. Berries and other small fruits are described in bulletin 396, "Grape and Small-Fruit Varieties for Kentucky," published by the Experiment Station, Lexington.

A sow on full feed following farrowing requires 3 to 5 pounds of feed daily per 100 pounds of weight depending on the number of pigs. Feeds that furnish a heavy flow of milk are desirable, so the pigs will get a good start.

A ruffled curtain is a dust catcher, and is more difficult to iron than a plain one. It covers most of the window, even when looped back. Ruffles are fussy, and do not harmonize with many rooms, and are particularly poor taste for a man's room.

In a small kitchen, a central electric light is usually satisfactory. A long, narrow kitchen may require two such fixtures, in order to have proper light. Poor lighting may cause fatigue and eye-strain.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

Noel Strange, Adair county 4-H club boy, grew 400 pounds of tobacco on four-tenths of an acre.

Fifteen registered Jersey heifers have been placed with Calloway county 4-H club members.

Carter county poultry raisers keeping records reported profits as high as 28 cents per hen last month.

Grant Madden, Harlan county, grazed 10 cattle all summer on 15 acres of rye grass, meadow fescue, redtop and lespedeza.

Larue county farmers purchased two loads of beef cows in Kansas City.

The Lexington Kiwanis club presented silver tumblers to the 4-H club champions of Fayette county.

Orem LaMaster, Fleming county agent, will speak at the meeting of poultry raisers during the Farm and Home Convention.

The Henderson County Farm Bureau placed registered Durco, Chester White and Spotted Poland China glits with farmers.

Twenty-four Carlisle county 4-H club boys are feeding 30 calves to show at Evansville, Ind., in August.

Drainage and reforestation will receive increased attention in Hopkins county this year.

Four thousand small were raised on the Shelby county fair grounds at Shelbyville.

Twenty-six Anderson county farmers are using the College of Agriculture poultry calendar and keeping flock records.

There are those who wonder when the political parties will mail out invitations for the official homecoming of 1940.

GRASSES ESSENTIAL TO SOIL CONSERVATION

Establishment of good stands of clovers and grasses in winter small grains is essential if soil-conserving crop rotations are to result, according to Ward T. Darrell, superintendent of the CCC camp at Walton, Kentucky.

The success of these stands can be insured by top-dressing winter wheat and other fall-seeded small grain with barnyard manure at the rate of from 3 to 5 tons an acre. However, Mr. Darrell pointed out, manure is not a substitute for the lime usually needed for successful legume seedings; but its use as a top-dressing will produce suitable meadow stands where failure might otherwise be expected.

Mr. Darrell points out that the manure mulch may be applied, preferably with a spreader, at any time during the fall and winter months after the small grain has been seeded. The manure will provide an available source of plant food for the clover and alfalfa seed that is planted in the early spring. The manure, according to Mr. Darrell will tend to counteract the effect of competition from the small grain which has been growing since fall, and will permit the sprouting legume seedlings to get a good start.

"The proper utilization of barnyard manure is in itself a soil-conserving measure in that it will insure more productive meadows, thus lessening soil losses, and will at the same time improve the quality and yield of the winter small grain," Mr. Darrell said.

ADAIR COUNTY WORK REVIEWED BY AGENT

A year of agricultural progress is reported by County Agent R. B. Rankin in Adair county, Kentucky. The agricultural conservation program functioned well, he says, with the use of phosphate increasing four fold. Six hundred and twenty farmers used triple superphosphate.

Hybrid corn growing increased about 50 fold, with farmers highly pleased with yields. Thirteen farmers tried certified wheat. Missouri beardless barley was introduced. Two hundred and nine farmers sowed 604 acres to crimson clover, 33 seeded alfalfa, and 13 seeded vetch. Rye grass was sowed widely for the first time.

Tobacco marketing quotas for next year were favored by 92 percent of those voting in the referendum. Twenty-seven farmers entered the state swine ton-litter contest, and three litters exceeded the ton goal, the largest weighing 2,481 pounds. Twenty-three farmers entered poultry raising demonstrations.

WHITLEY CATTLE IMPROVED

So pleased are farmers in Whitley county, Kentucky, with calves from Milking Shorthorn cows, or sired by bulls of that breed, that they are considering the purchase of 10 or 12 more bulls, according to County Agent Wilmot Carter. Heifers are being kept to build up herds, and male calves are bringing good money as vealers. One calf seven weeks and five days old, out of a native cow, brought $23.50.

Tuesday, Wed. and Thursday, Jan. 16, 17, 18—"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington"

More young screen hopefuls, especially musicians, owe their first opportunity in pictures to Gene Autry than any other person in the film industry. Autry, who is currently appearing in Republic's super musical western, "In Old Monterey," coming to the Gayety Saturday always insists that in each and every picture some new musician, unknown to screen fans, be given a spot in his picture. "In Old Monterey," Gene gives two famous radio teams their first big picture opportunity. They are the Hooper Hot Shots and Sallie and Sallie.

Just about a year ago, Richard Green arrived from England as a Hollywood recruit. Since then he has appeared in a number of 20th Century-Fox pictures, but never in a leading role. To date the studio has received more than 250,000 fan letters requesting that he be starred—an amazing occurrence in filmdom.

As a result Darryl F. Zanuck, 20th Century-Fox production chief

FARM RECORDS ARE COMPLETED

BY THIRTEEN BOONE COUNTY FARMERS IN COOPERATION WITH COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE THE PAST YEAR.

Thirteen Boone County farmers kept complete farm account records in cooperation with the College of Agriculture the past year, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. A complete confidential business analysis will be supplied each of these cooperators.

Farmers cooperating in the 1939 project include: Henry Sleiman, John Grims, B. C. Stephens, L. R. Vice, Cam White, Sam B. Sleet, William Ryle, Albert Parker, C. A. Wolfe, Sterling Rouse, Wilton Stephens, Grant Maddox and Wm. H. Moore.

The 1940 project starts as of January 1st, this year. This project is open free of charge to all business-minded farmers who are interested in keeping complete farm business account records. The farmer makes a complete inventory of feed, stock and equipment at the beginning and at the close of the year, and records all expenses and receipts. The College field agent totals and summarizes the various farm enterprises and, if the book is kept complete, prepares a business analysis on the farm. The original farm account book is paid for by the cooperator at a cost of fifteen cents. After the first year the book is supplied free of charge. Most cooperators in the present project have kept records from the last five to fourteen years.

Those interested in starting records for the first time should contact the County Agent's Office at Burlington at an early date in order to get started on the new 1940 year.

VERONA

Health of the community is generally good for the time of year. Uncliff Williams, Mayor, one of our oldest citizens is on the sick list.

1939 presented 1940 with an old fashion winter on her birthday, and we trust it will let up before 1940 is very old.

The extreme cold has not only taken fuel and feed but also caused water to become very scarce, something very unusual for this time of year.

Most of the tobacco has been marketed around here. The school opened January 2 and is still in progress despite the slippery roads.

Hiram English was the first to butcher here in 1940. The shower given by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ryan for their son Wendell was largely attended.

Regular services at New Bethel Sunday and Sunday night, Sunday School at 10 o'clock, preaching at 11 o'clock by pastor, Bro. Davis. Everyone welcome.

Storage Spaces For Kitchen Studied By Local Homemakers

Home Improvement leaders met last week to study "Kitchen Storage." Six clubs were represented by leaders who reported on their local club activities on the major project "The Modern Kitchen." This was the third leader's training class. Many clubs were unable to be represented by a leader due to the slick roads, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Methods of packing cabinets to conserve space and afford immediate reach of articles was shown by Miss Ida C. Hagman, Home Improvement specialist, University of Kentucky. She displayed several types of files that make storage an easy problem in the kitchen. Blue prints for inexpensive cabinets and files were shown to the leaders.

The lesson on kitchen storage will be given to local club groups during January. Clubs who were not represented at the training class will receive the lesson from visiting leaders as follows:

Bullittsville Club, lesson to be given by Hebron leaders; Grant, lesson to be given by Rabbit Hash leaders; Petersburg Club, lesson to be given by Burlington leaders; Taylorsport, lesson to be given by Constance leaders; Walton, lesson to be given by Constance leaders; Walton, lesson to be given by Constance leaders; Walton, lesson to be given by Constance leaders.

CITY BUILDING FOR ELSMERE

IS PLANNED BY BOARD OF TRUSTEES—CITY ENGINEER TO GIVE ESTIMATE FOR NEW STRUCTURE.

The Board of Trustees of Elsmere, marking time Thursday on a proposal that a new city building be constructed on the site of the present meeting place on Garvey avenue, at Ash street.

At a meeting Tuesday night of last week the board passed a resolution instructing City Engineer Joseph Hermann to draw up plans and specifications for the proposed new building. After Mr. Hermann submits his plans to the board, application will be made for a Works Project Administration grant to finance the work.

The engineer is expected to submit a report at the January 16th meeting of the board.

Tentative plans for the proposed building include a council room, offices for the clerk, treasurer and tax collector, jail cells and fire department quarters. No estimate of the total cost is available until Mr. Hermann makes his report, it was announced.

Other business of the Elsmere Board at Tuesday's session included a report by Mr. Hermann that the city's sanitary sewer system now is half completed; the payment of bills for work on the project; and a vote by the board to extend until Feb. 3 the time for payment of the sewer assessments without penalty and interest.

FARM WOMEN CAN BIG FOOD SUPPLY

The money value of canning done by 180 members of home-makers clubs in Trigg county, Kentucky, is placed at a total of $11,851.95, in a report of Miss Eleanor Whittinghill, county home demonstration agent.

Included are 18,097 quarts of fruit worth, at 25 cents a quart, $4,524.25; 14,082 quarts of vegetables worth, at 20 cents a quart, $2,816.40; 4,082 quarts of meat valued at 45 cents a quart or $1,836.90; 5,651 quarts of preserves, jams, jellies, pickles and relishes, valued at 20 to 50 cents a quart, or $2,285.50.

While this canning means a saving in the food bills of the families, Miss Whittinghill places its greatest value in better balanced diets and better health.

NOTED SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM

OF FARM AND HOME WEEK TO BE HELD AT LEXINGTON JANUARY 30, 31 AND FEBRUARY 1 AND 2.

Programs of the twenty-eighth annual Farm and Home Convention have been received in the county, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. The state-wide conference of Homemakers will be held January 30, 31 and February 1 and 2.

There of the women's session will be "Women in the World Today." Noted lecturers will address the Homemakers. Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton, well-known writer and lecturer and member of the National Preaching Mission during 1936-37 and the University Christian Mission for 1938-39, will talk to the group on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Overton has spoken before student groups at the University of Kentucky, and also conducted a series of lectures before women's clubs in the State. Mrs. Overton's subjects will be "Woman Emerges from Her Chrysalis," "Big Issues in the World Today" and "Our Children in Tomorrow's World." Others on the program of the women's session will be Dr. Louise Stanley, Chief, Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture and Miss Ella Gardner, noted recreation specialist.

An important feature of the week's program will be a panel discussion on "What Can We Do to Obtain Greater Abundance for the American Home." Four farm and four city homemakers will take part in the discussion on January 31st. The panel leader will be Mr. A. Drummond Jones, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. The annual get-together banquet has been scheduled for Thursday evening, February 1st, in the student Union Bldg. Programs can be obtained from the office of the Home Demonstration Agent. A delegation of Homemakers is planning to attend the week's program.

RIDGES NEED LIMESTONE
 Tests made by County Agent J. G. Dye show that ridge land in Robertson county needs limestone, while clay hills and bottoms in the county need little or no lime. The ridges generally are lighter soils containing less clay and more silt than the hills. Further tests will be made to determine phosphate needs.

HOT RICE
 To keep rice hot, after it has boiled, drain and rinse in warm water before returning to kettle. Cover with cloth and set container in pain of hot water over low heat. The rice will continue to swell and keep hot and flaky for 10 minutes. Macaroni and spaghetti can be kept hot in this same way.

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, JANUARY 18, 1940

VOLUME 64

NUMBER 33

FIRE DESTROYS MAXWELL HOME

DEFECTIVE FLUE SAID TO BE CAUSE OF BLAZE—DAMAGE
ESTIMATED AT $800.00—PART OF FURNITURE SAVED.

Fire completely destroyed the five-room log house, owned by Wm. Hill and occupied by Everett Maxwell, of Idlewild, early Monday morning, before help arrived to extinguish the flames.

Two-thirds of the household furnishings of Mr. Maxwell were saved. However, a lot of furniture owned by Bill Holt, who was planning to move to this place in March, was completely lost. The damage was estimated Monday noon at $800.00.

The fire started in the attic of the house, and had gained considerable headway before it was discovered. The Maxwell family was at home at the time of the fire. The Hebron Fire Department was summoned and arrived in record time, but were unable to extinguish the blaze, since it had gained such headway it was impossible to bring under control.

The house was of log construction and of considerable age. It was located in the rear of Scott's store at the intersection of Route 20 and Burlington-Idlewild road.

The residence was insured in the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., it was reported.

Old Cason Home Damaged By Fire

Slight damage was reported to the old Jim Cason home, located on the East Bend road Monday morning. Fire started from a defective flue, which was detected by Mr. Hutton who resides on the farm, and was quickly extinguished. Two sheets of roofing were damaged by the blaze, Mr. F. H. House, secretary of the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., reported. The house was insured in this company.

STOLEN CAR LOCATED SUN.

ON YOEUELL ROAD AFTER BEING WRECKED AND ABANDONED
CINCINNATI MAN CLAIMS CAR MONDAY.

A 1937 model Ford car was found on the Yoeuell Pike about 200 yards off Route 20 early Sunday morning by Deputy Sheriff, J. T. Williams.

The car, bearing Ohio license plates was damaged considerably, and driver could not be located. Cincinnati police were notified and a check-up of license revealed the owner to be Denver C. Brady, 4523 Church St., Winston Park, Cincinnati.

Mr. Brady came to Burlington Monday to identify his car, and also inspected a small piece of paper found in the car, the only clue that might lead to the identity of the robbers. The paper contained a name and address of a Cincinnati man, later learned to be Mr. Brady's grandfather.

The car was towed to Earl Aylor's garage, Hebron, for safe keeping until it was claimed.

Beaver Farmer Receives $23.06 For Tobacco Crop

Mr. S. B. Sleet, prominent farmer of Beaver community, sold 6,072 pounds of tobacco on Friday for $1,407.75 or an average of $23.06 per hundred.

Mr. Sleet reports that last spring he treated his plant beds with Bordeaux mixture to control leaf diseases, allowed his tobacco to ripen before cutting, housed his crop in a bam equipped with a modern type ridge ventilator and used care in stripping and grading.

4-H Home Economics Organization To Start

Organization of 4-H Home Economics project group in Boone county will start this week according to Mary Hood Gumphe, Home Demonstration Agent.

The first clubs to start work in Home Economics projects for the new 4-H year were Verona and Walton.

Groups will be organized in ten community clubs during the next two weeks. Girls between the ages of 10 to 18 may enroll in projects of clothing, foods, room improvement or canning. Actual project work will start immediately in clothing and foods, while room improvement will start in April and Canning in May.

MARCH OF DIMES PROGRAM CHOSEN

TO RAISE BOONE COUNTY'S QUOTA IN INFANTILE PARALYSIS CAMPAIGN—SCHOOLS
TO SUPPORT DRIVE.

The committee of the infantile paralysis campaign for Boone county has selected the March of Dimes program for raising its quota of $135.00. The cards will be mailed within the next few days. Supply of cards is limited, and if you do not receive one, mail your contribution direct to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Washington, D. C.

One-half of all cases of this dread disease in the world are here in North America. Four times as many cases were reported in the U. S. in 1939 as there were in 1938. In South Carolina last year there was an epidemic of this disease, with 438 cases reported. More than $15,000 were spent; 175 victims have a fighting chance to emerge with the minimum crippling after-effects.

Your contribution will be appreciated by the National foundation, no matter how small it may be. Be sure to state that your contribution came from Boone County, Kentucky, so we may receive half of this money for work here in our own county.

Our President, Franklin D. Roosevelt was a victim of this disease. His birthday is January 30, and for that reason we are sending greetings to him, and contributions going to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. The Boone County committee has the support of the schools of this county through the cooperation of Supt. D. H. Morris. This part of the campaign will be taken up next week, at which time a voluntary contribution can be made by the children of the various schools.

Annual Credit Meeting

The sixth annual stockholders' meeting of the Northern Kentucky Production Credit Association will be held at the Theatre building in Williamstown on Thursday, January 25, 1940, at 10 o'clock. An interesting and instructive program is being arranged and lunch will be served at noon. All stockholders and friends are invited to attend.

GLASSES LOST

Mrs. Joe Huey, Burlington, reports she lost her only set of reading glasses somewhere in Burlington about six weeks ago, and she would greatly appreciate it if the person who found them would be kind enough to return same. Anyone desiring to return same may notify his office, or leave them here anytime.

P-T. A. TO HOLD DISTRICT MEET

AT NEWPORT HIGH SCHOOL—
LOCAL PRESIDENTS URGED TO SEND ALL STATE AND NATIONAL DUES AT ONCE.

The mid-winter conference of the Sixth District Kentucky Branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will meet on Friday, January 26 at 4 p. m. at the Newport high school, Eighth and Columbia Sts., with the Newport high school P-T. A. as host. This meeting is scheduled to start on Eastern Standard Time.

Local presidents are urged to send all state and national dues immediately to Mrs. Dallas Brightwell, General Secretary, Frankfort and district dues to Mrs. David C. West, 101 Lumley Ave. Ft. Thomas. Please give this your immediate attention. All district unit presidents are expected to have a written report of their unit activities for the past year at this time.

The tentative program for the afternoon and evening is as follows:

Call to order by Mrs. A. H. Bates, president of the Sixth District.

The invocation will be pronounced by Rev. Harold Barkau, pastor of St. John's Evangelical Church, Newport.

Community singing will be directed by Mr. Frank Walter, district music chairman.

The A Capella Chorus of Newport high school, directed by Mr. John Molnar will give several selections.

Welcome address will be given by Dr. D. W. Dyer, superintendent of Newport Schools, followed by the response by Mrs. Rodney G. Bryson, of Covington.

The regular routine of business will follow when the reports of the local presidents will be received and the district chairman heard.

Dr. Ann Buntin-Becker, Ohio State Chairman of Mental and Social Hygiene of the Ohio Congress of P-T. A. will speak on Student Aid. There will be a recess for dinner. The evening program will be opened with music by the Newport high school orchestra. A piano duet by Mrs. David C. West, and Mrs. Charles Hanauer of Ft. Thomas is next on the program.

The speaker for the evening will be Dr. Fay LeMeadows, pastor of the Shiloh Congregational Church, Dayton, Ohio. Dr. LeMeadows will speak on "Freedom for Growth." He will be remembered by the delegates who attended the state convention at Ashland in 1938.

Local units are responsible for dinner reservations and must be made through the local presidents by Wednesday, January 24 to Mrs. Wm. Eger, 19 Crittenden Ave., South Hills, Covington, Ky., or to Mrs. Earl Ebauer, 837 Greer Ave., Covington, Ky.

Community Singing And Dramatic Club To Be Organized

There will be a meeting at the Burlington schoolhouse Thursday evening, January 18, for the purpose of organizing a community singing group and to organize a dramatic club. This is to be sponsored by the local P-T. A. and anyone in the community who is interested in singing or acting is urged to be present Thursday night, as these two clubs will be organized that night.

Championship Story Told By Leroy McNeely

Leroy McNeely, President of the Burlington Blue Ribbon 4-H Club, won the district 4-H tobacco championship. This championship was decided at the show and sale held in Covington with the best crops from seven counties competing. Leroy's story of how he grew this crop is taken from his 4-H project record book as follows:

"The first of March I began to think of my crop for the year 1939. This was to be my sixth year and I wanted it to be six times as great as any year before. On March 10, I made my plant bed and plowed my ground a few days later. By May 20 my ground had been prepared. This included disking, dragging, harrowing, dragging again, disking, laying-off, and drilling the fertilizer.

Staking Of R. E. A. Lines Started January 16th

The staking of the R. E. A. electric lines in Boone County started on Tuesday of this week, according to Rev. Will Smith, right-of-way man for line construction.

The south section of the county will be staked first. This section of the line from Big Bone to the Grant County line will be completed as soon as completed with the already existing line in Grant County, just south of Verona.

The staking is expected to progress rapidly with the north section of the county staked in the near future.

Large Crowd Attends Grand Opening Of Joe Anderson Cafe

A large number from all sections of Northern Kentucky and surrounding territory attended the grand opening of the Joe Anderson Cafe last night.

More than 500 invitations were mailed to leading sports figures, including Jack Dempsey, friends and patrons of the cafe, and others have been invited personally by the manager.

The cafe is operated by Mrs. Anderson. It has been quite popular among those who seek entertainment of this nature.

Music was furnished by LaCross and Jacobs, a well-known team. Hats, caps, noise-makers and other souvenirs, including miniature boxing gloves, were distributed to patrons attending the opening.

CONFERENCE GAMES ARE SET

FOR THIS WEEK—HAMILTON TO MEET BURLINGTON, WALTON AT FLORENCE FRIDAY NIGHT.

Friday night of this week four teams in the Boone County Conference will do battle on the local hardwood. Local fans from all sections of the county will welcome these games after a three-week vacation.

Hamilton, one of the strongest teams in the Boone County Conference, will have the stronghold of the Burlington Tomcats. Earlier in the season the Hamilton boys defeated the Burlington five by a score of 27 to 25. The Tomcats will be out for revenge on their home floor.

Walton, second place team in the Conference standing will meet Florence at Florence Friday night. Although Florence has lost several conference games, their teams show considerable improvement, and no doubt will furnish stiff opposition for the Walton five.

Hebron will entertain the strong Beechwood, five Friday night. Hebron's quintets have shown much improvement in recent practice games, and before the season is completed will be strong contenders for the Walton five.

Saturday night the New Haven five under the direction of Coach Maurer will entertain Alexandria. New Haven's teams are greatly strengthened, according to Coach Maurer, and have high hopes of emerging victorious over the Alexandria teams.

We are glad to welcome Frank Komarek, of Burlington, Route 1, as one of our new subscribers.

Clyde Anderson, of Erlanger R. 4 was a brief visitor in Burlington Saturday, and while here called at The Recorder office, having his subscription moved up another year.

By nightfall my part of the crop was set. The season was dry when the plants were ready, so it was set with a hand setter. Being set this way made it get off to a quicker start and it grew rapidly all the way through.

"On June 8 my tobacco received its first plowing which was done by my father because it was so small. By June 27 the tobacco was big enough for me to plow.

"The third and fourth days of July were used for hoeing which really made it step. Keeping it clean is one of the most essential steps in raising tobacco, according to my theory, so I kept it as clean as possible.

"The worms were not so bad on it, but on July 15 and once later, I went through it to be sure they didn't get a start on me. By July 16, my tobacco was sold at this sale at an average of $24.12 cwt."

GAME LAWS MAY BE REVISED

AFTER RECOMMENDATION BY LEAGUE OF SPORTSMEN AT MEETING IN FRANKFORT—450
IN ATTENDANCE.

Kentucky may see some changes in its fish and game laws for the coming season, following recommendations of the Kentucky League of Sportsmen to the Legislature at a meeting held at Frankfort Tuesday night.

The Kentucky League of Sportsmen having a representation from practically every county in the State, Boone County Fish and Game Club sending four representatives, pointed out to members of the legislature the urgent need of certain changes in the conservation laws that were adopted by the Sportsmen's League Executive Board and will be presented in the form of a bill at the present session.

The League recommended a more explanatory bag limit on rabbits, to read as follows: No person shall have in his possession at any time after the first day of the open season more than 16 rabbits. This possession will apply to the dealer as well as to the hunter in the field.

The squirrel law was recommended to be changed from July 1 to Oct. 1 as it is now to be opened on Sept. 1 and closed October 31.

A new law to prohibit the training of bird dogs in the field at any time between May 1 and October 31st was also included in the list. This was to protect the small quail and quail nest from being disturbed during the nesting and raising season.

The open season for trapping and hunting fur-bearing animals was recommended to be changed from opening on November 1 to November 15th.

The change in the price of hunting license was to be $1.15 for license to hunt in one county, and $3.25 for the privilege of hunting in any of the counties in Kentucky. This would mean that if a person desired to hunt in only one county he would pay $1.15 for his license. If he hunted in two counties, he must pay $2.30 for license and $3.25 for the privilege of hunting anywhere in the entire State.

Any person who is twice found guilty of violating the fish and game laws will have his license revoked for the remainder of the season.

Our Division of Fish and Game in Kentucky has made considerable progress in the last few years, but is handicapped by the lack of funds. The revenue from the sale of licenses in Kentucky has been on the increase in the last few years, and consequently we have been receiving more new stock of both fish and game. For example, last year 18,000 quail were planted in open shooting territory, and from the increase sale of licenses this year. Over 22,000 birds will be released in the spring.

Kentucky is better adapted for the preservation of wildlife than any other state in the Union, yet due to lack of interest and activity, we rate at the bottom of the list in conservation.

We are glad to welcome Frank Komarek, of Burlington, Route 1, as one of our new subscribers.

Clyde Anderson, of Erlanger R. 4 was a brief visitor in Burlington Saturday, and while here called at The Recorder office, having his subscription moved up another year.

By nightfall my part of the crop was set. The season was dry when the plants were ready, so it was set with a hand setter. Being set this way made it get off to a quicker start and it grew rapidly all the way through.

"On June 8 my tobacco received its first plowing which was done by my father because it was so small. By June 27 the tobacco was big enough for me to plow.

"The third and fourth days of July were used for hoeing which really made it step. Keeping it clean is one of the most essential steps in raising tobacco, according to my theory, so I kept it as clean as possible.

"The worms were not so bad on it, but on July 15 and once later, I went through it to be sure they didn't get a start on me. By July 16, my tobacco was sold at this sale at an average of $24.12 cwt."

William Lorch Of Florence Removed To Christ Hospital

William Lorch, well known retired river man, of Florence, was removed to Christ Hospital, Tuesday, after he became suddenly ill at his home Tuesday morning following breakfast.

Mr. Lorch is well known throughout the county, having resided in Bellevue and Burlington before moving to Florence. His many friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

State Highway Patrolmen To Get Vacation

Starting Tuesday of this week, 46 members of the State Highway Patrol will begin a 15-day lay-off without pay, it was announced last Monday.

Notice have been sent out over the signature of J. Lytle Donaldson, highway commissioner.

Theo. A. (Tate) Hageman, of Crescent Springs, supervisor of highway patrol activities for the past two years, was among the 42 men the "payless leave".

The system of layoffs will be extended to include the entire department, numbering 144, it was said, after the first group returns to work.

Last year payless vacations were the rule and general pay reductions were made when entire group returned.

TOBACCO PRICES MUCH IMPROVED

ON ALL MARKETS THROUGHOUT STATE—COVINGTON IS AMONG LEADERS OF KENTUCKY.

Tobacco prices on all markets throughout the state has shown material gains since the holidays, according to reports Tuesday of this week.

Covington's tobacco market rates among the state's leaders in prices paid planters, it was revealed when averages of the season were released.

Covington has sold, since the market opened early in December, 2,707,864 pounds for an average of $18.16. Glasgow has averaged $18.55, Carrollton $18.34 and Lexington and Shelbyville, two of the largest markets in the state, have averaged $18.18.

Prices, according to the statistics released by all state markets, have shot upward during the past week. Covington's average leaped to $18.62 during last five sales, while Lexington and Richmond both vaulted over the $20 mark.

Covington's market opened Monday with a full floor. Officials announced that they were prepared now to care for planters as they arrived with their crops.

Cynthiana, another large warehouse center averaged $17.82 for the season.

Chambers and Grubbs, Walton funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

BOONE COUNTY SCHOOLS OPENED

MONDAY AFTER BEING CLOSED
SINCE CHRISTMAS—ICE AND SNOW PREVENTED OPERATION OF SCHOOL BUSES.

Approximately 1800 school children entered Boone County schools Monday, after a vacation of seventeen days. Two weeks of this vacation was due to bad weather, the roads being covered with snow and ice, preventing the safe operation of school buses.

All roads throughout the county, which were dangerously slippery for school buses since December 26 were cleared by the heavy rain Saturday night, and all schools are operating on a normal schedule. D. H. Norris, County Superintendent announced Tuesday.

Only one school in the county has been open through the severe weather and that school was Walton, which operates independent of the county system.

Practically all schools had 100 percent attendance in both teachers and pupils. A few of the students were unable to return to school due to severe colds, but this number was very small.

THE AMERICAN PRESS
"For Over Fifty Years"

ONLY HERE

A truly American scene, the head of our great government seated amid members of the nation's powerful organ, the press, with his grandchild perched on the knee of a doting father, as the President speaks to you through the press. Where but here could this picture be reproduced or the significance of the act depicted the complete democracy and homeliness of being a citizen in a land where a member of the ruling house surges and tears paper while a grandfather is a grandfather as well as a president. What other government with its little boy in yellow rompers attending a press conference at the momentous time when world events are discussed most seriously? It is a truly symbolic scene in the light of our lives, the conducting of government less the pomp and splendor, A with the uniform of a yellow romper or business suit, of the sound of tearing paper and the gurgle of childhood, the laugh of press representatives with the joking and teasing of men among men, while the business of state is given its just attention. Where else but in our land? And how true is this of our mode of living as well as our mode of government. It typifies the individuality of each of us, the freeness with which we deal with state and with local rule. The playfulness of childhood is desired over civil form and ceremony, the sight of a childish hand tearing paper to an adult tearing hearts and boundaries. The jocular remarks in place of military sternness and austere foreboding of dangers to come. Where else but here can we hope to find it?

AN EARLY MEETING

The other parties may do what they want about the political campaign a short and snappy occasion, but the prohibitionists are planning early nominations. We cannot say whether such a stand will effect the plans of the Republicans and Democrats, but we are fairly certain of one thing and this is a plank of "repeal of the repeal." This is very probable and shows that the Drys are not giving up the fight. The Dry campaign may mean little to those uninterested in reform, but if it should serve the cause of temperance in any small way, it is fruitful. Even the liquor industry is stressing "drinking within reason." They have paid out many good coins in advertising temperance in drinking. There must be something to the subject after all! So when the Prohibition Party gathers in May if they can elude the cause of temperance they will be doing all communities a favor. They may fail to elect their man but they are steadfastly doing their bit, as they see it, of making America a better and safer place for living.

NOT SO SAFE

There has been a bit of comment on the certain safety that was felt by the German officers and crew who celebrated their Yule holiday on our country's coast. But from the report of this nation's violent death over the holiday week ends, the conclusion is drawn here in this county that there were fewer lives lost on the foreign tracts than on home soil. There accidents were in the majority, traffic accidents. We start out a new series of months pleading and printing for safety. The comparative number of lives lost in the warring zones is indicative of the fact that military engagements weren't as fatal as the celebration of a supposedly peaceful holiday.

EXPRESS THEMSELVES

A noted designer feels that more families should develop the desire to create in art, in those impressive young about them. A daughter should try her hand at designing a new hat or dress for mother, a new way of wearing a scarf. Perhaps a child is clever in the art of drawing or print design. Foster it. This is a way of perhaps discovering a talent that might otherwise never appear. The days of American women turning to Paris for her dress designs, and of American fashion dictating, that day is gone for our countrymen and women are expressing their own talents in a manner comparable to those French patterns and at prices within the reach of the modest pocketbook of our buyers.

ATONEMENT

When a husband slaps his wife because she doesn't take care of the baby, or doesn't do the family cooking, a judge sentences the man to do the cooking for the family while the wife manages the child. This is the punishment for that slap! Perhaps the wife did neglect her duty to both child and table or perhaps the husband was too exacting, but surely a mother can cook and also raise a child. There are many mothers in Boone county who have large families and who conduct their household duties with a system that is remarkable. Many women remain splendid cooks and still do charitable work outside their homes. Thousands of wives carry on their household duties, do church work, keep social engagements, excel in the culinary art, raise large families, and are happy about the whole thing! These folks are not the rare cases, they are almost anybody's wife or mother.

HAMILTON

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Jones and family and Mrs. Edith Rogers were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aylor and father.

Biddle Huff is stripping tobacco for Vic Hamilton.

Several in this community have been suffering with bad colds.

Mrs. Ivonne Huff and daughter called on the Misses Shinkles last Wednesday.

Mrs. Lillie Huff was in Walton Thursday, having dental work done.

The Ohio River is now running, but still has quite a lot of shore ice at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Huff spent a pleasant afternoon Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Rouse.

We are thankful for the rain of Saturday night, as water is badly needed. We are also thankful for the disappearance of the snow which kept the roads in such a dangerous condition for the past two weeks.

Wallace and Solon Ryle spent a couple of days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Garland Huff.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Jr. and son, Mr. and Mrs. Conner Carroll and family attended the funeral of Mr. Stanley Ryle last Thursday at Florence.

Miss Dorothy Hager called on Miss Anna Marie Huff Wednesday afternoon.

RABBIT HASH

Quite a change in the weather. The ferry boat is operating again.

Tobacco stripping is the order of the day here, and a number of folks are putting their crops on the market.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Stanley Ryle, of Florence. Sympathy is extended the family in their bereavement.

Wanetta L. Woods arrived home last Thursday from Booth Hospital Covington. Glad to report that she is much improved.

The Home Club met with Mrs. Ida Ryle last Tuesday. All enjoyed the day very much.

Joe Van Ness and Chas. Dolph were shopping in Covington last Friday.

Mrs. Dora M. Walston and children spent a few days the past week with her parents, S. B. Ryle and wife.

A NEW STANDARD OF GREATNESS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 20:17-28.
GOLDEN TEXT—While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us—Romans 5:8.

The nations of the earth and their leaders are engaged in a struggle to determine which land and which leader is to be the greatest. They may attempt to conceal their real motive under a cloak of high-minded and well-sounding objectives, but essentially the reason for their struggle is the desire to be great. To them greatness means size, strength, wealth, and position. It means that also the average man on the street. What a pity it is that such is the case and that such a vicious and erroneous philosophy of life has been permitted to make its way even into the Church.

The world's ideas of greatness are entirely opposite to God's standards. God's people ought to learn what His ideals of life are and to live in accordance with them even to the unbelieving world. Both they and the world would be astonished at the result.

I. Dying for Others (vv. 17-19).

With surprising clarity and detail the Lord Jesus once more revealed to His disciples that He was on His way to Jerusalem to die and to arise again. It is well worthwhile to our thought from living devotion to our dying and risen Lord. It would have been utterly impossible for Him to give these facts in such exact detail.

The point we wish to stress is that the Son of God was steadily approaching the death of Calvary. He had no desire to live for self, to gratify His own wishes, to prolong His life, or to improve His position in the world. He had come to do but one thing, the will of God, even to the shameful death of the cross, to bear our sins and mine. Let us give ourselves in loyal devotion to our dying and risen Lord.

II. Living for Self (vv. 20-24).

It is not written for us to read, we could hardly believe that the two disciples, James and John, who were so very near to our Lord, and whose mother, who was a woman of earnest faith and sacrificial service to God, would be guilty of such an expression of selfishness, especially in that sacred hour when He had spoken of His approaching death. Disregarding what Jesus had said about His sufferings, they apparently could think only of His coming glory, and in their greed they could only covet for themselves the chief places. What a strange mixture of faith in Christ and an overwhelming desire for self-glory!

Perchance some of us have served Christ with a selfish desire for personal glory and position putting it self forward to influence our thinking and acting. Perhaps we do not see ourselves but are like the other disciples who, seeing this hateful thing in John and James, were repelled by it, even as we despise it in others. It may be that the disciples were only angry because they had not thought to make the request for themselves.

III. Finding True Greatness (vv. 25-28).

"Rulers," "greatness," "exercise authority"—how modern these words from verse 25 sound! They epitomize the ambitions of the great majority of mankind today. Few indeed are those in the world who see the true greatness as that of the lowly Jesus. In every instance where they do rightly apprehend and live out this truth, one is saved and another somewhere in the experience they have come to know His principles of life even though they do not know Him. Only in Him is such an attitude toward life to be found.

To be great one is to serve in the spirit of humility and self-sacrifice. This is the command of Christ. Even in the Church there are not too many who have heeded that word. If there were more of this spirit we would have less church quarrels, for essentially they root back to the desire for greatness. We may not admit that fact, but it is none the less true.

One wonders how great some of the pillars of the Church would look measured against the standard of verses 25 to 28. One wonders too how many of the humble workers of the Church realize their true greatness. Such greatness of heart is great simply because it does not so regard itself.

For Thy Name's Sake
But do thou for me, O God the Lord, for thy name's sake; because thy mercy is good, deliver thou me. For I am poor and needy, and my heart is wounded within me.—Psalm 109, 21:22.

Jesus Asks Evidence
That they all may be one; as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, but they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.—John 17, 21.

I want to talk to you about your children and shoes they wear.

Maybe you never realized that the wrong shoes could be the cause of nervousness in your child.

I say it is the duty of parents, school teachers and family physicians to help bring stability and strength to nervous systems.

Symptoms of nervousness in children are often forerunners of organic disease. From the physician's standpoint ONLY there are many things that make us nervous. The most important are: 1. Wrong diet. 2. Over fatigue, and 3. poor posture. Let me repeat the last and most important, POOR POSTURE, because you cannot have good posture unless your feet are fitted with proper shoes.

We all know how important posture is to the physical and mental development of a child. At home we teach our children to stand straight, to sit straight and to walk straight... that is we TRY to teach them how important it is. But sometimes, do you find that you are constantly reminding Billy or Mary to "SIT UP"—or "STAND UP STRAIGHT"—almost to the point of nagging and even to the point of scolding.

If your child has poor posture—and it seems hard for him to remember to stand straight—I suggest that you take a look at his feet. And remember, when you want to scold him for drooping, that the child is no more responsible for his posture than for the food he is given to eat. There is some reason WHY he isn't standing straight and that reason may be weak, poorly constructed shoes that do not properly support body weight.—Adv.

You may not be quick on the uptake if you think twice before you speak, but at least you are using your head.

CAPITOL COMMENTS

By David Porter

Here is the procedure that a Bill must go through to be passed by the General Assembly.

The Legislative Counsel usually plans with the aid of the heads of the various departments a budget bill and presents it to the General Assembly to be passed. Other bills, however, that are brought up by the various Senators and Representatives are referred to committees that are appointed to deal with Bills on the various phases of government, as the Committee on Agriculture, Revenue, etc.

There is the way the assembly works. The house seats 100 members and the senate 38, who are seated at desks in the two houses around a raised platform at one end of the room, where the Speaker sits, and below him facing the assembly sit the Journal Clerk, the Chief Clerk, and the Sargent-at-Arms.

The House meets, say at 10 o'clock, the Representatives start gathering at about 9:30 and at 10 o'clock most of them in the chamber. The Sargent-at-Arms raps on his desk and says, "All those not entitled to the privileges of the floor please vacate the chamber."

The Speaker, Dr. Shields, says, "The House will please come to order, and we will be led in prayer by Rev. Kelley (Chaplin for the week). After the prayer the Speaker calls on the Clerk, W. A. Perry, to call the roll. Those present answer to their names and those who come in late come to the Clerk and ask to be marked present. The Clerk hands the roll to the Speaker who announces the number who are present and says, "having answered to their names, a quorum is present." He then calls on the Clerk to read the Journal of the last meeting. Someone usually moves to dispense with this and a voice vote is taken. It is usually dispensed with. The Speaker says, "Any motions, any petitions, any resolutions." After this he calls for introduction of Bills. He then refers the Bills introduced at the previous meeting to the committee that was appointed to study bills relating to that subject. He then calls for committee reports on Bills previously referred to them. These Bills are read at length the first time and placed on the calendar for the next meeting. He then calls on the Clerk to read the calendar which is the Bills reported to the House by the committees at the previous meeting. These are read only by title. The Bills are placed on the orders of the day for the next day's meeting.

The Assembly then goes into the orders of the day, which are Bills to be acted on that day. A Bill, then is first introduced, next referred to a committee to study it. When reported to the House by the committee it is read in full and placed on next day's calendar. The following meeting it is read by title and placed on the orders of the day for the next meeting and the next day it is eligible to be acted on.

This is the procedure if everything runs smoothly. A Bill may be held up by a committee, however, until a majority of the members of the House vote to bring it out to be acted on.

CITES PROGRESS . . .
Growth of chemistry as basis of industrial progress was cited by Langbourne M. Williams, Jr., Freepoint Sulphur company president, estimating $100,000,000 would be spent for new chemical plants in 1940, which would double that of 1939 and be 25 per cent gain over 1938. He reported sulphur shipments in 1939 were third largest in history.

WOMEN TO WEAR INDIAN MOCCASIN TYPE OF FOOTGEAR

GOVERNOR JOHNSON FOR A DATE ON WHICH THE JUNIOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MAY PRESENT ITS PROPOSED PUBLICITY DRIVE FOR ITS APPROVAL, AND APPOINTED A COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN TO WAIT UPON THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

No radical changes may be expected in shoe styles this spring, according to clothing experts in the Kentucky College of Agriculture's home economics department. The leading colors will be blue and black, and the two-forte shoe will continue popular. More leather and kid shoes will be used instead of cloth materials.

The "wedge" or platform type—giving a solid rest for the whole foot by "filling in" where the heel formerly projected lonesomely into space—again will be much used. Looking something like a glorified or streamlined Indian moccasin, in fact this shoe has no counterpart in shoe history. It is a typical 20th-century development, and one designed to be comfortable. The new plastics are being developed for the heels of some of the platform shoes.

Elastic shoes will be shown to some extent. These shoes look like cloth, but actually are a high-quality rubber carefully disguised and any color the wearer desires. Many shoes will have part-elastic composition. What looks like a leather or cloth band may be a soft rubber inset giving Milady a maximum of comfort.

Alligator shoes will be shown to some extent, though smooth leather for sports shoes will be much used.

The occasional hopes of French fashion houses to introduce high shoes—such as were used 25 years ago—always are dashed by a solid phalanx of American resistance.

The bill would pave the way for the State to take advantage of federal funds for improvement of airports and also contemplates a diversion of tax money derived from the sale of gasoline to plane operators into channels for airport improvements and other functions of the proposed Bureau of Aeronautics.

Mr. Goff declared a survey completed by his committee revealed Kentucky as forty-fifth among the States in the matter of aviation and airports with Bowman Field the State's only major port but nineteen inadequately equipped emergency landing fields.

The aviation program adopted by the directors includes promotion of model airplane contests; an educational drive to make the citizens air-conscious and advertisement of the advantages of air travel and the general progress of aviation.

Brady Black, of the Ashland Daily Independent; Sam Livingston, of the Paducah Sun-Democrat and Tom L. Adams, of the Lexington Leader, were named as a committee to make awards for meritorious service to three individuals in the State.

One will be selected as having performed the outstanding service to the Kentucky Junior Chamber of Commerce; a second award will be made to the individual within the Junior Chamber's age limit who has performed the most outstanding service to the State from the standpoint of a citizen, and the third award will be for the most outstanding performance by a State official or department. Plans for a membership drive involving doubling of the State organization's ten individual chapters before June, President Jones announced.

The directors, whose next meeting will be held April 6, at Louisville, announced plans for a solid Kentucky delegation, to the national convention of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, which will be held June 19-22 in Washington.

WEEK'S BEST RECIPE

Barbecued spareribs. 2 onions, 2 stalks chopped celery, 1/2 cup catsup, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 tablespoon vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon tabasco sauce, one-eighth teaspoon chili powder, 1 cup water, salt and pepper. Put half spareribs in baking dish. Season and cover with layer of onion and celery. Combine catsup, tabasco, chili, sugar, vinegar and water and pour half of it over meat. Add another layer of spareribs, onion and sauce. Bake in moderate oven, about one hour. Remove cover long enough to brown top. Serve liquid left as a sauce with steamed rice.

WHY WORRY?
I CARRY ANTI-WORRY INSURANCE—A Regular Ad In This Newspaper

There are a lot of us in Boone county who can't afford to spend the winter in Florida—and neither can a lot of those who do!

Science tell us a man is able to tell all he knows in two hours but that should hold good only if a woman isn't present.

There are a few fellows who think they are right but are held back because their wives think they are wrong.

Women won't have an equal standing until the sign reads, "Drive Carefully. Women at Work."

Some believe there is many a German warrior who would call the whole thing off for a big helping of spareribs and sauerkraut.

Charity may overlook a lot of sins, but not the one of sticking the nose into another's business. Even if opportunity did knock at the front door, lots of wives would send him to the kitchen door because his shoes were dirty.

There are some women who won't move because they don't think their furniture would look nice enough for a van.

After an auto trip a motorist might not be able to tell you much about his travels, but he knows what company is doing the most advertising.

Some husbands hereabouts act as though they would swap their wives for a good hound-dog.

When a fellow's wife continuously laughs at his jokes, it is because she is cleverer than he is funny.

The time is not far off when the average man in Boone County will take great pride in asserting he is a plain, old-fashioned, fellow.

So many people think they need not pay heed to conscience the first time. She might play a return engagement!

MEASURING RULES FOR BULK FEEDS

In taking a farm inventory, it may be necessary to measure grain in the bin or crib and hay in the mow. The Kentucky College of Agriculture offers the following measure rules: In each case, multiply the length by the width by the width by the height or depth, in feet. Then, for ear corn in a crib, divide by 2.5; for grain in a bin, divide by 1.25, and for hay in a mow, divide by 500.

Moral Re-Armament and Labor

By Reginald Holme

It was in the birthplace of the British labor movement among the workers of East London that Moral Re-Armament was born. From the very first, labor has responded to MRA and taken a lead in spreading it to the labor world.

From Roy Weir, secretary of the Central Labor Union of Minneapolis, came a message to the Hollywood Bowl meeting of 30,000 for Moral Re-Armament: "In the name of the Minneapolis Central Labor Union we send greetings. We are glad for the lead given by British and Scandinavian labor, and we feel that Moral Re-Armament is the way in which the ideals of all of us can with peace be realized in a new spirit of cooperation and national responsibility."

C. I. O. Workers in a steel plant in Pennsylvania were among the first in America to take up MRA. One of their leaders, John Anderson, went as their representative to the first World Assembly for Moral Re-Armament. Anderson found this new spirit first in his home. There used to be some question who ran things in his family of five, but they got along better since all decided to let God be the "boss." Squabbles went out the window, and a new security came in.

John's wife is now a real partner in his work with the men. Says she: "I have sent John back to work and to his tasks of leadership time and again with a new courage when he feared losing his job or his position. There were times when he would come home from work full of fear for the security of his family because of his keenness in the labor movement. But, you see, I haven't any fear since MRA came into our home. I have come to realize that I can not only be behind him, backing him up and supporting him in his work, but that I, too, have a responsibility for changing a nation by bringing Moral Re-Armament to the homes of the workers."

Rival Unions Co-Operate
Anderson was attending a union meeting one night when an opposition faction threatened to make things rough. He thought for a moment how to apply MRA in such a situation, and then quickly appointed four bouncers from the union faction to keep order. Another of the workers got up and read a passage from the Bible. A new tone came into the meeting and the business in hand was dealt with peacefully and co-operatively. In that city thru the new spirit Anderson had brought, two rival union leaders closer together. Conflicts which had held back progress of the labor movement were healed.

Speaking in Washington, Anderson said: "I saw in MRA a new type of co-operation between people who don't see eye to eye on questions of policy and action. I met fellow members of the C. I. O. together with members of the A. F. L. and leaders of industry and labor on a basis of common responsibility for the security of all."

"It was a challenge to me to build in our plant an industrial pattern for the whole nation, a pattern that can be made the key to peace throughout the world." A friend of John Anderson and his family is Bill Rowell, the East London sandhog who won his way to representing London's 420,000 unemployed as a trades union executive, and who is over in America working for the MRA spirit in labor. Ever since one of his children died of starvation in his wife's arms, Bill has been a fighter for a new social order. As much as $30,000 worth of plate glass used to go in a night of riots when Bill and his men went "over the top." He fought the police behind barricades. Anything went. Potatoes with razor blades stuck in them were a favorite weapon. One day they successfully routed a charge of mounted police by rolling half a million stolen marbles down the street.

Then Bill found in the fight for MRA the constructive way to get that new social order. Thru him and the veteran labor organizer, Tod Sloan, "watchmaker by trade and agitator by nature," 600 dock and homes have become radiating centers of this new spirit. These two and their comrades have brought it to their own and 45 other London borough councils.

But got a national executive of the British coal industry to come down to his East London home and talk over conditions in the industry. This has since led to a change of spirit and method in that employer's dealings with men, and to a new willingness in the coal industry to adopt progressive methods in labor relations.

Bill Rowell's conviction is that "Labor must give to society as much as labor demands from society, and management must give to labor as much as management demands from labor. An honest apology from both sides will open the door for a constructive peace for all."

Labor Leaders Support
Tod, gnarled, white-haired Cockney, his new love for all humanity, puts his philosophy in "An Open Letter to the Entire Human Race." "Dear Everyone," he writes, "I used to fight for better conditions for my class. Now I am fighting for better conditions for all classes. If everyone cares enough, and everyone shares enough, we won't have enough. This is certainly the answer to unemployment and to the millions living on the border line of real want. We must restore God to leadership. This will bring into being a new thinking, a new social order. This is the only revolution that matters."

Such pioneering work and progressive philosophy naturally has the backing of the heads of British labor. The present chairman of the Trades Union congress and three past chairmen together with 15 trades union and labor executives, issued a manifesto in the press soon after MRA was launched. "Labor in all countries," they stated, "if true to its traditions of placing human and spiritual values before material things, can build bridges over national barriers and play a decisive part in the reconciliation of nations. Such was the dynamic spirit of the best of the early labor leaders and it must again be recreated."

Fortress for Democracy
In Sweden, where labor is in control of the government and has achieved complete unionization and abolished unemployment, labor leaders reported "In the midst of triumph, an emptiness." It is because MRA has provided them a new inspiration and a new goal that they have supported it so strongly.

"Moral Re-Armament is the ultimate defense of democracy and is the only way towards a happier future for the people," said the editor of the chief Swedish labor paper, a leading political figure, addressing 100,000 workers on May Day the past year.

Thru the sacrifice and savings of their comrades, Scandinavian steel workers have been enabled to bring the news and the spirit of MRA to American labor circles. Ernst Roser, trades union leader in the Domnarvets Steel works, declares: "When the workman begins his day by listening to God and putting into practice what he hears, we will have created a fortress for democracy and freedom which nothing can wipe out." His friend Helge Nyström, strapping Swedish steel puddler, notes that the strain has gone out of negotiations with the management. "No longer do I need to sit at the table with my fists clenched in my pockets," he says. "Moral-Re-Armament has given us new power and shown us the way to build bridges between employers and workers. It is clear that we must have peace in industry before we can talk of peace in the nation."

GREEN MANURE CROP MAKES BETTER LEAF

Turning under a green manure crop of crimson clover and barley improved both yield and quality of tobacco grown by Curt Yarberry and Gild Coffey, Adair county farmers. Tobacco of such land averaged 20 cents a pound, with yields running above 1,000 pounds to the acre.

One hundred and five farm men and women are cooperating with County Agent R. B. Rankin this year in producing better tobacco, corn, wheat, barley, cover crops, hogs, poultry, sheep beef cattle, alfalfa, rye and other products, and in 4-H club work.

KENTUCKY 4-H CLUB NEWS

At the Covington tobacco show, the three highest-scoring club members averaged $23-$25 for their crops. All had taken special pains with curing and stripping. Leroy McNeely, a Boone county club member, won the championship.

Among Carlisle county boys and girls, beef and dairy cattle steadily have become more important. Twenty-six club members have 40 calves on feed for the 1940 fat stock show. Other projects are gardening and clothing.

Attendance at Shelby county monthly meetings has grown so large that attention to the insect program is being given in special programs. With schools consolidated and membership in 4-H clubs large, "few rooms are big enough for a combined meetings," says the county president.

Last month 55 persons were present at a luncheon at which the Princeton Kiwanis club honored outstanding Caldwell county farm boys and girls. This included 4-H and Smith-Hughes students, with their leaders and teachers. Twenty-two negro club members in Warren county displayed $719 pounds of tobacco at the Bowling Green show. The crops sold for $1.185 or an average of $13.59. High averages ran up to $19 per cwt. however.

In McCallie county, eight new clubs have been organized with 71 members, with tobacco still the most popular project. The county president reports that all bulletins and other study material will be in members hands by the last of January.

KATIE KILOWATT Says

Why slave over a broom and dustpan when you can clean your rugs electrically for a fraction of a cent each?

Cleaning rugs by hand is tiresome, dusty work and it's so unnecessary, too. At today's low average electric rates, one penny's worth of electricity will operate a heavy duty vacuum cleaner 40 minutes—more than ample time to give all the rugs in the average home a thorough cleaning. And that's only one of many household services electricity performs for pennies and fractions of pennies. Let electricity do more work for you in 1940!

Chas. Atkins and wife are now located in their new home. Albert Hitzfield and family are living in the house vacated by Mr. Atkins.

A letter received from Mrs. Helmbach, formerly of this place, but now a resident of Goodwill Farm North Bend, O., states their barn was destroyed by fire and all their hay, corn, two horses, two cows, one mule, fifteen hogs and all farm tools were destroyed. Origin of the fire is unknown.

Mrs. L. S. Chambers has not been able to get out yet, from her recent illness due to bad weather.

Mrs. Noble Lucas fell while getting coal and suffered severe injuries. She was removed to the home of her daughter at Florence.

Billy Hitzfield is able to be out again, after an attack of flu.

Gaiety Theater News

Fri. & Saturday—"Ambush"
Sun. and Mon.—"Chicken
Wagon Family."

Tuesday—The Duke of West Point
Wednesday and Thursday, January
24th and 25—"Disputed Passage."

When bandits' daring meets the frantic courage of a girl in love, something is going to happen. And it does, to the accompaniment of gun-fire and zooming speed in the Paramount picture, "Ambush," which comes to the Gaiety Friday and Saturday.

Glamorous Gladys Swarthout occupies the leading role in this melodramatic modern story, with Lloyd Nolan as her romantic partner, and Ernest Truex, Broderick Crawford and Hartley Tufts as her dangerous opponents.

"Ambush" tells the story of a pretty stenographer trapped by desperados after a daring bank robbery. Forced to lend them her aid, she helps to lure a brawny truck driver to the bandits' hideout. But is the resultant flight across the state, she and the truckman conspire to defeat the bandits' plans. They are involved in a rapid-fire fight with the police, narrowly escaped death, several times, but win success in a rousing finish.

Jane Withers and Leo Carrillo are together again.

This time they're in the 20th Century-Fox screen version of "Chicken Wagon Family" that heart-warming story by Barry Benfield that stirs the wanderlust in all who, showing at the Gay-ety Sunday and Monday.

The merry tale concerns a carefree family who hear the call of the open road, toss their cares into a red bandanna and travel around the country, with Jane and Leo in the driver's seat, bartering trinkets for chickens which they sell when they hit the big city.

En route they meet adventure, excitement and romance—as well as plenty of laughs.

Marjorie Weaver, Spring Byington (the famous Jones Family mother, who plays Jane's sis this time) and Kane Richmond are prominently featured with Carrillo in the supporting cast, with Marjorie and Kane supply the romantic interest.

She started by laughing at him
—the impossible plebe who "knew it all!" Then she despised him—when he violated West Point's sacred Honor Code. Suddenly she loved him! When he shamed himself to save his friend. A story that will make your blood tingle... a saga of youth and courage, inspired by the age-old tradition of Uncle Sam's fighting men. The "Duke of West Point" will be shown at the Gaiety Tuesday.

Starring in this picture is Louis
Hayward, Richard Carlson, Joan Fontaine, Alan Curtis and others.

Lee Ya-ching, China's pioneer aviatrix, who makes her debut as a movie actress in Paramount's "Disputed Passage" which will be shown at the Gaiety Theatre, on Wednesday and Thursday, January 24th and 25th, supplied the airplane that was used in the picture. In the photoplay, Dorothy Lamour, who shares major thes-plan honors with Akim Tamiroff and John Howard uses the airship flying over the Chinese battlefield to the bedside of her wounded fiancee.

A five-place Stinson cabin monoplane, the ship is painted a bright red and on its sides are inscribed the Chinese characters "Taung Kuo Shun Chien Shun." A rough translation: "Spirit of New China."

Miss Lee has flown the plane over thousands of miles on an aerial tour of the United States and Canada, since she took delivery of the ship at Wichita, Kansas, shortly after her arrival from China last year.

RABBIT HASH—HOMEMAKERS

The Rabbit Hash Homemakers met on Tuesday, January 9, at the home of Mrs. Walter Ryle for an all-day session with ten members present. Those present were Mrs.
Adah Wilson, Mrs. John Slayback,
Mrs. Opal Kelly, Mrs. Ethel Wilson, Mrs. Vernon Stephens, Mrs.
Marietta Hodges, Mrs. Ida Mae
Ryle, Mrs. Paul Ayler, Mrs. Mary
Wilson and Mrs. Minnette Stephens.

Visitors present were Mrs. Marie Ryle and Don Jean Ryle and two Florence leaders who gave the lesson, Mrs. Charlotte Wilson and Mrs. Laverne Willford, whom we were very glad to have with us.

The morning session was devoted to business with the president, Mrs.
Vernon Stephens, presiding.

Roll call was answered by some improvement we were to make in our kitchens.

After a delicious lunch was served, the Florence leaders gave a very interesting lesson on "Step-Savers in a Modern Kitchen," after which Miss Gillaspie gave a short talk on "Better Lights in the Home." Miss Gillaspie also announced Home and Farm Week to be held at Lexington State University Jan. 30, 31, Feb. 1, 2 and urged all homemakers to attend.

The next meeting will be held at the Cream Station.
Mrs. Minnette Stephens,
Publicity Chairman.

GETS TWO CROPS FROM SAME LAND

Boyd Haynes, Carlisle county, Kentucky, in September, 1938, sowed 10 acres to crimson clover and barley. After pasturing the clover and barley during the winter and early spring, he harvested 250 pounds of clover seed and 25 bushels of barley to the acre. He sowed the clover for 10 cents a pound, 25 an acre, and had the barley left to feed to his beef cattle.

Increased interest in cover crops is reported by County Agent John B. Watie. One horse-drawn drill purchased to seed cover crops between rows of corn and other tilled crops last year.

General Motors Builds 25-Millionth Unit

Brief ceremonies were held in the Chevrolet assembly plant at Flint, January 11, marking completion of this car, the 25-millionth unit built by General Motors. In behalf of the thousands of workers who had a hand in its manufacture, 75 members of the final assembly line crew handed M. E. Coy, Chevrolet general manager, a commemoratory scroll for presentation to W. S. Knudsen, president of General Motors. Veterans Chevrolet employees, and executives of the Buick and AC Spark Plug divisions, were present as special guests.

In photo, left to right: C. E. Wetherald, general manufacturing manager, Chevrolet; Mr. Coy; H. H. Curtice, general manager Buick Division; A. P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the board, General Motors; Fred Brown, veteran Chevrolet employee; C. S. Mott, vice president, General Motors; and Mr. Knudsen.

The car was taken at once to Detroit, to play a major part in the "March of Men and Motors" celebration staged that night in the Masonic Temple.

KENTUCKY HYBRID CORN ACREAGE UP

Approximately 10,500 Kentucky farmers grew around 120,000 acres of hybrid corn last year. Yields were estimated at 15 percent above common kinds, and the quality generally was better. Hybrid corn also withstood winds and storms better.

W. C. Johnstone of the College of Agriculture at Lexington predicts that 400,000 to 500,000 acres will be planted to hybrid corn this year. About 100 Kentucky farmers produced certified seed last year.

Tests were made in 86 Kentucky counties last year to compare commercial hybrid corns with Reid's
Yellow Dent and Pride of Saline.
Kentucky hybrids 69 and 72 and
U. S. hybrid 13 produced best.
The Agricultural Experiment Station also did extensive experimental work with new hybrids. Yields ran as high as 93 bushels to the acre.

FARMERS TO KEEP IMPROVING SOIL

Keep in mind the improvement of soil and crops, the Logan county, Kentucky, planning committee recommended at its last meeting in 1939. Special attention was called to hybrid corn. Also commended was a "live at home" program, with emphasis on bigger and better gardens.

The cooperative service of the Farm Security Administration should be expanded to include farm equipment, the planners thought. There is need for community sheep dipping vats, and also for implements that can be used cooperatively, it was stated.

More sheep and cattle, a prominent part of the county program, call for better fencing. A sheep insurance program is to be developed. Other matters considered by the planners include a stronger Farm Bureau, study of tenant-landlord relations, and community planning.

APPLY PATCH

An idea offered by a neighbor bears repeating. When patching a garment use a pair of embroidery hoops to hold in place. Place the hole as neatly in the center as possible. This makes an unpleasant task much easier.

WHITE BURLEY WAS DEVELOPED IN OHIO

FROM KENTUCKY SEED

White Burley, now the most famous tobacco in Kentucky, is of rather recent origin, and had its beginning in Ohio, from Kentucky seed. Kentucky was a leading tobacco state before the appearance of White Burley, but produced Red Burley and dark types.

According to information collected by S. E. Wraether of the Department of Markets and Rural Finance of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture,
White Burley was developed in 1884, near Higginsport, Brown county, Ohio. George Webb, a Brown county farmer, procured from G. W. Barkley in Bracken county, Kentucky, seed of tobacco called Little Burley. At trans-planting time, a few plants of a peculiar white or yellowish color were noted. Supposing them diseased or dwarfed, Webb threw them away.

The next year Webb sowed some of the Kentucky seed he had left over, and again white or yellow colored plants appeared. This aroused his curiosity and he set aside some of the plants. About 1,000 plants grew, and when fully ripe were yellow or cream colored and made a considerable contract with other tobacco.

Webb's experience created a sensation, and growers came from far and near to see the freak tobacco.
The leaf cured a bright yellow or cream color, but was bitter to the taste.

Because of the bitter taste, growers did not consider that Webb's tobacco had a future, but he used the seed in 1886 and his beds contained a larger portion of white plants than of green ones. He transplanted sufficient quantities to produce 20,000 pounds of cured tobacco.

Two hogheads of the white tobacco were shipped to the Cincinnati market and sold at a high price. The purchaser afterward shipped the tobacco to the St.
Louis Fair in 1887, and after being awarded the first and second premiums for cutting leaf, sold it for $58 a hundred.

From this beginning, notes Mr.
Wraether, White Burley production has spread south and west until it now is grown in a great fan-shaped area encompassing practically all of Kentucky and considerable territory in Tennessee.

BEES STILL GOOD

SOURCE OF INCOME
Bees continue to provide a good source of income for a considerable number of Kentucky farmers, especially in the eastern part of the state. Orison Smith, Pike county, has been keeping bees for 35 years, and some years sells 5-000 pounds of honey for 20 to 25 cents a pound.

In Lecher county, R. B. Hal-comb last year produced 2,000 pounds of honey; W. L. King, 1-250 pounds, and Isom Caudill, 800 pounds.

Members of the Kentucky Beekeepers' Association will meet at Lexington Feb. 1, during the annual Farm and Home Convention.
All men and women and 4-H club members interested in bees are invited to attend.

GRAYSON COUNTY NEEDS

Planning committees in Grayson county listed the following needs: "of agriculture: A better live-at-home program; more cover crops for feed and soil protection; more pasture and less cultivated crops; more cows and ewes to raise stock now purchased; more working capital; extensive repairs for farm equipment, including fences and buildings."

USE ELASTIC

Children's pockets in sweaters usually stretch. Sew a piece of elastic inside the top of each pocket and tuck it in a few places to hold it. This holds the pocket in position and articles won't fall out.

Where Fashion Leads We Trail Like Sheep

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please explain about the wearing of veils in the present day? Mother insists that they were never intended to be worn after dark and I can hardly believe she is right because why would so many of the hats bought for street wear have veils attached to them?

Answer: It is impossible to attempt to limit fashions. Perhaps women will wear veils around their wrists or around their necks next, for whatever fashion says to do we all, like so many sheep, follow after.
Of course they didn't used to wear veils in the evening. Of course they didn't used to go without backs in their dresses either, nor did they play tennis in panties! At present they do wear stiff little ruffle trimmings on the hats and call them veils, and also call some of the hats they grace evening hats. As for the large circular evening veils that are dropped snugly over the hair to keep it in place, and then flare smartly at the bottom edge, which are illustrated in the fashion magazines, they are perhaps legitimate children of day before yesterday's "fascinator."

Announcing Departure

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband has long been a public office in this town and in consequence we have met many people whom we believe would be interested to know that we are going to make our home in a distant town. May I send our visiting cards to a long local list of names, writing P. P. C. on them, and could these cards include our future address rather than the present one, which we are giving up permanently?

Answer: Utility suggests that you might change the usual procedure of writing P. P. C. on cards which you are now using and instead write on those which carry your future address. However, unless you in some way make this clear people receiving them may have made up their minds as to where you have changed. As a suggestion, you might have this number of cards engraved with the name of the town on the line below the street address, and then on the cards which you have made up for other use simply omit it, since visiting cards do not usually include any more than the street address.

NOTICE

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our relatives, friends

LOCAL YOUTHS ARE INJURED

WHEN CAR IS STRUCK BY TRAIN AT LAWRENCEBURG, IND.
SATURDAY NIGHT—WERE RE-TURNING FROM PATRIOT.

Four members of the Hamilton basketball squad and two of their fans were injured Saturday night when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a west-bound Baltimore & Ohio Railroad passenger train at the Short and William Street crossing, Lawrenceburg, Ind.

The youths were returning to their homes, after a basketball game at Patriot, Ind. Those injured were Wallace Ryle, 18 years old, center; Delbert Hubbard, 18, and Russell Williamson, 16, forwards; Solon Earl Ryle, 14, reserve forward; Howard Ryle, 23, and Orville Scott, 25, drivers of the car. Scott suffered a crushed chest; Williamson, broken ribs and a back injury; Wallace Ryle, cut left hip and a broken arm and Solon Earl Ryle, broken jaw. They were removed to the Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, in a private ambulance.

Hubbard suffered a broken nose and cuts and bruises, and Howard Ryle, minor face injuries. Both were treated by Lawrenceburg physicians and taken to their homes.

Reuben Asbury, principal of the Hamilton school, said the teams and fans were returning from Patriot to their homes by way of Covington. Asbury said a caravan of cars left Patriot after the game with his car leading. Garland Huff, coach of the Hamilton Farmers, was in the rear.

When the cars reached Lawrenceburg, Scott started to the home of Percy Ryle, where Howard Ryle planned to pass the weekend. Scott, it was reported did not see the approaching train. Howard Ryle was thrown clear of the car.

The group of basketball players and fans went to Patriot by way of Madison and were unable to follow a short route home by way of Rising Sun ferry because of floating ice in the river.

As we go to press, Wednesday all of the injured are reported to be recovering nicely.

FLORENCE M. E. LADIES TO HOLD BAKERY SALE

The Ladies' Aid of the Florence Methodist Church will hold a bakery sale at Mr. A. M. Yealey's store in Florence on Saturday, January 27th all day. Everybody invited.

FARM LEADERS PLAN PROGRAM

IN SERIES OF COMMUNITY COUNTY MEETINGS HELD DURING PAST TWO WEEKS—OTHER MEETINGS SET.

Boone County farmers have planned a constructive farm improvement program in a series of community and county meetings held during the past two weeks, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

County commodity programs on Dairy and Crops have been planned and community programs in Burlington, Petersburg, Grant, Hebron, Verona and Walton have been held to date.

Community program planning meetings are scheduled for Hamilton on January 23d; Florence on the 24th; New Haven on the 25th; and Constance on February 7th.

Commodity planning meetings on poultry are scheduled for January 25th, and on corn February 5. These programs will be summarized by the County Extension Association in the near future and presented as the 1940 County Agricultural Extension Association Program for 1940. The program will represent the cooperative effort of our farmers to solve local farm improvement problems based on local interests.

HOPEFUL LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday, Jan. 28, Bible School at 10:00 a. m. Mr. Albert Rouse, Supt. Morning Worship at 11:00 a. m. Installation of newly elected church officers will be held at this service.

Business meeting of the Church Council will be held Wednesday, January 31, at the parsonage, at 8:00 p. m.

Tobacco Market Shows Upward Trend This Week

Boone County farmers selling tobacco on the various markets this week, report that prices are very satisfactory, and show an upward trend over the pre-holiday sales.

Lamar Congleton, Burlington farmer reported Monday that he sold his crop of 3392 pounds on the Carrollton market at an average of $23.59 net, per hundred.

Mr. Congleton had seven baskets sell for 27c, 4 baskets at 25c; 1 basket at 17c; 1 at 14 and one at 11c.

Howard Liser of Burlington, reported Tuesday that he sold 2432 pounds at the Marshall-Harris warehouse, Carrollton for an average of $22.00 plus.

Clarence Mitchell of Gunpowder, reports an average of $24.00 for his crop sold in Carrollton this week.

A. G. McMullen, Burlington, reported the sale of 2,045 pounds at the Marshall-Harris house for an average of $21.87.

Other crops reported were Roscoe Akin, $20.00, and Harry Gulley $21.00. Most of the above prices were clear of all expenses.

Several other good averages have been reported during sales this week.

2:20 p. m.—The Bi-County Farm Bureau Poultry Program, W. W. Woodward.

2:30 p. m.—Looking Back at 20 Years of Poultry Meetings, Ben Paddock.

2:40 p. m.—Improved Breeding Stock as a Means of Increasing Egg Production and Disease Resistance, Jim Humphrey.

3:00 p. m.—Adjournment.

This educational meeting is the annual get-together of poultrymen from all sections of the county. Everyone interested in poultry is invited to attend.

Four-H Member Makes Profit From Poultry

Mildred Shekman, Burlington 4-H Club member, realized $39.84 net gain on her poultry project of 65 chicks, according to 4-H project records recently completed.

April 4th she set 48 eggs which hatched 41 chicks. May 23rd she set the eggs from the home flock of white leghorns which, when hatched, brought the total number of chicks to 65.

FARM LOAN ASS'N. TO HOLD MEETING

AT BURLINGTON FEBRUARY 3—TWO HUNDRED INVITATIONS MAILED—ELECTION OF DI-RECTORS TO BE HELD.

The Boone County National Farm Loan Association will hold its annual meeting in the new high school building at Burlington, February 3rd, beginning at 9:30 a. m., slow time.

Two hundred invitations have been extended to Federal Land Bank and Land Bank Commissioner borrowers whose loans are serviced by the local association.

In addition to the election of directors, reports on the activities of the Association for the past year will be presented by E. A. Martin, President, John H. Grimes, Vice President and A. B. Renaker, Secretary-Treasurer. The other officers of the Association being B. E. Aylor, Karl Rouse and Thomas Hensley.

Addresses will be made by H. R. Forkner, County Agent, on the 1940 Farm Program; Richard C. Miller, Sheep Specialist, College of Agriculture whose subject will be "More Money for Your Sheep and Lambs," and possibly one other address.

A representative from the Federal Land Bank will be present and deliver an address.

A free drawing of cash and merchandise, limited to borrowers only, has been made possible by the kind cooperation of the following firms and business men:

J. P. Brothers, Luther Smith, Gulley & Pettit, W. L. McBee, Calvin Cress, Bi-County Farm Bureau, W. J. Craig, Peoples Deposit Bank, Boone County Recorder, Walton Adviser, Justin Dolph, J. R. Edgins, Walton & Readnor, W. L. Kirkpatrick and D. R. Blythe. The association is offering $5.00 in cash as an additional prize.

The winner of a prize must be present when his or her name is drawn from the box.

A turkey dinner will be served at noon by the Parent-Teacher Association, the expense of which is paid from the general funds of the association.

Much effort is being put forth by the officers of the association toward making this the best annual meeting ever held and a large crowd is expected.

Presidents Ball To Be Held In Gallatin

As Boone County will not have a President's Ball this year, and Gallatin County having extended us an invitation, let us all go to the President's Ball in Gallatin County on Saturday, January 27th, which will be at the new school in Warsaw.

A splendid orchestra has been engaged, and Judge Ward Yager and the committee have assured each and everyone who comes to the dance a good time.

Let all of us help to put this ball over, as it is for a very good cause.

County School Will Select Spelling Champion

All schools in the county will cooperate in the local spelling contest to be held at the new school building, Burlington on March 22nd, it was announced this week by Supt. D. H. Norris.

The purpose of the contest is to select the county champion that will go to Louisville on April 11th to compete in the Courier-Journal spelling bee for the state championship.

Alvin McGlasson, represented Boone County last year, and went far enough to reach a part of the prize money offered by the Louisville newspaper.

Homemakers Attend Second Music Leaders' Training Class

Music leaders of the Boone County Homemakers and Utopia Clubs attended the second music leaders' training class last week in Burlington.

Mrs. Florence Catadoris, University of Kentucky, Lexington, led the class in group singing. She gave the group many tips on how to conduct singing in local club meetings. Familiar and unfamiliar songs were practiced by the group.

The third music leaders' training class will be held Tuesday, February 6th, according to Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Boy Scouts To Celebrate Thirtieth Birthday Thursday, Feb. 15th

Scouting will be thirty years old in February, being first organized in America in 1910. The Scouts of the Gunpowder District will observe this birthday on Thursday, Feb. 15th at the Burlington high school.

Lunch, a good program, Court of Honor and a good time for all is being planned, not only for Scouts and Dads but boys who want to be Scouts and men interested in Scouting are invited to attend.

Lunch will be served by Burlington P. T. A. and cost is only 30c per person.

William Lorch

Wm. Lorch, age 60 years, passed away at Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, Saturday after a short illness of appendicitis.

Mr. Lorch was a retired engineer, having been employed at Dam 38, McVille, for many years. He was stricken with appendicitis last Tuesday and was removed to Christ Hospital, where he died four days later.

He leaves his widow, one brother and two sisters, as well as a host of other relatives and friends that will greatly miss his presence.

Funeral services were conducted at his home in Florence Tuesday morning at 10:00 a. m. by Rev. Cross, the body being removed to Veay, Ind. for burial.

Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Miss Rose Ryan

Requiem high mass for Miss Rose Ryan, 23 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ryan, of near Beaver, who died Sunday, were sung Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's Church by Rev. Father Jobst, Verona. Interment followed in St. Patrick's cemetery.

She leaves her parents, three brothers and number of relatives and friends.

Miss Ryan was taken seriously ill Sunday and died shortly after being placed in Chambers & Grubbs ambulance for removal to the hospital.

Chambers and Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Bernard H. Scherder

Requiem High Mass for Bernard H. Scherder, 21, Sanders Drive, Florence was sung at 9 a. m. Wednesday at St. Paul Church, Florence, following services at 8:30 a. m. at the Tallaferro funeral home, Erlanger. Burial was in St. John cemetery.

Mr. Scherder, 50 died Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital following an illness of two years.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Theresa Scherder; four daughters, Misses Dorothy, Martha and Mary; and a son, Donald Scherder, Florence.

Choral Group Organized

Approximately twelve persons met at the school house last Thursday night at which time the "Choral Club" was organized under the direction of Prof. Edwin Walton.

Thursday night, February 1, at 7 p. m. folks are requested to come to the school house if they wish to join a dramatic club of the choral club.

Mrs. Garnett Tolin will be in charge of the dramatic club. Let's have a larger number out at this time so that we may have enough to organize both groups.

These clubs are being sponsored by the local P. T. A.

Boyhood Friendship Ends After 50 Years

Jacob Youst, of Newport, died at his home Monday, bringing to an end a boyhood friendship that had lasted for over 50 years.

It was said that Mr. Youst and Mr. C. O. Hempling, of Constance were brothers, yet they were no blood relation. They had enjoyed one of the finest friendships any two persons could possibly enjoy, and it had existed from boyhood days until death.

Mr. Youst's death comes with much sorrow to many Boone County citizens as he was known throughout the western part of the county.

ALLOTMENTS ARE COMPLETED

BY A. A. A. COMMITTEES—AD-JUSTMENTS EXPECTED TO BE APPROVED BY STATE COM-MITTEE LAST OF WEEK.

Boone County Agricultural Conservation Program Committee completed the 1940 tobacco acreage allotment adjustments on Tuesday of this week. These adjustments are expected to be approved by the State Committee by the latter part of the week. Farmers are expected to be notified of their new allotments in the near future.

Growers who do not exceed their allotments will receive benefit payments under the A. C. Program of one cent per pound on the acres allotted, times the farm yield, according to Mark Cook, Chairman of the County Committee.

Marketing quotas under the A. A. Farm Act are in effect on the 1940 crop. Growers who do not exceed their acreage allotments may sell all tobacco produced. Those who exceed their allotments will be subject to the 10 cent per pound tax, and will also be subject to eight-tenths of a cent per pound deduction in their Agricultural Conservation Program payment.

Both the community and county committees have exercised considerable concern in the equitable adjustment of the new allotments. After careful study of regulations and allotments resulting from regulations governing adjustments, the committees had little choice except for a uniform 10 per cent reduction in the 1939 allotments. Farmers who did not use their last year's allotments in a few cases were subject to slightly greater than a 10 per cent reduction.

The committees found the 1940 adjustments a most difficult job due to the fact that marketing quotas are in effect on the crop. Those who have observed the committees working can say that they attempted to do the best job possible in this work.

Allotments were not set up for new growers. Growers who do not have 1940 allotments will be subjected to 10 cents per pound tax on all tobacco produced. New allotments will be most difficult to receive in that a farmer to qualify for a new allotment must:

- (1) Apply for an allotment at the county office before February 1st.
- (2) Must have grown tobacco during the past five years.
- (3) Must have crop land suitable for growing tobacco.
- (4) Labor for growing tobacco.
- (5) Barn suitable for curing.
- (6) Customary crop rotation including tobacco.

C. D. Melvin Sale To Be Held Thursday

The sale of C. D. Melvin advertised for Saturday, January 20th, was postponed until today, Thursday, January 25th, due to the inclement weather.

The sale will be held at the H. C. Thompson farm on U. S. 42, one mile south of New Haven school at 1:00 p. m. (noon time).

Mr. Melvin will offer several head of good cows, sixteen stock ewes, and many farming implements at this sale.

A complete list of the articles to be offered will be found on another page of this issue.

Court House News

The Dixie-Ohio Express Company was fined $24.50 in Judge Riddell court Monday for operating a truck over the length allowed by law. The arrest was made by state police.

Chas. Underwood, of Louisville, was fined for being drunk in a public place. He was arrested in Florence by State police and brought to Burlington for trial.

George Ward, Newport, charged with reckless driving and driving while under the influence of liquor was convicted only on the reckless driving charge and received a fine of $15.00 before Judge N. E. Riddell last Wednesday.

Ward was driving one of the automobiles that was involved in the truck and two-car accident near Richmond on December 2nd. Or M. Rogers represented Ward and F. L. Leonard, of Cincinnati represented the trucking company.

Large Group Utopians Plan To Attend Warsaw Conference February 3

A large group of Boone County Utopia Club members have made reservations to attend the District Utopia Club Conference at Warsaw on Saturday, February 3rd, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

An educational program in both Agriculture and Home Economics will begin at 1:30 p. m. and close at 5:30 p. m. A recreational program will follow a dinner at 6:00 p. m.

All who are interested in older boys and girls club work are invited to attend. Dinner reservations should be made at the County Agent's office.

Correction

It was stated in The Recorder last week that Walton was the help in session during the recent cold wave. This was in error as we have been informed that the Constance school opened January 3d and has not lost a day of school.

11 HOMEMAKERS TO ATTEND MEET

HOME WEEK TO DRAW LARGE CROWD.

Eleven Boone County Homemakers are planning to attend the four-day conference of Homemakers at the University of Kentucky next week. Mrs. George Kottmyer, President of the Boone County Homemakers, will serve as the voting delegate for the local group. Many other homemakers are planning to drive to Lexington for one day's program some during the convention which will be held January 30 through February 2.

Many subjects concerning family and rural life will be discussed during the conference. The women's meeting during the week will have as speakers Dr. Louise Stanley, president of the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture; Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton, Washington, nationally known lecturer; Miss Ella Gardner, Recreational Specialist; and Dr. A. Drummond Jones, Government Economist, and several prominent Kentucky women.

The Kentucky Federation of Homemakers representing 12,000 farm women will hold its annual meeting the last day of the convention. Mrs. H. L. Crafton, Henderson, president of the group will be in charge. Speakers will include Mrs. T. M. Johnson, former president, who will report on the meeting in England of the Associated Country Women of the World, and Dr. Allen, Stockdale, New York.

The local delegation plans to leave on the morning of January 30th. Any one desiring hotel reservation are asked to contact Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent.

$1,000 DAMAGE IS ESTIMATED

IN FLORENCE HOME AS RESULT OF FIRE TUESDAY—FIREMEN PRAISED FOR EFFICIENT WORK.

Fire caused considerable damage Tuesday to the home of Ben Perry Tanner, U. S. 42, three miles from Florence, Tuesday, before it was brought under control by the Florence Volunteer Fire Department.

The fire was said to have started from a defective flu, and heavy firing made necessary during the recent cold wave. Flames spread over the entire second floor of the frame house before the fire department arrived and was unable to start their pump until water was carried from a nearby spring to fill their booster tank. Voluntary help kept the tank on the engine filled and in less than one and one-half hours the fire had been brought under complete control.

All furniture in the house was saved. However some loss was sustained from water before it could be removed. The entire loss from both fire and water was estimated at $1,000.00.

The very effective manner in which the Florence Volunteer Fire Department handled the situation was highly praised by all, which only goes to prove that Boone County needs more fire fighters and equipment like that of Florence and Hebron.

Slight Damage Caused By Fire At Grant Home

Slight damage to two large 2x8 timbers in the basement of Mrs. E. Grant were caused by fire last Friday morning. The cause of the fire was said to be due to timbers being too near the chimney.

The Hebron fire department responded to a call, but the fire was extinguished before the arrival of the department.

Kelly Clore, son of Mrs. Zelma Clore, Burlington, and sophomore in the College of Law at the University of Kentucky, Lexington, was recently pledged to Phi Alpha Delta, national legal fraternity on the campus of the University.

FLORENCE BOYS UPSET WALTON

IN CONFERENCE GAME FRIDAY NIGHT—HAMILTON THROUNCES BURLINGTON BY SCORE OF 61 TO 27.

Florence upset the basketball dope bucket Friday night, when they defeated the strong Walton five on the Florence floor by a score of 49 to 28. Although the Florence Farmers were treated as being much improved it was not thought that they would defeat the Walton quintet.

Cody of Florence lead the attack for his team by collecting 18 points, while Dringenberg was a close second with 17. DeShae McElroy, star of the Walton five collected 12 points.

The Walton Reserves were victorious over the Florence second stringers by a score of 32-12.

In another conference game, the Hamilton Farmers were trampled by the Burlington Tomcats by a score of 61 to 27. Earlier in the season the Hamilton boys defeated Burlington 27 to 25, and Burlington fans expected to see their boys emerge victorious when the Farmers visited here. The Farmers are leading the Conference this season.

The first half of the game was fairly close, but the last half was a scouring bout for the Hamilton Farmers. Ryle led the attack for the Farmers with 21 points, while Huey and Porter were collecting 8 and 7 respectively.

The New Haven quintet was defeated Saturday night by the strong Alexandria five by a count of 44-30.

Hebron lost their game Friday night with Beechwood by a score of 33 to 11.

THE AMERICAN PRESS
"For Over Fifty Years"

SECURITY

The first checks covered by the Social Security fund are to be paid beginning in February. The plan has been in force for three years and suffered much criticism. Next month men and women 65 years of age and over will be paid from $10 to $41.60 a month, from this old age pension which has been suffered by many and not always silently!

Despite the objections the old age pension is really only a humane effort to abolish suffering and need when age comes and work is not available and support is laid at the door of Mr. Taxpayer. The people in Boone County who believe they do not need someone to save their money for them in their old age are greatly outnumbered by the many who are going to find such a fund a real life-saver. The chap who has the social security money taken from his salary, and who is not apt to be in need of help when age creeps upon him, that fellow is only making his worthy contribution to a cause that would later be thrust upon him in taxation. No one skipped, no one overlooked, the rich and poor alike are paying into the fund and all alike will profit from it. As the first checks go into the mail we know that after three years of paying out, the pension for the aged is now paying in for the relief and support of many American homes. It is the American home that maintains the highest standards of living in the pattern of economies.

WELCOME HOME

Those of us who reside in Boone County may not be as appreciative of the weight of the postman's pack as our brothers who await the city deliveries and expectantly look forward to the familiar sight of the home paper. Not long ago a subscriber on our mailing list missed out on a weekly issue and wrote us to forward a copy "post-haste." This caused us to reflect upon how much a home town paper would mean if we were far from friends and old associations. The mail sack of the city carrier bulges with all sizes of papers of those small towns of which the recipient was once a part. These after often fall to get a complete digest of the town's activities from those who correspond with them. It takes long to tell of comings and goings, of the activities and discussions of inhabitants whose names are so familiar to the homesome one. What better than to have the home town paper bring you the news? The city edition may weigh heavier, but the home town paper carries more refreshment. The weekly may not have the large subscription list, it may not be perused by the number of readers. Can the daily, but it serves to satisfy in a different way. It crowds the carrier's pack as it crowds the memories and brings a nostalgia for those folks and things that once were.

PRAYER FOR PEACE

Many state executives have asked that their peoples unite in the movement observed by millions of citizens throughout the U. S. in calling a day of prayer for peace. The word goes to all churches and is spread among all groups of people. Whether such a concerted effort and unified prayers will have an effect on influencing governments and rulers, we cannot foresee. This desire for peace is not confined to this country alone but is a world-wide plea. Can the dove of peace be guided by love, can moral power be overcome by brute force, will the call of brotherhood sound over the cry for blood? Shall the conscience of the United world be heeded by the masters of crime?

FARM PROSPECTS

A few of the predictions from the new farm prospects might be of interest to local readers. Whether or not the outcome will coincide with the forecasting we cannot say but of the list there may be one item of interest to you. The cash income from sale of products should be higher, but prices of commodities used by the farmer will also be higher. There will be a slight increase in wage labor but an increase of mechanical farm implements will offset this. Prices of fertilizer materials will rise and prices of some seeds be lower. The volume of farm-mortgage financing is hailed higher and increased mortgage credit will be more accessible.

possible. For whatever such words mean to you, whatever their worth in your financial posture, we pass them along.

NO DIFFERENCE

The advice that the mayor of New York gave his police might well be the advice every official in the country. Wise words these, "Don't give the drunken driver a break, I don't care who he is." And how often the fact that he is "who he is" leads the overlooking by a judge when a traffic crime is committed. What difference his social standing if he is the killer when drunk. The fellow may be driving a high powered, expensive car, or a bit of junk that can't make the grade, but whether in tuxedo or overalls the drunken driver receives the same treatment. This means Boone County and other counties around us.

IMPROVED
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS DRAMATICALLY PROCLAIMS HIS MESSIAHSHIP

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 21:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Behold, thy King cometh unto thee.—Matthew 21:5.

The official presentation of Himself to the Jewish people as their King, their redeemer, He Him, and what was even more solemnly meaningful, His rejection of the Hebrew nation because of unbelief—such are the stirring events which follow as we enter with our Lord into the last week of His earthly life. The first event in that sequence is the one we study in our lesson for today, namely, the coming of the King to Jerusalem. Jesus on this occasion did a very dramatic and unusual thing, a fact which indicates that here is an incident of extraordinary import to which we do well to give careful study.

I. Preparation and Presentation (vv. 1-7).

The King comes, but even in His hour of royal triumph He gives us a lesson in the unexplainable but infinitely joy of meeting His need. 1. "The Lord Hath Need" (vv. 1-4). He had need of disciples who would follow Him to the end of the earth, and He had need of the disciples who would follow Him to the end of the earth. He had need of the disciples who would follow Him to the end of the earth. He had need of the disciples who would follow Him to the end of the earth.

2. Behold Thy King Cometh (vv. 5-7).

Behold Thy King Cometh (vv. 5-7). The King comes, but even in His hour of royal triumph He gives us a lesson in the unexplainable but infinitely joy of meeting His need. 1. "The Lord Hath Need" (vv. 1-4). He had need of disciples who would follow Him to the end of the earth, and He had need of the disciples who would follow Him to the end of the earth. He had need of the disciples who would follow Him to the end of the earth. He had need of the disciples who would follow Him to the end of the earth.

II. Acceptance and Rejection (vv. 8-11, 15, 16).

1. "The Multitude" (vv. 8-11). The fact that before the week was over many of the same voices cried, "Crucify Him!" should not obscure the fact that there were still believers (v. 16) who really had faith in Christ. There is something inspiring about that picture of enthusiasm and devotion. Real faith in Christ ought to result in a fervor of spirit which will stir our hearts and our cities. Are we not altogether too dead and formal in much of our worship today? Do we not need more holy enthusiasm for Christ and for His Church?

2. "The Chief Priests and Scribes" (vv. 15, 16).

2. "The Chief Priests and Scribes" (vv. 15, 16). A wonderful, for not only had they rejected the King, but they had recognized the Christ whom they had ignored, but He had in turn ruined their polite religious racket which produced for them such a lovely profit. Mark this—when any one is displeased with Jesus or with His true children or with His work on earth, you can be sure that there is a reason, and not a holy, upright or good reason either.

III. Judgment and Compassion (vv. 12-14).

What a remarkable picture! In the midst of flaming judgment and destruction we find loving compassion upon the blind and the lame. Folk who think that Christ has no message but love need to look on Him as He cleanses the temple. On the other hand, those who think that He has no word but judgment need to behold Him as He stands in the midst of the overturned tables and debris and beats the money-changers out of the temple. Inconspicuous? Not at all. God is love, but He is also absolute holiness.

1. "Jesus Cast Out" (vv. 12, 13).

1. "Jesus Cast Out" (vv. 12, 13). He knew where to begin to cleanse the city. He started in the temple. Absolutely right is the man who suggested that the place to start to clean up a city is not in the slums but in the churches. The same is true of the individual. A regenerated heart will bring a reformed life, not vice versa.

2. "He Healed Them" (v. 14).

2. "He Healed Them" (v. 14). The very hands which just were overturning the tables and cast out the money-changers now gently touched the lame and the blind with healing. The eyes which had blazed with holy indignation now shone with love and compassion. The scene of judgment and chaos became the house of prayer and of answered prayer. On the very spot where one man had received condemnation, another received healing. Each one received that which he sought by his action. How will you, my dear reader, meet Jesus—as your Judge or as your Saviour? You must make the choice.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT

Whereas God in his infinite wisdom saw fit to call to her heavenly home our beloved friend and president, Mrs. Lucy Pearson;

Be it resolved that her husband has lost a faithful and devoted wife and resolved that her church has lost a consecrated member who was always present as long as her health permitted.

And be it further resolved that the Sophia Lloyd Memorial Society is deeply grieved at her passing.

She was the organizer and first president of the society, and was always present and gave us her wise and cheerful counsel.

And be it resolved that a copy be sent to the Boone County Recorder and one to her husband, and one spread on our minute book.

Sunday, Jan. 23rd is to be membership day at Big Bone Baptist Church. Every member is urged to be present if possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Huff called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seebree Sunday afternoon. Other guests of the day were Mrs. Gerland Huff and daughter and Harold Love.

Hamilton Farmers played the Patriot, Ind., team a close game of basketball Saturday night at Patriot, winning both games. The first team score was 32-29, reserves 16-15. They made the trip by automobile and on their way home one of the cars was struck by a train at Lawrenceburg, Ind. Six of the boys suffered injuries. The youths were removed to Good Samaritan hospital for treatment. We wish for them a speedy recovery.

KATIE KILOWATT Says

Why wear out your clothes and yourself when you can do your washing electrically for a cent or two a week?

Washing clothes by hand is hard on you and hard on your clothes. And when you have them done by outside help you run the risk of contamination and loss by careless handling. Why take a chance either way when an electric washer will clean your clothes gently, thoroughly and effortlessly at a cost of only a cent or two a week? Electricity is cheap—let it do more work for you in 1940.

TO FRIENDS OF

CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Your interest in the work for crippled children prompts us to make a statement about the organizations engaged in the work in Kentucky, and to announce that again the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children will conduct a Seal Sale and membership campaign at Easter time 1925.

Several years ago, the President's Birthday Ball movement was inaugurated. Its announced purpose was two-fold—first, to aid in the expansion of Warm Springs Hospital in Georgia and, second, to create a fund for research in the field of infantile paralysis. As these causes were most worthy, the Kentucky Society has cooperated with the movement each year, although it is sponsored by a separate and distinct organization, and in only a few instances has the money raised by the Birthday Balls (that is the fifty percent remaining in the state) been turned over to this Society or its local committees.

The Kentucky Society for Crippled Children is the mother of all organizations of the state-wide movement for treatment of indigent little cripples. Our Society secured the passage of the act creating the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission, which administers state and federal appropriations, holds free clinics and treats crippled children. The Commission was created in 1924 and in the fifteen years of its operation has cared for more than 7000 such cases. The Society has conducted a financial campaign in each of these years and has raised two memberships, Seal Sales and donations approximately $400,000. This has been used to supplement the state appropriations in order to treat a large number of children.

As you know, we have in each county a permanent committee or group of loyal friends working thru the Kentucky Society in the interest of crippled children. The Committee sponsoring the President's Birthday Ball has indicated a desire to avoid any duplication in the work for crippled children and in this desire we heartily concur.

However, we have heard that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, which administers the funds raised by the Birthday Balls and similar money-raising enterprises, is planning to form local Chapters of the Foundation in each county. We fear that the formation of such Chapters may duplicate work already being handled by our existing state agencies, and we suggest that if such an organization is contemplated in your community you contact its leaders, acquaint them with the work now being done and urge a coordination of all efforts for the best interest of our common cause—the welfare of crippled children.

The Kentucky Society for Crippled Children will conduct its 1925 Seal Sale and membership campaign from March 10 thru March 24. The machinery of the campaign is now being set up with the Honorable Lawrence Hager of Owensboro as general chairman.

CARD OF THANKS

Our most sincere appreciation is extended to all relatives, friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy shown us in the great loss of our beloved mother.

We are especially grateful to Rev. R. Smith for his consoling words; those who rendered the beautiful song; donors of the beautiful floral pieces and Chambers & Grubbs for the efficient manner in which they conducted the funeral. It—p.

JOHN H. COWLES, PROMINENT MASON TO BE HONORED

Masons from all over the country are expected to gather in Kentucky in May of this year to honor John H. Cowles, Thirty-third degree Mason, Past Grand Master of the state of Kentucky, Sovereign Commander for the Southern Jurisdiction, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, The Southern Jurisdiction, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry extends to almost every section in the world, with active Bodies in such distant countries as Hawaii, China and Japan.

Events to honor Mr. Cowles, who celebrates the Fiftieth Anniversary of his receiving the Thirty-second degree of Masonry in May, begin in Covington, May 1st through May 4th, the Covington Scottish Rite Bodies will hold their Spring Reunion in Covington at which time the degrees from the Fourth to the Thirtieth will be conferred. The class receiving these degrees will then be held over until May 18th, when they will travel to Louisville, Ky., to receive the Thirty-first and Thirty-second degrees along with the class of candidates from the Louisville Scottish Rite Bodies.

May 15th through May 18th the degrees from the Fourth through the Thirty-second will be conferred on a class of candidates in Louisville, Ky., with the officers of Khesvan Chapter, Rolse Croix, Covington, conferring the Eighteenth degree and officers of Indra Consistory, Covington, conferring the Thirty-second degree. Thirty-third degree and Knight Court of Honor members from Covington will invest the rank, Knight Commander Court of Honor upon Masons elected by the Supreme Council to receive this distinction, and

Mr. Cowles, Grand Commander, will confer the Thirty-third degree, Honorary, being conferred by Thirty-third degree members of Louisville and Covington Bodies. A banquet in honor of Commander Cowles in the Crystal Ball Room of the Brown Hotel will terminate the combined Reunions on the night of May 18th.

LAUNDERING LACE

To wash delicate lace collars and cuffs, put them one at a time in a fruit jar containing lukewarm soap suds. Let soak for a short while and then shape the jar to agitate the lace. Rinse in clear water in a bowl. Don't hang on a line to dry, lay on a towel.

PARAGRAPHS

Many a youngster would go to the dentist if his teeth might have a chocolate filling.

Tom Dewey had better shave off his mustache. Look what the cartoonists have done to another prominent one.

Too many children in Boone County think their teachers aren't smart enough to teach them anything!

They work to eliminate odors. Why not experiment with the approaching political campaign?

If we didn't have something to worry about most of us would be bored stiff with life.

These citizens who say that today's youth haven't a chance, seem to forget that the same thing was said about their father until he made his chance.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To remove gum stuck on the rug chair or wherever gum chewers put their gum, it may be removed by running with ice... Sew rubbers from preserving jars to the corners of your rugs that insist upon slipping... Add starch to water when washing mirrors and windows. It helps remove dirt and gives the glass a lustre... To clean straw flowers, dip them in and out of warm water slightly sudsy, then rinse in clear water. Hang up to dry.

Gayety Theater News

Fri. & Sat.—"Bulldog Drummond's Secret Police"
Sunday and Monday—"Secret of Dry Kildare" Tuesday—"They Shall Have Music"
Wed.—"Man in the Iron Mask"

Romance, intrigue and murder in a weird medieval castle is the exciting fare offered local moviegoers by the Gayety Theatre where Paramount's new thrill drama, "Bulldog Drummond's Secret Police," is shown Friday and Saturday. John Howard, who has made H. C. (Gapper) McVie's popular amateur detective into an international institution, is back in the title role.

"The Secret of Dr. Kildare," third of the "Dr. Kildare" series, with Lew Ayres and Lionel Barrymore heading the cast is the attraction at the Gayety Sunday and Monday.

The scientific detective romance, based on Max Brand's popular story, deals with a beautiful girl's strange secret terror, and the detective work of Ayres, as Dr. Jimmy Kildare, to trace it down to the plot of a fanatical nurse and a quick doctor. In the dramatic climax, under the guidance of Barrymore as Dr. Gillespie, he cures her blindness by practical mental suggestions.

With Jascha Heifetz, the World's most renowned violinist starred, Samuel Goldwyn's new major production, "They Shall Have Music," which is shown at the Gayety Tuesday, unfolds a gripping story of human interest, high-lighted by tense and thrilling action. The principal romantic roles are played by Andrea Leeds and Joe McCrea, while the important supporting roles are portrayed by Walter Brennan, Gene Reynolds and Tommy Kelly.

"The Man in the Iron Mask," one of the world's great adventure romances... a story treasured by millions of readers... awaited by multitudes of screen-thrill-lovers... comes to the Gayety in a new gloriously exciting production by Edward Small, whose "The Count of Monte Cristo" blazed new thrills everywhere.

Every ingredient of staid entertainment is here... The splendor and picturesqueness of King Louis XIV's court... Romance and intrigue behind a throne, with a kingdom at stake... Flashing swordplay, swashbuckling adventure... Joan Bennett's breath-taking beauty as the Princess Maria Theresa... Louis Hayward in the most spectacular dual role every created.

This picture will be shown at the Gayety Wednesday, January 31st.

OWL HOLLOW

Mr. and Mrs. Beyer and son spent Sunday with Charles and Wilbur Abdon and families.

James Smith spent the week-end with his parents.

Mrs. Hayes Feldhaus and daughter spent Friday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Presser, of Union.

Daisy Presser and family were in Union Thursday on business and called on Mrs. Walter Craddock, a short time.

Cleveland Baker and sons sent a load of tobacco to Carrollton the past week.

Alma Frances Stephens was in Cincinnati Saturday consulting a doctor and receiving treatment for an illness she has suffered all winter. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Cathryn Abdon was shopping in Covington Tuesday.

Covington Merchants For 33 Years

One of northern Kentucky's oldest independent department stores, the Luhn & Stevie Co., Pike street, Covington is to close offices of the company announced Monday.

Closing out sales will begin the latter part of this week. The company will retain its shoe store at 34 Pike Street. The department store is located at 30 Pike street.

The firm has achieved national recognition on several occasions. A trade paper reported several years ago that Luhn & Stevie did more business per square foot of selling space than any dry goods store in the United States. Another reported the store's novel "Lucky 13" Silk Hosiery Club Plan was adopted by many stores throughout the United States.

Founded in 1907 by Mrs. Joseph P. Luhn, John A. Stevie and William Scheifers, the store expanded into the three-floor building at 30 Pike street. In 1928 the second and third floors of the building at 30 Pike street were leased and, finally, in 1937 a shoe store was opened at 34 Pike street.

Although the entire stock of the department store will be liquidated, the shoe store will continue to operate as heretofore, with personnel unchanged.

In the past 13 years Joseph M. Luhn has acquired all the stock of the company, with the exception of the holdings of the secretary and foreman of the company, Miss Mark Hugenberg.

Mr. Luhn will continue to be active in the shoe store, but also will devote part of his time to several other business interests in northern Kentucky.

Farm and Home Convention Set For Jan. 30-Feb. 2

The 28th Annual Farm and Home Convention will be held at the College of Agriculture, University of Kentucky, January 30, 31, and February 1 and 2.

The convention is a state-wide conference to consider basic problems of farm life in Kentucky. A large number of Boone County farmers will be interested and attend the various meetings held during the week.

The schedule of farm meetings on the various days is as follows: Tuesday, Jan. 30—Sheep, Farm Management, Marketing and A. A. A.

Wednesday, Jan. 31—R. E. A. A. A. A. water supplies, Soils and Crops, Silos, Livestock Diseases, Farm Butchering, Dairying, Poultry, Tobacco and Horticulture.

Thursday, Feb. 1st—Economics, Bee Keeping, Agricultural Engineering, Livestock, Dairying, Soils and Crops, Horticulture and Marketing.

Friday, Feb. 2nd—Soil Conservation, Tobacco and Beef Cattle. A limited supply of programs may be secured at the County Agent's office in Burlington. Those who are interested in attending the convention and do not have a way to go should give their names at the county office.

Tobacco Allotments Close February 1st

Farmers who did not grow tobacco last year and do not have allotments but expect to grow tobacco in 1940 should apply for an allotment at the County office in Burlington before February 1, the last day for new growers to file application for allotments, according to Mark Cook, Chairman of the County A. A. Committee.

It will be rather difficult for a new grower to secure a tobacco allotment in 1940.

Tobacco produced in 1940 that is not covered by a tobacco allotment will be subject to 10 per cent tax, and will also be subject to eight-tenths of a cent per pound deduction in their Agricultural Conservation Program payment.

BAPTISTS PLAN CONFERENCE

OF TRAINING UNION ASSOCIATIONAL OFFICERS TO BE HELD AT HOPKINSVILLE, FEBRUARY 2ND AND 3RD.

A conference of Kentucky Baptist Training Union Associational Officers will be held in Hopkinsville, February 2-3. The first Baptist church will be host to these workers coming from every section of the state.

This is the fifth year of a Five-Year Promotional Program of Baptist Training Union forces throughout the South. This is the fifth meeting in the five years of the Training Union Associational Officers in Kentucky. Mr. Byron C. S. DeJarnette, Louisville, is the state secretary for Kentucky. Under Mr. DeJarnette's leadership organizations have been perfected in fifty-eight per cent of the associations in Kentucky and these associations are undertaking to establish Training Union work in every Baptist church in the state. Progress is being reported from over the entire Southern Baptist Convention.

The program in Hopkinsville will feature both state and south-wide leaders. Some of those on the program from Kentucky will be O. C. Rainwater, Stearns; R. S. McGeehee, Princeton; J. P. Allen, Clay; Miss Grace Morehead, Owensboro; Mrs. C. P. Collins, Frankfort; J. Marvin Adams, Middlesboro; W. M. Wood and Byron C. S. DeJarnette, Louisville.

Some of the Southwest leaders in Training Union work and representing the Southern Baptist Convention will be J. O. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lambdin, Frank H. Leavell, B. B. McKinney, W. A. Harrell, Clay L. Hudson, C. Aubrey Hearn, and Miss Elaine Coleman, Nashville.

The Baptist Training Union includes, not only the Young People of the church membership, but Adults as well. The Training Unions of Southern Baptist churches have added almost a million in enrollment. Again of 7,000 organizations has been reported during the past three years. 66,776 Training Union Study Course awards were reported for the year 1939. These gains are made possible by the volunteer leadership in the counties of each state.

The Sunday School Board of the Southern Baptist Convention is offering to finance the transportation expenses of one, two, or three cars bringing these associational officers from every association. The homes in Hopkinsville will entertain the visiting representatives for free bed and breakfast.

VERONA

Winter still holds on. Mr. Walter King has moved to the Helen Tomlin farm west of Verona, recently vacated by Larry Ryan.

Mrs. Allen Morris is recovering at her home, after undergoing an operation at Christ Hospital.

While splitting wood Allen Morris was struck in the eye by a stick of wood, which caused him much pain.

Mrs. A. T. Hink is suffering with bronchitis. Sympathy of the community is extended Mrs. Mary Madden and granddaughter. Mrs. Emma Alexander is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dawson and helping to care for her new granddaughter.

There is some flu in our community. The county agent, H. R. Forkner and assistant, Mr. Drake held their community meeting at the bank Saturday afternoon.

HISTORY—Mrs. E. F. turned her ankle so easily that even the smallest pebble would cause her to fall. When stepping off curbs, street cars, or buses, she was necessary to be particularly careful. Mrs. F. had many serious falls, limbs and feet ached so badly at night that she could hardly sleep. Mrs. F. had tried every make of shoe she knew of, but still the weakness persisted. She got no relief, until one day a friend who had experienced the same conditions and had been helped recommended surgical shoes. After wearing the properly shaped surgical shoes for her feet, and better foot balance promoted, she no longer turned her ankle and strain was relieved on the ligaments and tendons. She is now completely free of pains and aches in the limbs and feet and can walk like a kitten.—Adv.

EIGHT PROJECTS TO BE ADVANCED

IN SOIL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM-1940 SOIL IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM PLANNED JANUARY 22ND.

A 1940 soils improvement program was planned at Burlington on January 22nd with the aid of Agricultural Conservation Program Committee, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The program is based on eight important projects to be advanced during the year:

(1) Sow all cultivated land with cover crop.
(2) Use at least one grass and one legume in every seeding mixture.

(3) The Conservation and Proper Use of Manure and Crop Residues.

(4) Four cover Crop Result Demonstrations.

(5) Eight Potash Result Demonstrations.

(6) 29 T. V. A. Lime, Phosphate and Seeding Demonstrations.

(7) Lime, 300 farmers use 6,000 tons of agricultural limestone.

(8) Use 20 carloads or 1,015,950 pounds of 47 percent superphosphate on grass and legume crops. This project is divided into communities with A. C. P. community goals set as follows:

District 7, Petersburg, Hebron and Constance, five carloads.

District 2, Burlington, Florence, and Grant, six carloads.

District 3, Hamilton, Carlton and part of Beaver, two carloads.

District 4, Walton, Verona, Union and part of Beaver, seven carloads.

The County Committee in charge of advancing the program is composed of Mark Cook, S. B. Sleet and Hugh Stephens. All ACP community committees and leading farmers will assist.

The projects are based on lines of soil improvement that the planning committee considered most important for 1940. County and community meetings, tours and honor roll awards will be used to create greater interest in soil conservation and soil building practices.

IT MUST HAVE BEEN COLD

Part of a letter was furnished the Recorder this week which was written by Captain H. B. Fenton, river pilot and father of Mrs. Ed Berkshire. The letter was written to Mr. Berkshire. The letter stated that the longest navigation was ever delayed due to ice was in the year 1855-1856, when the river was blocked for 103 days. In 1904 river traffic was held up for 90 days and in 1905 for five weeks. During the winter of 1855 the ice was two feet thick.

Attached to the letter was a clipping dated Feb. 13, 1899, showing temperatures in various towns along the river and near by. Erlanger had a reading of 22 below zero.

It must have been cold in those days.

Capt. Fenton was a former resident of Petersburg, Ky.

Elsmere Man Found Dead At Home Sunday

Bernard Pluster, 75 years old, a retired machanic was found frozen to death Sunday in his one-room frame house on Eastern Ave., Elsmere.

A large black bulldog owned by the victim was standing guard over the body when George Kaiser, 104 Walnut St., Elsmere entered the building to ask whether Pluster was in need of any assistance. It was the habit of neighbors of the victim to visit him occasionally to aid in any task he might have to perform about his home.

Pluster is survived by a sister, Mrs. Mary Krummen, Covington. Reuben high mass was sung at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Mary Cathedral, Covington, with interment in Mother of God cemetery.

After a visit to Burlington by one of Hebron's prominent citizens asking for aid from the various relief agencies, he received a load of coal that night, accompanied by a bill marked paid. We hardly think he needed it.

500 YEARS

Every year brings to our pages memorable dates and noteworthy events marked as history. We must meet and deal with them to our satisfaction. There is one anniversary to be observed during the entire year of 1940 so replete with importance in every day lives, so packed with significance, so teeming with power, that a year is needed to give it attention and an editor should be gifted with guided speech to do justice to its name. We commemorate the 500th anniversary of printing in 1940. There will be recognition of it in schools, churches, libraries, clubs and papers.

In 1440 John Gutenberg invented printing from movable type, and in doing so gave to civilization the force of knowledge and power of progress. This anniversary is observed not for only its original importance but for the consequences that followed the invention. To me the most important movable type was a discovery of great meaning. Little did its inventor realize to what extent he was developing mankind, replacing ignorance with learning and providing intelligence in the place of antiquated beliefs.

History is the important by-product of printing, also a taste in government and the influencing of all humanity through imagination. Printing is the important agency in your life and in mine. There will be observance because printing touches every walk of life. Let us honor its name and not defile it through misuse.

THE WONDER BEAN

A tribute to the eighth-ranking crop of the U. S. for its gratifying results. Scarcely any conversation of a rural nature but that does not touch on the soy bean. It is worthy of salutation and the recently published facts of its earnings for our growers gives it a well-earned orchid. The soy bean is more in demand than ever due to the closing of the Manchurian market. We are shipping the bean in large quantities to many foreign countries now. The figures put the export at 150 million bushels and that is a lot of beans! The price has advanced ten cents over the 1939 prices and this gives the growers ten million dollars which is a lot of dollars! The soy bean is a dream plant and is justly termed a "miracle bean." It not only feeds live stock and poultry but goes to make flour, plastics, rubber, paints and so on.

It is found desirable as food and the total count of its varied uses reaches 260 with more being added from time to time. The subject of the soy bean is important to many readers in Boone County and it is indeed a topic of far reaching circumstances and surprises. We know what they mean when they say "use the old beans."

A SORE SUBJECT

We have written at various times of the unfavorable comments passed to the editor from motorists hereabout who complain of the many unattractive billboards that have flooded the countryside. We have stressed the more effective way of advertising, through the columns of our weekly newspaper. Now we relate this incident as a mild warning to billboard adherents.

During the past Christmas season club women of Maine used concerted action to defeat a billboard movement that was increasing in the state. Citrus carried on a campaign through their club women and urged the powerful agent of buying, the housewife, to refuse to support the billboards by not purchasing the products advertised thereon. Ladies usually get results!

THE SUBDUED

Those sections of Poland annexed by Germany that include large farms, are now being run by Nazis. The treatment of local Poles and Jews is left to the managers of the districts. Various sections call for various demands. One area enforces all Jews to carry yellow patches on their backs, another they must not use sidewalks, while a third orders them to give up seats on street cars to all German officers. But that has led to difficulties for these officers do not want to ride the cars and have placed women rise and give their place to the military. It is humiliating they say, which comes as a slight surprise to most people.

BANKS AND NEWSPAPERS

Newspapers and banks have at least one thing in common, in the opinion of the Ouchita Citizens of West Monroe, Louisiana. Both of them get plenty of criticism. "The most difficult task that we can think of at the moment is to run a bank or a newspaper to please everyone," says the Citizen. "If the banker is conservative he is charged with not being helpful to the community. If he lends the depositors' money too freely he borrows when the borrower can't repay and the bank closes. The newspaper man who prints all the news regardless of who makes it is criticized and called sensational. If he leaves it out he is charged with being afraid to print the news. The best place for the banker or the newspaperman to follow is to run his business the way he thinks it should be run and let the critics criticize."

It would be an interesting experiment if "self-starting" critics were given charge of the nation's banks and newspapers for a period. It's a safe bet that they'd rapidly learn a sad lesson—and an equally safe bet that the public which depends on banks to safeguard its money and newspapers to give it the news of the world, would take a terrific beating. Amateur banking and amateur journalism would be a far cry from the real professional articles.

Banking has given the American people and American business unparalleled service—it furnished the financial lifeblood that built this nation in world record time. The American newspaper gives the people better, more complete and more accurate coverage of what is happening a mile away or ten thousand miles away than the press of any other country. The bankers and the editors will go on doing these vital jobs while "the critics criticize."

BRAINS NEEDED

Those were the days when the truant officer was hale and hearty husky and fleet of foot! Today when education is much in demand truant officers must be well educated with a college diploma in order to deal with the situation. The idea is for the wayward child to be returned to school, but training is needed to study the situation from the psychological angle. It is necessary to find whether the child, home or school is at fault and to correct the mistake or misunderstanding. So civic fathers of New York state are demanding a college education for the truant officer and let us demand that care or a Ph.D. will get them. If they don't watch out!

FIRE COMES HOME TO YOU

By this time, most of your New Year's resolutions have probably been broken. It's time to make a new and perhaps more sensible set. And here's one that none of us should miss: "I resolve to do my part to help prevent fire during this and every other year." If every American would make and keep that resolution, some half billion dollars worth of property would be saved from destruction. Indirect fire loss estimated at several times that figure would be prevented. Infinitely more important, about ten thousand people would be saved from the most ghastly of deaths. And the loss of jobs and opportunities which fire destroys when it strikes at businesses, would be prevented. Fire isn't somebody else's business. It's your business. You and other people like you, whether you know it or not, are responsible for fire. You benefit every time a fire is prevented. Human ignorance, human carelessness, human failures—these are the things that keep our annual fire loss at an incalculable level. Probably not one fire in ten can honestly be classed as unavoidable. Practically all fires, great and small, can be traced to the human element.

As 1939 came to a close, fire loss in this country was twenty per cent up, by comparison with the same months in other recent years. That means that more of us have been taking chances, and refusing to put into effect the simple precautions that will prevent most fires. And that means also that it's time to take action. Don't forget that the prevention of fire may save your home from ruin—as well as your life.

CONSTANCE

Quiet a large crowd of people walked across the Ohio River Sunday and Henry Gay crossed it and back in an automobile. Another man from Ohio broke through the ice in his car but a wrecker towed the car to land. There was an airplane taking pictures of the people on the ice. Three motorcycles crossed the river.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hermann and children of Erlanger, were viewing the ice-choked Ohio river here last Sunday, and Mr. Hermann and little son Mike walked out to the middle of the river. Enroute home he stopped to see Miss Gertrude Lane.

Several Constance children are suffering with rumps.

HOLDING LIFE SACRED

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 1:27-31; 1 Corinthians 6:19, 20; II Corinthians 6:16-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body. —I Corinthians 6:20.

Moral action and right living can only be assured on the basis of right thinking. If our principles are right, our action will be sure and our life will be saved. Fundamental in our consideration of temperate living is a right understanding of life itself. Where did we come from? Whom do we resemble? What are the ruling forces in life? To whom do we belong? If he gets these matters straight, any honest man will come out right in his life decisions.

I. Man Was Created in the Image of God (Gen. 1:27-31).
"God created man"—so says Scripture, and all the forces of infidelity and unbelief have not been able to break down that simple statement. The creation story of Genesis stands and will stand. Let no critic of the Word, no supporter of human philosophies, however plausible, take that assurance from you.

The important point for our lesson is the fact that God created man in His own image. You must understand, made him an intelligent, moral and spiritual being. It takes a very glib person indeed to believe the theory (which, by the way, has never been proved) that man has evolved from some elementary substance by way of the animal into his present high estate. Man came from the hand of God ready to take dominion over the earth (Gen. 1:26-28), able to name all the animals (Gen. 2:19, 20), and above all, capable of fellowship with God. Little wonder that God declared His creation, with man as its crown to be "very good" (1:31).

Remember that you are God's creation and that you bear His likeness and you will have a high regard for your life. You must guard it, develop it, and above all you will commit it in glad surrender to God through Jesus Christ.

II. The Believer Is Indwelt by the Holy Spirit (I Cor. 6:19, 20).
Redemption at the great price of Jesus' blood not only makes the believer belong to God (v. 20), but also makes his body the temple of the Holy Spirit. When the child of God grasps that truth, his attitude toward his body and toward his life, which it bears is revolutionized. Since the third person of the blessed Trinity dwells in me, I will not abuse, neglect, or misuse my body. I will not take it to places where the indwelling Spirit would not go. I will not use it or any of its members to do anything which does not honor God. On the other hand, I will yield it without reservation and with-out reservation to the Holy Spirit and count on Him to empower and use it for God's glory.

The writer wishes to bear testimony that when this truth laid hold of his mind years ago he was converted, it changed his whole life. It can do the same for every Christian who reads these lines. And what about the unbeliever? He can accept Christ right now and at once the Holy Spirit will indwell him too. Why not?

III. The Believer Should Live a Separated Life (II Cor. 6:16-17).
We have fallen upon evil days when it seems to be assumed by Christian people that only certain individuals in the Church are called to a life of separation from worldliness. Men seem to say, "The preacher? Of course! The deacon? Oh, yes! The elders? Yes! The trustees? Well, not necessarily. Church members? Well, some do and some don't." It is felt that it is just a matter of choice or of disposition, and that the failure to live such a separated life is really no reflection on one's spirituality.

That erroneous view must have come directly from the devil himself. Christian man or woman, will you listen to Satan or to God's Word? Read again II Corinthians 6:16, 17. Note the blessed promise in verse 18, and then heed the admonition in 7:1. "Dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God." As Christians, our response to such an admonition should be immediate and complete.

The command and the invitation are to you, Christian friend. If you will respond, there will be a revival in your own heart, and if all those who read these lines will respond to God's invitation and admonition, there will be a revival in thousands of churches all over America this week. Why not?

Friends
You cannot keep your friends unless you learn to keep your temper. And if you wish others to enjoy your company you must see that you are a cheerful companion.

So often the last with the girlish figure doubles it during the years.
We have a good reason for being foolish year after year. It is only history repeating itself.

Posture From The Ground Up

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—9th and Madison
Covington

The shape of the body is maintained by a frame work of bones fastened together at the joints by ligaments. Muscles attached to the bones by tendons helps to hold the bones in place and move the movable ones. The strong flexible column of bones known as the spine or backbone is the great supporting center of the body.

From the ground up, body balance depends upon the even distribution of weight about an imaginary center axis. Whenever you move, many different sets of muscles, bones, and joints function as levers in adjusting the weight masses of the body so that you can keep your balance. While standing or sitting, movement may be so slight that it is barely noticeable. In playing strenuous games, such as tennis or football, thousands of adjustments must be made at high speed.

The feet play a very—very—important part in body balance, as they support the entire weight of the body both in standing and in moving and hold it upright against the downward pull of gravity.

Feet—distorted in shoes and weak shanked shoes, that do not hold the bones in posture—make it impossible to maintain body balance. Unbalance can cause many ills and distress in remote parts of the body. Backaches, headaches and even nervousness or poor digestion may be caused by the shoes you are wearing.—Adv.

UNIVERSITY NURSERY SCHOOL TRAINS TOTS TO BE SELF-RELIANT

Children learn to be self-reliant when they are permitted to learn by the trial-and-error method, according to Mrs. Mary Mumford Van Cleave, in charge of the nursery school of the University of Kentucky home economics department. An acceptable rule is to let children work out their own problems if, with an average amount of effort, they can be successful.

Too often, says Mrs. Van Cleave, questions such as "What can I play with now?" and "How can I keep this bridge from falling down?" are answered unthinkingly. Adults usually err on the side of giving too much help. Of course however, it is better to give some help than to let the children sense their failures too often.

A two-year-old bumps into the fence with her doll carriage, pushes, backs up and pushes again but still cannot make progress. Then suddenly she walks around to the front to find out what the trouble is. With a quick jerk probably, she will lift the doll buggy away from the fence and start pushing again, with a gleam in her eyes. Without crying and without waiting for help, she has overcome a difficulty. By such experiences repeated many times, self-reliance will be learned.

On the other hand, children may lack the judgment and the experience to make satisfactory decisions in some cases. If the results of a wrong decision would be too serious, then perhaps the children should not be given the final word.

In a rapidly-changing world, the ability to be self-reliant is one of the few things children can count on positively always to be of help.

Housewives may get most of their sugar from Cuba or Florida, but some of them get it from their neighbors.

WOODFORD TOBACCO TOPS 4-H EXHIBIT

Woodford county won major prizes at the Annual General District 4-H and Utopia Club tobacco show at Lexington. It placed first in county exhibits and Thomas Prather and Miss Perle Maybrier, both of Woodford, had the champion and reserve champion crop, respectively. The trip to Chicago, the top award of the show, went to Miss Maybrier, since Thomas Prather had won a previous trip and was ineligible to receive another.

Club boys and girls in 16 counties sent 73,978 pounds of tobacco to the show. The average price of a lot of tobacco exhibited was $20.97 with Prather's champion crop bringing $26.89 and Miss Maybrier's crop $26.33.

In county exhibits, Woodford was first; Johnson, second; Wayne third, and Magoffin, fourth. Thomas Prather placed first on record books, Miss Maybrier, second, Dorothy Willoughby and Bobbie Murphy, both of Montgomery county, third and fourth respectively; Jack Patton and Edgar Howard, Magoffin county, fifth and sixth, respectively, and J. S. Townsend, Clay county, seventh.

Showing Utopia club crops, Charles McKenzie, Junior LaMaster and Lloyd Estep, all of Johnson county, were first, second and third respectively, and Monroe Morgan, Clay county, fourth.

BUY CHICKS FROM GOOD HATCHERIES

The time is near when thousands of chicks will be purchased by farmers and poultryraisers. Poultry men at the Kentucky College of Agriculture suggest buying chicks from near-by hatcheries. By patronizing local hatcheries purchasers have a better opportunity to know about the chicks they are receiving.

The Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association has just published lists of Kentucky-U. S. approved and certified hatcheries and Kentucky U. S. record of performance breeders. More than 50 hatcheries are listed that comply with the rigid regulations of the National Poultry Improvement Plan and the Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association. Also listed are Kentucky certified turkey breeders.

KENTUCKY 4-H CLUB NEWS

The insect program is more easily made a hobby than the bird program was, Scott county boys and girls have found. Most bird study had to come with reading. A prize is being offered for the club member making the largest collection of insects, properly mounted.

In Chandler's Chapel community, Logan county club members are growing two-acre corn demonstrations every year. In 1940 half the field will be in hybrid, half in other varieties. Every year various kinds of seed are tested in this way.

The Utopia Club for old boys and girls is sponsoring the 4-H clubs in Calloway county. Seed for hybrid corn demonstrations will be furnished, assistance given on special mounting of insects for collections, etc.

Jane Elizabeth Moreland won the Pendleton county 4-H tobacco exhibit, in competition with 22 crops judges said were among the best they'd ever judged. The district show also was participated in. Competition has been strong in Pendleton county from the start.

1939's Bell County corn champion was Thomas Smith, an 18-year-old club member who grew 94 bushels of Johnson County White seed corn per acre. In spite of drought and flood, Thomas "beat the county," including many adult farmers.

Jefferson county club members are feeding two breeds of baby beavers for the fate stock show to be held in Louisville in November. Registered Holstein heifers bought by a member of the Sandy Valley high school club will be shown in fairs this year.

GOOD SCOUTS

HOMEMAKERS URGED TO GROW FLOWERS

Sweet peas are best planted in a rich, well-drained soil located where they will receive plenty of sunshine, writes Prof. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Dig a trench about 6 inches deep, then loosen the soil to a depth of 3 or 4 inches in the bottom of the trench. Sow the pea seed in a row in this loosened soil, spacing the seeds to a quarter to a half-inch apart. Cover the seeds with about inches of soil. Do not pack the soil as it will become hard. As the plants grow, gradually add soil around them until the 6-inch trench is filled. The filling should be completed by late spring or early summer. This places the root in the soil at sufficient depth to enable them to withstand summer drought.

Prof. Elliott provides a monthly lesson for members of homemakers' clubs interested in landscaping or the beautification of home grounds, or church, school, cemetery or other public grounds.

The January lesson was on the subject of flowers. Flowers are so easily grown, he declares, that every homemaker should have several kinds. Flowers may be used in many ways in adding to the attractiveness and livability of the home.

Those persons who are just beginning to grow flowers are advised by Prof. Elliott to try kinds that are comparatively easy to grow.

NAVY IS STIMULANT TO INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Our American Navy has always been much more than an arm of wartime defense. All the money that has ever been spent on the Navy has been returned to the community several times over in direct stimulus to industrial development. We may be very sure that in the future, as in the past, the Navy's services to industry and the arts of peace and science will continue completely to justify its highest efficiency.

Only two major powers maintain their maintenance in the highest efficiency naval ships with Volunteers—Great Britain and the United States. The others use conscription. Enlistments in the British Navy are for twelve years, twice the new six year enlistment in our Navy.

After the President of the United States has made a trip on a Navy ship, his official flag is forwarded to the Navy Department, with a record of the cruise, for historical purposes.

The old definition of a man-o-war's-man was: "Begotten in the galley and born under a gun. Every hair a rope yarn, every tooth a marine spike, every finger a fish hook and in his blood right good Stockholm tar."

America is the place where we have concentration in colleges in place of camps and where our children put on baseball masks instead of gas masks.

WHAS CHANGES TIME OF MARKET BROADCAST

In line with its policy of constantly striving to better serve its listeners, WHAS The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times station, will, on February 5, broadcast the livestock market reports from the Bourbon Stockyards at 12 to 12:05 p. m., instead of from 1 to 1:05 p. m., as is now the case. A survey was conducted by WHAS in a great many counties in the Kentuckiana area, and findings disclosed that the earlier broadcast period would be more convenient for the farm families and other interest in the reports.

UNIVERSITY NURSERY SCHOOL TRAINS TOTS TO BE SELF-RELIANT

Children learn to be self-reliant when they are permitted to learn by the trial-and-error method, according to Mrs. Mary Mumford Van Cleave, in charge of the nursery school of the University of Kentucky home economics department. An acceptable rule is to let children work out their own problems if, with an average amount of effort, they can be successful.

Too often, says Mrs. Van Cleave, questions such as "What can I play with now?" and "How can I keep this bridge from falling down?" are answered unthinkingly. Adults usually err on the side of giving too much help. Of course, however, it is better to give some help than to let the children sense their failures too often.

A two-year-old bumps into the fence with her doll carriage, pushes, backs up and pushes

again but still cannot make progress. Then suddenly she walks around to the front to find out what the trouble is. With a quick jerk probably, she will lift the doll buggy away from the fence and start pushing again, with a gleam in her eyes. Without crying and without waiting for help, she has overcome a difficulty. By such experiences repeated many times, self-reliance will be learned.

On the other hand, children may lack the judgment and the experience to make satisfactory decisions in some cases. If the results of a wrong decision would be too serious, then perhaps the children should not be given the final word. In a rapidly-changing world, the ability to be self-reliant is one of the few things children can count on positively always to be of help.

Housewives may get most of their sugar from Cuba or Florida, but some of them get it from their neighbors.

WOODFORD TOBACCO TOPS 4-H EXHIBIT

Woodford county won major prizes at the annual General District 4-H and Utopia Club tobacco show at Lexington. It placed first in county exhibits and Thomas Prather and Miss Perle Maybrier, both of Woodford, had the champion reserve champion crop, respectively. The trip to Chicago, the top award of the show, went to Miss Maybrier, since Thomas Prather had won a previous trip and was ineligible to receive another.

Club boys and girls in 16 counties sent 73,978 pounds of tobacco to the show. The average price of all tobacco exhibited was $20.97 with Prather's champion crop bringing $28.89, and Miss Maybrier's crop $28.89.

In county exhibits, Woodford was first; Johnson, second; Wayne third, and Magoffin, fourth. Thomas Prather placed first on record books, Miss Maybrier, second; Dorothy Willoughby and Bobbie Murphy, both of Montgomery county, third and fourth respectively; Jack Patton and Edgar Howard, Magoffin county, fifth and sixth, respectively, and J. S. Townsend, Clay county, seventh.

Showing Utopia club crops, Charles McKenzie, Junior LaMaster and Lloyd Estep, all of Johnson county, were first, second and third respectively, and Monroe Morgan, Clay county, fourth.

BUY CHICKS FROM GOOD HATCHERIES

The time is near when thousands of chicks will be purchased by farmers and poultryraisers. Poultry men at the Kentucky College of Agriculture suggest buying chicks from near-by hatcheries. By patronizing local hatcheries purchasers have a better opportunity to know about the chicks they are receiving.

The Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association has just published lists of Kentucky-U. S. approved and certified hatcheries and Kentucky U. S. record of performance breeders. More than 50 hatcheries are listed that comply with the rigid regulations of the National Poultry Improvement Plan and the Kentucky Poultry Improvement Association. Also listed are Kentucky certified turkey breeders.

KENTUCKY 4-H CLUB NEWS

The insect program is more easily made a hobby than the bird program was, Scott county boys and girls have found. Most bird study had to come from reading. A prize is being offered by the club member making the largest collection of insects, properly mounted.

In Chandler's Chapel community, Logan county club members are growing two-acre corn demonstrations every year. In 1945 half the field will be in hybrid, half in other varieties. Every year various kinds of seed are tested in this way.

The Utopia Club for old boys and girls is sponsoring the 4-H clubs in Calloway county. Seed for hybrid corn demonstrations will be furnished, assistance given on special mounting of insects for collections, etc.

Jane Elizabeth Moreland won the Pendleton county 4-H tobacco exhibit, in competition with 22 crops judges said were among the best they'd ever judged. The district show also was participated in. Competition has been strong in Pendleton county from the start.

1939's Bell County corn champion was Thomas Smith, an 18-year-old club member who grew 94 bushels of Johnson County White seed corn per acre. In spite of drought and flood, Thomas "beat the county," including many adult farmers.

Jefferson county club members are feeding two breeds of baby beavers for the fate stock show to be held in Louisville in November. Registered Holstein heifers bought by a member of the sandy Valley high school club will be shown in fairs this year.

What's the Answer?

THIS came direct from Mother Nature. The mother bird fed her young. When the little one has had enough it closes its bill tight and moves its head from side to side to prevent the mother from forcing more food into its mouth. It is saying, "No, I don't want it." The mother understands without words just as we understand that tightly closed lips and a shake of the head mean an emphatic "no."

HOMEMAKERS URGED TO GROW FLOWERS

Sweet peas are best planted in a rich, well-drained soil located where they will receive plenty of sunshine, writes Prof. N. R. Elliott of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Dig a trench about 6 inches deep, then loosen the soil to a depth of 3 or 4 inches in the bottom of the trench. Sow the pea seed in a row in this loosened soil, spacing the seeds to a quarter to a half-inch apart. Cover the seeds with about inches of soil. Do not pack the soil as it is wet at this time of year and will become hard. As the plants grow, gradually add soil around them until the 6-inch trench is filled. The filling should be completed by late spring or early summer. This places the root in the soil at sufficient depth to enable them to withstand summer drought.

Prof. Elliott, gives a monthly lesson for members of homemakers' clubs interested in landscaping or the beautification of home grounds, or church, school, cemetery or other public grounds. The January lesson was on the subject of flowers. Flowers are so easily grown, he declares, that every homemaker should have several kinds. Flowers may be used in many ways in addition to the attractiveness and livability of the home.

Those persons who are just beginning to grow flowers are advised by Prof. Elliott to try kinds that are comparatively easy to grow. The January lesson was on the subject of flowers. Flowers are so easily grown, he declares, that every homemaker should have several kinds. Flowers may be used in many ways in addition to the attractiveness and livability of the home.

NAVY IS STIMULANT TO INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Our American Navy has always been much more than an arm of wartime defense. All the money that has ever been spent on the Navy has been returned to the community several times over in direct stimulus to industrial development. We may be very sure that in the future, as in the past, the Navy's services to industry and the arts of peace and science will continue completely to justify its highest efficiency.

Only two major powers man their maintenance in the highest efficiency. The others use conscription. Enlistments in the British Navy are for twelve years, twice the new six year enlistment in the Navy.

After the President of the United States has made a trip on a Navy ship, his official flag is forwarded to the Navy Department, with a record of the cruise, for historical purposes.

The old definition of a man-o-war was: "Begotten in the galley and born under a gun. Every hair a rope yare, every tooth a marine spike, every finger a fish hook and in his blood right good Stockholm tar."

America is the place where we have concentration in colleges in place of camps and where our children put on baseball masks instead of gas masks.

Often in scrapping naval ships that have been many years in service in all parts of the world, the surface of plates and fittings have been found to be in almost perfect condition. This shows how effectively steel and iron can be protected when the right kind of painting is done.

WHAS CHANGES TIME OF MARKET BROADCAST

In line with its policy of constantly striving to better serve its listeners, WHAS, The Courier-Journal and The Louisville Times station, will, on February 5, broadcast the livestock market reports from the Bourbon Stockyards at 12 to 12:05 p. m., instead of from 1 to 1:05 p. m., as is now the case.

A survey was conducted by WHAS in a great many counties in the Kentuckiana area, and findings disclosed that the earlier broadcast period would be more convenient for the farm families and other interest in the reports.

STANDARD DEALERS OFFER NEW GASOLINE

Crown Extra Gasoline Replaces Crown Ethyl

Effective today, Standard Oil stations and dealers throughout the territory are offering their customers "Crown Extra" gasoline, the extra quality product which has replaced the old Crown Ethyl Gasoline.

"Crown Extra" is a descriptive name for this motor-fuel, because in addition to containing tetraethyl lead fluid, Crown Extra Gasoline has been specially made from a superior base stock—extra fine in all its specifications.

Made for those who want the best, Crown Extra is an extra quality gasoline, selling at the same price formerly charged for Crown Ethyl.

SOIL IMPROVEMENT REMEDY FOR DIET DISEASE OF STOCK

CHICAGO.—Restoration of depleted farm land by the use of chemical fertilizers containing nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash not only increases crop yields, but helps remedy deficiency disease among livestock caused by a lack of necessary mineral elements in their feed.

Animals reflect the composition of their feeds, observes W. A. Albrecht of the Missouri College of Agriculture, and these in turn reflect the composition or available nutrient supplies of the soils on which they are grown. He declared:

"Animals will persistently graze closely in one area of a pasture while scarcely touching grass in another spot. When confined to soils whose fertility has been depleted, their judgment cannot be exercised and they may become the victims of some deficiency disease."

One of the most frequent and costly diseases acquired by animals fed on land deficient in necessary minerals is "Pica." Cattle suffering from this disease have a tendency to chew bones and gray wood. Other symptoms are loss of weight, generally unthrifty condition, stiffness in hind quarters and at times in the front quarters, brittle bones that are easily broken, dull eyes and harshness of coat.

On farms where such a mineral deficiency exists in the soil, the use of a fertilizer containing phosphorus, lime and potash is recommended by the Middle West Soil Improvement Committee as a means of providing the necessary elements to restore the land and provide the plant foods so essential to the diet of livestock.

FARMERS USE MANY COLLEGE BULLETINS

Green county farmers last year obtained from the county agent's office a total of 6,554 circulars and bulletins published by the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Experiment Station. The agent, John H. Ewing, Jr., placed the publications in a rack where farmers readily could examine them and select the ones they wanted to take home. Most popular circular was The Pig From Birth to Market in Six Months. Others taken by a large number of farmers were: Brooding Chicks, Control of Tobacco Insects, Workstock, When and How to Cull, Housing Farm Poultry, Salads, Killing, Cutting and Curing Pork, Growing Alfalfa, and Producing White Burley.

CORN YIELDS IMPROVED

Charles Maggard, Halan county, Kentucky, doubled corn yields in three years by applying superphosphate and plowing under crimson clover. In 1936, he harvested 75 bushels of corn on six acres; last year he snuck 150 bushels from the same area. Calvin Holcomb improved corn yields by liming the land, and is planning to sow crimson clover for green manure. Other farmers are following the recommendations of County Agent Gray Williams, in an effort to improve corn yields.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

Following the cow-and-calf plan, W. L. Allison of Mason county, is establishing a purebred dairy herd. Henry county farmers have held several community meetings on the value of locust forests.

A. V. Barnett was one of the first Shelby county farmers to install artificial light in tobacco stripping rooms.

In Johnson county, farm records show that many poultry flocks averaged more than $2 profit per bird last year.

William O. Gilreath, McCreary county, grew 300 bushels of Irish potatoes per acre.

Forty miles of line for electric lights have been set up in Crittenden county.

With Burley tobacco relatively new in Ohio county, several stripping and grading demonstrations were held.

HOW TO ADVERTISE IN KENTUCKY

The general fund budget as submitted by Gov. Keen Johnson contained no increase for the division of publicity in the Conservation Department, which the bureau could hope to publicize more widely Kentucky's tourist attractions and parks or with which it could launch an immediate "build-up" for a statewide homecoming during the sequentennial of 1925.

As Governor Johnson had previously mentioned such things in speeches we do not believe that this was an oversight but hope that other satisfactory methods can be found for accomplishing these purposes without infringement upon the general fund budget.

It will be recalled that the General Assembly of 1938 created a Kentucky Sequentennial commission but set up no appropriation and the commission was appointed by Governor Chandler. Commission so appointed would, of course, serve without pay or expense and probably the only immediate cost would be the secretarial expense and the expense of stationery and stamps.

As for more widespread publicity we do not know of anything Kentucky needs worse, although we sincerely believe that anything spent for this purpose might be wasted unless it were coupled with a very definitely outlined program of promotion to make certain that facilities are available for those publicity may lure into the state. This refers not only to lodging, but to fishing or anything else that might be advertised. Kentucky does not wish to establish a reputation for fooling people into coming here, only to find hotels overcrowded and an absence of those things extolled in publicity.

As to where the amount of money necessary for such a program will come from, the Herald is decidedly of the opinion that it would be highly proper for the State Highway Department to use the money that it is now spending for maps and tourist information to better advantage by fitting its activities of this nature into a general pattern in cooperation with the Division of Publicity of the Department of Conservation.

Nearly every department in Frankfort now has a press agent whose services, at least for a month or two, might be placed to better advantage by cooperation in a state-wide activity in behalf of Kentucky rather than praising the activities of single departments and individuals, however noteworthy.

We do not believe there is any question that this program can be worked out and hope that is omission from the general budget merely means that Governor Johnson and his administration will develop a more effective method of meeting this problem.

HEBRON HOMEMAKERS

The Hebron Homemakers had 17 members present at their regular monthly meeting held at Junior Order Hall January 22 even though the weather was severe. Miss Gillespie told us about Farm and Home Week. The theme of program was "Women in World Today."

A motion was made to send Mrs. Mabel Anderson and Bertha Conrad to Farm and Home Week and pay half of the expenses.

Next month we are going to make hearth broom for our minor project.

Our leaders, Mrs. Dell Graves and Mrs. Anderson gave a fine lesson how to store the food, pans and dishes in our kitchen. Many steps can be saved by planning our kitchen into storage, preparing, serving and cleaning units.

Our next meeting will be held February 14 at the home of Mrs. Laura Newland.

WAKEFIELD URGES FARMERS AND SPORTSMEN TO FEED QUAIL

Snow has again blanketed the entire state and placed the wildlife at the mercy of the citizens of the Commonwealth. Following along in the wake of the snow has come zero weather. The snow and the cold are two things that wildlife cannot cope with for any length of time.

S. A. Wakefield, Assistant Director of the Division of Game and Fish, stated that the quail population in Kentucky would be greatly depleted if there was not a let-up in the bitter weather. He said that the snow and cold was general over the entire state and urged all farmers to put out feed, all sportsmen to do their part in helping save the wildlife, and especially the quail, and their efforts would be repaid by the knowledge that Kentucky is on its way to being one of the best quail states in the country.

Kentucky may expect more snow before the winter is gone and the wildlife will continue to need the aid of the citizens of this state until the fields and forests begin to bloom out again, denoting that spring has at last arrived.

SEVENTY-FOUR ARRESTS MADE BY CONSERVATION OFFICERS

The Conservation Officers of the Division of Game and Fish made 74 arrests during the month of December for violation of the Game and Fish laws and received 41 convictions. In addition to the arrests the officers, while working in the field, checked 3,714 hunting licenses and confiscated a large amount of contraband.

RULING ISSUED BY GUY T. HELVERING ON TAXES

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Guy T. Helvering has issued a ruling granting exemption from the Federal admissions tax to the committees in charge of Birthday Balls for the President, where held for the purpose of raising funds which will go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Incorporated, a charitable organization.

A similar exemption has been approved in the case of entertainments given for the purpose of raising funds for the Finnish Relief Fund, Incorporated, a charitable organization which has been formed to furnish relief to needy victims of the war in Finland.

However, under the express terms of the taxing statute, the exemption does not extend to wrestling matches, prize fights, or boxing, sparring, or other pugilistic matches or exhibitions, even though the entire proceeds go to such exempt organizations.

CONSTANCE HOMEMAKERS

The regular meeting of the Constance Homemakers was held Jan. 23rd at the home of Mrs. Grace Dolwick. There were thirteen members, two visitors and our home demonstration agent Miss Gillespie, present.

The morning was devoted to the business session and a music lesson. Miss Gillespie also explained Farm and Home week being held at Lexington from Jan. 30 to Feb. 2nd. We are sending our president, Mrs. Sprague to Lexington.

At the noon hour a delicious luncheon was served and enjoyed by all.

In the afternoon our leaders and Miss Gillespie gave a very interesting lesson on Kitchen Storage. Miss Gillespie showed many pictures of kitchens before and after better arrangements. This concluded our meeting. Next meeting will be held at Mrs. Elmer Peeno's February 7th. Roll call will be answered with "A Timely Health Hint."

MRA And City Government

By Mrs. F. F. Powell

"Only when citizens learn to care for the whole community as well as for themselves and their families will our municipalities be set free to solve their basic problems," says a statement signed by the mayors of 52 cities in America. "Factionalism, corruption and waste will disappear, selfish interest will give way to responsibility and readiness to work together for the common good. With such a spirit our cities will go forward with confidence to set the pattern of government for community and nation."

National government depends on the quality of the smaller units of government—the city councils of the nation. How does the spirit of Moral Re-Armament work in these testing grounds of the quality of our citizenship?

East Ham in the workers' section of London in a center of extreme labor agitation. It was in this district that the British labor movement was born and there in East Ham city hall that MRA was launched over a year ago.

Harmony in Council
In this city council one councillor had not spoken to the mayor for 20 years, tho they were in the same party. He was so violent and obstructive that police had to be called in to throw him out of council meetings, which were scenes of factional warfare; wasting time and taxpayers' money. The unemployed used to chain themselves to the gallery rails in protest against the council's actions.

Yet this council has become a pattern of sane government for the nation and news of it has gone thru the world. Over a third of the councillors now gather before the meetings to plan the application of Moral Re-Armament to city problems. The difficult councillor is so changed and co-operative that he is known as the "councillor with the changed face." The police costs, which had risen thru riots, now remain steady at a normal level. A recent budget session was over in the record time of two hours with an unanimous vote. A local newspaper commented: "For the first time in 20 years a resolution went thru the council without a division."

The influence of this council spread to the mayors and councils of 44 London boroughs who cabled the Citizens' Meeting for MRA in Madison Square Garden, New York City: "The spirit of Moral Re-Armament is the spirit of true citizenship and the basis of lasting peace."

Such results led 240 members of all parties of the British House of Commons to state in a message to the National Meeting for Moral Re-Armament in Constitution Hall of Washington: "Only if founded on moral and spiritual rearmament can democracy fulfill its promise to mankind and perform its part in creating a mutual understanding between nations and restoring peace to the world."

Three hundred and fifty mayors in Great Britain, including the Lord Mayors of London, Dublin and Belfast and the Lord Provosts of Edinburgh and Glasgow, have held meetings or issued statements on MRA and sent messages backing the American lead in Moral Re-Armament. In New York, Mayor LaGuardia reported: "A new determination has come to the life of this city as a result of Moral Re-Armament. We must make sure that our own house is in order first."

The results achieved in city councils inspired by unanimous resolution passed by the Canadian

Federation of Mayors which states in part: "Moral Re-Armament will bring honest claims for relief and a reduction in administration costs. It shows how to prevent disintegration of humane character thru unemployment as it provides the unemployed with a new incentive. The spirit of Moral Re-Armament in council will spread confidence and trust thruout the community. We all know how in our councils the selfish interests of a small minority or even of one individual can cause endless difficulty and delay. Our task as mayors must be to lift the level of all proceeding and all policy above personal ambition, prejudice and party interest."

New Pattern of Government
This statement in turn reached distant millions throughout the world with a new pattern of government. It was printed on the front page of the Vatican newspaper, Osservatore Romano. It was also the basis for a proclamation by the mayor of Rangoon, Burma, who was invited as a result by the mayor of Calcutta, India, to send an MRA contingent to help solve city problems.

In the words of a Dutch Socialist leader: "Moral Re-Armament has nothing to do with politics, yet it has everything to do with politics, because it means a revolution in all politics."

This city can lead the way in applying the spirit of Moral Re-Armament to her civic and industrial problems. She can export this spirit to a world market. She can become a pattern city, a peacemaker and a pacemaker for America.

FLORENCE

Lon Renaker, of Cynthia, Ky. is spending a few days in our burg the guest of relatives.

Mr. Hubert Walter, of LaGrange, called on friends here Tuesday.

Sorry to hear that Felix Markesbery is ill at his home on Park Ave. Mrs. Fred Prather and two sons, of Covington, enjoyed a few days' visit last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ambros Easton, of Price Pike.

The many friends of Griff Huffman regret to learn he is very ill. The large circle of friends of Mr. William Dugan are delighted to know he is recuperating nicely at his home, Lloyd Ave., following an illness of several weeks.

Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Huey, formerly of Boone county, who for many years have been living in Louisville, where Rev. Huey was prominent in state work of the Baptist Church, have purchased a home here. Rev. Huey has retired. He was the first pastor of Erlanger Baptist Church, which soon will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary.

The many friends here of Howard Snelling regret to learn he is quite ill with pneumonia at his home in Hebron. We wish for him a speedy recovery.

Miss Velenna Tanner enjoyed several days' visit last week with Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Aylor, of Elsmere.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan Keith of the Dixie Highway called on Mrs. Geo. Myers and Mrs. Sallie Thompson on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Aylor and daughter spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hensley and daughter, of Woodpe, and also called on Mrs. Aylor's brother Howard Snelling who is quite ill at his residence in Hebron.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burris and son Eugene, of Burlington, were guests Saturday afternoon of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Snyder. Mrs. Fannie Utz entertained the Ladies Aid of the Lutheran Church on Tuesday at her home.

Mrs. Minnie Bradford, Mrs. Carrie Easton and son Arlen were Friday guests of their mother, Mrs. Anna Clore.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watson entertained on Saturday for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kinman and Mr. Harm English, of Verona.

The many friends of Mrs. Minnie Wayman, who is at the home of her daughter Mrs. Chas. Garner, of Covington regret to learn that she remains ill, and wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Easton and Mrs. Fred Prather and sons visited Mr. and Mrs. Jess England and sons of Independence Saturday evening.

Mrs. Harry Dinn, of Devon visited her mother, Mrs. Anna Clore on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dringenberg were called to Constance Saturday on account of the death of John Klassner.

Mrs. Hazel Lucas who took suddenly ill on Saturday was rushed to Booth Hospital, Covington, where she underwent an operation for a rupture. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Goldie and family moved from Price's place on Gunpowder, to Howard Kelly's property on Burlington pike. We welcome them into our community.

This community was shocked to learn of the death of Mrs. Julia (Coyle) Shields, of near Big Bone. She was a sister of Mr. Geo. Coyle of Florence.

The many Boone County relatives and friends of Mr. Edgar Riley regret to learn upon his return from a trip to North Carolina and Georgia, he is suffering from an illness caused by an infection. He was removed to the hospital for a week's treatment and observation, and it will probably be some time before he can resume his duties at Midway Orphan school.

Mrs. Nelson Markesbery and family were called to Erlanger last week on account of the death of her father, L. M. Howard.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to extend thanks and gratitude to all who so willingly helped in anyway to lighten the burden in the death of my husband, William Lorch.

Especially am I grateful to Rev. J. Russell Cross, Rev. O. M. Huey, Miss Jane Bristow and Mrs. Lillard Scott, who rendered such a beautiful song; Chambers & Grubbs who conducted the services in such an efficient manner and all those who sent flowers.

Ruth Alice Lorch.

RABBIT HASH

The river is still frozen over here. Several have been walking over to Rising Sun.

Those on the sick list are improving somewhat.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Acra returned to their home last week, after several weeks' visit with Thad Ryle and family. Miss Gladys Isaacs was there the past week assisting in her work.

Mrs. Frances Craig was called to the bedside of her uncle, James Pope at Waterloo last week, who was very ill.

Mr. Bob Wilson fell on ice last week and suffered severe injuries. Dr. Love was called to see him. He is improving at this writing.

Little Ronald Farrell Stephens and Darryl Wilson, Deane Woods, Sam Wilson, Harry Acra have all been on the sick list.

Mrs. Sallie Bodie, Mrs. Edith Cunningham called on Mrs. Matt Hodges Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Melbie Wingate and husband, Clayton Ryle and wife, Paul Acra and wife, and Jewel Scott were called to the bedside of Orville Scott, who is seriously ill in Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, Ohio. Hoppie Ryle, Solon Earl Ryle and Howard Ryle, and Hansell Williamson are reported to be doing nicely. Howard Ryle returned to his home late Saturday night.

Dorothy Delph spent Friday night and Saturday with Willma Luedle Hodges, of East Bend. Mrs. Mayne Dolph was Saturday guest of her mother, Mrs. Lou VanNess and her brother Joe VanNess.

ANNOUNCE KENTUCKY BURLY ALLOTMENT

The 1940 burley tobacco allotment for Kentucky this year has been fixed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration at 240,580 acres, it is announced by O. M. Farrington, state executive officer. This acreage, plus probably 15,000 acres for small grower adjustment, will represent a decrease of about 10 percent from the 1939 allotment.

The total allotment for burley for all states is put at $39,466 acres, plus about 25,000 acres to take care of increases for small farms, making a total of about 365,000 acres, compared to 405,000 acres last year.

Increased burley stocks resulting from recent large crops were responsible for the downward adjustment in the 1940 allotments, Agricultural Adjustment Administration officials explained. The 1939 crop of 361,000,000 compares with a 1938 production of 339,000,000 compares with a 1937 production of 330,000,000 and by 10-year average production of 315,000,000 pounds. The total supply of burley on October 1, 1939, amounted to 1,046,000 pounds compared with a 1,000,000-pound supply a year earlier and 974,000,000 pounds available on October 1, 1937.

The computations of individual farm burley acreage allotments was to be completed in the State Agricultural Adjustment Office and sent to the county offices by January 27. Most farmers will have their official allotment notices early in February.

TO THE VOTERS OF KENTUCKY

Please allow me to note a few of the most serious objections to the so-called Model Soil Conservation Districts Bill pending in the House of the Kentucky Legislature.

(1) It provides for state boards and district boards, each having unlimited power to employ expert and non-expert help.

(2) These boards would be independent of and supplant the present agencies, some of whom have done effective soil conservation work for a period of twenty-five years. This will set up new and expensive machinery when we already have organizations to carry on this work.

(3) The elections provided for are not free or equal because the whole machinery is placed in the hands of the proponents of districts and no provision is made for those in opposition to have representation at the elections or at the canvassing of the returns.

(4) Under the bill those on the payrolls and who expect to be on the payrolls are allowed to give their time and required to make propaganda and help to carry elections for the establishment of districts.

(5) Those in control of federal money and labor would be left free to use and expend same and to grant favors to influential persons in an effort to carry elections for establishment of districts and a voting of regulations very much after the fashion employed by them in their efforts to pass the bill in the General Assembly.

(6) Under the provisions of the bill, a man in a district would surrender his right to control his farm and the running of his business would be regulated and controlled by a vote of those in the district. I know of no other business where the individuals engaged in it would consent to have their affairs controlled by a vote of everyone in their particular line of business. A big newspaper, or a mining industry, or a manufacturing plant, or in fact any other business would never consent to allow all engaged in a like business to control the individual business man should do with his own affairs. If they should, bankruptcy would be the inevitable result. Farming has come to be a very complicated business. If other business men would not and could not surrender the control of their individual businesses to regulation by all of the group within that business, why should farmers be asked or required to do so?

The argument that the control is in the hands of the members of a district is misleading and deceptive. While the control is placed in their hands is a limited way, the members of the organization and the employees and all of the registrants would exert pressure to influence the elections and would coerce the voter by threats to withhold benefits, so that under the machinery, the control would not in fact be in the hand of the landowners in a district.

(7) Under the bill the board would tell a landowner what to plant and where to plant it and prescribe in detail the methods of cultivation. It would tell him what lands to plant to trees and tall grasses, etc., in aid of flood control, and would tell him what sort of farm implement to use. In fact, it would tell him just what he could do and in detail the methods of cultivation. It would tell him what lands to plant to trees and tall grasses, etc., in aid of flood control, and would tell him what sort of farm implement to use. In fact, it would tell him just what he could do and in detail the methods of cultivation. It would tell him what lands to plant to trees and tall grasses, etc., in aid of flood control, and would tell him what sort of farm implement to use. In fact, it would tell him just what he could do and in detail the methods of cultivation.

(8) In addition they would tell him where to dig a ditch or make contours, erect dams and any other improvement that might be decreed by the will of the board. If he was financially unable or unwilling to make these improvements, the board would make them and he would be required to pay them, plus interest, plus attorneys' fees, and his land would be sold to defray the cost. Thus thousands of men who were financially unable to make the improvements would lose their homes and further swell the ranks of the unemployed and the reliefers.

(9) The proponents of this outrageous plan say in answer to this that the could petition them not to do it, but what would that amount to? I may add that by the time a farmer got through voting, attending court and presenting petitions he wouldn't have time or money remaining that would enable him to make a crop.

The foregoing are some of the more serious objections to this bill. The problem is a pressing one and has far-reaching consequences.

Those who do not want to surrender the control of their land should rally at once to make a last stand for the right to privately own and privately controlled property. Unless this bill can be defeated, the title to lands in this Commonwealth, in my judgment, will be virtually destroyed. In this bill will be found the greatest danger to the security of home ownership that has ever been presented to our people.

Back of it all, in my judgment, is a deep-laid plan of the brain trusters to burden farm property with the unnecessary expense of the upkeep of another horde of shiftless non-producers who, by their cunning, contrive to live off of the fruits of those who have toiled and accumulated a bit. Proponents of the measure argue that the government wants to give us something. If so, why should they provide that our lands be sold to pay the cost of these improvements? The government may spend a lot of money and do a lot of improving but I feel that in the future, as in the past, the benefits will not be equitably distributed to all alike, but that only a few favored persons will receive them, while the great majority will have to bear the expenses of the improvements or have their lands sold to pay for them.

Farmers in every community in the State should immediately contact their senators and representatives and petition the Governor and the Legislature to defeat this Bill.

Respectfully submitted,
HUBERT MEREDITH,
Frankfort, Ky.

Gayety Theater- News

Tonight & Friday—2 Big Features
"Flying Deuces" and "Everything on Ice."

Sat.—"Fast and Furious"
Sun. & Mon.—"Day at the Circus" Tuesday and Wednesday—"Hollywood Cavalcade."

Tonight and Friday night patrons of the Gayety Theatre will be treated to a double feature as an added attraction. The two pictures to be shown will be "The Flying Deuces" and "Everything's On Ice."

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy always provide genuine entertainment. The latest effort, "The Flying Deuces," a feature comedy proves no exception. In it the comedians are funnier than ever; in fact, the picture is probably one of the best of their comedies to date.

The story concerns a couple of American tourists in Paris. One is hopelessly in love with an innkeeper's daughter. His suit spurned, he and his companion turn to the French Foreign Legion for solace. In Morocco, they get into all kinds of trouble, eventually foiling a sentence of death by escaping in an endurance airplane.

A new screen luminary—and a very tiny one—is revealed in the person of six-year-old Irene Dare, who is the centre of the new spectacle-romance, "Everything's On Ice." This charming little sprite displays remarkable ability and versatility. Admittedly the finest ice skater of her age, Irene is seen at the head of a number of ice ballets that bring to the production a quality of unusual beauty.

Purely as a comedy, the picture is a delight. It tells the story of a kibitzing and irresponsible uncle, Roscoe Karns, who secures for his little niece a job as the ice-skating star of a Palm Beach night-club revue, and then appoints himself her financial manager. The picture reaches its climax in a gale of laughter.

One of the season's brightest pieces of entertainment is "Fast and Furious," which will be shown at the Gayety Saturday. Featuring Franchot Tone and Ann Southern, fresh from her success in "Maltese" as bibliophile-amateur detective Joel and Garda Sloane, the picture presents a novel comedy-mystery which completely engrosses the audience.

Laid against the pageantry of a seaside beauty parade, it tells of Joel and Garda Sloane getting mixed in a murder mystery when Joel's best friend is falsely held for the killing. Comedy and thrills are interspersed with gorgeous bathing beauties.

In the wildest, craziest and most uproarious comedy of their careers, the Marx Bros. return to the scene after a year's absence in "Marx Bros. at the Circus," showing at the Gayety Sunday and Monday.

This time the Marx Bros. invade the world of the Big Top for their riot of merriment and are assisted by the strangest aggregation ever assembled for a carnival of comedy. They include a gorilla, an Upside-Down-Girl, a midwife, the Strongest Man in the World, a trained seal, a symphony orchestra adrift on the ocean, a herd of elephants, African lions and beautiful ballets that sing and dance atop of horses.

Mack Sennett bathing beauties, Keystone Cops, custard-pie comedy and all the other happy memories of the movies have been staged anew and photographed in glorious Technicolor for Darryl F. Zanuck's magnificent production of "Hollywood Cavalcade," starting Alice Faye and Don Ameche, which will be shown at the Gayety next Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

At last the cinema capital gives us the greatest romance of all—its own—in the great entertainment treat to come to the screen in many a moon.

Great stars of today and great personalities of yesterday tell the heart-warming story of the men and women who conquered the entertainment world in this grand 20th Century-Fox film.

"Hollywood Cavalcade" is a positive "must see."

HAMILTON

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ryle were in Cincinnati Monday consulting a specialist in regard to Mr. Ryle's health.

Roy Pitcher still remains ill at the home of his brother in Covington.

Wm. Wilson hauled Vic Hamilton's and Huff brother's tobacco to Covington Friday, where it was sold for a good price.

Quite a few people viewed the river during the last few days. Several walked across the ice to the Indiana side.

Mrs. Edwards and children and Mrs. Betty Allen called on Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Rouse, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Huff and daughter, Wilford Hodges and Robert Webster called on the injured boys of Hamilton school and Orville Scott at Good Samaritan hospital Saturday. CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our most heartfelt thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their many deeds of kindness; Bro. De-molsey and Huey for their words of consolation and Tharp and Stith for the efficient manner in which they conducted the funeral of our dear beloved husband and father, Stanley Ryle. 11-ch.

Mrs. Lillian Ryle and Children

CARD OF THANKS

Through your paper, I want to publicly express my gratitude to the many friends and neighbors for the many expressions of sympathy I have received since being here. I thought I was going to answer them, but found it impossible.

Though my pain at times was severe, the good times with it were great, so I am very thankful it was no worse.

Your messages of good will have helped me bear with it all, and been a source of much comfort to me.

To the Baptist W. M. U. of Grant Ky., Petersburg Christian Missionary Society and to Young Ladies' class of Burlington Baptist church, I wish to thank one and all for their greetings which helped me to be brave, and I am thankful my injuries were not more severe.

Again let me say thank you, to each and everyone for their kindly remembrances.

Doctors and nurses have been wonderful in their ministrations and that means so much in the painful stage and other times as well.

FARMERS ORGANIZE TO SELL MOLASSES

Two cooperative marketing associations sold 6,200 gallons of sorghum molasses in Kentucky in 1939. They are the Kentucky Sorghum Growers' Association at Hawesville and the Kentucky Sorghum Producers' Association at Frenchburg. Organized after the season for making and selling molasses had started, they found a ready sale for their products, and could not supply the demand for molasses.

Nothing the possibilities in the production of sorghum molasses marketing specialists in the Department of Markets and Rural Finance at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and county agents helped cane growers with some of the more important problems in making and selling molasses. Among these problems was the manufacture of a molasses that would not turn to sugar. Sugaring long has been a major problem in sorghum molasses production.

Also, there was the problem of standardizing the quality, and grading and labelling the product, and the use of various sizes of containers to meet the needs of different sized families. Selling by the associations was done in quarts, half-gallons and gallons.

Reports received at the College of Agriculture indicate that the molasses sold by the two Kentucky associations last year was highly satisfactory to consumers. Plans for this year include enlarged acreages of cane, and the selling of molasses over a wide territory.

KENTUCKY USES BIG LIMESTONE TONNAGE

Figures gathered by the College of Agriculture at Lexington show that farmers in 118 Kentucky counties used 408,816 tons of limestone last year. Practically an equal tonnage was applied in 1938, when Kentucky ranked second among the states in the use of agricultural limestone. However Kentucky used more than twice as much lime per acre of crop land as was used in any other state. In the past 15 years Kentucky farmers have applied to their land a total of 4,885,052 tons of limestone; also 539,565 tons of marl and 75,785 tons of burned lime.

The 10 leading Kentucky counties in the use of limestone last year were Christian, 55,000 tons; Logan 35,000; Hardin, 31,273; Warren, 3,312; Caldwell, 29,212; Laurel, 21,000; Simpson, 18,843; Todd, 17,555; Fayette, 16,546; and Fleming, 14,780.

RYLE'S STORE IS ROBBED FRIDAY

LOOT AMOUNTED TO $10.00 IN CASH AND LARGE AMOUNT OF PAID BILLS. THIEVES TRACED TO INDIANA.

Thieves successfully entered the general store of Ryle Bros., Rabbitt Hash for the fourth time in recent years, on Friday night of last week, taking only a small amount of cash and possibly a few articles of merchandise.

Entrance was gained through a rear window. Apparently one of the thieves received a severe wound when the glass was broken, as a large amount of blood was found near the window and on the inside of the store near the cash register.

Deputy Sheriff J. T. Williams, was summoned and the blood stains were followed to the Ohio River, where the person or persons had walked across on the ice to the Indiana side. Mr. Williams reported the robbery to Indiana authorities for investigation.

Saturday, Indiana officials reported they were holding a suspect who had been arrested on a minor charge for question in connection with the store robbery. The man was said to have a fresh wound on his right hand.

According to Mrs. Ryle, the amount of cash taken was somewhere between $5 and $10, and a large amount of paid bills that apparently were mistaken for checks or cash. No merchandise was taken it was said, unless such small amounts of various articles that it could not be detected. No blood stains were found anywhere in the store except near and on the cash register.

Landscaping Class To Be Held February 16th

Homemakers having landscaping projects in the county will attend a training class next week. The meeting will be held in Burlington, February 16th at 1:00 p. m. (Central Standard Time).

N. R. Elliott, landscape architect, University of Kentucky, will discuss with the group things to be done for the lawn during the spring.

Eighteen homemakers in the county have had lawn demonstrations during the last three years, according to Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Mr. Elliott has planned three leader's training classes for this group during the year.

HAMILTON STILL GOING STRONG

WITH PATCHED-UP LINEUP—DEFEAT WALTON SATURDAY
—BURLINGTON SUFFERS DEFEAT
AT HANDS OF FLORENCE

The Hamilton Farmers marched off with another victory Saturday when they trounced the Walton Bearcats by a count of 39 to 34. The Hamilton team was weakened considerably, due to three of the regulars being out with injuries suffered when the car in which they were riding was struck by a train at Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Miller led the attack for the farmers with 23 points, while Ransler marked up 11 for the losers. Burlington suffered defeat Friday night when the Florence boys handed them the short end of a 39 to 29 count. Cody, Dringenberg and Shotwell each collected 10 for the winners, while Huey, Bethel and Porter each collected eight for Burlington.

Burlington reserves took the Florence reserves by a score of 18 to 16.

The New Haven team playing Silver Grove Friday night in a non-conference game were defeated by a score of 28 to 17.

In one of the closest games of the season the Hebron Cardinals defeated the Florence Knights by a score of 23 to 22. Florence led at the end of the first quarter by a score of 9 to 3; Hebron led at the half by a score of 15 to 11 and at the close of the third quarter the teams were tied 19 all. Aylor was high point man for Hebron with 11, while Dringenberg was high for Florence with eight.

The Hebron second team were victorious over the Florence second stringers by a score of 16 to 14.

Farmers' Mutual Insurance Co. Pays $1484.45 in Claims

The Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Boone County reported that they paid a total of $1484.45 in claims Monday to policy holders suffering loss from fire during recent months.

The losses paid were Ben P. Tanner, $850.00, Andy Cook $5.00, William Snelling $20.00; Ernest Mullins, $9.45 and Wm. Hill $800.00. Three other fires were reported Monday and are now being adjusted.

Frank Rouse, secretary of the company, highly praised the efforts of Boone County's rural fire departments, namely Florence, Hebron and Walton, and stated that their value was beyond estimation. "Since the beginning of the various Volunteer Fire Departments in Boone County, our fire losses have been on the decline," Mr. Rouse added.

Founders Day Program

There will be a Founders Day program and tea at the Florence school Monday night, February 12 at 8 p. m. (E. S. T.) GROWERS REPORT GOOD AVERAGES.

The Kenton Looseleaf Warehouse, Covington, will close its 1939-40 season tomorrow, Friday, it was reported this week. Average for the season has been good, according to officials.

One of the best sales reported in this county was that of L. D. McGlasson, of Constance, who sold his crop at the Kenton house last week. Mr. McGlasson had 2450 lbs. grown on one and two-tenths acres which averaged $23.54 per hundred. His high basket was $27.00 and the low $13.50.

W. R. Horton, of Union reported that he sold 2350 pounds on the Covington market last week for an average of $23.00.

T. H. Easton, of Florence sold his crop of 1372 pounds Tuesday last week on the Kenton Looseleaf floor for an average of $24.13.

Russell Finn, of the Woolper neighborhood sold his tobacco crop last Wednesday in Lexington. His crop totaled 2700 pounds and sold for an average of $23.72.

Reports from practically all growers in this section, indicate that they are well satisfied with the prices received for their crops since the opening of the tobacco market after the holidays.

Wills Probated

The following wills were offered for probate in the Boone Circuit Court, Monday, two being continued until a later date, and one being probated on Monday.

The will of Mrs. Nettie B. Corbin, Florence, was offered, and continued for a few days. The will stated that the estate was to be divided equally among her two children, Ruby May Bradford and Russell Corbin. It also named Russell Corbin as administrator of the estate.

William Lorch, of Florence, named his wife Ruth Alice Lorch as sole beneficiary to his estate. She was also named administratrix.

The will of Mrs. Anna Brasher, Grant, stated that her daughter Elizabeth was to receive her house and lot and the entire contents of house located in Grant, Ky. The remaining money in bank was to be divided equally among her four children, Elizabeth, James, Raymond and the Charles Brasher heirs. The will was offered, but will be continued for several days.

J. G. Fennell, of the Union neighborhood was a brief called at this office Thursday. While here Mr. Fennell renewed his subscription for another year.

Kate Holtzworth, of Walton was a brief caller at Burlington Thursday. While here she called at the Recorder office and renewed her subscription.

LARGE NUMBER ATTEND MEETING

OF BOONE COUNTY NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION HELD AT BURLINGTON SATURDAY.

The annual meeting of the Boone County National Farm Loan Association was held at the new school building, Burlington with the exception of Mr. E. B. Rogers, Assistant Secretary of the Federal Land Bank, being unable to attend due to illness, but W. V. Perry of the Federal Land Bank was present and made an address in the place of Mr. Rogers.

E. E. Aylor and Karl Rouse were elected directors for a three-year term. These two directors, together with E. A. Martin, John Grimes and Thomas Hensley, whose terms of office did not expire at this meeting constitute the Board of Directors for 1940.

The reports of the president, vice president and secretary-treasurer showed that the association was in a strong financial condition, with 160 Federal Land Bank loans in liquidation of $221,000.00, 121 Bank Commissioner loans of $255,500.00 and 3 purchase money mortgage loans of $15,140.37, or a grand total of 285 loans amounting to $888,860.37.

Only a very few loans were reported delinquent and no real estate in the hands of the association at this time.

At noon 118 members of the association and visitors were served a turkey dinner in the basement dining room of the school building by the Parent-Teacher Association. This dinner was unusual in that it was so well prepared and so efficiently served.

Immediately following adjournment of the meeting the directors elected and elected E. A. Martin, president; John H. Grimes, vice president; with E. A. Martin, John H. Grimes and B. E. Aylor constituting the Loan Committee for this year. A. B. Renaker was re-elected secretary.

A reporter was present from this paper, and after hearing the splendid addresses as well as the entertainment afforded by the officers of the Association, we wonder why any member of the association would miss these annual meetings.

The following drew the cash and merchandise: George P. Tilllett, $3.00 in cash; W. C. Carnahan, $2.00 in cash; J. B. Walton, $1.00 cash; Mrs. Roberta Rues, $1.00 cash; D. L. Roberts, $1.00 cash; D. H. Norris, sack of flour; Ewing Flick, basket of groceries; L. R. Vice, pound of coffee; Mrs. Nellie M. Markland, pound of coffee; George L. Reinhart, pound of coffee; Otto E. Southern, pound of coffee; Clyde B. Anderson, pound of coffee; Joel Gray, 5 gallons of Blue Sunoco; Mrs. Doris M. Southers, axe; W. O. Rector, Cyclone Seed Sower; Charles Abdon, gallon of paint; Richard Schwenke, $2.50 cash; and to the Boone County Recorder; C. C. Slet, 1 year subscription to The Walton Advertiser; B. E. Aylor, 1 year subscription to The Walton Advertiser; N. G. Herrington, 5 quarts motor oil; George P. Nicholson, 1 year subscription to The Boone County Recorder; A. G. McMullen, one-half ton of coal; Bert Loomis, gallon of country lard.

The name of L. Henry Thomas was drawn for the basket of groceries but as he had left the meeting another card was drawn with the prize going to Ewing Flick.

Local Farmers Attend Farm And Home Meeting

The annual Farm and Home Convention held at the College of Agriculture was attended by a number of Boone County farmers the past week, according to H. R. Fortner, County Agent.

Good programs on crops, livestock, and various other lines of agricultural improvement were rendered.

Local farmers attending on Wednesday and Thursday included Sterling Rouse, Wm. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Rudolph, John Crigler, Lloyd Sleekman, H. B. Drake and Courtney Kelly.

Twenty-Eight Attend District Utopia Meeting

Twenty-eight Boone County Utopia Club members attended the District Utopia Conference at Warsaw on last Saturday, February 3. Approximately 100 Utopians from throughout Kentucky attended the meeting.

Special speakers on the afternoon and evening program included Rev. H. T. Tinsley, of Warsaw, Carl Jones, Utopia Club Field Agent, G. J. Horlacher, Assistant Dean, College of Agriculture; George Harris, Dairy Specialist; Anita Burnam, 4-H Club Specialist, and Iris Davenport, Home Economics Specialist.

The members made plans for a bigger and better agricultural, home economic and recreational improvement program for 1940.

The next meeting of the club will be held Thursday, February 22nd.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ryle spent several days last week, visiting in Louisville.

THE FROZEN OHIO AT CONSTANCE

The above photo shows the Ohio River at Anderson's ferry, Constance, where over five thousand men, women and children walked from shore to shore. The auto shown in the picture also just completed its journey across the ice. Note the large number of persons waiting their turn to walk the frozen Ohio.

The automobile in this picture is the same car that broke through the ice a short time before this picture was taken. No damage was done to the car.

GOODENOUGH TO BE SPEAKER

Cancer To Be Topic At Meeting Of Hebron P. T. A.

Dr. Northcutt will speak on cancer to the parents and teachers of the Hebron school Tuesday evening, Feb. 13th, at 8:30 p. m. (fast time) in the school auditorium.

Cancer stands third among the six leading diseases causing death and is among the three showing marked increase in the number of deaths. In Boone County cancer caused more deaths last year than any other disease except heart diseases among the older age group.

Everyone is very welcome to come out and hear this discussion whether you are a member of the P. T. A. or not.

PLANS MADE BY 4-H MEMBERS

FOR 1940 ORGANIZATION—WILL BE BEST IN HISTORY, ACCORDING TO H. R. FORKNER, COUNTY AGENT.

Boone County 4-H club members are making plans for the best 4-H club year in history, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Community club organization will begin this coming week.

Community club organization meetings will be held in Burlington, Hebron, Petersburg, Grant, Florence, New Haven, Walton, Verona, Hamilton, Taylor, and other schools. Every boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 18 years inclusive is eligible for membership in 4-H club programs provided he carries an approved agricultural or home economics project record book. This past year 415 4-H club members completed projects valued at approximately $15,000.00. A number of members made profits in excess of $100.00 on their project work.

Four-H members are required to secure permission from their parents in enrolling for membership, in that club work is a cooperative partnership between the father and boy or the mother and her daughter. The program is advanced through community clubs or organized on a project group basis. Each club has adult community club leaders and adult project leaders to assist in group organization activities.

Approved 4-H farm projects open to members in 1940 include tobacco, corn, garden, truck crops, dairy calf, beef calf, pig, lamb and poultry. Home Economics projects offered members include clothing, canning, foods, and room improvement.

All boys and girls who are interested in 4-H club enrollment for 1940 should be present at their community club organization meeting or secure an enrollment card at the County Agent's or Home Demonstration Agent's office.

Democrats To Hold Fifth District Meet In Covington Feb. 21

The Fifth District convention of the Young Men's Democratic Clubs will be held February 21st in Covington. It was announced by Walter Ferguson, district president.

The convention date was changed from Feb. 13 at a meeting held in Newport last week, at which officers of clubs in the Fifth District attended.

Mr. Ferguson was selected chairman of a committee to obtain a speaker of national reputation. Judge William H. Crowder, Jr. of Mayfield, president of the organization will speak on the program.

The convention will be divided into three sessions—an afternoon meeting for officers of the clubs, a dinner meeting for officers and an evening session for all young Democrats in the district.

HEARING SET FOR LOUISVILLE MAN

CHARGED WITH DRIVING WHILE INTOXICATED AND RESISTING AN OFFICER—
TRIAL SET FOR MARCH 4.

William H. Walsh, 27, Louisville, who was arrested last Thursday by Nicholas Winterberg was released Monday after posting bond of $500.

The trial is set for March 4th. Walsh was arrested after he had driven through the intersection of Highways 42 and 25 at Florence without stopping. Patrolman Winterberg gave chase in a car driven by Ervin Rouse.

The officer overtook the Walsh car in Florence near the Boone-Kenton line. Two hithebricks riding with Walsh were permitted to continue towards Cincinnati.

Patrolman Winterberg asked Mr. Rouse to follow him to Burlington where Walsh would be arraigned before Judge Riddell. In leaving Florence Rouse turned on one street and Winterberg turned at the other, Rouse taking the lead, thinking that Winterberg was in front.

Near the George Rouse bridge, Walsh turned the switch key off and grabbed Winterberg's gun from the holster. After stopping the car Winterberg got out, with Walsh following, gun in hand. Just as Walsh stepped from the car Winterberg struck him, knocking the gun out of his hand and knocking him down. After thoroughly subduing the prisoner, Winterberg brought the prisoner before Judge N. E. Riddell, where he was charged with driving while intoxicated and resisting an officer.

In the skirmish Walsh suffered a broken nose and skinned face. Winterberg suffered two broken knuckles on his right hand.

Important Subject To Be Discussed By Rev. Smith At Bellevue

Rev. Raymond Smith, pastor of the Bellevue Baptist Church will discuss the sex life, "Perils and Dangers" in two sermons at the regular Sunday night services, Feb. 11th and 18th. The first will be, "The Young Man and the Strange Woman," and the second "The Young Man and the Moral Loner." These will be Scriptural messages with an evangelistic appeal rather than the ordinary discussion with medical terms. Both young and old ought to know what the Bible says about the horrors of the wrong use and abuse of the sex life. The public is cordially invited.

LOCAL LADY IS NAMED DIRECTOR

OF BLUEGRASS DISTRICT OF KENTUCKY FEDERATION OF HOMEMAKERS AT 28TH ANNUAL FARM-HOME MEETING.

Mrs. Sam B. Sleet was elected Director of the Bluegrass District of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers. The election was held last week during the twenty-eighth annual Farm and Home Convention. The Bluegrass District comprises fourteen counties in the central and northern parts of the State. Mrs. Sleet was president of the Boone County Homemakers during 1938 and 1939.

Eleven homemakers from the county attended the four-day conference for rural women at the University of Kentucky. The county representatives were present at the convention.

The Kentucky Federation of Homemakers held their annual meeting at the University of Kentucky. The county representatives were present at the convention.

Mrs. Frank L. McVey, wife of the president of the University, was honored at the Home-makers' luncheon on Friday, and Dr. Allen Stockdale, National Association of Manufacturers, spoke at the luncheon program on "Foundations of American Life."

The county delegation returned Friday night.

E. S. Rader, of Walton called at the Recorder office Wednesday and had his name placed on our subscription list. We are glad to welcome him as one of our new subscribers.

WORDS OF WISDOM

It is an opportune time to give intense thought to some of the famous words of the lean, gaunt figure who with majestic yet awkward stride left his mark on the pages of history. Times over he voiced wisdom from his crises of the moment with a wonderful insight into the crises of the future. One important sentence he uttered during a debate with the famous orator, Stephen Douglas, approach the issue of dictatorship with a sage foresight and lives as an omen of good government and rightful citizenship. Lincoln said: "No man is good enough to govern another man without that man's consent." We are amid a constant struggle where men try to decide whether these words are not true then the Hitler, Mussolini and Stalin are right. This maxim has come to us through the ages but Lincoln "belonged to the ages" and through him we more fully appreciate the respect and glory of government. This man had a compassion for all men regardless of creed or color. He had an insight and tenderness for friends and enemies and the capacity for looking beyond the moment. This thought of Lincoln is applicable in our day as it was in his. The solution of whether or not he was right hangs in the balance in each generation.

Another time Lincoln saw the problem of the Indian needed consideration, due to indignities heaped upon the red man. The president then said: "If we get through this war, and I live, this Indian system shall be reformed." Lincoln did not live to see the condition of the Indian has been greatly improved especially during these past seven years. We condemn the persecution of the Jews by Hitler and bitterly resent the Chinese, Finnish and Ethiopian affairs, but it is just another of the nations insisting upon remodeling another people in their own image. Lincoln wished to help the Indian. His problems became our puzzles. But fortunately for us his wisdom and foresight were passed down to us. His image and his struggle to replace compassion for revenge, as he dreamed his dream of peace, is only one of the reasons he remains a figure belonging to the ages.

HE'S A-COMING

Make preparations for the question man with the right answers, for it won't be long until the first of April when this inquisitive fellow, representing your Uncle Sam, drops around to make many inquiries regarding matters you may consider purely personal. Treat him kindly and help him get this matter of census-taking settled. The law asks you to reply fully and correctly. It is a duty we owe our country and each citizen must be subject to questioning. There will be an endless number of interrogations among them being the inevitable "do you own your own home, fuel used, how many rooms, baths, your age, whether single or married, number of children, amount of earnings" and so on. Let Boone countians be helpful so the census taking is thorough and efficient.

A HELPING HAND

A tough time is winter time for our birds. A snow-covered world it seems to them as they hunt about, hoping to find feed for themselves and their young. Many homes provide feeding stations for the birds during the winter months. To be humane is not a rarity among mankind but there are a few folks who have to be sold by appealing to their economic nature and to those we say to refrain that it is the birds that fight man's foe, the bugs! So if for no other reason than this, feed these feathered friends.

MY VALENTINE!

When we become pretty much fed up with the universal display of hate, along comes a day of celebration for sweetness and love. We come into February decorated with hearts and flowers to commemorate the event of St. Valentine. The remembrance of love with valentine and verse, fast and funny, from the varied assortment found on counters isn't hard to find a bit of sentiment to fit the personality of your true love. Mid lace and painted hearts, plump cupids and cooing doves, we find a poem or two that comes to the dear one a song of tenderness that we so easily feel, but find so hard to say!

MARINES OFFER CAREER

The U. S. Marine Corps is accepting young men for four year enlistment. It was announced today by Capt. Guy B. Beatty, Recruiting Officer at Cincinnati. Captain Beatty explained that applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 30, at least 5 feet 4 inches in height, single, of good character, be able to meet the high physical standards of the Marine Corps, and have at least and eighth grade education. To these young men the Marine Corps offers advantages in the nature of opportunity for additional education, assured income, advancement and to those especially interested in the Marine Corps as a career, provisions in old age. As to one's physical condition and health, the Marine Corps, in addition to a progressive program of physical instruction, maintain at its various stations, football, basketball, baseball track and field teams for those athletically inclined. The Marine Corps maintains at Washington, D. C., the "Marine Corps Institute," which provides free correspondence courses in Accounting, Agriculture, Architecture, Automobile, Aviation, Business Management, Chemistry and Pharmacy, Civil Structural, Mechanical and Electrical Engineering, Languages, Radio, Civil Service and various other courses. Wherever a Marine may be stationed whether in far off China, aboard a ship, or in the United States, the Institute will keep him supplied with instruction papers so that he may progress with his course in accordance with his ability.

While a Marine is taking advantage of these opportunities, he has an assured income over and above all normal living expenses and free medical attention, of $21 to $37.00 per month, according to the rank he holds. To those who decides to make the Marine Corps their career, there is offered on completion of 30 years service, the opportunity to retire with a monthly income of $34.00 per month for the balance of their lives. This income amounts to $1,608.00 per year, and is equal to 4 percent on a life savings of $40,200.00.

Complete information as to service in the U. S. Marine Corps may be obtained by writing to the Marine Corps Recruiting Office, Room 242, Post Office Building, Cincinnati, Ohio, or by applying in person at one of the following stations:

Immediate enlistment are promised for those who qualify.

652 FREIGHT CARS

REQUIRED TO HAUL SUPPLIES TO NEEDY

Surplus commodities distributed to needy families in Kentucky by the Work Projects Administration during 1939 required 652 freight cars for transportation of a single train approximately seven and a half miles in length.

An annual report just furnished the Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation at Washington fixes the value of these commodities at $1,489,998. Twenty-one varieties of foods were included in the shipments into the State representing 32,640,040 total poundage.

Diets, the report shows, of 65,489 Kentucky families, or 312,893 individuals, were supplemented by commodity distribution. In many instances surplus commodities were furnished to school lunch programs to the benefit of needy children whose parents are unable to furnish lunch money. Commodity distribution included fresh apples, dried beans, butter, cabbage, corn meal, wheat, cereal, Graham flour, white flour, grapefruit, grapefruit juice, corn grits, dry skinned and evaporated milk, rolled oats, onions, oranges, canned peaches, dried peaches, fresh peaches, dried prunes and rice.

It is pointed out in the report that surplus commodities are bought by the Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation at various points in the United States where a surplus exists. A fair price is paid the consumer and shipment is made to points of greatest need to the benefit of railroads and various handling agencies enroute to destination.

Arriving in Kentucky commodities are handled under a joint agreement with the State of Kentucky, through the cooperation of Governor Keen Johnson, and WPA. The former bears the expense of transportation while the latter furnishes all labor for distribution. For this service to need Kentucky the State and WPA together spent an average of $25,882.97 monthly in 1939, the report shows. The average cost of distribution per family amounted to 446 cents, one of the lowest figures in the nation.

RAPE FOR HOGS

Cecil Blair, Adair county, is planning to sow an acre of rape in March for spring hog pasture. The land will be broken, fertilizer applied and the soil worked down to a fine seedbed. The seed will be broadcast at the rate of 10 to 12 pounds to the acre and covered lightly. It should be ready to pasture within six weeks, and should furnish pasture for 12 or 15 hogs. An acre of rape sometimes saves as much as 50 bushels of corn in feeding a bunch of hogs, says County Agent R. B. Rankin.

IMPROVED
UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Dean of the Moody Bible Institute
(Revised by Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for February 11

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts assigned and explained by International Council of Religious Education: used by permission.

THE PERILS OF REJECTING CHRIST

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 21:29-43.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.—John 14:6.

Fearfully facing crucifixion with in a few days, Jesus stood in the temple, there facing His bitter enemies and replying to their attacks in words such as no man ever spoke. He brought them face to face with the very essence of sin, which is the rejection of Christ. Their own words condemned them, but when they should have repented, they became embittered and hardened in their sin. Let no one who reads these lines follow their example, but if the Holy Spirit brings conviction, turn to Him in repentance and faith.

Every Sunday School lesson is of great importance, but possibly no lesson is so important as the one for it deals very plainly with the awful peril of rejecting Christ. Eternal destiny depends upon the choices made in respect to this lesson. Let every one of us study it and teach it with solemn earnestness.

I. Actions Speak Louder Than Words (vv. 28-32).

All church members, who have come into that relationship by which spoken words of acceptance and devotion to Christ which then have not been lived out in the daily walk, may see themselves pictured in the son who courteously and gently assured his father that he could depend on him, and then promptly went his own way. They will see that they need to repent and substitute real heart-motivation and life-changing action for their words, lest the harlots and publicans pass them and go into heaven before them. Professing church members without any evidence of God's power in your life, turn to Him now!

Note the word of encouragement to repentant sinners. Perhaps someone who reads this paragraph has at some time rejected Christ and has been about to turn back, but that it was too late for him to do the thing which his heart tells him to do even though his lips are speaking words of devotion. "Friend, consider the one who said, 'I will not,' but who did his father's will. Come to the Saviour now; you will find Him ready to receive you.

II. Selfish Unbelief Results in Christ-Rejection (vv. 33-41).

This parable clearly relates to the Israelites who had rejected the prophets sent to them by God and who were now about to kill His Son. The heart-breaking story of Jesus' unbelief and rejection of Christ and the judgment which has been upon them all the years since, is not something over which we should grieve, but rather something which should move us to tears and prayer for our Jewish friends. After all, are we any better than they? Are not the appalling majority of Gentiles walking in that same road of selfish unbelief which leads inevitably to the rejection of Christ?

No man or woman can go on selfishly taking the benefits of God, using them for self advantage or comfort, turning a deaf ear to the cries of God's messengers, and hope to have any ultimate result other than Christ-rejection. It is high time that thoughtful people who perhaps have no deliberate intention to be wicked or to turn Christ away, should awaken to the fact that they are doing just that by their manner of living.

III. Rejection of Christ Does Not Defeat God (vv. 42, 43).

At first glance one wonders why Christ at this point turned so abruptly from the figure of the vineyard to that of the corner stone. "The reason why He leaves for a moment the image of the vineyard, is because of its inadequacy to set forth one important part of the truth which was needful to make the moral complete, namely this, that the malice of the Pharisees should not defeat the purpose of God—that the Son should yet be the heir—that not merely vengeance should be taken, but that He should take it. Now this is distinctly set forth by the rejected stone becoming the head of the corner, on which the builders stumbled and fell, and were broken—on which they were now steadily stumbling and falling, and which, if they set themselves against it to the end, would fall upon them and crush and destroy them utterly" (French).

God was not defeated by the crucifixion of Christ. Christ will not be defeated simply because men reject Him in the world. We who are on His side, we who are the followers of the Lord are to stand firm. Those who oppose Him and speak ill of His name may appear to be victors for the moment, but the judgment of God is yet to come upon them.

362,000 Pounds
In Your Shoes

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist—
PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT
9th and Madison Covington

You actually pound 181 tons of weight into your shoes every mile you walk. Figures based on 150 pound person.

Do you realize why feet let down, hurt, develop corns, bunions, callouses and more serious ills?

Science has made an amazing advance in orthopedics of the feet—so great an advance as in other modes of transportation.

Science has discovered many new things about feet, and how vitally your hurting feet affect your entire system. It's hard to believe that 50% of malaises traceable to our feet are health and well walked shoes.

Do you wonder that when your feet hurt you are utterly fatigued, depressed, nervous, discouraged? Poor feet cause much misery. BACKACHE, HEADACHE, and many body ills may be traced to feet.

Even symptoms like those of rheumatism and arthritis now are being banished with proper surgical and prescription shoes.

Stop crippling your feet today and let's get everything back to normal. Normally there should be 150 pounds of blood every 4 hours, then the feet are properly nourished—waste matter properly carried away—and bone repair, as should be when all this comes to pass, (normally) our feet are healthy and we'll walk briskly (not timid) in walking.

85,000 gallons of air, that will help to purify the blood that make us feel better all over.

If your feet hurt, is it not wise to check up now and WALK IN HEALTH WITH HAPPY FEET?—Adv.

SPORTSMEN INDORE INCREASE OF HUNTING LICENSE IN KENTUCKY

The League of Kentucky Sportsmen, comprising 98 fish and game clubs throughout the state with an approximate membership of 15,000, has endorsed an increase in the cost of hunting licenses in Kentucky. This endorsement was made after the 98 clubs voiced their opinion on this particular bit of legislation and other changes which they thought should be made in the present fish and game laws.

After deciding definitely just what changes should be made in the fish and game laws, the League through its directors and President, gave these changes to Major James Brown, Director of the Kentucky Division of Game and Fish and asked him, as head of the Fish and Game program and policies in Kentucky, to draw up the changes in law form and present them to legislature for approval and passage.

In advocating an increase in cost of hunting licenses, the League had in mind an increase in revenue for the Division which could be turned back to the sportsmen themselves in the form of more game for their enjoyment. The present resident hunting license is $1. This would be changed in such a manner as to require a person hunting in one county to purchase license costing $1.15. One dollar going to the Division for its work and the fifteen cents going to the county court clerk. Now if a person living in Jefferson county he or she can purchase the $1.15 county license in Shelby county and that is the extent of his or her cost. If the person has a car and a little more time for the sport of hunting, he or she may want to hunt in two counties. The hunter must purchase, in the county in which he or she hunts, the $1.15 license. That means if he or she may purchase two of the $1.15 licenses or a state-wide license in order to hunt in the two counties. Now if the hunter is inclined to roam even more and hunts in three or more counties he or she is required to purchase a state-wide license either in his or her home county or in any other county in the state at a cost of $3.25. Three dollars going to the Division and twenty-five cents going to the county court clerk.

The League, in approving this increase in hunting license cost, desired more revenue for the Division's program of restocking the field and woods of Kentucky with more game and pointed out that the person who is financially able to hunt in three or more counties in the state is also able to pay a little more for the privilege of hunting, thereby helping to improve the sport. The person who hunts only in one county will not be affected by the change other than to pay an additional fifteen cents.

The non-resident hunting license will be increased from $10.50 to $15.50.

The fishing license, both resident and non-resident will not be affected by the change.

THANKS

The Burlington P-T-A wishes to thank those who helped us last Saturday at the school house with our dinner. We especially wish to thank those who made donations.

HUNTING LICENSE RECEIPTS DECLINE FOR MONTH OF JANUARY

Due to the unusually bad winter Kentucky has experienced—most of it thus far having hit at the time when the farmers were expecting their best hunting of quail and rabbits—receipts from the sale of hunting licenses and even fishing licenses have fallen off leaving the Division of Game and Fish short on funds with which to restock the fields of this state with Bob White Quail in the spring.

It is estimated by officials of the Division of Game and Fish that approximately 60 percent of the hunters that usually buy their licenses on the first of January in order to enjoy the last nine days of the hunting season did not do so on this January 1.

Plans have been made for the releasing of approximately 20,000 quail around the first of April throughout the state by the Division and game clubs. Major James Brown, Director of the Division, stated recently that it was a pertainly that quite a number of the birds and other wildlife have been destroyed by the snow and intense cold and it was hoped that the quail destroyed could be replaced to some extent in addition to the regular spring replacement.

But this restocking will suffer from lack of sufficient funds unless hunters and fishermen come to the aid of the Division and purchase their licenses as soon as possible. It is only from the revenue derived from the sale of hunting and fishing licenses that the Division can operate. It is a self-supporting department, receiving no aid whatsoever from the state government.

FURNITURE OUTLET OPENS LARGE STORE

The Furniture Outlet has opened a large store at 1046 Madison Ave., near Eleventh St., Covington, where it is displaying all kinds of furniture, coal ranges and heaters, carpets, rugs and floor coverings, and a large line of unclaimed used storage articles.

The management states he firmly believes his prices will prove amazingly low to anyone calling to inspect his stock. He is offering a special in his initial advertisement in this issue of The Recorder.

Families Receive Large Sum From Enrollees

Louisville, Ky.—Kentucky families, with members enrolled in thirty CCC camps throughout the State, receive $152,100.00 annually through allotments from these boys, a report from Washington shows. In addition, the enrollees receive valuable training and are rendering the State a lasting service through a work program designed principally for improvement and protection of forests and erosion control projects, the report states.

Twelve camps in Kentucky are devoted to soil conservation, six to national forests, two to state forests, four to national parks, two to state parks and four to private forests. In all 5,263 young men are in these camps.

Since 1933 CCC boys have reduced the fire hazards to 15,600 acres of Kentucky timber. They have spent 76,500 man days in fighting forest fires and covered 24,750 acres on forest stand improvement work. Check dams numbering 114-200 have been built in addition to the sodding, seeding and tree planting on 42,250,000 square yards for erosion control.

Aside from the practical experience and training in camps enrollees receive advantages for various kinds of education through schools operated in the camps by teachers furnished and paid by WPA. All of which, CCC officials say, tends to equip any boy more fully for a successful civil life.

Donohue Says Truck Act Will Not Meet With Approval If Introduced

If the proposed amendment to the Motor Vehicle Regulatory Act is ever introduced before the Kentucky Legislature it will meet with an unsympathetic reception, J. J. Donohue, general claims attorney, L. & N. Railroad, Louisville, Ky., predicted at a meeting of 1,500 employees of the L. & N. C. & O., and Southern Railroads held at the Henry Clay High School at Lexington, Ky., Friday night, February 2.

Mr. Donohue went on to say that the present Act has been on the statute books for eight years and has, generally speaking, met with unqualified approval. Now, seizing what they evidently feel is the psychological moment, the large commercial truck carriers have begun to talk about the "trade barrier" imposed by the present Act, despite the fact its provisions are more generous than those of most other Southern states, he said.

As a matter of fact, according to Mr. Donohue, the present agitation for a change in the law, which would have the effect of greatly increasing the size and weight of the vehicles operated for hire upon the highways maintained at public expense, may also have an effect unforeseen by its backers, in that it may crystallize sentiment against any change and result in the provisions of the present Act being more rigorously enforced. Enforcement has been admittedly lax at times, he asserted, and hereafter the commercial truckers may find that an 18,000-pound load limit does not mean a 40,000-pound load limit or that a 30-foot limit does not mean one 35 or 40 feet long.

Mr. Donohue paid high tribute to both houses of the Kentucky Legislature, saying that they both always had the public interest in mind and that their pursuance of such a policy insured the railroads fair treatment at all times. He said that he did not feel that giant trucks which interfered with traffic and which carried in their wake death and destruction, were in that public interest. Illustrative of the confidence which the railroads had in the Legislature, he pointed out that in the last 25 years the railroads had sponsored only three important pieces of legislation.

Touthing upon the national scene, Mr. Donohue said that this, in effect, was a horse of another color entirely. Since the passage of the Transportation Act, March 1920, the railroads had been and were being regulated as no industry had ever been before. Legislation now pending, which he considers especially harmful to the rail carriers, is the Wagner Workmen's Compensation Act, which would increase the costs of the railroad by about $35,000,000 annually. Another bill in the making is the proposed scheme to build a canal, 109 miles long, 200 feet wide and 20 feet deep to connect Lake Erie with the Ohio River; a veritable throwback to horse-and-buggy days, which would cost the taxpayers some $200,000,000 and has the added disadvantage of not being needed in the slightest, he said.

In concluding, he stated that insofar as national legislation was concerned there was nothing much the railroads themselves could do, but that employees could help combat the tide by emphatically making known their wishes to their representatives in Congress.

You would think, to hear some folks talk, that our forefathers never got much pleasure out of life.

What happened to the fellow who used to tell you which shell the pea was under?

3 DAYS OF FAST AND FURIOUS SELLING THURS., AND FRIDAY 9 A. M. TO 5:30 P. M.—SATURDAY FROM 9 A. M. TO 9 P. M.

Gayety Theater News

Tonight and Friday—Two Big Features—“Island of Lost Men,” and “Sorority House”
Sat.—“Chan at Treasure Island”
Sun. & Mon.—“Cat and Canary”
Tuesday and Wednesday—“Drums Along Mohawk”

Six savage men and a girl, trapped in the heart of the jungle where life is cheap and a woman's love is worth more than an empire! Harder to crack than Alcatraz... deadlier than Devil's Island! “Island of Lost Men” starring Anna May Wong, J. Carroll Nash and others will be shown tonight and Friday. Big man on campus! He rates with sorority dictators—in social-climbers' college! But a golden girl and her “hay seed” dad upset their push-lined appetizer. Gorgeous Gammars and wallflowers. “Sorority House” starring Anne Shirley, James Ellison and others will be shown tonight and Friday.

Chan proves how exciting a movie can be as he crosses the ghostly path of magic murder. While the gay crowds frolic at the World's Fair in the West a master of the occult deals death... and even Chan is baffled. An astonishing story... with action all the way... it's Chan's best yet! “Charley Chan at Treasure Island”

Kentucky Happenings

Lexington—Possibly the world's largest crop of burley tobacco produced in 1939 was sold in Lexington recently when a consignment of 317,372 pounds brought $65,938.11—an average of $20.99 a hundred pounds. The crop was produced by the Penn brothers—W. H. Oscar, and Frank—on two Fayette county farms. Last year they sold 265,000 pounds, for an average of $21.00, and in 1937 their largest crop, 348,000 pounds, was sold for 30 cents a pound.

Georgetown—By holding the head of her unconscious husband out of water for 45 minutes until help arrived, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, wife of a Stamping Ground physician, saved his life after the automobile in which they were riding plunged over a bridge and landed in North Elkhorn Creek. Mrs. Taylor reported him “no worse for the experience.”

Louisville—R. A. Beman, assistant supervisor of the state whiskey tax commission, revealed recently that Kentuckians, world-famed producers of bonded Bourbon, drink more moonshine whiskey than they can produce, drawing on Tennessee and West Virginia for large quantities.

Paris—Apparently depressed over a court decision delivered against him, Daniel P. Thomas, 29, Bourbon county farmer, died at a Paris hospital of a gunshot wound which the coroner said was self-inflicted.

Winchester—Miss Luella Cummins of Falmouth and Quentin Stacy of Vicksburg have been chosen May Queen and King, respectively, at Kentucky Wesleyan College. Miss Cummins will also represent the college at the annual Mountain Laurel Festival at Pineville next June.

Morgan—One of Kentucky's few remaining bridges, at Morgan in Pendleton county, was virtually destroyed when high water from a recent thaw washed out vital supports.

Leitchfield—Cucumber growers in Grayson County will be awarded contracts to produce 250 acres of cucumbers for a Louisville mayonnaise company, County Agent R. T. Faulkner announced. Grayson growers produce an annual crop worth about $15,000.

Harlan—First union picket line since last summer's mine labor troubles marched at Cumberland last week as workers of the Benham Laundry and Dry Cleaning Company went on strike, declaring that the management “refused to arbitrate” over the firing of four union workers.

Frankfort—The State Highway Department will spend approximately $19,000,000 during the fiscal year beginning April 1, according to a program outlined by Thomas H. Cutler, department engineer. New construction will amount to about $7,500,000 for main roads and $2,000,000 for rural roads.

Benham—Operators of the Benham Coal Mining Company, in Harlan County announced that they will soon adopt a new profit-sharing and saving plan in the interest of further assisting employees during unemployment and old age.

At least a dozen high school basketball games throughout the state, and a four-day amateur boxing extravaganza in Louisville have been planned as Kentucky's contribution to the March of Sports, held annually in connection with Roosevelt's “Fight Infantine Paralysis” campaign.

Moonshine liquor production in Kentucky fell off approximately 9 percent in 1939 according to figures released recently by the United States Alcohol Tax Unit. Production is measured by the quantity of mash seized by federal investigators. Last year 484 stills, 10,881 gallons of liquor, 179,441 gallons of mash, 1,678 prisoners and 180 automobiles were seized. Contrary to common belief, more moonshining is done in Western Kentucky than in the eastern mountains.

Fulton—Baseball Commissioner K. M. Landis declared four players of the Fulton Kittle League club free agents after investigating the Detroit club, of which Fulton is a farm. They are outfielders Paul Bloch, Daniel Gardella, and Al Simmons, and pitcher Ray Hart.

AMERICAN BOY MAGAZINE
COMPANION TO THOUSANDS

Hundreds of Thousands of boys and young men read THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine every month and consider it more as a living companion than as a magazine.

“It's as much a buddy to me as my neighborhood chum,” writes one high school senior. “THE AMERICAN BOY seems to understand a boy's problems and considers them in such sympathetic and helpful way. It gives advice and entertaining reading on every subject in which a young fellow is interested. It is particularly helpful in sports. I made our school basketball team because of playing tips I read in THE AMERICAN BOY.”

Many famous athletes in all sports credit much of their success to helpful suggestions received from sports articles carried in THE AMERICAN BOY Magazine. Virtually every issue offers advice from a famous coach or player. Football, basketball, track, tennis, in fact every major sport is covered in fiction and fact articles.

Teachers, librarians, parents and leaders of boys clubs also recommend THE AMERICAN BOY enthusiastically. They have found that as a general rule regular readers of THE AMERICAN BOY advance more rapidly and develop more worthwhile characteristics than do boys who do not read it. Teachers and artists, famous coaches and athletes, explorers, scientists and men successful in business and industry join with an experienced staff to produce in THE AMERICAN BOY the sort of reading matters boys like best.

THE AMERICAN BOY sells on the most newsstands at 20c a copy. Subscription prices are $2.00 for one year or $3.50 for three years. Foreign rates $5c a year extra. To subscribe simply send your name, address and remittance direct to THE AMERICAN BOY, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Michigan.

LOUIS C. BEEMON ENDS OWN LIFE

AFTER ILLNESS OF THREE YEARS—WAS RETIRED EMPLOYEE OF PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK, BURLINGTON.

Louis C. Beemon, 50, of Florence ended his life Sunday by inhaling gas from a pipe in the bathroom of his home.

Mr. Beemon retired from work at Peoples Deposit Bank three years ago due to ill health. He had served as assistant cashier of this institution for the past seven years.

He was well known throughout Boone County, and his friends were numerous. He was active in church and civic work until his death, and was a faithful member of the Florence Baptist Church.

According to reports, the victim undressed, put on his pajamas and bath robe, tied a towel around his head, then placed his mouth over a gas pipe. His wife was attending a funeral at the time.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Blanche Beemon; a son, Robert Beemon, of Covington; a brother, Roy Beemon, Erlanger; and three sisters, Mrs. Hogan Ryte, Petersburg, Ky., Mrs. Anna Jeffries, of Ludlow, and Mrs. Grace Pope, of Covington.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at Florence Baptist Church, with Rev. Raymond Smith, officiating. Interment was in the Hopeful cemetery.

Philip Tallafiero, Erlanger funeral director was in charge of arrangements.

Winter Fruit Meeting Scheduled For Feb. 23

W. W. Magill, fruit specialist of the College of Agriculture, will meet with fruit growers in the Burlington and Hebron communities, Friday, February 23, County Agent, H. R. Forkner, announced today. The Burlington meeting will be held in the morning with the Hebron meeting in the afternoon.

Problems of production of the past year and prospects for the coming year will be discussed. Spray schedules and other orchard management problems will be included in the program. All fruit men are invited to attend either of these meetings and bring their problems with them. Exact time and place of the meetings will appear in next week's paper.

HOMEMAKERS' SCHEDULE

February 16, Friday—Landscape training class at 1:00 p. m. at courthouse.

February 19th, Monday—Style Trends training class at John R. Coppel Store in Covington at 9:30 (Central Standard Time).

February 20, Tuesday—Francisville Homemakers at home of Mrs. R. S. Wilson at 10:30 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time).

HAMILTON BOYS ARE CHAMPIONS

OF BOONE COUNTY CONFERENCE—DEFEAT FLORENCE BY SCORE OF 30 TO 24—BURLINGTON LOSES TO WALTON.

The Hamilton Farmers won the Boone County Conference championship Friday night when they defeated the Florence Knights by a score of 30 to 24. The Farmers have a perfect record for the conference year with eight wins and no defeats.

Miller led the attack for the Hamilton boys with 18 points. He has scored 58 points in the last three games.

Burlington trounced the Hebron boys Tuesday night of last week by a score of 43-33. Huey was high point man for the Burlington boys, with 19 points, while Ayior collected 11 for the Hebrons.

In an earlier tilt on Burlington floor, the Hebron boys were the victors by a 5-point margin.

Burlington visited Walton Saturday night to take a trouncing to the tune of 32 to 22, the same score being made by both teams in an earlier tilt on the Burlington floor.

Burlington fans who attended the game had high hopes of victory, but were disappointed, due to poor team work, they said.

The Burlington reserves were also defeated in a hotly contested game by a score of 25-23.

Twelve Clubs Represented At Training Class

Correct heights for various kitchen activities were determined for Home Improvement leaders at the monthly training class last week. Twenty-five leaders representing twelve Homemakers' clubs attended the fourth in a series of six training classes on the "Modern Kitchen."

Back-savers for the kitchen were discussed by the class. Miss Ida C. Hagman, Home Improvement specialist, University of Kentucky, directed the discussion and the measurement tests. Each leader was measured for determining the correct working heights for ironing, preparing breads and mixing procedures.

Back-saving equipment, such as self-wringing mop, foot-lever garbage pails and kitchen stools were shown to the group. This lesson will be given at the local club during February and the first week in March.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Blanche Beemon; a son, Robert Beemon, of Covington; a brother, Roy Beemon, Erlanger; and three sisters, Mrs. Hogan Ryte, Petersburg, Ky., Mrs. Anna Jeffries, of Ludlow, and Mrs. Grace Pope, of Covington.

FIFTY FARMERS ATTEND MEETING

WHERE 250 REFUND CHECKS WERE DISTRIBUTED BY CININNATI PRODUCERS TUESDAY.

Over 250 refund checks were distributed to Boone County members of the Cincinnati Producers, at a meeting held in the court house at Burlington Tuesday afternoon.

These checks represented a saving of 20% on the commission charges on livestock sold through the farmers own organization.

In spite of the bad weather more than 50 farmers were present at the meeting to hear a discussion of live stock marketing problems by Perry Summers, of the University of Kentucky, who discussed the livestock outlook for 1940. Edward Snyder, cattle salesman for the Producers Commission Association and Dan Welch head of the Producers' Sheep Department were present.

J. C. Bedinger, of Walton, a member of the Cincinnati Producers Board of Directors was present and gave a short talk. The meeting was under the direction of Harry A. Berge, of Williamson, field man for the Producers.

While the store at 627 Madison Ave., is being improved and considerably enlarged, a remodeling sale is being held, during which every lady's shoe in stock is greatly reduced.

At the men's and boys' shoe store, 805 Madison Ave., Covington, a removal sale is being conducted. Likewise decided reductions are being made on its stock, preparatory to opening a men's boys' shoe department in their store at 627 Madison Ave.

Announcements of both the Quality Sample Shoe Shops will be found in this issue of The Recorder.

Kentucky Farmers Asked To File 1940 Plans By April 15th

Farm plans outlining soil conservation practices to be carried out by Kentucky farmers cooperating with the 1940 Agricultural Conservation program must be filed in county offices by April 15, the State Agricultural Adjustment Office has announced.

Completion of these plans is necessary before farmers become eligible to participate in the conservation program this year. Crop allotments and approved conservation practices, compiled from county Agricultural Conservation Program office figures and from farmers' reports, will be outlined in the plans.

WILL DIRECT MUSICALS

Miss Wanda Lee Hater is directing a musical, sponsored by the Westminster class of the First Presbyterian Church, Ludlow, at the church Sunday evening Feb. 18th at 7:45.

The public is invited.

Each farmer will be notified when his plan is to be completed. County offices expect to complete all farm plans at the time 1939 conservation checks are distributed, and so farmers are expected to be prepared at that time to outline their conservation practices for the year.

MARCH 1ST IS DEADLINE

FOR PURCHASE OF 1940 AUTO TAGS—SPECIAL SERVICE OFFERED BY C. D. BENSON, CLERK.

With only fourteen more days left to get your 1940 automobile license, it appears there is going to be a last minute rush again this year, it was said today by C. D. Benson, County Court Clerk.

Last year many persons were forced to wait for a considerable length of time and caused considerable inconvenience due to the fact so many waited until the last day to get their tags.

This year the clerk's office has announced a special service to help overcome this rush. Anyone desiring their 1940 auto tags may mail their 1939 license certificate and a check for $5.00 to the County Clerk and your license will be sent to you promptly by return mail. This is not a change of law, but merely an accommodation on the part of the clerk for those who desire to avoid the last-minute rush, which occurs every year.

Missouri Ann Tanner, widow of the late J. P. Tanner, passed away at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington on February 7th.

Stricken at the home of her grandson, W. H. Underhill, 1516 Woodburn Ave., Covington, where she has made her home the past eight years, she was removed to the hospital February 2nd.

She was born at Lima, Ky., on October 20th, 1846, the eldest daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Crider. She was united in marriage to Japheth Parre Tanner, January 14, 1865. To this union were born two children, Cora Estella and Kirby.

She and her husband prepared and built their home on the Camp Ernst road, and there enjoyed a most happy life for fifty years.

Many years ago she united with the Gunpowder Church, and attended when possible to do so.

After the passing of her husband in February 1916, she and her son Kirby operated the farm. Due to her son's illness they disposed of the farm in 1929. Following the death of her son in August 1932, she made her home with her daughter, Mrs. Estella Underhill, in Covington.

Mrs. Tanner was an ardent reader of The Recorder, having read it through on Thursday before being stricken. She was near 94 years of age, had a most remarkable memory, good use of her body and eyes.

Rev. Roy Johnson, pastor of the Big Bone Baptist Church and a neighbor of Mrs. Tanner, read the Scripture. She was laid to rest beside her husband in the family in I. O. O. F. burial grounds, Burlington, February 10th.

She leaves three grandsons, Elmer, Lloyd and Robert Underhill, eight great-grandchildren and seven great-great-grandchildren.

J. L. Hamilton was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Hebron Lutheran Church, with interment in the Hebron cemetery.

Henry Jergens

Henry Jergens, 73, of near Hebron, passed away Thursday at his home following an illness of three weeks. He was a life-long resident of this county.

Mr. Jergens was a member of the Hebron Lutheran church and will be greatly missed in that community.

He is survived by a son Elmo Jergens, Hebron; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Katherine Jergens and Mrs. Adam Dolwick and three grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m. at the Hebron Lutheran Church, with interment in the Hebron cemetery.

Each farmer will be notified when his plan is to be completed. County offices expect to complete all farm plans at the time 1939 conservation checks are distributed, and so farmers are expected to be prepared at that time to outline their conservation practices for the year.

YESTERDAY

Ye shades of return bustles, snuff and corset cover, what will be in vogue next? A man's hat designer sticks long feathers in the hat band and doesn't call it silly? We should expect something like this after viewing the wisp waistlines that fashion decrees for womenkind. It is indeed a return to the family album, with a vengeance.

Many a parlor holds a plush-backed edition of family pictures of yesteryear, of a much-bewildered baseball nine of Grandpa's hey-day, of great uncle Whose's second wife and numerous shameful sights of cousins stretched out on baby stomachs on bear-skin rugs, in ditto outfits! There appears a photo of the family rig with a straw-hatted gentleman clothed in linen, seated at the gate. In those photo albums of family stock comes a more recent view of the first automobile and even this vision is apt to bring down the modern house!

We are returning to the simple life in apparel and taste. The young folks are slowing up on the jitter and returning to the soft slow and sweet waltz time. The snow-bound youth wear ear-muffs and hand muffs, frowned upon as old-fashioned a few years ago. In the southland the beach parade includes bathing numbers of ruffles and skirts similar to the ones of great grandmother's day. This going from 1940 to 1890 will probably be followed by a hop to 1950 and along will come a complete renovation of Boone County family budgets.

YOU CONTROL IT

There is action being taken by several women's organizations to clean up the morning programs on our radios. Numerous are the protests received by the major broadcasting companies regarding the sort of thing dished to the housewife each day. There are too many continued stories dealing with divorce infidelity, murder, desertion. If you have ever spent one day listening to the series of tales from the radio you wonder how the programs are separated and straightened out in the mind. There is such a sameness, complain many. Women's club ask for more educational programs where topics deal with problems of homemaking. They insist that the sort of thing we receive now is degrading and depressing. This may be too true, but is not world news depressing and are not world relarelationships degrading?

Be thankful you are listening to a radio free of government censorship. Be glad that if a program does not please you at all, you are free to turn it off. There are so many worthwhile broadcasts that reach you during the day, and check over your radio lists and see if this isn't true, that those of you whose tastes run to the educational and instructional can always find radio enjoyment.

NO NAMES

The celebration of birthdays of famous men brings forth a suggestion from a distressed citizen, that by many statues of illustrious people, do not bear their names. He wonders how a foreigner can tell who is who and why. The statue usually bears the name of the manufacturer! But most of the statues in our country need no introduction. Is their bronze figure is familiar to almost everyone. A schoolboy was asked, "What was Abraham Lincoln most famous for?" and the reply, "For his memory." "What make you think so?" asked the teacher, "Because there are so many statues to his memory," replied the boy.

GLAD TIDINGS

Heartening it is when the U. S. can cut down her yearly death rate. The infant mortality is low in comparison to other years as well as the death rate of mothers. The advance of science and the steps forward in medical research is our hope as mankind fights the foe disease. That cancer and heart disease is increasing is a saddening note, but many skilled men are devoting their time to these menaces. While there are men to fight for health, a courageous battle will be waged. We in Boone County have faith in the ability of modern science to put up the good fight.

A BELIEF

The famous New York columnist, O. O. McIntyre, who passed away some time ago and leaving his public at a loss to replace him, was said by some to be a skeptic regarding religion. Here is an excerpt from a letter written to a woman in Ohio who had expressed her sentiments regarding a piece McIntyre had written dealing with religion. One sentence is enough, "I do know only those of us who have faith and believe in higher power have any inward peace in these days of turmoil." That is a belief and a faith, and is impressive enough for those Boone County readers who enjoyed "odds" writings.

INSPIRATIONAL

I do the best I know. The very best I can; and I mean to keep right on doing so until the end. If the end brings me out all right, what is said against me won't amount to anything. If the end brings me out wrong, ten angels swearing I was right would make no difference. —Abraham Lincoln.

HAMILTON

Mrs. Everett Jones and children spent Thursday with Mrs. Clinton Jones. The Hamilton Farmers met Friday night at Hamilton for a basketball tilt. The Farmers emerged victorious with the reserves dropping their game to Florence reserves.

GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.—Matthew 22:39.

Character is determined by what a man is in his heart, not by the profession of his lips. This is eminently true in spiritual matters, for we know that it is not by much testifying, hymn singing, or even by church attendance that a man proves himself to be a Christian.

The question is, Is his heart right with God? Is he also true to his relation to his country. Patriotism is not a matter of speech-making and flag-waving, but an inward devotion to the good of the nation.

Most men know that it is true that being a good neighbor is not something accomplished by smooth talk or the shedding of a few tears; it is a matter of that right attitude toward our neighbor which makes him the man next door or in China, which results in a sacrificial effort to please and help him.

I. A Right Attitude Toward God (vv. 21, 37-39).

No man will make any real progress in the direction of being either a good citizen or a good neighbor until he has a right attitude toward God.

The questions which were asked of our Lord, and which brought forth such precious teaching from Him, were not asked in good will nor with a desire to glorify God, but rather to entrap or snare the Lord and thus give occasion for denouncing Him. Had the Pharisees, Sadducees, and Herodians (the ritualists, the rationalists, and politicians of our Lord's day) really known God and Jesus Christ, His Son, their problems of patriotism and neighborliness would have been solved in the light of His word and His spirit.

Is not the crying need of our world today, gone mad as it has with misdirected power and perversity, a need for the light of His word and His spirit, that it should have and heed the gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ?

II. A Right Attitude Toward Government (vv. 15-22).

The subtle hypocrisy of the question in verse 17 lay in the fact that these leaders were not interested in knowing the truth, but were anxious to make Jesus own either to be disloyal to His own people because He advocated paying tribute, or a traitor to Caesar because He advocated rebellion against taxation.

They coated their clever bait with unctuous flattery, a device which is still common among those who would mislead God's people. Observe how they even asked they did not believe what they said, they did speak the truth about the Lord Jesus (v. 16).

His answer is complete, final, and unchangeable. He has that kind of an answer to every honest question of man. In this case He clearly states that one who lives under an established government, enjoying its protection, using its money in trade, and so forth, is to be loyal to every proper obligation to that government. God and the things of God must come first, but a right attitude toward God will reveal itself in a proper attitude toward government.

Why does not some nation realize that the answer to destroying political and social theories is—in the destructive agitator to a living faith in Christ and he will become your strongest force for God and country.

See Luke 10:29 and observe the answer to his question in a proper attitude toward government.

III. A Right Attitude Toward Our Neighbor (vv. 34-40).

We have talked a good deal of late about being good neighbors, and certainly everyone should do everything possible to encourage the good neighbor policy in his own community and throughout the earth. But why does not the good neighbor policy work? Read the parallel passage in Luke and you will see how man tries to dodge his responsibility. See Luke 10:29 and observe the answer of Jesus in Luke 10:30-37.

A good neighbor is not one who is seeking some kind of "You favor me and I'll favor you" arrangement. He does not see the barriers of race, creed, or color. He is ready to help anyone, anywhere, at any cost. It is recognized that only the man who loves God with all his heart will be able thus to love his neighbor as himself.

The world does not so much need treaties on neighborliness as the winning of men and women to faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and thus to a whole-hearted love for God which will inevitably express itself in a love for his neighbor. When this comes, we shall have true neighborliness in the world. Let us send the gospel to all nations, that they may become first of all good Christians, then good citizens, and good neighbors.

A citizen is only fooling himself when he thinks he is fooling the world.

They advertise that buying on credit is their pleasure. And paying is ours!

HOW CAN WE ATTRACT THE TOURIST TRADE

Fifty years ago—when the tourist-laden motor cars was no more than a gleam in some inventor's eye—some one in Kentucky got the notion that the state ought to advertise itself. A bill appropriating $20,000 for the purpose actually passed the State Senate.

After this brief fling in legislative halls, however, the bill languished until death.

And even now, a half century later, we still have only $20,000 a year to tell the world about the beauties of the Bluegrass.

This suggests that we are traveling at a horse and buggy pace, while modern ways march swiftly round us. Nature has been particularly prodigal hereabouts; yet hospitality is traditional. Yet the world knows little of us. Our light is under a bushel. We are raised in the midst by the travel agencies whose business it is to assay tourist "attractiveness." The result is that we get a stepchild's share of the $5,000,000,000 cash which American vacationists spend annually for gas and oil, amusements, and food and lodging on the road.

The Courier-Journal, in the light of all these circumstances, thinks it would be wise for the Legislature to appropriate, at this session, a considerable sum of money which would be spent largely in magazines and other periodicals of national circulation, to advertise Kentucky.

Such a proposal raises the immediately urgent question: Where will they get the money?

We are strongly convinced that any money spent for this purpose will return to us many-fold. And we feel that it is logical to collect the freight from those businesses which stand to benefit the most from an increment of tourist travel. We wish, therefore, to suggest the following potential sources of money:

1. A moderate tax, say of $1.00 per pump, on filling stations, the idea being that whatever else motorists can do without, they must have gas and oil.

2. Another moderate special tax on tourists camps, part of which should be used for inspectional purposes.

3. Allocation to the advertising fund of a definite part of the proposed tax on racetrack pari-mutuels, because tourists are adventurous and if we can bring them here they will certainly play the ponies.

4. Devote allocation to advertising of part of any additional taxes on liquor, such as the increased excise which already has passed the House. Kentucky is the Nation's greatest producer of distilled spirits. A co-ordinated advertising campaign which would add luster to the name "Kentucky"—would certainly benefit our whiskey industry.

These are suggestions, merely. Perhaps someone will have a better way. But wherever the money comes from, it should be made available. —Courier Journal.

MOVEMENT IS UNDERWAY TO ESTABLISH NATIONAL PARK IN KENTUCKY

Middlesboro, Ky.—A movement is underway in Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia for the establishment of a national historical park in the area of historical Cumberland Gap. Bills have been introduced in both houses of Congress for the establishment of the park, and the cooperation of Kentucky and Virginia is being sought while the state assemblies are in session.

A survey of the area was recently made by representatives of the National Park Service. The report recommends a tract of about 100,000 acres, which would embrace the pass of Cumberland Gap, and a twenty-mile segment of the Cumberland mountain range beginning at the Sand Cave on the northeast in Virginia and ending with the Doublings in Tennessee on the southeast. Another arm of the tract would reach to Pineville, Ky., including fifteen miles of the Cumberland wilderness road, and historic Cumberland Ford for two centuries an important point on the pioneer trail into the Great Northwest. When the park is completed it will be one of the outstanding units in the national park system of the Southeastern States, linking Mammoth Cave with the Great Smokies and the Shenandoah.

An organization known as the Cumberland Gap National Historical Park Association has been formed to publicize the movement. Officials and members of the board from Kentucky are Robert L. Kincaid, Middlesboro, president; Tom Wallace, editor, Louisville Times, vice-president; Howard J. Douglas, Middlesboro, secretary; Treasurer, Thomas R. Underwood, editor, Lexington Herald; Eugene Stewart, secretary, Louisville Automobile Club; Dr. William Allen Pusy, Elizabethtown; H. H. Fuson, Harlan; W. B. Fugate, Middlesboro, and J. H. Bailey, Pineville, directors.

Shield Expert Here Again

E. J. MEINHARDT, widely known

Expert of Chicago, will personally be in Cincinnati, Ohio, at the Gibson Hotel, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, Feb. 21, 22nd, and 23, from 1 P. M. to 4 P. M. and 6 P. M.

to 8 P. M. daily

MR. MEINHARDT says: The Meinhardt Shield is a tremendous improvement—well known for producing immediate results. It stops the rupture from protruding in 10 days on the average—regardless of size or location of Rupture and no matter how hard you work or strain. It has no leg straps or cumbersome arrangements. (No

Surgery or Injection Treatments used.) Mr. Meinhardt has been coming here for 15 years.

Caution: If neglected, Rupture may cause weakness, backache, constipation, nervousness, stomach pains, etc., or sudden death from strangulation.

Men having large Ruptures which have returned after Surgical Operations or Injection Treatments are also invited. When all others fail—see MEINHARDT. He will be

JUST WHAT IS A BARGAIN?

REMEMBER... IT TAKES MORE THAN JUST PRICE TO MAKE VALUE. In these days, when we hear so much of Bargains—Bargains—it is well to consider just what comprises values—what comprises bargains—and the reputation of the store advertising them.

We believe a bargain to be an offering of merchandise of known worth at an unusual price due to a condition that actually forces a reduction in price, but not quality. On such an occasion you can buy with confidence. At this time we are face to face with a condition that calls for immediate and drastic action. LUHN & STEVIE are Going Out of Business and everything must be sold, Lock, Stock and Barrel, regardless of loss, cost or profit, in the shortest time possible. Everything on sale is genuine national known original Luhn & Stevie high-grade stocks. Come, see for yourself and you be the judge.

TOBACCO SEED

We are not in the seed business but we ARE interested in helping our customers to receive the largest possible cash return from an acre of tobacco.

At the request of several growers we have secured a limited supply of "GAYS YELLOW" tobacco seed which we can supply at $1.50 per ounce or 65c for a small package.

If your present variety of tobacco is giving satisfaction in weight and price we do not recommend a change but if you are considering a change we are glad to be of service.

Boone County Man Issues

Warning To Farmers

As a warning to those citizens of this great country, who earnestly desire the welfare of all, that justice be done the American farmer, and that the industry of agriculture be put on, at any cost, an equal footing with all other industries:

In this country, first we had farms, then some of the sons and daughters of these farmers began living in villages and carrying on trade with these farm relatives and friends. Farm lands were fertile, and the villages grew into cities, large and small, depending upon the fertility of the surrounding soil—until today, these have grown into cities with their wonderful conveniences, luxurious buildings and the early trades have developed into great corporations, utilities and institutions. The farms have built these cities and paid for them, its utilities, and these same people now hold a mortgage on the farm. How did this come about? There seems to be an unwritten law that the farmer receive what is left of the price of the commodity he offers, after all other cost, whether they be just or unjust, be taken out of the selling price. This rule is strictly adhered to by all government commissions.

What the farmer must buy from these once city friends is figured on a cost of production plus a profit basis, a term which a farmer is not allowed to use, and this is supposed to be a worth value, costly and exorbitant overheads not considered.

In other words, he must leave enough on each transaction to keep these great machines we call cities running, with their ever increasing overhead, elaborate expenses and wasteful governmental costs.

But this situation is reaching a climax. This land is not as productive and these cities have become more and more expensive to maintain, and the farmer is still forced to support them with an occasional cry that is diminished each time he is crushed, which makes the condition more serious.

Occasionally, he has been pacified—soothing salve has been applied in the form of flimsy legislation. Much data has been compiled, which is supposed to have been used for the farmer's welfare. The contrary is true. This has been cunningly used through camouflaged phrases, to more embarrass him.

He has had one year of prosperity out of the last forty. This is referred to as "the years" of prosperity. The reason for the one year, was due to a world eruption, during which time he happened to slip in and get his just dues. This was soon detected and within a period of six months, he was apprehended and fleeced of his gains and sentenced to life imprisonment at hard labor. Even then he was hoodwinked. He didn't hear the radio. Still, words are written and biased statistics compiled referring to "the periods" when agriculture was on an equal footing with other industries.

The situation is tragic. If this basic industry and the nation is to survive, the injustice to agriculture must be definitely and permanently corrected. It can be done.

Why Be Old At 40?

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLES FOOT COMFORT
9th and Madison Covington

Do you have severe pains in the muscles of your legs?
Do you walk with toes pointed out?

Are you bedeviled by a thousand demons tearing at your back?
Do you hate to get up in the morning?

Do you experience foot pain when walking?

Can you be on your feet all day without fatigue?
Any or all of these conditions may indicate that one or more of the four arches of your feet are on the verge of collapse. There is really no end to the trouble that such a condition could cause. Around the bones and muscles of your feet are numerous nerves, all of which are directly connected with the nerve center. Severe pains in your feet are transmitted to every part of your body.

What can you do about it?

For years men and women have withstood the aches and misery due to some foot condition and have always decided "There is nothing you can do about it."

Now Comes a Sure Way to Relief for many aches and pains due to faulty foot condition. You will be eager to rise each morning and meet the conditions of the new day. You will have the springy action step of a youngster of eighteen. You will not be old at forty! There is no secret to it. You don't have to take a long rest, nor a change of climate. You need only to be correctly fitted in a pair of surgical shoes. You may think this is a simple way to end all of pain and misery, you have been suffering for a good many years, but after all isn't the simplest things in life bring the greatest joy?

Resolve today that you will pronounce the death sentence on the misery, aches and pains due to foot trouble.—Adv.

STORING FISH

Always cover any fish in the refrigerator. Make it a tight cover to prevent the odor escaping. When buying fish remove its paper wrappings wipe it off with a cloth and roll in wax paper. Put fish in coldest part of refrigerator. This procedure is also true when storing left-over fish.

For every cold in the head, in Boone County, there are ten ways of curing it, according to the advertisements. Money may talk but a debt cried out loud.

Suggest Feeding The Turkey Hens

Poultry experts at the College of Agriculture at Lexington suggest to Kentucky turkey raisers that it is time to begin feeding hens to stimulate laying for the hatching season. Any good chicken laying mash will do. To make one at home, mix 200 pounds of yellow corn, 100 pounds of meat scrap and 5 pounds of salt. A quart of fish oil per 100 pounds of feed helps. Limestone or oyster shell should be kept before the hens.

A turkey hen weighing about 15 pounds on full feed will eat approximately 2 1/2 pounds per week during the early spring months. A mature tom will consume about twice this amount.

Pigs Do Better If Well Housed

Pigs that arrived during the bitter January weather suffered intensely if they were not housed. Suffering from the cold, they required increased feeding to keep alive. Successful stockmen know the value of good housing and of being prepared at all times for severe weather.

Good housing pays, believes Grady Sellars of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. He recommends a hog house free from drafts, with a pig's nest in a corner where the pigs can keep comfortable without danger of being brushed by the sow. This requires abundant bedding, and rails 8 to 10 inches high and some distance from the walls to keep the sow off the pigs. Tobacco barns or other buildings may be used if women wire is nailed to the steading and straw used to fill in to keep out wind. In some instances heat may be desirable. This can come from a lantern, says Sellars, and an oil stove may be placed in a corner of the house, with due precaution against fire.

Farmers using brooder houses for pig farrowing are reporting good results. In most cases, the pigs are out of the way in time to brood chicks in the house. Well constructed brooder houses, plus proper timing of the arrival of pigs, make possible double use of brooding equipment.

100 BUSHELS ON ACRE MAKES MORGAN COUNTY BOY CORN CHAMPION

Growing 100 bushels and 11 pounds of corn on an acre made Eugene Blankenship, a Morgan county boy, the Kentucky 4-H club corn champion for 1939. The land was laid off with a strike shovel, and the corn hoed once and cultivated three times. Limestone, superphosphate and commercial fertilizer were used to stimulate yield, but Eugene had to contend with worms and flood. Yandall Weather county agent, says 100 bushels is about four times the average corn yield in Morgan county.

The second-best 4-H club corn production last year was 94 1/2 bushels on the acre, made by Bobby Fyfe of Bell county, who was the Kentucky champion in 1937, when he grew 135 bushels on an acre.

Another Eastern Kentucky boy, Elster Ratliff of Pike county, placed third last year, with 88 bushels, and Eugene had to contend with a drought. He produced 86 bushels of Johnson County White corn. Two hundred pounds of superphosphate was used on the acre, and the land had been in lespedeza three years.

HOUSE PLANTS

Give house plants a little fresh air every day. They need this as well as water and sunshine. House plants need water on their leaves. Spray them each week with lukewarm water. It not only gives them moisture but removes the dust from the leaves.

The biggest change in matrimony is the well-filled hope chest has given way to the well-filled stocking.

CARD OF THANKS.

We desire to express our deepest heartfelt thanks to all those who helped in any way during the recent sickness and death of our loved one

Virginia Lea Buckler

A special thanks to the one who donated the beautiful floral pieces, to those who sang; to Brother Brewer for his consoling words, and Chambers and Grubbs for the efficient management of the funeral.

ORVILLE SCOTT SUCCUMBS FRI.

HAD SUFFERED INJURIES WHEN STRUCK BY TRAIN IN LAW-RENCEBURG, IND., JANUARY 21ST.

Orville Scott, 23, of near Hamilton, died Friday at Good Samaritan Hospital, Cincinnati, after suffering several weeks from injuries received when his car was struck by a B. & O. train at Lawrenceburg, Ind., January 21st.

Scott suffered a collapsed lung and a fractured shoulder blade in the accident. Others injured in the wreck were Russell Williamson, Solon Ryle, Delbert Hubbard, Wallace Ryle and Howard Ryle. Hubbard and Howard Ryle escaped with minor injuries. Wallace Ryle is still confined to the hospital.

The team was returning from Patriot, Ind., when the accident occurred.

The body was removed to the funeral home of Chambers and Grubbs for preparation, after which the remains were taken to the home of his sister, Mrs. Clayton Ryle and laid in state there until Monday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted at the East Bend Methodist Church Monday afternoon at 2 p. m., with Rev. Roy Johnson officiating, in the presence of a large overflowing house of relatives and friends. Burial was in East Bend cemetery.

He is survived by his mother,
Mrs. Melvina Wingate, one brother,
Jewell Scott; two sisters, Mrs.
Irene Acra, and Mrs. Wilma Ryle, and a host of other relatives and friends who mourn his passing.

Chambers and Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mrs. Leoma Hicks

Mrs. Leoma Hicks, 133 Division street, Erlanger, was found dead in bed Monday night. She was 60, and had been ill for several months.

She is survived one daughter,
Mrs. George Hickey, of Erlanger and several grandchildren.

The body was sent Wednesday night to Knoxville, Tenn., for services and burial there Thursday.

Philip Tallafra prepared the body before being sent to Knoxville.

Lloyd Society

Sophia Webster Lloyd Society which was to be held on March 2 will be postponed until March 9.

A feature of the meeting will be a birthday dinner, and all members are urged to attend.

HAMILTON WINS LEAGUE TROPHY

DONATED BY BOONE COUNTY RECORDER—EIGHT VICTORIES NO LOSSES IS RECORD OF FARMERS.

For the past several years this newspaper has donated a basketball conference trophy to the team winning the County Conference Championship in the A team division.

This year the Hamilton Farmers came through the entire schedule without losing a single game, thus being a very fine record for any team in any district.

The Hamilton team has many handicaps that other schools do not have. The first being a small gym in which to practice and play.
They also are limited in players as they do not have as large an area to draw from as other schools with which they must play. This season, in addition to their other handicaps, they lost several players in a train-auto accident just at the close of the season. But in spite of all this had luck the boys, through close cooperation, good team work and plenty of hard fighting, were able to come thru undefeated in all conference games.

A lot of credit is due the coach, principal and student body as they have all had a part in the record the Farmers made this season.

This newspaper is proud to give this conference trophy this year to a team, who we feel has worked hard for it, and well deserve any honors they may win in this and other tournaments.

Herd Of Purebred Cattle To Be Sold At Public Auction

Thirty head of purebred Jersey cattle will be sold at public auction at the farm of the late A. A.
Liggett, near Union on U. S. 42 on Saturday, March 9, according to Col. Lute Bradford, who will cry the sale.

Watch next week's issue of The Recorder for large advertisement.

Landscaping Class Postponed

The meeting of the Homemakers Landscaping Training Class has been set for Saturday, February 24, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

The lesson was postponed last week because Mr. N. R. Elliott, landscape architect from the University of Kentucky was unable to get to the county.

All Homemakers and schools who are carrying landscaping demonstrations are asked to have a representative at the meeting at 1:00
P. M. Saturday at the court house.

NEW HAVEN FIVE CHALKS UP WIN

OVER HEBRON IN ONLY CON-FERENCE GAME LAST WEEK—BURLINGTON DEFEATS COLD SPRINGS.

In Boone County's only conference game of last week, New Haven's fast improving Tigers defeated the third place Hebron Cardinals by a 24-19 count Friday night at the winners' floor. The Tigers took an early lead and were never threatened seriously. The half-time score stood at 13-10 in favor of the Tigers.

The clever floor work of "Sunny Jim" Day and the defensive work of M. C. Townsend featured the Tigers play. The play of the Hebron guard, was a bright spot for the Cardinals.

The New Haven reserves won their ninth consecutive conference game by defeating the Hebron reserves 27 to 9. Virgil Judge, dim-utive forward, lead the Tiger Cubs attack with 17 points, 15 of which were scored in the first half. The score at the half was 17 to 3.

George Black and Everett Robinson, playing their last home game, were the defensive stars for the New Haven quint. As evidence of their stellar play, the Hebron team scored only one field goal. Black is a senior and Robinson will reach the age limit before next season.

New Haven will play the league-leading Hamilton Farmers Friday night at the Hamilton floor.

The Burlington Tomcats hung up their seventh victory of the season Saturday night when they defeated the Cold Springs team of the Suburban conference by a 43-34 count. The Springers lead most of the way during the first three quarters, but "Top" Porter, Burlington center, broke away during the final quarter to ice the game for the locals. Porter scored 14 followed closely by Huey with 13 points. The Burlington reserves also won by a score of 22 to 17.

Ray Dennison, flashy guard lead the winner's attack with 14 points.

The local team will play the fast Gallatin County five of Warsaw at the Burlington gym Friday night.

The Florence Knights took a hard-fought 28-23 decision from Beethwood Friday night in another non-conference battle at Florence. The winners were paced by Shotwell and Sullivan, who combined 17 points.

Walton Bearcats held the strong Lloyd Yuggernauts to a 24-19 count Friday night at Erlanger.
Erlanger was without the service of their high scoring center, Red Saunders. Stanley Lee and De-Shea McElroy, as usual were the best offensively for the Bearcats.

Burns-Christy

A very pretty wedding took place at 2:30 o'clock, Saturday,
Feb. 17, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jarbo, sister of the bride when Miss Dorothy Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Burns, of Hebron, was married to Robert Christy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Christy of Petersburg.

The bride attired in blue silk, carrying white roses, the bridesmaid, Mrs. Edgar Snyder was attired in pink silk, carrying pink roses. The groom was dressed in dark blue and the best man, Edgar Snyder in black.

The house was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns by Edward Helms.

At the appointed time, the Wedding March played by Mrs. William Holt ceased, and Rev. Noble Lucas officiating, pronounced them man and wife.

At six o'clock a wedding supper was prepared by Mrs. Jarbo and all the trimmings. Those present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jarbo, Mr. and Mrs.
Lyman Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Cox and children, Mrs. Ethel McGuire,
Mrs. Ella Acree and Edward Helms.

Following the wedding supper, the bride and groom left for Indianapolis, Ind. to spend their honeymoon.

cording to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. The meeting was held on the second floor of the John R. Coppla Store.
The group was guests of the store for lunch at Lang's.

General and practical spring style trends were discussed by Miss Tracy Davenport, clothing specialist, University of Kentucky. She discussed the desirability of selecting clothing that is conservative and attractive.

The following clubs from Boone County were represented: Bullittsville, Burlington, Constance, Florence, Grant, Hebron, New Haven, Taylorsport, Verona and Walton.

GOAL OF 5500 SET BY SCOUTS

FOR YEAR 1940—CAMPAIGN TO BE CONDUCTED IN BOONE, KENTON AND CAMPBELL
MARCH 25 TO APRIL 8.

The Boy Scouts' "sponsoring memberships campaign" will be conducted in the Boone, Kenton and Campbell county districts from March 25 to April 8, it was announced in the annual report of the Northern Kentucky Council of the Boy Scouts.

Chairman Dan Schwartz of the council's Finance Committee reported the "most successful campaign in the council's history in 1939. The 1939 total of sponsoring members was 4262. The goal for 1940 has been set at 5500.

Mr. Schwartz reported that for the fifth consecutive year the council closed its fiscal year with all bills paid and no deficit.

Twenty-one new troops organized, a total of 96.
A total of 2424 boys served.
The council's financial record included four small districts, complete with committees and commissioner staff.

The alumni organized with successful reeducation ceremony.
Monthly council publication,
"Nimrod," established.
Advancement improved by 2.5 percent over 1938.

New field executive added to council staff, making the arrangement of four field divisions complete.

Three Wall-Ga-Zhus.
Forty-one courts of honor.
Three expositions.
New standard constitution and by-laws approved by executive board.

Plans completed and approved for payment of council indebtedness created prior to 1935.
Two new camp sites acquired.
Outstanding service in flood duy, traffic service and clothing and shoe collection.

DR. W. E. TAIT TO MOVE

To meet the demands of his constantly increasing practice, Dr.
W. E. Tait, one of Northern Kentucky's leading optometrists plans to move March 1, from 5 East 8th
St., to the Doctors Building, 27 East
Seventh St., Covington.

Dr. Tait will have offices on the ground floor. The new location will enable him to have a larger reception room, as well as more space for other departments, including examining room and workshop.

UNION LADIES TO GIVE OYSTER SUPPER FEB. 22

The Ladies' Aid of the Union Baptist Church will sponsor an oyster supper at the Masonic Hall in Union, Feb. 22. The menu will consist of oyster stew, pie and coffee.

The supper is being given for the purpose of raising funds to rebuild the Union Baptist Church.
Come and bring your friends.

W. M. S. MEETS

The Bellevue W. M. S. held their monthly meeting at the Bellevue
Baptist Church last Wednesday.
Due to the bad weather there was very small attendance. However, those there enjoyed a very interesting meeting.

THIRD DISTRICT BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT OPENS WEDNESDAY

Hamilton and Walton Draw Bye In First Division—All Games
To Be Played at Night.

The opening game of the 33rd
District Basketball Tournament will be called Wednesday night,
February 28th at 7:00 p. m.
(Central Time) at the new high school auditorium, Burlington.

Drawing for playing positions was held at Burlington Monday afternoon of this week, with the following results: A teams, Hamilton, bye; Hebron-Florence, New Haven-Burlington, Walton, bye.

In the B division the Burlington drew a bye, New Haven will play
Hebron, Walton will battle with Hamilton, and Florence drew a bye.

Jim Beersdorfer and Bob Colwell have been selected to officiate at all the games.

The first game will be played at night, beginning promptly at time scheduled, according to tournament officials. Three games will be played on Wednesday and Thursday nights and two games on Friday and Saturday nights.

Basketball fans in this district are looking forward to one of the most exciting tournaments in many years, due to the fact that all teams in the county are fairly evenly matched. Hamilton, winner of the Boone County Conference trophy, still remains the favorite with many fans in the county, even though their team was weakened when three of their players were injured in an accident at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Jan. 21st.

Burlington, with 4 games in the win column and six on the lost side are believed to be one of the "dark horses" in the tournament, along with New Haven which has won only one conference game and lost eight.

Florence, now holding fourth position in the league standing have always turned out a tournament team, and during recent games has shown much improvement.

Walton, holding second position in the standing has won six games and lost 3. The Bearcats won first position in the tournament last year, and always display a good brand of basketball.

Most fans believe it will be a toss-up as to who will win the county tournament, and most fans believe the team getting the most "breaks" will emerge champions.

If inclement weather continues everyone is "warned not to drive automobiles to the school building as the road has not been completed, and, course, is very unsafe for auto travel in wet weather. Plenty of parking space is available along the main streets and persons can use the newly constructed sidewalk for travel from the schoolhouse to cars.

All necessary plans have been completed to make the tournament a success, so come and give your favorite team the support they deserve.

Gayety Theater News

Tonight and Friday
"Ninotchka," which will be at the Gayety, presents the Swedish star in whimsical situations and brilliant dialogue under which runs a dramatic story. Melvyn Douglas is her leading man for the second time, having first played opposite Garbo in "As You Desire Me." Ina Claire, Bela Lugosi, Felix Bressart, Sig Ruman and Alexander Granach are listed among the players. The locales are Paris, Moscow and Constantinople.

A little girl hearing a big name made her motion picture debut in "What a Life," Paramount's screen treatment of the Broadway high-school comedy hit.

Inna Gess, young niece of Mor-rice Gosdard, producer of "The Miracle" and other classic stage spectacles, appears in the film which co-stars Jackie Cooper and Betty Field and features John Howard, Janice Logan, Lionel Stander and Hedda Hopper.

Sunday and Monday

There is never a dull moment for the young lady who dally answers all of the telephone calls which come to extension 1427 at the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios.

She is Janet Kay, secretary to Robert Taylor and she was his diplomatic representative during more than 500 strange telephone calls which came for the star while he was making "Remember?" with Greer Garson.

Tuesday and Wednesday

The biggest troubles in the making of "Another Thin Man," were the little ones.

Forty-nine babies were gathered together for several scenes in the picture, the greatest number of infants ever used on one set in the history of Hollywood, and during three days of shooting prop men, electricians, camera crew and everyone, including Director W. S.
Van Dyke II and the picture's co-stars William Powell and Myrna Loy took lessons on the care of infants while walls, gurgles and the "glub" language filled the big sound stage where the scenes were being shot.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Banker, of Hebron announce the engagement of their daughter Margaret to Mrs. Harold Gilmore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gilmore, of Overbrook, Kansas.

The marriage will take place sometime in June, it was stated.

TRUTH

As great a statesman as was George Washington, the tale of the famous cherry tree seems to be the foremost reminder of his existence. This incident serves, in many a classroom, as a moral lesson for youth, impressing upon them the value of truth. So does outstanding statesmanship, stewardship, and keen legislation give way to a cherry tree, an axe and a child whose truthfulness made a moment in history.

Should we deal with the subject of truth as if it was a rare qualification in the make-up of a man? The sense of truthfulness is dominant in the character of the average man in Boone County. A sense of fairness leads one in this path. Square shooting you may call it, fair business practice industry may label it, fidelity says the moralist, honesty quotes the prover, conscience lectures the pulpit, but however you name it, the foundation is TRUTH.

There is always a discussion of just how far one can carry truth and lose friends and injure people. There is a stage when the cry of diplomacy enters the picture. To be entirely candid means a trouble house and the argument for a little white lie is used as a stop-gap for hurts and disfavor. There is a way of managing to speak truthfully with consideration for another's feelings. There is a certainty that George Washington could not have cut the figure he did in politics without the clever manipulation of diplomacy and the ability to handle a situation strategically. We are of the opinion that it was also necessary for the statesman Washington to use his axe at various times during his administration!

upper corner to form the handle part. This unique turn affords the dunker comfort without soiling his fingers or burning them. They tell us of a millionaire a generation ago who asked his butler to leave the dining room so he wouldn't see his employed dip his bread in the gravy. The bakers of the nation plead for those vitamins in the juices that remain on the plate. Sopping is the way to get them up. Families may not conduct this sopping and dunking act but few are the households in Boone County that don't have one at the dining table.

OBITUARY

Josephine Riddell, daughter of Joseph and Eliza Marshall Riddell was born Dec. 11, 1876, departed this life, Feb. 11, 1940, aged 63 years and 2 months. She was married to James A. Riley April 26, 1893. To this union were born three children: Clara Almarney, her husband and daughter survive her. She is also survived by her son-in-law Robt. S. Hensley; one grandson Howell Riley Hensley; one granddaughter Mrs. Marvin Ligon, all of this county; one niece Mrs. Bertha Dickerson; one nephew John Setters, both of Nashville, Tenn. She had one sister, Mrs. James Setters who preceded her to the grave ten years ago.

She united with the Union Baptist Church in her early twenties and when she moved to Bellevue thirty-four years ago, she brought her membership to the Bellevue Church and has been a useful and faithful member until her death.

Mrs. Riley was a good neighbor and a friend to all, always ready and willing to render her assistance at any time. Her kind, loving manner made everybody her friend. We can say of her, "Precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints."

The funeral was conducted at the Bellevue Church Tuesday afternoon Feb. 13th at 2 p. m. in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Rev. Raymond Smith, pastor of the church had charge of the funeral, assisted by Rev. William Smith. The songs were rendered by Mrs. Zora Scott and Rev. R. Smith.

The pallbearers were Judge N. E. Riddell, A. B. Renaker, Frank Walton, John Edward Walton, Elmore Ryle and John Setters. Burial in Bellevue cemetery.

Chambers and Grubbs had charge of the funeral arrangements.

IMPROVED
UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Lesson for February 25

STEWARDS IN THE KINGDOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 25:14-27.
GOLDEN TEXT—Well done, thou good and faithful servant.—Matthew 25:21.

Christ is coming again! This is the message of Matthew 24 and 25, which is the background for the lesson of today. Here we also learn of the end of the age. To many it seems that the time cannot be long before that great and fateful day breaks upon this chaos which we call civilization. These two chapters contain much important prophetic truth, but in studying our lesson we must turn ourselves to the one fact that when Christ does come again we shall be called to give an account of our stewardship.

Men are prone to think of their life as something accidental. They are here and they seem to have certain abilities and opportunities which they may make use of or not as they choose, and then when the time comes they expect to leave this world, in which they have sought primarily for pleasure and ease, and go out into eternity without any special responsibility. The theory of life was undoubtedly prepared by the devil and is promoted by him for the purpose of destroying the souls of men.

I. Christ Makes Men Stewards of His Goods (vv. 14-18).

All men are stewards, for it is evident that our Lord has given to each one of us ability and opportunity to serve Him. The unbeliever who entirely rejects or ignores His responsibility before God will have to answer for His failure to follow and serve Christ. So will the professing Christian who denies his profession by his works have to answer for his hypocrisy. Every true Christian likewise must stand before the judgment seat of Christ and be judged for the work he has done in the flesh.

The Lord has committed to each man responsibility according to his ability. God is not unreasonable. He does not demand that which is beyond our capacity. He gives to each one the amount of His goods which he is able to manage, and then it becomes his responsibility to use those goods diligently and faithfully.

II. Christ Will Return for a Stewardship Accounting (v. 19).

Life is far from a meaningless existence without responsibility and ultimate accountability. Christ is coming again, we know not when, but we know that He will come. What answer will you and I give Him when He asks us to account for the goods He has left in our care?

We all aware as we are that there are those who scoff at the thought of Christ's return. The Bible told centuries in advance that we should expect such an attitude of unbelief, and it also told why men scoff at this truth, namely, because they are "walking after their own lusts" and are "willingly ignorant" of God's Word (see II Peter 3:4).

What a solemn indictment that! Let us see that it does not apply to us. Let us rather be among those who are "looking for that blessed hope, and the glorious appearing of the great God and our Saviour Jesus Christ" (Titus 2:13). In preparation for that day let us obey His admonition, "Occupy till I come" (Luke 19:13). We may as well stand ashamed in His presence in that day.

III. Faithfulness Brings Reward, Unfaithfulness Results in Judgment (vv. 20-27).

The man who because of special ability had received five talents had a great opportunity to serve his Lord, and he did so with courage and fidelity. So also did the man who because of lesser natural endowments received two talents. Both made the most of their opportunities and were equally faithful, and also received equal rewards. We shall not be judged on the basis of the greatness or the limitation of our opportunities, but rather by the use we make of them. That fact should encourage the one who is by circumstance or calling confined to a limited field, while it should solemnize and stir the greater faithfulness the one who has been given great opportunity. Observe that the reward for doing one's work well is not retirement and a pension, but more work (v. 21).

What about the man with the one talent? Apparently he yielded to the ever-present temptation to be hurt because he did not receive as much as the others (vv. 24-26). Instead of appreciating the kindness of his Lord in not burdening him with more goods than he was able to care for, and doing what he could with what he had, he hid the talent in the ground and went about his own business. Such rebellion and carelessness naturally brought forth the reproof of the master and judgment (see vv. 29, 30).

As You Reap

"Whatever a man soweth that shall he also reap. He that soweth sparingly shall also reap sparingly."

Even though money doesn't bring happiness he is willing to be slightly unhappy for a period. Many a local home might copy the Hollywood stories and decorate a house for "rooding purpose."

HISTORY—Mrs. G. E. M. suffered headaches and neckaches. Her neck ached so intensely at the base of the skull she could hardly see. Days at a time she could not get out of bed because of the severity of the pains. She read one of our ads, telling of the good work we are doing, and decided to see what we were doing, decided to see what we could do for her. After a very short time wearing surgical shoes, pain in the head and neck lessened till finally it disappeared entirely and she is well and happy. It is now possible for her to do her own work even when it is necessary for her to climb stepladders. Surgical shoes seemingly worked miracles for her.

COMMENT—Strain on ligaments and tendons naturally has a weakening effect upon muscles. Continued neglect of these conditions may be the cause of your aches and pains in the neck and back, and you have been unable to get relief, come in and let us see what we can do for you. If your ankles are weak and you are constantly rolling them, surgical shoes are definitely the answer to your problem.—Adv.

CAREFUL STUDY URGED OF PROPOSED CHANGES IN KENTUCKY BANK ACT
A careful study of Senator Lee Gibson's proposed amendment to the Kentucky banking laws, known as Senate Bill No. 149, was suggested at the State Capital this week to farmers and small merchants who borrow money from time to time.
"The people of Kentucky should be informed," according to a statement made at Frankfort, "that Senate Bill No. 149 contains the following provisions:
"1. Interest on loans, plus an 'investigation' charge of $1 for each $50 borrowed, may be collected in advance. For instance, if a farmer or small merchant makes a $200 loan for a year he may be required to pay $12 interest and $4 'investigation' charge in advance, actually getting a loan of only $184. The additional 2 per cent 'investigation' charge is unnecessary, in effect extra interest, because banks usually have the family history of everybody in their community.
"2. Repayment of loans 'in uniform weekly or monthly installments' is required. Farmers and merchants do not get their incomes in regular weekly or monthly installments. The farmer must wait for payment due on the sale of his crops. The merchant must wait for payment largely on what he sells to the farmer.
"3. Up to $2,000 may be loaned to any person, company or firm with an advance collection of interest and 'investigation' charge. Any farmer or merchant who can make a $2,000 loan should be able to get it at the regular interest rate without any advance deductions from the principal of the loan.

"4. Interest may be collected for the full contract period of a loan, even though the loan is paid off in advance. For instance, if a farmer or merchant borrows $200 for a year and pays it off in six months, he still may be charged interest on that loan for twelve months.
"The Federal Trade Commission recently ordered motor car manufacturers to cease using the term 6 per cent in their advertisements for the sale of automobiles on the installment plan when the 6 per cent interest was actually deducted in advance, because it did not represent the true interest rate charged purchases of cars.
"Under Senator Gibson's proposed amendment the same conditions objected to by the Federal Trade Commission may occur in the making of loans.
"This whole subject of smaller loans, which farmers and merchants especially require from time to time, is so important to thousands of citizens all over Kentucky it should be given the most careful study and consideration."

SOD SAVES SOIL AND WATER ACCORDING TO GOVERNMENT BULLETIN
How sod saves soil and water in the Ohio Valley is discussed in a U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin just received at the Technical office of Soil Conservation Service.
The bulletins, by Kenneth Walton, assistant regional conservator for the Soil Conservation Service, was written especially for farmers in Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee. It was prepared with the assistance of the CCC camp staff, at Walton, Kentucky.
The sub-headings of this farmers' bulletin indicate the information it contains. Its 29 pages include discussions on the following: From Forest to eroded land; sods in meadows and pastures; profit in worn-out meadows and pastures; restoring row-crop land to pasture; how to establish sod; pasture management for soil improvement and increased yields; pasture for hogs and poultry; sod in cultivated fields; meadow strips in rotations; green manure; winter cover; grassed drainage-ways; diversion ditches; sod in orchards; sod on eroded areas such as long stream banks, in gullies, along highways, and on blowouts and sand dunes; sod for use by wildlife; fertilizers and soil amendments; and a list of the common and scientific names of plants referred to.

Clipping results obtained at the Soil and Water Conservation Experiment Station at Zanesville, O., the bulletin relates how corn land of 12 percent slope lost 63 tons of soil to the acre, while a good grass sod lost practically no soil. Water run-off was eight times as great from the corn land as from the sod. Water stored in the soil, the author says, is available for plant growth and cannot cause erosion.
Copies of the bulletin, "Saving Soil With Sod in the Ohio Valley Region," may be obtained free of charge from the office of Ward T. Darnell, CCC Camp Superintendent at Walton, Kentucky.

WE WANT YOU TO FEEL AT HOME wherever good beer is sold

The Brewing Industry realizes that decent, respectable people prefer to patronize decent, inviting places.
And we agree with them.
That is why we are taking action—in cooperation with law enforcement authorities—to "clean-up or close-up" beer retail establishments that disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions.
To do this we have instituted a new self-regulation plan now in operation in a few states and being extended as rapidly as possible.

We think you will be interested in knowing something about this program. May we tell you about it in an interesting free booklet?

COMMISSIONER'S SALE

Commonwealth of Kentucky
Boone Circuit Court
J. S. Tanner, et al., Plaintiff versus James Francis Tanner, et al., Defendant

NOTICE OF SALE

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Boone Circuit Court rendered at the December Term thereof 1939 in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale on the premises, near the house located on Tract No. 1, three miles from Florence, Ky., Saturday, the 2nd day of March 1945 at two o'clock P. M., Eastern Standard

Time or thereabout, upon a credit of 6 and 12 months, the following described property to-wit: ("and most generally known as the "B. H. Tanner Home Place")
TRACT NO. 1—Lying and being in what is known as the Point Pleasant neighborhood, this county, and being a portion of the tract of land owned by Alonzo Gaines at the time of his death, and designated in the division of what is known as "the Cochran Tract" for sale, as "The Third Subdivision of the Cochran Tract" and is bounded thus: Beginning at a stone on the dirt road that is an extension of the Price Pike, a corner of Darby and Tanner, then with Darby's line N. 48 degrees, minutes, E. 144 poles and 11 links to a stone Darby's corner 10 feet south of a maple and N. 70 W. of a four-pronged Honey Locust—then with a line of the second subdivision of the Cochran tract S. 44 E. 46 3/4 poles to a stone with the Christy Corner, 14 links from a cherry and 14 links from an elm—then S. 42 E. 48 9-10 poles to a stone and Elm, a corner with Sep Foster—then with said Foster's line S. 47 3/4 W. 144 4-10 poles to a stone in the aforesaid road in the Tanner line, then with said road and line N. 41 1/2 W. 57 46-100 poles to the beginning containing (87 7-10) Eighty-seven and seven-tenths acres.

TRACT NO. 2—Beginning at a stone a corner of William F. Tupman in the Limburg and Anderson Ferry Turnpike. Thence with a line of said Tupman N. 47 3/4 W. 1693 feet to a post on a branch, a corner of said William F. Tupman, Scott Walton and also a corner of J. A. Hollis' remaining tract of land. Thence with a line of said remaining land N. 41 1/2 E. 1399 feet to a stone a corner of George Darby. Thence with Darby's line S. 40 1/4 E. 1331 feet to a stone on a branch. Thence S. 24 1/2 W. 1271 feet to the place of beginning, containing Forty-four and one-fourth acres (44 1/4 acres).

TRACT NO. 3—Lying and being in Boone County, Kentucky: Beginning at a stone in the line of W. E. Walton at the forks of the Limburg and Anderson Ferry turnpike and the Price Pike continued at the western corner of the Darby tract of land; thence N. 40 W. 2300 feet to an end post; thence with a line of Scott Walton N. 49 3/4 E. 1083 feet to an end post on a branch, thence with a line of B. H. Tanner, S. 47 3/4 E. 1693 feet to a corner of said Tanner on the Limburg and Anderson Ferry Pike; thence with said Pike S. 24 1/2 W. 1453 feet to the beginning containing 54 3/4 acres.

In making said sale the Master Commissioner will sell in the following manner: He will first sell Tract No. 1 as a unit. He will then offer Tract No. 2 and Tract No. 3 as separate units. He will then offer Tract No. 2 and Tract No. 3 as one unit and the bid or bids producing the most money so far as Tracts Nos. 2 and 3 are concerned shall be accepted by him and shall be a sale.

For the purchase price, the purchaser must execute bond, with approved surety, bearing legal interest from the day of sale, until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

CALL A CAD A CAD—

By an exaggerated sense of good fellowship and ways of the gentleman, the great majority of American sportsmen are still playing sucker to a none too small minority of "game hog" hunters.

This was driven home by the recent hunting season when the usual underbrush tales of illegal exploits seemed just as rampant as before all the campaigns of public enlightenment.

You, as the sportsman who frequents the woods and fields, know the stories:

The staunch citizen and self-styled sportsman returns from his big game hunt with a fine mouse trophy. Secretly he whispers to his friends that two other mouse were shot before he got a head worth keeping. "Oh, well, the natives needed the meat. The trip required a lot of time and expense. The devil with limits!"

A certain type farmer who has been complaining about depredations by hunters posts his land surely, blantly declaring "No Hunting." Then when the season opens he invites in his select friends and tells them to go to it. It's his property. His land produced the game. His grain fed it. The devil with limits!

The metropolitan hunter hastens to the best pheasant cover at the opening gun. The birds are plenty and he stuffs his hunting coat far beyond its legal capacity. Back home neighbors gather around to admire his prowess and hear the alibi for the extras. Someone else would have gotten them anyway. He has only two days to hunt during the entire season. Think he's a sap? The devil with limits!

It's time that the real sportsmen who are footing the conservation and restoration bill call a halt to this sort of stuff. The part of the good fellow and gentleman can be carried too far. By the very fact that we listen to these "smart aleck" accounts of undetected violations without at least giving vociferous protest means that we are condoning and fostering such spirit!

No matter how valuable the instrument of education may be for eventually inducing respect for the game laws, you can't laugh off the need for rigorous enforcement if any game restoration program is to be effective. There is a peated axiom, "an animal saved is no greater truth than the oft repeated that an animal made. When a wisecracking minority practices a doctrine of the devil—limits much more or all of the constructive measures of the majority, are futile.

And when real sportsmen tolerated and suffer this minority destruction by an exaggerated sense of good fellowship they are chucking all for a mess of pottage!

It is not for us to say that there were more game law violations this year than ordinarily, numerically speaking, but certainly there were enough. It is quite possible that better hunting conditions have reassured dormant game hog tendencies, though we would hesitate to opine on this. But from the parts of the United States and Canada come sorrowful notes from conscientious hunters telling that the game hog and alibi slayer has been prevalent.

What to do? The answer according to some is for every individual to act as a self-appointed game warden. Many who are backing constructive game restoration work by their money and sweat don't feel like pulling punches. They're ready to call the game hog the thief he is and treat him accordingly.

This means in every instance of open violation the reporting of the incident to proper authorities. By what stretch of imagination about gentlemanly precepts can we justify any other action? The man who sneeringly tears down the restoration structure that you have been nurturing deserves no more consideration than the thief who enters your home. Put the sneerers where they belong!

But this does not take care of the big game hunter who selects his head from the dead, the type of landowner friend who has forgotten that game is everyone's property, or the suave slick who thinks the decent sportsman's sap—these who break the laws and then confidently brag.

What to do about this type of vermin? Without calling up anyone courage than it takes to call a cad, a cad sportsman of America could soon dwindle down these "smart-aleck" violators. All that is necessary is a truer rather than a half hearted smoldered axiom, "an animal saved is rather than of "courageous" condemnation, the next time one of your wise guy friends pops off with a confidential tale of how he beat the game laws. Let's quit this business of encouraging and sucking a flock of game violators by being "a good fellow."

That is the only way in the world more effective in keeping the average man to the straight and narrow than censure by his friends. You wouldn't think it clever if one of your friends rected how he had committed a civil crime. Why should you regard a game law violation in different light?

The next time some one tells an underbrush violation story, making his face red when he smirks "The devil with limits, I'm no sap!" answer him with, "The devil you aren't."

11 WESTERN RAILROADS ANNOUNCE TRAIN-AUTO SERVICE OVER BIG AREA

An entirely new travel service, consolidating the high speed of the modern railroad train with the mobility of the private automobile, will be inaugurated May 1st by eleven leading Western railroads.

Complete arrangements for this train-auto service, which will place 2000 current model 5-passenger sedans at the disposal of railroad passengers in more than 150 key cities throughout the West, have been made between Railway Extension, Inc., and the following rail lines:

Burlington Lines
Chicago and Eastern Illinois
Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific
Chicago and North Western Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis & Omaha Great Northern Illinois Central Northern Pacific
Rock Island Lines
Santa Fe System Lines

Union Pacific Railroad
Announcement of the new "train-auto" service was made by Hugh W. Siddall, Chairman of the Trans-Continental-Western Passenger Associations, on behalf of the participating railroads. He said the service was a railroad answer to the prayer of the traveler who likes the mobility of an automobile at certain points but dislikes driving the long intermediate distances.

The magnitude of the project is emphasized by the fact that the railroads participating represent a total of more than 100,000 miles. Railway Extension, Inc., is headed by Edw. M. O'Shea and R. H. Rogers of Lincoln, Nebraska, pioneer automobile distributors in that state and experienced operators. Main headquarters of Railway Extension, Inc., will be in Chicago, with branch offices in many Western cities. It is understood that several popular makes of automobiles will be used in the equipment set-up and that current models will be supplied each year.

Under the train-auto plan, Mr. Siddall explained, a traveler may leave his home town, or after reaching the key city where he wishes to engage it. Advance reservations will, of course, assure the car being available when wanted. Railway Extension representatives will meet the passenger upon arrival of his train, where final arrangements are made.

The basis of rates for the automobiles, which includes gasoline, oil, and maintenance as well as insurance protection, will be as follows:

Per a mile, subject to following minimum mileage:
Per hour—10 miles (80c).
Per 12-hour day—75 miles $6.00
Per 24-hour day 135 miles $10.80.
Per week 350 miles ($28.00).
Per 10-day day after 1st week 50 miles ($4.00).
65c a mile subject to minimum of 100 miles per week ($65.00).
The rental will be the same whether one or five persons occupy the automobile. Where passengers do not have an identification card, a cash deposit will be required.

Illustrating how the train-auto plan will prove economical as well as convenient, Mr. Siddall cited the following example for its operation:

Mr. A and Mr. B have occasion to visit a spot located 50 miles from a city 500 miles away. Using train-auto service, Mr. A goes out by train one night and returns the next. His rail fare for the 1000-mile round-trip is $18 if he uses comfortable chair cars; about $66. If he travels in Pullman, he pays $9 rental for the 100-mile automobile trip.

Mr. B on the other hand, drives all the way, spending a day going out, a day there, and a day returning. Accepting the figures for private automobile operation, established by industrial surveys, the 1100-mile round-trip costs him about $66. He also must pay for two nights' lodging and three days' meals.

Mr. A is away from his home only one business day and makes the trip at a cost of $30 to $42, including meals and incidentals, while Mr. B is away the office three days and his trip costs double the amount of Mr. A's.

Mr. Siddall said the train-auto plan should prove similarly attractive to many vacationists. Employing fast, air-conditioned trains for traversing the long, intervening distances, they would be able to spend practically all of their vacation at their destination instead of devoting a big part of their time motoring to and from their objective.

Negotiations still are under way between Railway Extension, Inc., and other Western railroads, and it is expected that eventually this automobile service will be available in practically every town of 10,000 population or more throughout the West and South.

Mr. O'Shea, president of Railway Extension, Inc., said that the automobiles to be used for the service would look exactly like privately owned cars, and that 5-passenger sedans were selected because they offered the maximum carrying capacity for passengers and luggage.

"Thousands of people traveling for business and for pleasure would go by train," Mr. O'Shea added, "if they were assured of an automobile at their destination or at stop-over places made attractive by the liberal policy of the railroads. The train-auto plan offers the answer—comfortable, high-speed train service for the longer distances and a private automobile awaiting at the station."

HOUSES FOR REA SHOULD BE WIRED

IMMEDIATELY IN ORDER THAT CONSTRUCTION OF LINE CAN BE COMPLETED, ACCORDING TO COUNTY CHAIRMAN.

All houses that have been tagged for line construction should be wired immediately, according to Will Smith, County R. E. A. Chairman. This is very important in that three-fourths of the houses on the line must be wired or constructed to be wired before the line will be constructed.

A number of farmers who have signed up for electricity are waiting until the line is constructed before planning to wire. This will only delay construction of the line. Every house that is tagged will be served by electricity. Co-operators agreed to wire their houses and to use electricity for at least one year when they signed their membership agreement.

The Cooperative Association is anxious to protect the interests of all members to the fullest extent. This can best be done by every signer making plans to have his house wired immediately after the construction crew tags the house.

The R. E. A. offers rural people one of the greatest material improvements in recent years. The large majority of people want electricity at the earliest possible date, while the line will not be constructed until three-fourths of the signers have contracted to wire, the line after construction will not be energized until two co-operators per mile have wired their houses. Each consecutive part of the line will be energized as soon as signers have met their requirements.

Mr. Smith states that most signers have shown a splendid cooperative spirit in routing the line through their farms. More than half of the line has already been staked and with two staking crews working the entire line will be staked in about two weeks.

Help get electricity turned into the line at the earliest possible date. Contract to have your house wired as soon as it is tagged.

HOOP SCHEDULE COMPLETED FRI.

WHEN HAMILTON DEFEATED NEW HAVEN AND HEBRON LOSES TO WALTON IN CLOSE OF BOONE CONFERENCE.

The Boone County Conference schedule was completed Friday night when New Haven was entertained at Hamilton and Walton visited the stronghold of the Hebron five.

Hamilton marked up their sixteenth straight victory by defeating New Haven five by a 39 to 30 count. This game marked the 10th conference victory for the Farmers.

Walton visited the Hebron hoopers, and returned home with another victory to their credit. The score was 33 to 22. This victory gives Walton a total of 7 victories with only three defeats in the Boone County Conference.

The result of Friday night's games changed the standing in the conference causing Hebron, Florence and Burlington to be tied for third position, each team winning four games and losing six.

Burlington journeyed to Warsaw Friday night, defeating the strong Warsaw boys by a score of 36 to 28. This victory, according to fans is an indication that Burlington will be strong contenders for the 33rd District championship, as the Warsaw team has displayed a good brand of ball all season, and have defeated several teams in this, and adjoining counties.

Florence suffered defeat Friday night at the hands of the Crittenden quintet by a score of 30 to 36.

Florence Couple Celebrate 59th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Jones, of Florence celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary Sunday at their home.

Mr. Jones is 81 and his wife 77. They are well known throughout Boone County and have both been very active in the growth of the community in which they reside.

Those present to enjoy the celebration were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry F. Jones and granddaughter, of Erlanger; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Jones and grandson, of Aurora; C. L. Stephens and wife of Deer Park Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. John W. Aylor, daughter, two sons and grandson, of Big Bone; Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Moore, of Union; J. L. Jones and wife, of Union; Miss Amelia Reib, of Cincinnati; Mrs. Sally Miller and daughter, of Walton; Scott Jones and wife, of Union, and Misses Ann and Helen Jones, of Covington.

Music Training Class Schedule For March 5th

Music leaders of the Homemakers and 4-H clubs are invited to attend a training class next Tuesday, March 5th. The meeting will be held at 1:00 p. m., Central Standard Time, at the Burlington school, according to Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent. The class in conducting group singing will be led by Miss Florence Cattadoris of the University of Kentucky.

BOONE FARMERS LEAD IN D. H. I. A.

DURING MONTH OF JANUARY—CHIEF AIM OF LOCAL DAIRYMEN IS TO OBTAIN INTELLIGENT SELECTION IN CULLING.

Despite the fact that 31 percent of the total number of cows on test in Boone County during the month of January were dry, Boone was still the leader of the five counties in the Northern Kentucky Dairy Herd Improvement Association in butterfat production, according to Cyril Luckett, D. H. I. A. tester. Three Boone County members of Boone, Carroll, Shelby Association are not included. Boone County's 151 cows on test gave an average of 430 pounds of milk, testing 5.0 percent; for an average of 21.9 pounds of butterfat per cow for the month.

Mr. Albert Parker had the second high cow in butterfat production in the association for the month of January. "Old Mouse" produced a total of 55.6 pounds of butterfat.

Dr. R. C. Garrison boasts the fact that of the three cows in the Association producing more than 50 pounds of butterfat for the month of December, two of them were his. His herd average production for January was 491 lbs. of 4.9 percent milk, giving an average of 24.1 pounds of butterfat per cow (dry cows included) which is very good considering the fact that 7 of his 17 cows (or more than 40 percent) were dry. Dr. Garrison hopes to win the next year, prove his present herd sire "Meteor's Lad," son of the famous "Brookwood Meteor" of Berea College through comparisons of individual cow records of dam and daughters in his own herd.

Much, we believe, is lost in this section by not maintaining a good herd sire. Not everyone can afford to buy proven herd sires, but every one should "shop around" and try to buy and raise in expensive bull calves with good production behind them—enough production to materially increase the production of their herd.

The chief aim of the Boone County D. H. I. A. members is to obtain, through their individual cow records a sound basis for intelligent selection and culling, thereby building their herd to a more profitable basis.

Large Group Attends Landscaping Meeting

Spring care of shrubs, trees, roses and the lawn were discussed by members of the landscape leader's training class last Saturday afternoon. Nineteen members and visitors were present, according to Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent.

The class was conducted by Mr. N. R. Elliott, landscape architect, University of Kentucky. Mr. Elliott outlined the methods used to select native trees and shrubs for the home lawn.

Plans were made to hold the next class the latter part of April.

The following people have landscaping demonstration projects attended the meeting: Mr. and Mrs. Jake Cleek, Mrs. John L. Vest, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Chambers, Mrs. Frank Hossman, Mrs. Vernon Pope, Mrs. W. O. Rector, Mrs. Bertha Conrad, Mr. James Huey, Mrs. Sam Sleet, Mrs. Elmer Peeno, Mrs. Charles Engle, and Mrs. Garnett Tolin.

John Hammann

John Hammann, retired carpenter of Erlanger, who took up residence in that section when three homes stood on the site, died unexpectedly Thursday at his home 426 Commonwealth Ave.

He had been ill only two weeks, when he succumbed to a heart attack. He was 69.

He is survived by six sisters, Mrs. Anna Lotz, Mrs. Mary Bissell, Mrs. Margaret Otto and Mrs. Bernadine Lewis, Cincinnati; Mrs. Elizabeth Muench, Ft. Thomas, and Mrs. Christine Vogelsang, Erlanger, and a half-brother, Harry Fisher, Erlanger.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 8:30 a. m. at the Tallaferrero funeral home, with Requiem Mass at 9 a. m. at St. Henry Church, Elsmere. Burial was in St. John cemetery, Cincinnati.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of Philip Tallaferrero, Erlanger.

Howard C. Garnett

Howard C. Garnett, 60, of Hebron passed away suddenly of a heart ailment at St. Mary Hospital, Cincinnati, Wednesday.

Mr. Garnett was well known in Boone County and northern Kentucky, having been a grain inspector for the Cincinnati Board of Trade for many years.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Josie Garnett; one daughter, Mrs. Frank McGlasson, of Constance; one sister Mrs. Charles Goodridge, of Covington, and six brothers, Walter Garnett, Hebron; Fred Garnett, Constance; Charles Garnett, Covington; Cullum Garnett, Erlanger; Jerry Garnett, Bromley, and Carl Garnett, Ludlow.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. at the Hebron Lutheran Church at 2:30 p. m. Saturday, with Rev. H. M. Hunter, officiating. Burial was in Hebron cemetery.

Bullock & Catherman, Ludlow funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

2,800 QUAIL FOR DISTRICT

BOONE WILL RECEIVE NOT LESS THAN 400 BIRDS—SPECIAL MEETING CALLED FOR MARCH 7TH.

Several members of our Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association met with a delegation from six other counties in Newport, Sunday, Feb. 25, for the purpose of discussing the restocking of quail this spring.

Steve Wakefield, assistant director of the Fish and Game Commission of Frankfort was present, and told the group that the seven Northern Kentucky counties were allotted 2800 birds for planting in April. This means that each of the seven counties will receive not less than 400 birds, and it is possible Boone may receive more than this number.

Courtney Kelly, one of Boone County's outstanding sportsmen, has been selected to distribute the birds that will be received here on April 6th.

Edwin Johnson, district conservation officer, was appointed to manage the distribution among the various counties.

A special meeting has been called by the Boone County Club for Thursday night, March 7th at 7:30 p. m. at the courthouse, for the purpose of electing new officers for the coming year, as well as planning the distribution of the quail in April. All persons interested in receiving quail for stock are urged to attend this meeting and take part in the planning.

James J. Smith

James J. Smith, of Beaver Lick passed away Wednesday of last week at the home of his son, J. D. Smith at the age of 77.

He is survived by two sons, J. D. Smith of Beaver and Frank Smith, of Warsaw, and two daughters, Mrs. Reva Smith, Union and Mrs. Emma Wallick, Warsaw.

Funeral services were conducted at the Hughes Chapel, at 1 p. m. Saturday. Burial was in Beaver Lick cemetery.

Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Hamilton funeral home, Verona.

Mrs. Mattie Jane Dye

Mrs. Mattie Jane Dye, wife of Oliver Dye, passed away Monday at her home near Hebron.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Ola Riddell and Mrs. Flora Dolwick, both of this county; one son, John Hebron; seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 2:00 p. m. at the Hebron Lutheran Church. Burial will be in Hebron cemetery.

Bullock and Catherman will be in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Sarah Dreisner

Mrs. Sarah Dreisner, 67, passed away at her home, Goodridge Drive, Florence Saturday. She had been a resident of this county for many years.

She is survived by one son Frank Bowman, Florence; two daughters, Mrs. Logan Anderson and Mrs. Stewart Anschutz, both of Ft. Mitchell; one son, John Hebron; two brothers, Charles Myers, Lorain, O., and Taylor Myers, Cleveland, O., and three sisters, Mrs. Lacey Ramey, of Harrison, O.; Mrs. Perry Ramey, of Hamilton, O.; and Mrs. Stella Lawrence, Cincinnati, O.

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Covington, with burial in Highland cemetery.

Utopia Club Holds Monthly Meeting

Thirty-four members of the Boone County Utopia Club attended the regular monthly meeting February 22, according to H. B. Drake, Assistant County Agent.

Mr. W. W. Magill, fruit specialist from the College of Agriculture, was the principal speaker of the evening. The possibility of raising northern pecan trees for both nuts and shade was suggested. Numerous other interesting items in connection with small fruits were discussed by Mr. Magill. Refreshments were served by the Burlington group.

Courtney Pope, of Bellevue was a business visitor in Burlington Monday.

Attend Tobacco Pool Meeting Monday

H. E. White, S. B. Sleet, Mark Cook and H. R. Forkner, County Agent, attended the Burley Tobacco Pool meeting held at Georgetown on Monday, February 26th.

Plans were made for the holding of a general meeting on the pool organization at the Experiment Station at Lexington on Wednesday, March 6th, at 10:00 a. m. All tobacco growers who can conveniently do so are urged to attend this meeting.

Burlington School Fumigated Wednesday

Due to the fact that there has been a few cases of scarlet fever in the school in the past few weeks, tournament officials stated Wednesday that the Burlington school building was fumigated just before the opening of the games to add to the safety of those desiring to attend the tournament games.

The sale advertised in this paper styled Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation vs. Bryd A. McCord was called off on motion of the Plaintiff, according to A. D. Yelton, commissioner.

LOCAL FARMERS RECEIVE $25,000

IN ACP CHECKS THIS WEEK—REPRESENTS ONE-HALF OF CHECKS IN COUNTY FOR 1939 COOPERATION.

Approximately $25,000.00 in A. C. P. checks have been distributed to the county this week, according to John E. Crigler, Secretary-Treasurer of the Boone County Association. This amount represents about one-half of the checks in the county for participation in the 1939 program. The remaining checks are expected within the next few weeks.

Meetings have been held by committeemen in 10 communities for distributing checks and signing farm plans. These plans contain a brief outline of the 1940 program and when signed indicate the operator's intention of participating in the 1940 program. All plans must be signed by April 15 if farms are to be checked by supervisors this summer.

A. C. P. Phosphate Should Be Ordered

Anyone in the county desiring ACP phosphate this year should order it immediately, according to reports received at the local ACP office. Thirty-eight thousand (38,000) tons of phosphate furnished by T. V. A. were used in Kentucky during the entire year of 1939. To date 1940 orders in the amount of 25,000 tons have been received in the State Office. Indications are that the supply will be very limited in the latter part of the year.

The rush of orders has no doubt been influenced by the early closing of the 1940 farm program. The program year ends August 31 this year while in other years the closing date has been October 31st. In addition, the payment for grass seedlings has been reduced, so farmers expecting to earn their soil-building allowance must use large amounts of limestone and phosphate. Payment for the use of these materials has been maintained at previous levels.

Mr. John E. Crigler reports that large orders for phosphate are being placed daily. Anyone desiring phosphate for use this year should contact the county office soon if they have not already done so.

Lexington Tobacco Market Closes With Average Of $20.63

The Lexington tobacco market closed Friday with an average for the day of $20.63. The number of pounds sold the last day was said to be 101,140, which totaled the growers $20,866.

OUTMODED

We recently noticed a list of popular books for the young readers and observed that the name of Horatio Alger, Jr., was missing from the listed lot. The passing of the Alger series, famous books of the yesterdays, is not surprising when you recall that these stories of boys who rose from rags to riches belonged to the period of the late 1800's and the years of the World War. Alger influenced the lives and opinions of many of the youths of that day, and even though the series was so alike that after reading one you had practically covered the entire lot, many were the Boone County lads who read and enjoyed the complete works. The lives of the heroes were tales of virtue and riches going hand in hand and the characters usually had a fairly easy time of it. In the present world of business success is not so easily attained and too often perseverance and courage do not receive the rewards deserved. We are less apt to find the Alger type of holding true today, the road is not as smooth as fiction might paint it. The most enterprising of our modern youths have a difficult time finding opportunities for expression of their talents. But the same is true today as when the Alger books were in favor, does youth dream of success and not failure. Read the biography of many of the richest men and you find their early life surrounded with poverty and hardships. It is stimulating and inspiring to young courage to read of the leaders who have risen from rags to riches by the process of sink or swim. They may outmode the Alger books with modern biography and fiction but the characters all have an equal hope and spunk to tackle the job.

The age of chivalry has not passed, for when a few of our colleges add emphasis to courses in good manners for men, it goes without saying that all is not lost in the field of etiquette. This return to manners is sponsored by colleges and universities throughout the country. The modern version does not deal so much with hat doffing and bowing as with motor manners, dating conduct, smoking, shaving and so on. The informal rules being laid down can be conducted successfully in any home. No intelligent man would neglect to follow them if he wishes to be socially correct. We prefer the college training in manners to attention to gold-fish swallowing!

REBUILDING

Florida was hard hit by the severe cold and the many growers of this state are attempting a comeback through a vigorous replanting campaign. Many agencies have stepped forward to lend assistance in the rebuilding of the citrus fruit market that has been struck a nasty blow. The vegetable market, especially the bean crop, has suffered through the killing frost. The housewife will discover the amount of damage done. There is always the business of mending, patching, cleaning and rebuilding, after a disaster and the growers of Florida are already busy. They have given time and energy to bring to the markets of the country the fruits and vegetables that decorate the American board. May the sun shine brightly upon them as they go about their rehabilitation program.

FORCED PATRIOTS
A youngster in a grade school was expelled from school because she refused to salute the flag. The procedure causes comment and gets front page space. The child was of a religious faith that disapproved the oath of allegiance. In Germany the matter would not be dismissed so easily for a concentration camp usually follows a disregard for the Nazi flag. The same would hold true in Russia. Does it mean good to expel a child from school or imprison Germans and Russians for "disloyalty"? Is an enforced and commanded salute a sign of patriotism? The fact that a Communist meeting boldly displays the American flag and heartily sings the national anthem does not mean that the heart and spirit is truly American. Demanding loyalty will not make a man a patriot. A false salute is a mockery. Teach the child the meaning of the flag, what it stands for, the value of its protection.

IN THE UPPER ROOM

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 26:17-30.
GOLDEN TEXT—This is in remembrance of me.—1 Corinthians 11:24.

Men sometimes stand at the crossroads of destiny quite unaware of how much hinges upon their choices and actions. One wonders whether the disciples realized that as the Passover drew to its end and the great memorial feast of the new covenant was established, they were witnessing the end of the old and the beginning of the new. It is certain that Jesus did realize the high import of that hour. He knew He was about to go to the cross, toward which the Passover had pointed throughout the centuries and back to which cross we in the Lord's Supper continue to point as we remember His death.

We are indeed on holy ground as we go with Him then as He meets His disciples alone in that upper room for the time of fellowship with them as He observes

I. The Last Passover (vv. 17-20).

"Here we see the perfecting and the passing of the old economy and the beginning of the new. The Passover was reserved, the feast of deliverance from slavery, the feast of the exodus, the feast of hope. Men had kept it fitfully through the long centuries, regularly at first and then occasionally through the ages of decadence. The King sat down to keep it as one of the nation and the people. That was its last keeping in the economy of God, because all that had been of old was fulfilled as He sat at the board, and all that had pointed to found the ultimate fulfillment in Him. He completed that of which the exodus had been the preparation. The final exodus came by the way of that cross to which He was going" (Dr. G. Campbell Morgan).

II. The Betrayal Predicted (vv. 21-25).
What precious fellowship the twelve and their Lord must have had around that table in the upper room as they celebrated the great feast of the Passover. What a shock came to them as in the midst of this fellowship Jesus quietly and solemnly made the astonishing prediction, "Verily, I say unto you that one of you shall betray me."

Their joy was changed to exceedingly great sorrow as they asked, "Lord, is it I?" Apparently Judas had maintained such outward conduct as to turn no suspicion in his direction, even though all along he had in his heart the blackest of treachery against his Lord. It is a sad and soul-searching fact which is here revealed, that it is possible for one to make a high profession of faith in Christ and even so to live as to give no cause for criticism, and yet to be unregenerate and in fact the enemy of Christ.

Observe (v. 24) that while Jesus was betrayed and went to the cross a fulfillment of prophecy, that fact did not in the slightest justify His enemies who brought it about (see Acts 2:23, R. V.).

III. The First Communion (vv. 26-30).
Taking the unleavened bread and the unfermented wine of the Passover, which had just been observed by Him for the last time, Jesus established a new feast, the Christian feast of remembrance, which we commonly call "communion" or "the Lord's table."

As we have already suggested, it is a feast of remembrance. "For as often as ye eat this bread and drink this cup ye do show the Lord's death till He come" (1 Cor. 11:26). At the Lord's table His followers find spiritual strength in remembering His death for them, and they also find joy as they remember that He is to come again. In doing so they testify to the world that they believe in and cherish these truths. This feast is also rightly called "communion," for down through the ages and until He does come the saints of God have at His table sweet communion, first of all with Him, and then with one another.

We also note that our Lord spoke of the cup as "my blood of the new testament." The word "testament" means "covenant." The Lord's table therefore speaks of our allegiance to Him, of our loyalty to our Lord, and our devotion to His service. The Christian church therefore speaks of the communion service as a sacrament, a word taken from the Latin sacramentum, meaning "oath," and essentially an oath of allegiance.

His body was broken for us. His blood was shed for the remission of our sins. We are bought with a price, we are not our own. Therefore we are to glorify God with all that we have and are.

Examples Wanted
Whether in the home or in the church, exhortation to goodness is about the most idle waste of breath. People do not want exhortations. They want examples.—Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick.

Posture From The Ground Up

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT
9th and Madison Covington

The shape of the body is maintained by a frame work of bones fastened together at the points by ligaments. Muscles attached to the bones by tendons help to hold the bones in place and move the movable column of bones known as the spine or backbone is the great supporting center of the body.

From the ground up, body balance depends upon the even distribution of weight about an imaginary center axis. Whenever you move, many different sets of muscles, bones, and joints function as levers in adjusting the weight masses of the body so that you can keep your balance. While standing or sitting, movement may be so slight that it is barely noticeable. In playing strenuous games, such as tennis or football, thousands of adjustments must be made at high speed.

The feet play a very—very—important part in body balance, as they support the entire weight of the body both in standing and in moving and hold it upright against the downward pull of gravity.

Feet—distorted in shoes and weak shanked shoes, that do not hold the bones in posture—make it impossible to maintain body balance. Unbalance can cause many ills and distress in remote parts of the body. Backaches, headaches, and even nervousness or poor digestion may be caused by the shoes you are now wearing.—Adv.

The following clubs have organized foods project groups: Walton Club, Florence X-L All Club, New Haven Boosters Club, Willing Workers, Verona Club, Burlington Blue Ribbon Club, Hebron "Northeast Champion" Club, Taylorsport Club.

KENTUCKY HAS FIVE NEW MASTER FARMERS

Kentucky has five new Master Farmers, selected by The Program, Farmer magazine, the State College of Agriculture cooperating. The five men and their wives were recognized in a special ceremony during the recent Farm and Home Convention at the University of Kentucky. Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Baskett of Henry county own 600 acres of land, most of which is in rotation pasture of grasses and legumes, and plowed only once about five to eight years. They raise sheep, cattle and hogs and grow tobacco, corn, lespechea and orchard grass seed. They live in a house built in 1854, now modernized and valued at $30,000.

After renting 12 years Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hancock of Union county purchased a farm for $44,000. That was 13 years ago. They now are out of debt. They own 785 acres and operate 1,200 acres, and feed 600 head of cattle and 200 hogs a year. The productive fertility of the farm has been increased 25 percent since the Hancocks took possession of it. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Maynard of Todd county own a 190-acre farm that has been developed to a high state of fertility, is well fenced and equipped with good buildings, including a modern home. Instead of buying more land, the Maynards purchased bonds and other paying investments.

With cows, sows, sheep and hens, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mookman Jr., of Breckinridge county are finding markets for clovers, grass, corn and soybeans on 1,100 acres of land. They have an income from beef cattle, sheep, hogs, tobacco, lespechea seed and wheat. Every acre has been limed, and phosphate and clovers used to increase fertility. Mr. and Mrs. Mookman live on the farm where Mr. was born, and where his mother, his grandfather and great grandfather lived.

With all of their 250-acre farm in rotation pasture, with all of it limed, with 142 acres phosphated, and all covered in winter corn, Mr. and Mrs. Carl R. Whaley of Fleming county continue to build up the production of their outer Bluegrass farm, thus laying the foundation for increasing yields of tobacco, corn and other crops, and for the production of more cattle and sheep. Hogs and dairy products also add to the income. The home, built 77 years ago, has been remodeled and modernized. In addition to operating this farm, Mr. and Mrs. Whaley find time for Sunday school and church to help in 4-H club work, and to engage in other community activities.

KENTUCKY FARMERS TO GET PARITY PAY ON 3 CROPS IN 1940

Parity price adjustment payments on corn, wheat and cotton will be made to Kentucky farmers who plant within their 1940 Agricultural Adjustment Administration plan.

Payment will be made on the normal yield of each product, acreage allotment where a product acreage is established for the crop grown. Wheat parity price payments will be made to commercial wheat growers throughout the state. Parity payments to corn growers will be limited to the 12 counties of the state which are included in the commercial area, and cotton parity payments will be made in the 10 counties where cotton acreage allotments are established.

Rates of the payments are: corn, 5 cents a bushel; wheat, 10 cents a bushel; and cotton, 1.55 cents a pound.

These price adjustments, authorized by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1933, are in addition to the previously announced conservation payments to be made in 1940 on the production of these crops by farmers cooperating with the 1940 Agricultural Conservation program.

The total payments on these crops in 1940, combining conservation and parity rates, are: corn, 15 cents a bushel; wheat, 19 cents a bushel; and cotton, 3.15 cents a pound.

Parity payments are to be made from a special appropriation which provided $225,000,000 to be paid to producers of the five major special allotment crops in 1940. The act appropriating money for these payments provides that they be paid if the 1939 market prices of these commodities are less than 75 percent parity. Since the 1939 market prices of tobacco are more than 75 percent of parity no price adjustment payments will be made on these crops in 1940. Conservation payments of 1 cent a pound on burley and 1.2 cents a pound on dark types of tobacco will be made, however.

OUTLINES CARE OF LAWNS IN SPRING

Suggestions for the spring care of lawns, given by N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist for the Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Leaves and trash should be immediately removed, if they were not removed in the fall. The average lawn needs grass seed during February or early March. A high-grade Kentucky Bluegrass seed spread 3 to 4 pounds to every 1,000 square feet of surface is best.

About the last of March, lawns should be seeded with White Clover, an ideal companion plant for Bluegrass.

The severe freeze in January left the ground rough. It should be rolled as soon as it is dry enough.

Where crab grass killed Bluegrass last year, the dead grass should be raked up and removed. Then give a heavy Bluegrass and White Clover seeding. Additionally, during the last of March a light sprinkling of Italian rye grass will give covering for the ground, and serve as protection for the other grasses.

The application the last of February or shortly thereafter of a complete fertilizer, 3 to 4 pounds per 1,000 square feet of surface, will benefit damaged lawns. Top-dressing with good soil also will aid. If soil is used, it should be applied after the lawn is rolled, in late March or early April. Ten bushels of topsoil per 1,000 square feet of surface, scattered from a shovel, is desirable.

PIE CRUST

When rolling pie crust on a porcelain top table, grease the top with lard before you sprinkle the flour on it. This makes it easier to roll out the dough and also to pick it up when rolled. You can roll out crust on waxed paper. Another hint is to roll graham crackers to a pulverized stage and sprinkle on board instead of the flour. Roll the crust in this and you will find it helps to keep a filling from soaking into the crust.

Income Tax Blanks Available At Office Of County Clerks

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 26.—Kentucky individual income tax blanks are now available in the office of the county court clerks and the county agents for those persons who have failed to receive a return and who may be required to file a return for 1939.

All residents of Kentucky, or persons earning income in Kentucky, who are married and receive a gross income of $3,000 or a net income of $2,500, or who are single with a gross income of $1,500 or a net income of $1,000, are required to file a return. Single persons having a family head status are governed by the same filing requirements as for other single persons. All corporations doing business within the State must also file a return.

Although the Department of Revenue has mailed out blanks to those who are known to be required to file a return, other persons coming within the description of the law are not relieved from filing by a failure to receive a blank. Blanks may be obtained from the Department upon request.

4-H Home Economics Project Groups Select Leaders

Project groups have been organized in nine community 4-H clubs during the past two weeks, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. GIVES CONTROL FOR TOBACCO DISEASES

Two applications of bluestone-lime mixture to plants in the bed will control wildfire and blackfly of dark tobacco, according to a leaflet published by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. During the past few years wildfire has been destructive in plant beds in Western Kentucky and, following topping and suckering, blackfly has damaged much tobacco. The leaflet tells how to make and apply the bluestone-lime mixture, and also discusses the choice and management of soil for tobacco, fertilization, cultivation and topping. Copies may be had from county agents or by writing to the College of Agriculture.

4-H CONSERVATION PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

The Adair County Sportsmen's Club is offering a free trip to the annual 4-H club conservation camp at the Louisville Boy Scout ground in August. One hundred 4-H club boys in Kentucky, selected by county farm agents and county conservation clubs, will attend the camp.

The College of Agriculture at Lexington, county farm agents, the League of Kentucky Sportsmen and county conservation clubs are cooperating in a 4-H club conservation program to enroll 4-H club members and their parents in protecting song and game birds and other forms of desirable wildlife. Trees are to be planted, feed crops grown, shelters provided and bird enemies destroyed.

WEEK'S BEST RECIPE

Penuche Roll: 2 cups dark brown sugar, 1 cup granulated sugar, 1 cup milk, 1/4 cup cream, one-eighth teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup chopped nuts. Boil (stirring often) sugars, milk, cream and salt. If it curdles this will beat out the curdling. A soft ball stage remove from stove and let stand 20 minutes. Add vanilla and beat until creamy. Shape into a two-inch roll, sprinkle with nuts and wrap in waxed paper.

FAMILY DOCTOR

Take a teaspoonful of sugar soaked in vinegar when having an attack of hiccoughs. This is for a simple case. Consult your doctor when hiccoughs are prolonged. To keep a bruise from turning black and blue, apply some sweet oil to the surface. Bath tired feet in a solution of two handful of salt to a basin of hot water.

In Lee county forestry program, locust and black walnut seedlings are popular.

Mouse Injury To Trees Destructive

Fruit producers should observe their orchards very closely this time of year to detect injury to trees by mice, W. W. Magill stated Friday in fruit meetings held at T. W. Rice's and Hubert Conner's. Mice are usually very destructive this time of year, particularly after so much heavy snow. Their presence may be detected by runs in the orchard and by examining the trees near the base. It is almost impossible to save a fruit tree after it has been girdled. Mr. Magill said, Destruction of the mice is the best safeguard. This may be accomplished by locating the mouse "nests" and placing poison in them.

Fifteen fertilizer demonstrations have been started by farm leaders in Madison county.

Adair county farmers have put in an order for 150 tons more of superphosphate. In Gallatin county, more than 3,150 sheep listed in the sheep protective association.

Gives Methods To Save Chilled Lamb

A new Kentucky College of Agriculture circular called "Lambing Time," says that one of the most effective ways to revive a lamb that is not too badly chilled, without predisposing it to pneumonia, is to rub it briskly with a cloth and wrap up, head and all, by rolling it over and over in two or three gunny sacks. When the lamb is rolled in the sack is removed it will leave an opening through which the lamb can breathe.

Try to get some milk into the lamb before wrapping it up. Put the ewe on her side and squeeze some milk from a teat into the lamb's throat while holding its mouth open. If too far gone to take the milk, the lamb should be left in the sacks until it begins to kick or move about and should be taken out and helped to nurse and placed back in the sacks and left to dry. When it is sufficiently revived it usually will come out of the sacks of its own accord. It then should be helped to nurse.

Where the lamb is too badly chilled to be revived by wrapping up, it may be immersed, all but the head, in water as hot as the hand will bear until it becomes active. Then rub it dry with a cloth get some milk in it and wrap in gunny sacks, blanket or sheep felt. Leave sufficient opening at end next to head so that the lamb can breathe.

It is not advisable to take a lamb to a warm room or near a stove, as it may take pneumonia when returned to its mother, the circular points out.

FLORENCE X-L-ALL AGRICULTURAL CLUB MEETS

The Florence X-L-All Agricultural club held their first meeting Feb. 12. We met at the school with Mr. Dixie and Mr. Porter present and thirty-five members in attendance.

The following officers were elected: President, Irvin Dringenberg; vice president, Ohna Burton; secretary and treasurer, Arthur Tappan and Ohna Burton.

Other leaders and captains were elected and it seems as though each member is ready for this work. We hope they will continue throughout this year. We will take in new members at our next meeting which will be about three weeks. So all who wish to join, come to the next meeting.

SHEEPMEN IN FORTY COUNTIES ORGANIZE

Sheepraisers in 40 Kentucky counties have organizations to insure their stock, help enforce the dog law and otherwise promote the interests of the sheep industry. Nearly 4,000 farmers have about 225,000 sheep insured. The average insurance premium is 10 cents a head, but varies from 3 to 25 cents.

The oldest association is in Mercer county, where 475 farmers have insured 23,000 sheep at a cost of 3 cents a head. The newest organization is in Greenup county. Only two county associations last year failed to collect enough insurance premiums to pay for all losses, according to the Department of Markets and Rural Finance in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, which has drawn up standard by-laws for cooperative sheep associations.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

As part of their winter-spring program, Jefferson county homemakers helped pay for a piano for the Old People's Home. Mrs. H. Swain was chairman of the committee in charge. Another project has been cooperation in sponsoring a county chorus.

Furniture painting has been studied—and applied—by Kenton county farm women who wish to improve their homes at low cost. How to select colors, mix paints, antiquing and stenciling were studied under experts, and several on-the-spot demonstrations conducted.

In Logan county, a farm leader supplied purebred Duroc gilts to 4-H club members. The club members have in turn agreed to let him select pigs from the first litters. In this way, boys and girls who could not immediately pay for the gilts are enabled to take part in the better livestock campaign.

Shelby county farm leaders recently met with homemakers' club officers to launch a better garden campaign. With food prices seemingly going higher, it was suggested that this spring should see more gardens, and much larger gardens, in the county. Hundreds of gardens with 15 vegetables each was set as the goal.

V. M. Heath of Marshall county bought in Warren county a purebred bull to head his grade herd. Several other farmers have bought purebred sires to cross with grade cows, with the purpose of selling the baby calves on the early market.

Walter Story, a Christian county

Negro farmer, grew 872 pounds of tobacco on an acre plot of land. This was 222 pounds more than the AAA allotment for the acre. The crop followed crimson clover, and 250 pounds of high-grade fertilizer were spread.

TAYLOR COUNTY MAN PRODUCES CHAMPION TON LITTER OF PIGS

Hubbard Shreeves, a Taylor county farmer, has been declared the Kentucky champion hog raiser for 1939. In competition with several hundred farmers in a state ton-litter contest, he made 13 grade pigs weigh 2,680 pounds when 164 days old. The pigs brought $6.15 a hundred and returned a profit of $69.57, despite the low price.

Three of the pigs were raised on the bottle, and in order that they might never miss a feed they went along when the family made occasional trips to town, and had their milk in the car while members of the family shopped, according to County Agent C. V. Bryan. The litter had access to running water, was self-fed and slopped three times daily, and had range that had not been used for hogs for two years.

Mr. Bryan says that practically all hogs fed the ton litter way in Taylor county made money for their owners. Most farmers, he says, have reduced the hog feeding time from 11 or 12 months to 6 months, and bring their hogs to market condition rapidly with the assistance of pastures, skim milk and supplemental feeds.

"Ton litter contests continue as one of the most important mediums for encouraging better hog raising methods," declares Grady Sellards of the Kentucky College of Agriculture. "Men who enter ton-litter contests serve as their own instructor—see for themselves how it is done and what the results are. Practically all ton-litters returned a profit last year."

Try A Want Ad—They Sell

POISON

There is always danger in having a bottle of poison on your medicine shelf. Any bottle containing a poison should be noticeably marked. The best way is to fasten a small bell on a cord around the neck of the bottle. The jingle will remind you of the bottle's contents. Keep furniture polish and cleaning fluids away from the young prying hands, for they are dangerous when used as a drink, and some children will try them!

Gayety Theater News

Tonight and Friday (Double Feature)

There will be a double feature for these two nights, "Day the Bookies Wept," and "In Old Caliente." Both pictures are very entertaining.

"He's coming along fast after a flying start! That's what folks are saying about Roy Rogers, the personable young cowboy star whose latest musical western for Republic "In Old Caliente" will be shown tonight and Friday.

In addition to the two permanent members—pretty Mary Hayes and comedian George "Gabby" Hayes—Roy has a splendid supporting cast including Frank Puglia, Katherine De Mille, Jack La Rue, and Harry Woods.

Saturday

With Richard Dix and Gail Patrick playing the romantic leads, Radio's "Reno" features the notable supporting cast including Anita Louise, Paul Vavanagh, Laura Hope Crews, Louis Jean Heydt and Hobart Cavanaugh.

The story of "Reno," concerns a young lawyer who settles in the Nevada city in 1905. When the town, then a mining community, faces extinction following the collapse of the industry, the attorney takes advantage of a little known state law liberalizing divorce requirements. Before long he brings prosperity to himself and to the city which becomes known as the divorce capital of the world.

A new serial will begin Saturday night, "Zorras Fighting Legion," which will furnish plenty of entertainment for those serial lovers.

Sunday and Monday

Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell are co-starring in "Day-time Wife," 20th Century-Fox's gay story of the hilariously romantic carryings-on of a husband who goes whistling under the wrong balcony (his secretary's) and a perfect peach of a wife who rests on her oars (but not for long). Like a woman, Linda's wondering if, like a man, Tyrone's wandering, she's right! It plunges them into a series of intriguing situations, handled with just the right touch under the direction of Gregory Ratoff. Featured in the cast are Warren William, Bonnie Barnes, Wendy Barrie and Joan Davis.

W. M. U. NOTES

The W. M. U. and Ladies' Aid Society of the Union Baptist Church met on Feb. 20 in the home of Mrs. Austin Gschwind. The morning session was opened by singing the W. M. U. hymn for the year, "How Firm a Foundation," and the repeating of the watchword. Mrs. James A. Huey then led in prayer. The minutes of the last meeting were read and the roll called. We then entered into the business period of the day, at which time it was decided that our prayer service for Home Missions would be held at the church on March 6. At the close of this session Mrs. Ann Smith dismissed and gave thanks for our most delicious lunch.

The afternoon was devoted to the giving of our program topic, "The Commission to Carry On." The program consisted of: Song, "Come Thou Almighty King."

Repeating Watchword, Devotional, "The Missionary Heart," Mrs. Edith Hedges. Talks: "The Call to Witness," Mrs. Dorita Rouse.

"Power for the Task" Mrs. Kirtley McWethy. "Early Witnesses," Mrs. Ruth Mason, Mrs. Anna Smith. The Witness of Good Will Centers, Mrs. Austin Gschwind.

Dismissal Prayer, Mrs. Anna Bristow.

The next meeting is to be held in the home of Mrs. Omer Black.

The big questions of the minute don't bother us as much as the big answers of the moment.

NOTICE

On March 1, 1940, the undersigned as guardian of Samuel B. Walton will file a special settlement in the Boone County Court. 11-17

RABBIT HASH HOMEMAKERS

Last Tuesday the 13th the regular monthly meeting of the Rabbit Hash Homemakers was held at the cream station despite the inclemency of the weather that particularly day seven members and two visitors were present, including our Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Mary Hood Gillespie.

The meetings were called to order by Mrs. Mary Wilson, acting president, pro tem. Roll call was answered by the members, each responding by giving some household hint.

Mrs. Ida Mae Ryle then gave us a very interesting talk on flowers. She said there were so many varieties of flowers that it was so easily grown that every homemaker should plant several kinds. She added that she got a pleasure out of watching them grow, and urged all members to make a special effort to plant flowers, and if they could not have them in the yard to plant them in the garden as flowers may be used in many ways in adding attractiveness to making the home a more pleasant place to live.

After lunch the lesson for the day "Kitchen Storage" was given by Mrs. Opal Kelly in a very interesting manner.

The visitors for the day were Mrs. Roy Padgett and Mrs. Robert Smith, whom we were very glad to have with us.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Opal Kelly.

Mrs. Minnette Stephens.

HEBRON HOMEMAKERS

The Hebron Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Laura Newland on Feb. 14th with eleven present. Mr. John Gardner and Mrs. Hack are having an all-day meeting to organize "Live at Home Program." Our foods leaders Mrs. Jesse Hossman and Mrs. David Pope will attend. Mrs. Pope was selected to take Mrs. Myrtle Casper's place in the style meeting at Coppins.

Mrs. Hossman gave an interesting lesson on Landscaping. We had our fourth lesson on the "Modern Kitchen." The leaders gave a fine lesson on back-savers. Statistics prove that as much as 45 percent of a homemaker's day is spent in the kitchen. We are learning to arrange our kitchen so as to save time for other duties. Our next meeting will be at Hebron school. Everyone is welcome.

Too often a girl won't say yes, until she looks up her financial rating.

FIRE DESTROYS STOCK BARN

OWNED BY SAM BLACKBURN AND ROBERT UTZ—STOCK, HAY AND TOOLS INCLUDED IN LOSS.

Fire destroyed the large barn of Sam Blackburn and Robert Utz near Burlington, Saturday afternoon. The fire was caused when the barn was struck by lightning. The fire started during the severe electrical and rain storm Saturday afternoon. The building was blazing all over before the fire was discovered. The Hebron fire department was called and several people from Burlington and surrounding territory rushed to the farm but were unable to control the blaze.

Sam Blackburn, one of the owners stated Monday that their loss would be probably $3300. The building was insured for $4000.00 in the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co., of Boone County. However, no insurance was carried on the livestock, hay and other small items lost in the fire.

Destroyed in the blaze Mr. Blackburn said were 75 tons of hay two hay frames, 1 mile, eight sheep, three cows, 30 chickens, 4 sets work harness, pitchforks, hay rope and other small items.

Several head of sheep and other livestock were saved by the efforts of Mr. Blackburn and Mr. Utz. Two cows and one male were led from the blaze, besides a number of sheep which were saved. Saving the livestock was very dangerous work, according to Mr. Blackburn as the barn was a roaring inferno before being discovered.

Two of the cows lost were thought to have been killed by the bolt of lightning which struck the barn.

A. D. Yelton Improving From Recent Operation

A. D. Yelton, Circuit Court Clerk of Boone County is convalescing nicely from an appendicitis operation last Wednesday. Mr. Yelton was rushed to Christ Hospital Wednesday morning following an attack Tuesday night.

His many friends throughout the county wish for him a speedy recovery.

FINE HERD SIRE IS PURCHASED

BY BOONE COUNTY JERSEY ASSOCIATION—AS ONE OF THE LAST SONS OF THE PROVEN SIRE RIGHT ROYAL DESIGN.

The Boone County Jersey Bull Association purchased a fine young herd sire from Perry B. Gaines of Carrollton on last Tuesday, February 27th.

The bull is one of the last sons of the proven sire Right Royal Design No. 351913, and out of Fairy Queen Handsome Gem No. 842504, that has five straight Dairy Herd Improvement Association records that average more than 500 pounds of butterfat per year.

This is one of four herd sires owned by the association members. Two of these bulls are being proven this year through the U. S. Department of Agriculture Dairy Herd Improvement Association record program.

The Association organized in 1932 on a cooperative basis of purchasing the best young herd sires obtainable. Each member of the association raises sufficient heifer calves to prove the breeding ability of herd sire used. Only the best sires are retained and these are exchanged by members. All members carry regular D. H. I. A. testing work.

Through the Association plan of production record keeping, close culling and use of proven herd sires, members have been able to build up one of the finest and best breeding stock obtainable. Present members of the association are Robert Youell, Ludlow, Ky., R. 2; R. B. Huey and Son, Burlington, Ky.; Route 1, and Jesse Wilson, Verona, Ky., Route 1.

Mr. Lloyd Guiley and son, of Union were in Burlington on business Tuesday and stated that Mrs. Guiley has the measles. Mr. Guiley is just recovering from a recent illness which lasted several weeks.

Burlington Girl Suffers Severe Burns

Miss Geraldine Yelton, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Yelton, suffered severe burns about her face and hands when a stove in which she was building a fire exploded, at their home in Burlington.

She went to the stove to rekindle the fire, pouring crude oil into the stove where some live coals still remained. As soon as the oil struck the coals an explosion followed.

Miss Yelton's hands and face were severely burned. The explosion blew the caps off the range and the stove pipe out of the chimney. She is reported to be convalescing nicely at her home.

Dr. Gladys Rouse Returns From Florida

Dr. Gladys Rouse, Florence, returned home this week after spending six weeks in Florida to recover from a recent illness. Dr. Rouse stated that she is much improved and will resume her practice at once.

PIN BALL GAMES ORDERED OUT

BY SHERIFF F. M. WALTON—COURT DECIDES MACHINES ARE GAMBLING DEVICES IN RECENT RULING.

Sheriff F. M. Walton has notified all persons who have pin ball machines, punch boards or other machines or contrivances in their place, whereby one who plays or operates the machine or contrivance may receive more at one time than at another, to remove the machines, otherwise they will be confiscated, and the person who has the machine in his possession will be arrested, and is subject to a fine of from $250.00 to $500.00, and may also be confined in the penitentiary for certain violations. The Court of Appeals of Kentucky has decided these machines are gambling devices. The Court says: "The chief element of gambling is the chance or uncertainty of the hazard. It is not essential that one of the parties to the wager stands to lose. The chance taken by the player may be in winning at all on the throw, or in the amount to be won or lost and the transaction should be denounced as gambling whenever the player hazards his money or property on the chance that he may receive something of greater value than he hazards. If he is offered the uncertain chance of getting something for nothing, the offer is a wager and is gambling."

Not only is the owner or operator of the machine guilty and subject to heavy fines, the instrument but the person who uses the machine is also guilty of gambling and subject to a fine and imprisonment.

Young Democrats To Meet Monday, March 11

The regular monthly meeting of the Young Democratic Club will be held at the Burlington courthouse on Monday, March 11, 1940 at 7:30 p. m.

We would like to extend a special invitation to all Democrats of the county as we are going to be entertained by the Cincinnati baseball club with the showing of the new baseball picture "Play Ball" and will also have the pleasure of meeting and hearing a couple of our friends from Campbell county.

Harris-Rouse

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Harris, of Verona, Ky., announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Kathryn to Joseph C. Rouse, of Florence, Ky. They were united in marriage by Rev. T. C. Crume, Jr., at his home, and were accompanied by Miss Anna Moss Threlkeld, of Flemingsburg, Ky., and Robert Surface, of Florence, Ky.

The bride is a teacher in Ludlow Public Schools and the groom is an employee of Model Food Store at Walton, Ky. They will be at home to their friends at Walton, Ky., after April 1st.

Rev. Paul B. Clark, of Covington preached at the Bullittsburg Baptist Church last Sunday and fill the pulpit there again Sunday, March 17th.

WALTON WINS DIST. TOURNEY

BY DEFEATING NEW HAVEN AND FLORENCE—NEW HAVEN WINS CHAMPIONSHIP IN CLASS B DIVISION.

Walton Bears took first honors in the 33rd District Tournament held at Burlington Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. The Florence Knights were runners-up and will both play in the Regional tournament at Simon Kenton this week.

The first game of the 33rd district tourney was played between New Haven Reserves and Hebron Reserves. New Haven won by a score of 28 to 13. Judge was high point man for New Haven with 13. The second game of the tourney was Walton vs. Hamilton Reserves, with Walton emerging the victors by a count of 24 to 17. Welsh led the attack for Walton with six while Jones scored seven for Hamilton.

The third game of the evening was Hebron vs. Florence, first team with Florence finishing on top by a score of 48 to 29. Dringenberg and Haun each scored 11 points for the winners, while Randall collected 11 for the losers.

Burlington went down to defeat Thursday night in the opening game when they were defeated by the New Haven Reserves by a score of 26 to 22. Marion King was high point man for the losers with eight points.

In the second reserve game of the evening, Walton defeated the Florence five by a score of 19 to 18. This game was hard fought throughout.

Burlington Tomcats suffered defeat in the final game of the evening by a score of 39 to 38. This was said to be one of the most interesting games of the tournament. Walton was high point man for the Tomcats with 11, while Townsend scored for the winners collected 17.

Hamilton Farmers, rated as the best team in the county, and picked by many to win the tournament, were defeated in the opening game Friday night by the Florence Knights by a count of 31 to 29. Florence led the Farmers at the half by a score of 20 to 11. Miller, Hamilton forward was high point man with 10, while Dringenberg collected 14 for the winners.

The final game Friday night between Walton and New Haven first teams was another closely contested game, when Walton won by a 34 to 31 count. Judge was high point man for New Haven with 8, while Jones, Walton, scored 12. The final game Friday night between Walton and New Haven was won by the New Haven five by a score of 24 to 17. Judge again led the attack for the New Haven team, by scoring 12 points. Mayhew was high point man for Walton with five.

Probably the hardest fought game of the tournament was the last, when Walton and Florence battled it out for the championship. At the end of the first quarter the score was tied 12 all; at the half Florence led by a count of 25 to 23; and the close of the third quarter Florence was leading by 2 points, and the final score was Walton 40, Florence 37. Dringenberg led the attack for Florence with 12 points, while Pennington was high for Walton, hitting the hoop for 17.

Fans throughout the county state that this was one of the most interesting tournaments held in this county for many years. Practically all teams were fairly evenly matched, and all games were hard fought throughout. A fine brand of sportsmanship was displayed by all participants, and all in all the tournament was a huge success.

In the regional tournament at Simon Kenton both of the Boone county teams will do battle on the opening night. Florence will meet Dayton at 7:30 and Walton will play Erlanger at 8:45. We are unable to give the results of these games as our paper goes to press.

Child Injured In Fall From Bleachers Joyce Sullivan, ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sullivan, of Florence, received a broken collar bone and minor cuts and bruises when she fell from the bleachers at the tournament Saturday night at Burlington.

Dr. Harry Daugherty, of Florence, was the attending physician and reports that she is recovering rapidly at this writing.

Louisville Man Fined $10

William H. Walsh, of Louisville, was fined $100 and costs recently. He was charged with driving while intoxicated and resisting an officer. The charge of resisting an officer was placed on the open docket on recommendation of Nicholas Winterberg, state policeman, the arresting officer. Walsh was arrested several weeks ago by Winterberg, near Florence, and enroute to Burlington jerked Winterberg's gun from the holster, and grabbed the switchkeys. A fight followed with Walsh finishing second best.

Verona Woman Shot Accidentally

Mrs. Mary Hayden, 33, of near Verona was reported in a serious condition from a bullet wound in her chest, which she accidentally inflicted Saturday. Her husband, Henry Hayden found her when he returned home from work according to reports.

STATE READY TO BUILD NEW ROAD

THROUGH BOONE COUNTY, ACCORDING TO LETTER FROM REPRESENTATIVE JOHN S. JUETT.

In a letter received from Hon. John S. Juett, Representative from Boone and Grant counties, he states that the Highway Commission is ready to build a new road through Boone county, to be constructed on or near old U. S. 25, providing that right-of-way deeds are furnished by the state at an early date.

Boone Countians should make every effort possible to obtain these deeds, and property owners along the surveyed route should take into consideration, that after the new highway is built, that their property will be worth many dollars more than heretofore.

Mr. Juett's letter follows: "Boone County Recorder, Burlington, Ky. Dear Sir:

"I am in receipt of a letter from T. H. Cutler, Highway Engineer informing me that the state is ready to start on U. S. 25. Now all that is needed is the right-of-way and this of course, must be taken out by the county. I happen to know that the officials of your county are making a real effort to obtain same, but are meeting with some difficulties. It seems to me that the people from whom right-of-way must be secured should be willing to be reasonable and fair."

"The people of your county and mine have been waiting this road for many years, and now when the time has come to get it, it would be a shame to have it dropped due to the high price of securing right-of-way."

"I will agree that some will be damaged and they should be paid a just sum, but there could never be any progress made in road building if everybody was to be pleased."

"Now, I call upon you to help the people of your county to be reasonable and fair in settling their price for this right-of-way. In other words if it is not secured the money will be used elsewhere in the state and we will have no new road in fact, in another year or two the present one is going to be impassable."

"Sincerely yours, JOHN S. JUETT."

Mrs. Georgia Nead

Services for Mrs. Georgia Nead, who died Wednesday at her home in Florence, following a one-month illness, were held Saturday at the Tallafere funeral home, Erlanger. She was 75.

She was a charter member of the Daughters of America, Erlanger, and a member of the Florence Christian Church.

She leaves her husband, Thomas H. Nead; two sons, John Nead, Plant City, Fla., and Charles, of Burmide, Ky.; two sisters, Sara Quick, Covington, and Virginia Riley, Indiana; two brothers, Peter Beers, Kenton county and Fenton Beers, Oakland, Calif.

Three grandchildren also survive. Philip Tallafere, Erlanger funeral director was in charge of arrangements.

WALTON MAN KILLED BY TRAIN

TUESDAY AT L. & N. CROSSING—CAUSE OF ACCIDENT UNKNOWN—HAD BEEN RESIDENT OF WALTON SEVERAL YEARS.

Frank Whitcomb, age 65 years, was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon by an L. & N. freight train near the crossing in front of Chambers & Grubbs funeral home.

Although the cause of the accident is unknown, as Mr. Whitcomb never regained consciousness it was stated by nearby witnesses that the victim was walking on the tracks facing the oncoming freight. As the train approached the whistle was sounded, but apparently Whitcomb never changed his course. He was thrown to one side of the track and died instantly.

Mr. Whitcomb had been a resident of Walton for several years. He leaves one sister, Mrs. Kathryn Tupman, of Constance.

The body was removed to the Chambers and Grubbs funeral home for preparation. Burial was in Hebron cemetery, Wednesday afternoon at 2:00 p. m.

Warning Issued To Beer Dispensers

The Sheriff of Boone County stated that reports have come to him that beer is being sold on Sunday in this county. He is making an investigation, and if he finds that beer is being sold on Sunday or any other time when prohibited, prosecutions will follow which if conviction is had the guilty person will not only have to pay a heavy fine but their license will be cancelled.

Georgia E. Hisle

Mrs. Georgia E. Hisle, former resident of Bullittsville succumbed at Speers Hospital, Dayton Sunday. She resided on Alexandria Pike, Campbell county.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Richmond, Ky.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Robert Elkin, Mrs. J. Gorwin and Mrs. M. B. Sargent, of Ocala, Fla.; three sons, W. M. Hisle, E. T. Hisle and W. C. Hisle.

CROPS AND FEED MEETING IS SET

FOR SATURDAY, MARCH 9—PROF. E. J. KINNEY, AND E. S. GOOD WILL SPEAK ON PROGRAM.

Boone County farmers have planned an outstanding crops and feed meeting for this Saturday, March 9th, according to H. R. Forkner, county agent. The meeting was planned by farmers thru their county Extension Association Program of Work for 1940. Two outstanding authorities, Prof. E. J. Kinney, head of cereal and crops investigation at the Experiment Station, and Prof. E. S. Good head of the livestock work at the Experiment Station, will speak on the program.

Professor Kinney will speak at 10:00 a. m. central time, on "Crops Problems Confronting Local Farmers." He will discuss broom sedge, wild onions, moss, and weed control problems in pastures and crops. New methods of securing better stands from grass and clover seedlings, best adapted varieties of alfalfa, corn and tobacco will also be discussed.

Professor E. S. Good will address farmers at 1:00 p. m. on "Feeding Problems." In efficient feeding is considered the greatest livestock disease and loss cause confronting livestock producers today. Prof. Good is an expert on special feed and is capable authority on latest and most efficient feeding practices developed in recent years. Minerals grass and clover silage and greater efficiency in use of pasture and hay crops will receive special consideration in his discussions.

The meeting will be held at Burlington courthouse. It will start promptly at 10:00 a. m. and close at 3:00 p. m. The meeting will be important to every farmer and livestock producer. Everyone is invited to attend and all who can are urged to be present.

RURAL RELIGION

"Jealousies and competition blamed for neglecting rural areas." So states a meeting of religious leaders when dealing with the failure of rural churches to convert the folk classes as the small town slum dwellers. They also estimate that about thirteen million youth of school age do not receive religious education in rural areas. This is hard to believe if you judge other communities by Boone county. Any Sunday you will find a goodly number of local children headed for their churches, and is this not representative of other towns and counties like us? It seems to your editor that you would find more young people of the so-called rural areas taking their religion regularly than you would find in the large cities. If for no other reason than public sentiment families in small towns are insistent upon the training of their children in the church. A child's absence is more noticeable and there is more apt to be criticism in a small community, which might pass where your neighbor's religion is a mystery and his morals none of your concern. With the friendliness of the small town goes the mutual interest in church training. The city has its faiths but frequently there is such a separation in thought that the Jones has nothing of the Smith's procedure on Sunday mornings, though they live side by side. The above figures may be true but we believe they do not include many of our own for we are convinced of their devoutness and faith.

WE CARRY ON

tolerant to those not of our faith, we should further neighborhood among our community and try to abandon any dislike we might hold for individuals. It is real job, and not easy perhaps. There were many Americans who celebrated this week with assemblies and services and some of them surely benefited from the feeling of universal brotherhood and tolerance. The organization which started this program has been sponsoring it for six years. Intolerance will probably exist for more than six hundred years! You nor I may stop it perhaps, but if we turn our hearts to being broad-minded we might serve as an influence in this community. Two of the resolutions of the organization are worth remembering and repeating. "Repudiate the idea that those who disagree with me are not good Americans." It is timely. "I will apply the Golden Rule to those of all races and religions and treat them as I should like to be treated."

We are small and maybe minute in this pattern of life and of survival but we may still be influential in overcoming a deal of the world's intolerance and discrimination.

TOO MUCH NOISE

The American Youth Conference in Washington which is discussing on policies which many of them do not understand and trying to solve this country's issues in bewildered ways, have been charged by government agents investigating into un-American activities, that many of these youths are Communist and back by Communists. A large crowd attended the Rectory sale Monday in spite of inclement weather.

KIN-MOTHER

Was it due to the aged jokes about the mother-in-law that influenced the recent change to the new address of kin-mother? Or what effect would such a change have on the individual homes in Boone County? It seems that it is the in-law part that irks and causes distress. But that is rather silly for in many families the in-laws are sometimes closer than one's own blood relations. A mother and daughter disagree, a son and his father will differ and it is considered only usual as in all families. But let the same trouble arise with an in-law involved and someone immediately grabs a pencil to make up a new mother-in-law joke. You can use the new name "kin-mother" and not mean any more if your heart isn't in it!

OUR OWN
It is not hard to work up sympathy for relief for foreign causes. Many hands are busy with Finnish Relief, thousands of dollars have poured in for the cause of Spain, China and Ethiopia and humanity at large. That is fine and is what we expect and are willing and happy to co-operate here in Boone county. But we must be equally receptive when our own country has a cause for our consideration. Many sections have reason to ask for equal sympathy. Do not forget that the benefit planned for the widows and children of the Americans who were lost in the Squalus disaster was called off because of the unconcern of the public.

4-HERS TO USE
Boys and girls who attend the 4-H club camp at Camp Kavanaugh in Oldham county next summer will have an artificial lake in which to swim. The Crestwood Methodist Church, which owns the camp, authorized the expenditure of $600 to build a dam to form a lake 400 by 175 feet. The work was done with the aid of equipment furnished by Forest Smith, manager of the terracing association of the Shelby County Farm Bureau. The Shelby county agent's office coordinated in arrangements.

GETSEMANE: TRIUMPH THROUGH SURRENDER
LESSON TEXT—Matthew 26:36-46.
GOLDEN TEXT—Not as I will, but as thou wilt.—Matthew 26:39.

Surrender brings victory. The world would say that our statement is not true; surrender is the mark of defeat. It is the final chapter in a story of struggle against impossible circumstances.

Against a stronger power, and finally of giving up to accept the bitter sorrow of subjection and sometimes destruction. But again we say, the way of strength is through surrender, for we speak of the spiritual realm and of our relationship to God.

Here there is no victory until there is surrender. In fact, the measure of victory is the degree of surrender. Full submission to Christ means complete triumph for the Christian. The Lord Jesus does not ask us to walk a narrow path which He has not trod Himself.

He went the way of full surrender to the will of God in the garden of Gethsemane. We observe five things about this way of "triumph through surrender." It was

I. A Way of Sorrow (vv. 37, 38). He was exceedingly sorrowful unto death. It was not an easy thing that the Savior did as He fulfilled the will of God in the garden.

We know that no man ever sorrowed as He did on that day, for only He bore the sins of the world. There is, however, a lesson here for us who are His disciples.

If this is the road the Master trod, should not His servants tread it still? The way of victory for us is through surrender!

II. A Way of Self-Denial (vv. 39, 42, 44). Self-denial does not consist in depriving one's self of some little cherished luxury. It means the denial of self, namely, that self which is put aside and God's will is supreme.

It was no "easy thing for Jesus to carry out the Father's will and to go to the cross. He was submitted to that will; yet in this hour of anguish in the garden, when the unspeakable horror of what lay ahead almost overwhelmed His soul, it means much to say, "Not as I will, but as thou wilt, O Father" (v. 39).

It may be a hard thing to do, but by His grace we too may say, "Thy will be done."

III. A Way of Loneliness (vv. 36, 37, 40, 41, 43). There were three disciples with Him as He entered the garden, and their very presence reminds us how very much alone Jesus actually was. There were twelve with Him in the upper room, but one went out into the darkness to betray Him. Eleven came with Him to the gate of the garden, but only three came into the garden with Him. Even then, He prayed and agonized alone, and the three who were near at hand failed Him and slept through the dark hour when He most needed their fellowship in sympathy and prayer.

Alone? If the Master had to walk the way of surrender alone, let no Christian expect that it will be otherwise for him. Let us thank God for every blessing of true fellowship, but let us not be surprised if we are often called to walk alone.

IV. A Way of Betrayal (vv. 45, 46). "He is at hand who doth betray me" "into the hands of sinners." One feels that the cup of the Master is already overflowing without adding betrayal by one of His own, but there it is, a dark and tragic reality. Note with what peace and assurance Jesus goes to meet it. The victory has already been won in prayer in communion with the Father, and in submission to His will.

No one of us will ever know such a betrayal as that of our Lord, but we do face similar crises as we go on in a life of devotion to God's will. We do well to remember the experience of Christ that we be not overwhelmed by the treachery of men, and that we prepare ourselves to meet it with the power and grace of our God.

V. A Way of Divine Fellowship and Blessing (vv. 39, 42). The way of surrender is glorious and delightful way to go. But some one may ask, have we not been talking of sorrow, self-denial, loneliness and betrayal? Yes, but even these things may become the means of blessing if God is in them.

Though no man stood by our Lord in His experience in Gethsemane, the Father was there. Jesus talked with Him, prayed to Him, trusted Him, yielded fully to His will, and the result was peace and blessing. We read in Luke 22:43 that an angel also came and strengthened Him.

And the parched ground shall become a pool, and the thirsty land springs of water: in the habitation of dragons, where each lay, shall be grass with reeds and rushes.—Isaiah 35:7.

There is one thing that isn't frozen up and that's the seed catalogue.

The man who is too lazy to shave always is talking about how tough his whiskers are!

PLATE COVERS
Chinaware stores away collect dust and usually must be washed off rather than wiped. Make a dust cover of oiled silk by cutting top and bottom rounds slightly larger than plate size. Cut side strips by measuring the stack of dishes. Switch strips of side to top round piece and you can snap bottom piece on to the side strips. You do not need the bottom if you would rather not go to this extra work, making the cover to simply slide over the top of the stack. Bind the lower edges with bias tape in this case. You can make this same sort of cover for a cake.

FOOT TEST

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT
9th and Madison Covington

Usually the first sign of foot trouble is the running over of the heels of shoes.

In a strong healthy human foot the 26 bones are held together to form a substantial support for the weight of the body and they are held together in place by strong ligaments, tendons, and muscles. These bones are so arranged that they form four separate and natural arches.

The heel bone and ankle bone lean out of position more or less in almost every kind of foot trouble. The cause is that ligaments, muscles and tendons which hold the heel bone and ankle bone in place, become weakened, and are not strong enough to hold these bones in their normal position.

Backaches, headaches, and many body ills may be traced to feet. Even symptoms like those of rheumatism and arthritis now are being banished with proper shoes. Also nervous indigestion, sleepless nights, etc.—Adv.

HORSEMEN COOPERATE

IN COLLEGE COURSE
Owners and operators of horse farms are cooperating with the University of Kentucky in a College of Agriculture course in light horse production. Practical instruction is given in the selection of land and equipment for light horse raising, in the management of horse farms, and in breeding, feeding, training, control of diseases, riding, driving and the like.

Among horsemen assisting in the course are Major Louis Beard, Ivan Bolding, Ira Dymon, W. Cape Grant, Col. Thomas J. Johnson, Hunter Moody, E. E. Moreland, Thomas C. Platt, Jr., W. J. Harris and W. B. Belknap. Seventeen men and three women are enrolled in the course.

URGES DELAY IN PRUNING SHRUBS
Do not be in a hurry to prune winter-injured plants, warns N. R. Elliott, landscape specialist for the Kentucky College of Agriculture. Usually after a severe freeze it appears as though the plant has been killed, to the ground—and frequently this is not so. Most of the top may be killed, but enough of the plant may be living to put new branches. If, however, the plant is cut off at the ground, it is stunned beyond recovery.

A plant several years old has a big root system, and will make a rapid come-back, says Prof. Elliott. By next year it will have a new top and be better looking than any plant that can be hastily brought to replace it.

KENTUCKY FARM NEWS
Farm program supervisors' reports last year showed 36,400 acres of tame grass and hay in Whitley county. The 1935 census figures showed approximately 10,000 acres. In addition, it is estimated that there are 7,000 acres of wild grass in the county.

A list of growers of certified seeds, recently published by the Kentucky Seed Improvement Association, gives the names and addresses of producers of white and yellow hybrid corns, open pollinated seed corn, tobacco, red clover and potatoes.

Using new plant bed sites will help prevent the carry-over of blue mold in tobacco, says Dr. W. D. Valleau of the Kentucky College of Agriculture. Plant bed sites also should be in the open, where the sun and wind will dry them off early in the morning.

A food survey among Oldham county homemakers stimulated interest in garden and poultry. A county advisory council conduct meetings in a "live at home" program to include larger production of vegetables, dairy products, fruit and meat.

Members of homemakers' clubs in Anderson county have been reading the book, "History of Anderson County," in a home reading course. Consideration is being given to the building of a home-makers' library in the county.

A survey in Hopkins county showed that pork and poultry are the favorite meats on the farm. Comparatively few families butchered hives, and still fewer killed sheep. Practically all families butchered hogs, and many also purchased pork.

WATERLOO
Mr. and Mrs. Bolivar Shinkle returned to their home in Petersburg Saturday.

E. E. Clore visited the Kite-Brown family Sunday.

Mr. Wes Kittle and daughter were Thursday guests of Kermit Mallicoat.

W. J. Newhall left with his father and nephew Sunday morning for a stay in Florida.

The REA surveyors tagged all the houses in our burg last week, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Purdy and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Bachelder and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Pope were Sunday guests of the Hood family in Constance.

W. G. Kite and Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Purdy attended the funeral of their aunt, Mrs. O. P. Dye, at Hebron Thursday.

Mr. Addie Ryle is visiting her granddaughter and family here. Lawrence Pope has been the guest the last few days of his son, Clifford.

GRANT COUNTY SUBSCRIBER

SENDS ARTICLE FROM

RECORDER 47 YEARS AGO

The following article was sent to this office by B. D. Adams, of Crittenden and was taken from an issue of The Recorder 47 years ago:

Hathaway
Mr. and Mrs. Merchant, of Grant county are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Aurie Adams, of this neighborhood.

Harry Presser and wife, S. H. Marshall and wife, B. D. Adams and wife, N. H. Clements and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Merchant, Mrs. Emily Presser and Mr. Lafe Presser spent the day last Friday on Gunpowder fishing. They took with them a good dinner which was enjoyed at noon. When Duke Adams proved to the satisfaction of those present that he is the champion light-weight eater in this part of the county. After dinner fishing was resumed and crabs, turtles, whales and fish were dined in considerable number until Perry Johnson, who was playing nearby interrupted the sport by calling for us to send him the most expert plowman in the crowd to tell him, if he could, why his plow was performing so badly. All the male members of the party being proficient tillers of the soil were to Perry's aid, and surprised him by the information that the fenders on the cultivator were upside down, therefore they could not work. Mr. Johnson then joined our party, and it was with some trouble that he was restrained from doing violence to the long string of fish that had been landed.

The party remained at the creek until five o'clock that afternoon, when it repaired to the residence of B. D. Adams, where the fish were fried and enjoyed by the party, which then played croquet till ten o'clock, when the day's pleasures were ended, each member of the party wishing they would soon enjoy another occasion as pleasant.

BURLINGTON R. 2

MANY FIELDS OPEN TO TRAINED WOMEN

Old preconceptions of jobs for women trained in home economics have "gone with the wind," Miss Alberta Limbach, dietitian on the University of Kentucky staff, told students at a vocational guidance conference recently. She reviewed 30 fields rapidly opening to technically-trained women, ranging from private consultant dietitian, directly serving medical profession, to airways dietitian.

Serving as liaison officers between manufacturers and the public's needs has been especially easy for women adept in judging what women want to buy. In many concerns, two thirds of the improvements in products have come as a result of women's trained suggestions and research. Gauging the public's requirements and helping manufacturers and department stores meet them is one of the most open fields at the present time, it was said.

Highly specialized home economics photography is open to women with imagination and ability to get a mental picture of how food will look when photographed.

Increasing use of pictures in magazines and newspapers has made the photographing of food so it will look appetizing a necessity for business houses.

Directing the dining service for railroads and other large organizations and institution management in hotels, hospitals and restaurants, are among possibilities. Designing clothes, writing fashion articles and editing women's fashion news, also were among fields discussed by Miss Limbach.

"Because of its basic service nature, home economics is one of the fields that necessarily must expand in America," Miss Limbach declared.

THE FARM AND HOME

Before loading livestock, examine trucks, cars, pens and chutes for nails or other protruding objects. Then insist on helping not using prods, clubs and whips. Rough handling of the animals both at home and on the way to market costs farmers millions of dollars.

By trouble of lambs usually can be cleared up by administering a few drops of 10 percent argyrol solution with an eye dropper. Some farmers wash the eyes with a 4 percent solution of boric acid. Be careful about using solutions too strong.

The first rule in meat cookery is to use a moderate temperature for all or most of the time. Steaks should be simmered gently and so should all meat cooked in water. Boiled meat is dry, stringy and flavorless.

After sweeping down the walls and scraping the floor of the brooder house, scrub with a solution of a can of lye to 13 gallons of boiling water, and spray with a coal-tar dip or creosol solution, made at the rate of a pint to 2½ gallons of water.

On most Kentucky soils, two tons of limestone will be effective for eight to ten years. A good way to determine the need for liming is to reline a small area preceding each legume crop and note the effect.

If chickens run in the yard it is useless to try to grow flowers there. Grow flowers in rows in the vegetable garden. Chickens also make it difficult to grow grass on the lawn, and if possible they should be fenced out of the yard.

THE FARM AND HOME

Before loading livestock, examine trucks, cars, pens and chutes for nails or other protruding objects. Then insist on helpers not using prods, clubs and whips. Rough handling of the animals both at home and on the way to market costs farmers millions of dollars.

Eye trouble of lambs usually can be cleared up by administering a few drops of 10 percent argyrol solution with an eye dropper. Some farmers wash the eyes with a 4 percent solution of boric acid. Be careful about using solutions too strong.

The first rule in meat cooking is to use a moderate temperature for all or most of the time. Sows should be simmered gently and so should meat cooked in water. Boiled meat is dry, stringy and flavorless.

After sweeping down the walls and scraping the floor of the brooder house, scrub with a solution of a can of lye to 13 gallons of boiling water and spray with a coal-tar dip or creosol solution, made at the rate of a pint to 2½ gallons of water.

On most Kentucky soils, two tons of limestone will be effective for eight to ten years. A good way to determine the need for liming is to reline a small area preceding each legume crop and note the effect.

If chickens run in the yard it is useless to try to grow flowers there. Grow flowers in rows in the vegetable garden. Chickens also make it difficult to grow grass on the lawn, and it possible they should be fenced out of the yard.

PETERSBURG

Mr. and Mrs. William Moorhead moved from the Methodist parsonage to Lawrenceburg, Ind., last week. We are sorry to lose these people from our town.

TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

Five melodic dance tunes of hit-parade calibre are the musical features of "That's Right—You're Wrong," delightfully served by Kay Kyser who is co-starred with Adolphe Menjou in this sprightly song-and-laugh entertainment.

The songs are "The Answer is Love," "Happy Birthday to Love," "It's a Wonderful Life," "Chatterbox" and "That's Right—You're Wrong." revolves around the hectic Hollywood adventures of band leader.

Adolphe Menjou and Kyser co-star supported by May Robson, Lucille Ball, Edward Everett Horton and Kyser's own Radio Soloists.

SATURDAY

Another chapter of Western history is presented in George O'Brien's new outdoor drama, "The Fighting Gringo."

It deals with unscrupulous land-thieves who forced owners of Spanish grants to abandon their land, and with one group of a band of men who made their living by hiring out their guns. The film presents O'Brien in a role somewhat different from his usual characterizations—that of a Rob-in Hood vagabond.

THE LAST WORD IN CHICKENS are the keynotes of 20th Century-Fox's new film which will be shown at the Gayety Sunday and Monday, "Barricade" starring Alice Faye and Warner Baxter. In dramatic roles as a frightened night-club entertainer and cynical newspaperman, respectively, Miss Faye and Baxter offer their finest performances as they are besieged by bandits in a remote American consulate with death seemingly but an hour away.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY
The very heart of America is embodied in the familiar melodies of Stephen Collins Foster, inspirationally expressed in such songs as "The Old Folks at Home" (Swanee River) "Old Black Joe" and many others.

The screen play for "Swanee River" was written by John Tsinor Foote and Philip Dunne, two of Hollywood's most talented writers. Don Ameche portrays Posters, and Andrea Leeds, a young emotional actress of rare ability, portrays Jane McDowell, his sweet heart and wife for whom Foster wrote "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair." The third leading member of the cast selected by Darryl F. Zanuck, production head of 20th Century-Fox is Al Tolson for the role of E. P. Christy, American minstrel king who introduced the famous "Mr. Interlocutor-Mr. Bones" blackface entertainment to the audiences of Europe. It was Christy who first sang Foster's songs for the American public.

The colorful, romantic days of minstrels and river boats, when a stormy love wrote the songs that are America's own, are brought stirring to the screen in "Swanee River."

Four-H Club
The 4-H club held a meeting March 4th at 1:30 p. m. Assembly Program.

The third and fourth grades will present the assembly program in the gym at 11:05 a. m. March 8th. The program follows:
Devotional Reading—Betty Sturgeon.
Song—"Listening," by five girls.
Prayer.
Song—"Follow Me Full of Glee," 3rd and 4th grades.
Reading—"Over the Telephone," Crystal Master.
Song—"Rain," five girls.
Playlet—"Bobby's Date With a Toothbrush."
Song—"Our Crusade."
Reading—"Keeping Still," James N. Mason.
Songs—"The Birds Return," and "Bird Songs," 3rd and 4th grades.
Playlet—"The Turner's Bad Manners."

Duet—"Get Up You Sleep Head," by Betty Robinson and Mabel Clark.
Playlet—"Easter Bunny," third grade.
Duet—"I'll Never Play With You Again," by Gene Weaver and Betty Craddock.
Everyone invited to attend.
Mrs. Raymond Brock, teacher of 9th and 10th grades suffered an attack of appendicitis Saturday night. She was removed to St. Elizabeth Hospital. Miss Jane Bristow is teaching in the absence of Mrs. Brock.

If you want to get along with March, you've got to rust it.

EDW. P. COOPER TO MOVE TO NEW LOCATION

Having outgrown his present quarters, the Edw. P. Cooper Appliance Shop, 15 East Seventh Street, Covington, will move about March 15 to 805 Madison Avenue, opposite Herzog's jewelry store, Covington.

The new location will put Mr. Cooper's shop just across the street from where he originally conducted his business.

To reduce his stock, and thus save the expense of moving, Mr. Cooper's shop is now conducting a removal sale, during which there will be radical mark-downs. Some of the many specials are announced in an advertisement in this issue of The Recorder.

BURLINGTON 4-H CLUB
The agricultural division of the Burlington Blue Ribbon 4-H Club met March 4, 1940 with 23 members present. Dr. Drake explained more about the various projects.

After a brief business session, we had an interesting quiz on insects. Record books were distributed, after which we adjourned by repeating the club pledge.

Sally Scher, Reporter.
The second meeting of the Burlington Blue Ribbon Club took place on March 4, 1940 with 17 present. The important business matters were discussed. Mary Fowler and Mildred Liser lead us in some very interesting games. The meeting was adjourned by all repeating the club pledge.

Elizabeth A. James, Secy.

RESOLUTIONS

Whereas, It has pleased our Heavenly Father to call our Worthy Patron, Brother William Loch, Jan. 20, 1940, be it

RESOLVED, that in his passing, Bellevue Chapter No. 330 has lost a useful and faithful worker; the community a loyal citizen; his wife a devoted husband. Be it further

RESOLVED, that this chapter extend its deepest sympathy to the bereaved wife and commend to her the teachings of Jesus: "I am the Resurrection and the life, he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live." May she have the trustful faith of Martha to lighten her burdens of sorrow.

RESOLVED, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the minutes of our chapter, that a copy be sent to his wife.

100 FARMERS ATTEND MEETING

ON CROPS AND FEEDING HELD AT BURLINGTON, MARCH 9TH

Prof. E. J. Kinney, principal speaker on the morning program, advised farmers there is no magic in weed control. The usual method of attack is to find the weak spot in the life cycle of the weed and to kill at this point. Weeds in a meadow or pasture field that is well managed usually means that the soils have been exhausted or weakened in lime, phosphate, or other plant food elements. Where practical, these fields should be able to be cultivated one year, limed, phosphated and reseeded. He also advised farmers to use adapted common Northwestern, Grimm or hairy variegated varieties of alfalfa seed, and rootstock resistant varieties of tobacco seed, where rootstock is a problem, and adapted strains of hybrid corn. The grain moth will probably not be a big problem this year due to the cold winter.

Prof. Good stressed the importance of producing high quality of hay for livestock feeding. Hay is the basis of winter feeding and livestock experiments are showing a big difference in hays that may look of equal quality. Livestock, themselves are the best judges as to the quality of feeds they receive. Greater use of corn fodder or stover should be fed early in the winter when it has greatest food value. He warned livestock men from putting ready prepared stock to eat minerals they may not need. Salt, ground limestone and steamed bone meal should be put in separate places so that stock may eat whichever they want or when they wanted them.

Plans have been made through the County Extension program to hold a dairy festival and breeding school at a later date.

New Haven School To Present Picture Show

The New Haven School will present at the school gymnasium on Friday, March 15, at 7:00 p. m. (C. S. T.) the picture, "Swing It Professor." This is a musical comedy packed with action, good songs, and amusing lines. Come and boost our crowd. Admission is only 10 and 20 cents.

LOCAL GROWERS ATTEND MEETING

TO DISCUSS PROPOSAL OF TOBACCO POOL FOR MARKETING WEED COOPERATIVELY—H. E. WHITE NAMED CHAIRMAN.

The State burley tobacco Cooperative Marketing Association meeting held at Lexington March 6th was attended by S. B. Sleet, H. E. White, Ira Tanner, John E. Crigger, and H. R. Forkner. A marketing contract was submitted to approximately 200 growers attending the meeting.

The contract provides for an annual contract and $5.00 membership fee. Growers of less than 1 acre pay only $2.00 membership when they sign up and $3.00 when their first crop is sold. The contract will begin in 1940 if sixty percent of the tobacco acreage allotment is signed up and if not, the contract will hold until 1941. The contract will be continuous year after year unless the grower requests during the month of March of any year that his contract be released.

The Association proposed to pool and market the tobacco of its members on a cooperative basis. The Association will also work in close cooperation with the Government AAA control program.

The final draft of the contract has not been officially approved but should be ready for growers to sign in the near future. Mr. H. E. White, Burlington, was appointed Boone County's sign-up campaign chairman.

Transport Plane Forced Down Near Bullittsville Wed.

A large five-passenger transport plane, owned by the Cincinnati Airline Co., was forced down in a field near the home of Haynes Bruce, Bullittsville, late Wednesday afternoon of last week. According to reports, the pilot was unable to keep the plane in the air due to ice forming on the wings and windshield.

Little damage was reported due to the forced landing. One wheel was torn off, and a small hole smashed in one of the doors. Repairs were made Saturday, and the plane took off for Cincinnati.

The pilot, one passenger and a dog were the only occupants of the plane. All escaped injury it was reported.

APPLICATIONS TO BE RECEIVED

FOR QUAL BY SPORTSMEN AT SPECIAL MEETING THURSDAY NIGHT, MARCH 14 AT BURLINGTON COURTHOUSE.

The Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association has called a special meeting for Thursday night, March 14, at 7:30 p. m., at the Burlington courthouse, at which time applications will be received for qual, which will be distributed by the sportsmen April 6th.

Courtney Kelly, Burlington was selected as chairman of the distribution committee, and will have complete charge of allotments for the various sections of Boone County. Mr. Kelly urges all precinct committeemen to be present at the meeting tonight.

At a meeting held last Thursday night, new officers were installed for the ensuing year, and plans discussed for the annual banquet to be held at the Burlington school, Friday night, March 29th.

Four hundred birds have been promised the local club for distribution in this county by the State Division of Game and Fish, and a number of qual will also be available from the pens maintained by the Northern Kentucky Federation of Sportsmen, Butler, Ky. With these birds, Boone county should be fairly well stocked for the 1940-41 season.

The meeting tonight is open to farmers, 4-H members, sportsmen, and anyone interested in the association.

HYBRID CORN SUCCESSFUL

IN BOONE COUNTY, ACCORDING TO FIGURES RELEASED THIS WEEK, AN INCREASE OF 3 TO 374 PERCENT.

Hybrid corn test plots in Boone county during 1939 gave increases of from 3 to 374 percent over fields of yellow corn, according to figures released this week. These increases indicate that larger difference may be expected from different hybrids. Research work shows that hybrids are very sensitive to soil and climate differences should be taken into consideration in the purchase of hybrid seed.

Selection in the inbreeding process has served to eliminate much "bad blood" and crossing these inbreds has given "hybrid vigor." Desirable characteristics have been fixed and when the same cross or hybrid is produced, the same uniform product always results. These desirable characteristics for which the corn has been bred include high yield factors, and the closely related factors of drought resistance, good roots and resistance to insects and diseases. Hybrids are bred for better roots and stiffer stalks to stand up against wind and rain. Other valuable features of hybrid corn include high quality sound ears, which are easy to shuck, and good ear placement on the stalk. Hybrid corn has fewer barren stalks and fewer nubbins.

The recommended Kentucky adapted hybrids represent the best combinations of these factors available today. There is an opportunity for the hybrid corn grower to select a hybrid with the characteristics best suited to his conditions. For instance, the Kentucky whites and yellows and U. S. 13 produce more stover than other kinds if a variety is desired for silage. The yellow hybrids possibly stand up a little better than the whites and have better placement on the stalk. On the other hand, the white hybrids with their longer growing season usually surpass the yellows in yield and ear factors.

Among the early varieties which offer opportunities for later planting or earlier harvesting are: Ind. 945, Ind. 920, and U. S. 44. Kentucky yellows, Y102, Y102-B, Y102-C, and U. S. 13 are good medium corns. 69-B, a new improvement of the justly popular Ky. White No. 62, is especially promising. Boone County hybrid corn breeders report that they have a large supply of all of the above recommended adapted hybrids, reasonably priced, for the 1940 season. They will be ready in a few days to make delivery of this corn to early customers. It is being carefully inspected, graded and tested for germination.

ONE INJURED IN ACCIDENT SUN.

NEAR UNION—CYNTHIANA MAN REMOVED TO HOSPITAL FOLLOWING HEAD-ON COLLISION ON U. S. 42.

Tillman Taylor, 57, Cynthiana, suffered severe injuries Sunday when the car which he was driving collided head-on with another car driven by Lloyd Murdock, of Bainbridge, Ohio. The accident occurred 1 mile south of Union on U. S. 42.

Jake Williams, deputy sheriff, who shown through the courtesy stated Taylor suffered a bursted knee cap, cuts and bruises, and Lloyd Murdock and wife escaped with minor lacerations and bruises. Williams stated the Murdock car was traveling north and Taylor car south, when the accident occurred.

Taylor was removed to a Cynthiana hospital for treatment, Mr. Williams said.

Democrats See Baseball Film

The regular meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Boone County was held at the Courthouse, on Monday night, with 40 members present.

The three-reel baseball picture was shown through the courtesy of the Cincinnati National League Baseball Club, using the movie equipment of the New Haven high school. Lawrence and Jimmie Dinkin, of Campbell county, also added to the program with short talks.

The next meeting will be held at the Burlington high school auditorium, at which time an exhibition of wrestling will be staged by two amateur wrestlers of Cincinnati. This wrestling match will be well worth your time and is free to the public. The local P. T. A. will be in charge of refreshments.

Judge N. E. Riddell Removed To Hospital

Judge N. E. Riddell was removed to Christ Hospital Sunday, where he will spend several days under the care of Cincinnati specialists. His condition is not reported as serious, however physicians advised that he take several days' treatment at Christ hospital.

The Judge's many friends wish for him a speedy recovery.

SCHOOL TO GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

HAMILTON PATRONS TO ENJOY PIE SUPPER, SPELLING MATCH BATTLE OF WITS AND VARIETY PROGRAM.

A page out of the memory book will be brought back to the present by the Hamilton school, March 22nd, the Hamilton school will give an old-fashioned pie supper, and spelling match, and cash prizes will be offered for the best speller and the next best. As the evening progresses everyone will have a chance to bid on any of a number of delicious pies that the fairer sex will bring. As you know just as in the past, the boy or man gets to eat the pie he buys with the fairer sex. As you know just as in the past, the boy or man gets to eat the pie he buys with the fairer sex. As you know just as in the past, the boy or man gets to eat the pie he buys with the fairer sex.

As an added attraction to the spelling match and pie supper a "Battle of the Wits" will be staged. A number of questions on subjects of every day interest have been prepared and anyone who enters will compete for cash prizes offered.

Further, a bathing beauty contest (which friends will be a scream) will be held and prizes offered. As well as a baby show for the handsomest baby between the ages of 21 and 40 years. Prizes are offered in this event. There will be music throughout the evening by an old-time string band, and a number of brand new novelty acts will be staged for everyone's enjoyment.

Everyone in the county is invited and entries will be received the night of the affair. The only restriction on entries is in the spelling match, where college students and teachers are barred (so they won't be exposed).

The price of admission of this "shebang" will be 5 cents to all between the ages of one month and 90 years, all over and under that age admitted free.

Come, help make this affair a success and bring your friends. Help revive the dear old one-room schoolhouse days.

TRUNK LINE TO BE BUILT BY REA

FROM DEVON TO BURLINGTON, ACCORDING TO W. M. SMITH, BOONE COUNTY R. E. A. CHAIRMAN.

The R. E. A. will build a heavy electric trunk line from Devon to Burlington, according to W. M. Smith, Boone County R. E. A. Chairman. Branch lines go out from Burlington to serve all sections of the county except the southern part which will be served out of Grant County.

The survey and staking will be completed today and all the line in the northern section of the county down as far as Waterloo is ready to be turned over to the contractors for construction.

The R. E. A. is especially insisting that homes on the lines from Devon to Burlington, From E. A. Chairman. Branch lines go out from Burlington to Sand Run and Bullittsville and from Burlington to Waterloo be wired at once.

After the lines are constructed, electricity will not be turned on until 75 percent of these houses are wired. Please release your wiring job to a contractor as soon as possible. Everyone that signed a contract to buy electricity per year will be held strictly to their contract.

We think this is the greatest improvement that has come to the county in many years. One of our bankers, Mr. A. B. Renaker, said that this line is worth $1,000.00 to any farm crossed.

Mr. Smith urges that you please take advantage and help in this enterprise.

Easter Services At Local M. E. Church

A LAST PERFORMANCE

One of the saddest of recent news stories was that dealing with a fire that swept through the winter quarters of a circus outfit where choice tigers, lions, zebras, monkeys and bears were burned to death in their iron cages. Due to the danger to the townspeople they could not be released as were the horses, camels and elephants. The cries of the animals were pitiful to hear as the flames, swept by a high wind and fed by many bales of hay, licked their way to the poor creatures.

The circus has held its spot in the heart of practically everyone from early years. The parades down a Main Street have thrilled the youngest and grayest with their big red wagons, gayly bedecked horses and brightly uniformed riders, crop-tops of camels and elephants, the spangles and glitter, the bands and call of the callopie, hit us to the marrow. The sound of it all dies in the cry of those imprisoned beasts as they threw themselves against the bars. When comes spring comes the circus and the show will go on. The fire did not mean the end of the act. The parade marches on but we salute the lost and hope they do not miss the sawdust and peanuts too much.

A FOREBODING

Spring is coming! They tell us the sap has started to run in Ohio. Winter is giving us just about all that she has left after a season of surprises. Some of the birds are trying to get tuned up for a preliminary concert even though the accompaniment is the scraping of a coal shovel. But according to indications, spring is coming! This should be a happy season for any land, a hopeful sign for all people.

AMONG THE COUNTY AGENTS

J. F. Moore, Madison county, has had 15 acres of land surveyed for immediate tile drainage.

Jay Yates, Lawrence county, has six acres "ear-marked" for alfalfa this spring.

In Magoffin county, both limestone and phosphate usage was doubled last year.

Casey county farmers have bought 12 purebred bulls, with 15 communities now entirely free of grade and scrub sires.

Thirty-five choice white-faced sows were placed among the county farmers specializing in baby beef production.

Owley county farmers are spreading hydrated or highly-pulverized limestone on hill sides.

W. S. McClothin and M. F. Field of Boyd county expect to have a total of 50 acres of land drained next month.

A Kenton county homemaker recently sold $5 worth of hemlock cone "conages."

By spending a few weeks now in digging limestone rock, Carroll county farmers hope to be ready for the pulverizer early.

Two Shelby county 4-H club girls going to the National Congress in Chicago wrote stories for the local papers on the trip.

CALVARY: TRIUMPH THROUGH SACRIFICE

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 27:32-50
GOLDEN TEXT—Life is despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief—Isaiah 53:3.

At Calvary, reverent and thoughtful readers of God's Word stand speechless, and confess themselves to be powerless to explain or to expound the awe-inspiring story, and yet just because it is such a story, because at that cross the divine Son of God gave Himself in sacrificial atonement for sin, we must do our utmost to understand it, to explain it, and certainly to declare it to all mankind. For when He who knew no sin became thus for us, it was for our sin that He died. Here alone do we find redemption.

We approach this scene therefore with reverence, and with the prayer that we may so present the dying Saviour to dying men that some may believe and be saved. We center our thoughts around three expressions taken from the text.

I. "They Crucified Him." All of the gospel stories are remarkably reticent when they speak of the cross. Details of surrounding events are given, but when they speak of the cross itself, they say only that He was crucified. Let us look at the One who hung on that sacred tree, for He is the Saviour of the world. Refusing the stupor of death (J. 34) and facing death fully conscious, we hear Him crying out of the darkness which covered all the land, "My God, my God, where art thou?" That cry indicates the depth to which our Saviour went for us.

Does it not seem that the Father in that darkest moment of history knew His Son? Did He know that His Son, His only-begotten Son, had become sin for us? And yet we know that it was God who hung upon the tree, God the Son. Here is divine mystery, the meaning of which we cannot fathom, but we know that it was for us.

Then came the cry with the loud voice, "It is finished!" This was the cry of the dying Saviour, the cry of the Saviour of the world, the cry of the Saviour of the world, the cry of the Saviour of the world, the cry of the Saviour of the world.

II. "They Watched Him." Soldiers, priests, the two thieves, the women—how different was the purpose and the spirit of their watching Him.

The soldiers had made sport of Him and mocked Him in the palace. They took a passing curious interest in the crucifixion. They gambled over His garments, and finally settled down to perform their duty as guards with stolid indifference. How much of humanity is just like that.

The priests who professed to know about God and His Word stand out in appalling wickedness and ignorance. Being members of the highest and best of the earth, they fell when they sinned to the lowest depths.

Of the two thieves, one believed and the other repented. The cross has ever since been the dividing line, part of humanity turning there to life eternal, the rest going on its railing way to destruction.

The women walked. No doubt they were perplexed and troubled in heart, but they stood faithfully by until His precious body was in the grave. We read of no apostles who did as much, and we give all honor to the faithful women.

III. "He Trusted in God." This was the "sarcastic" taunt of the priests. "When the King was hanging upon the cross and the interpreters of religion, the priests, misinterpreted God, there was a great silence. God's noninterference is the first thing that impresses one as the story is read, but that is not all the story. It was not wholly noninterference. From the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land until the ninth hour."

That seems to have been the act of God. It would seem that in infinite tenderness God wrapped the land in darkness in the hour of His Son's supreme suffering. (2. Camp-bell Morgan). We also read in verse 51 that the veil of the temple was torn from top to bottom, opening the way for all men in Christ to enter the Holy of Holies.

"He trusted God." Yes, even to the sacrifice of Himself in death. Because He could not save Himself (J. 42) in thus doing the will of God, His Father, He did save others. The scoffing priests told the truth in spite of their wicked purpose to falsify. "They watched Him," but "He trusted God" and became the Saviour of the world.

How Great and How Wonderful! How great is His signal! How mighty are His wonders! His kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and His dominion is from generation to generation.—Daniel 4:3.

A few motorists try to drive the other fellow's car with their own horns.

O. P. Conner, of the Locust Grove neighborhood, can say what but few men of his age can. He is 51 years old, has four children and eight grandchildren. He never lost a child or grandchild.

REMOVE PAINT

To remove old varnish or paint, apply a thick coat of turpentine. After half an hour wipe this off and cover furniture with coat of thick soap suds made in water and washing soda and apply with a brush. When this dries remove it with a stiff brush and scrape off any left over varnish with a knife.

BETTER TIMES FOR FARMERS FORECAST AT RURAL MEETING

Better times for farmers as a result of improved conditions in industry and business within the United States, was the forecast of speakers at the 28th annual Farm and Home Convention at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Improvement may come to agriculture despite the fact that warring nations may buy food products in other countries and save their cash to purchase munitions in this country. The depressed condition of flue-cured tobacco, as a result of lack of export, may be reflected in lower burley prices, farmers were told.

Cattle prices just now are suffering from low hog prices. Farm prices as a whole, however, are expected to be fairly good this year.

Eight hundred and fifty women from 60 counties heard discussions on the general subject of "Women in the World Today." Talks to the women were made by educators, home economists, homemakers, church workers, doctors and recreation specialists. The annual meeting of the Kentucky Federation of Homemakers was one of the features.

Special meetings at the convention considered electricity and other farm engineering problems, diseases, agricultural conservation and adjustment, soils and crops, and the rural church and community. Several organizations of farmers met during the week.

MONEY FROM LOW LEAVES

G. E. Smith, Harro county, Kentucky, made about $2 an hour picking off the ground, leaves as his tobacco ripened. He gathered 344 pounds this way, selling it for $45.94. Most of his tobacco would have been wasted had he not picked off the low leaves. Application of manure, 400 pounds of superphosphate and 200 pounds of commercial fertilizer to the acre, produced a good crop for Mr. Smith.

COWS NEED WATER

J. F. Cookey, teacher for the Harro County Dairy Herd Improvement Association, says that one of the chief reasons why dairymen have difficulty in maintaining milk production through the winter is that cows are turned out to water only once a day, and when they have an opportunity to drink it is ice water that they get through a hole in a pond or lake.

INSPIRATIONAL

In the morning when thou risest unwillingly, let this thought be present: "I am rising to the work of a human being."

—Marcus Aurelius.

GRANT 4-H CLUB NEWS
The Grant True Blue 4-H Club held their second meeting of the year March 6th. The meeting was called to order by the President, Leland Clore. Minutes were read and approved. The roll was called and 21 members answered present. We were glad to have Mrs. Hugh McArthur and Mr. J. F. Moore, two of our adult leaders present. We are hoping have more adult leaders as well as 4-H members present at the next meetings. Mr. Drake and Miss Gillaspie talked to us about the program for the year. We have 25 members enrolled. The three units in the girls' clothing project has held four meetings each. This is a good start. We are hoping to have a better club this year.

TOBACCO SEED

We are not in the seed business but we ARE interested in helping our customers to receive the largest possible cash return from an acre of tobacco.

At the request of several growers we have secured a limited supply of "GAYS YELLOW" tobacco seed which we can supply at $1.50 per ounce or 65c for a small package.

If your present variety of tobacco is giving satisfaction in weight and price we do not recommend a change but if you are considering a change we are glad to be of service.

The Blood Stream

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT
9th and Madison Covington

The blood stream has several important functions. For instance it feeds the tissues from the products of digestion; it carries away waste matter and it aids in equalizing the temperature and the water content of the body.

Blood is not just plain fluid, but has two parts. A yellowish fluid called PLASMA, in which float solid particles called corpuscles. Then there are three kinds of corpuscles; red corpuscles; white corpuscles, and blood platelets. The red corpuscles are the oxygen carriers of the body. The white corpuscles are the protectors of the body and multiply at a great rate of speed. In other words, the white corpuscles enable the body to resist infections and throw off contagious disease.

Friends, now that we understand how important a part our blood stream plays in the health of our entire body, it is easy to see that we should be careful not to choke or cramp this blood stream in any way.

When you cramp blood vessels and shut off blood supply to any part of the foot, every school physiology book tells us that you not only deprive it of the food it should have to keep health, but the slower blood stream cannot clear away waste matter as it should. We find chemical deposits form at the joints of the feet and the legs and then inflammation develops leading to pain and discomfort that makes you miserable all over. These symptoms are often mistaken for arthritis, rheumatism or some other ailment. Backaches, headaches, and many body ills may be traced to the feet.—Adv.

42,180 ENROLLED IN KENTUCKY 4-H CLUBS

Kentucky 4-H clubs had an enrollment last year of 42,180, according to the annual report of J. W. Whitcomb, state club leader. Of this total number, 23,684 were girls and 18,496 were boys. There were 4-H clubs in all of the 120 counties.

Utopia clubs last year had a membership of 1,021 young men and women working along lines similar to 4-H club work.

Assisting in 4-H club activities were volunteer leaders numbering 2,477 women and 1,028 men. Assistance also was received from 498 girls and 321 boys who acted as junior leaders.

Also, plan to plow the garden early, turning it deep and well. However, not more than an inch of new subsoil should be brought up.

The growing child, to develop teeth and bones, is thought to require one gram of calcium and one to one and a half grams of phosphorus daily. One quart of milk will supply these quantities.

Because of their delicate texture, sponge cakes require more careful mixing and baking than other types of cakes. The eggs should be brought to room temperature before they are beaten, in order to obtain a fine-grained cake of largest volume.

Four-H club cattle feeders buy calves that are low-set, have straight top and bottom lines, are wide and deep in the chest, have full heart girth, short, wide heads, large muzzles and strong jaws. The rump should be wide and level.

TAILORED SUITS
CONTINUE STYLISH

The ever-fashionable stand-by in the woman's wardrobe is the tailored suit. It will of course continue to be good this spring, reports Miss Frances Seeds, clothing specialist for the home economics department of the Kentucky College of Agriculture.

In buying suits, note the following points:

The much-padded shoulder no longer is fashionable. A less exaggerated form is being used.

Jackets will not be quite so tightly fitted.

While circular skirts will be used they will not be flared so much as formerly.

Lengths will continue the same as during 1939.

The man-tailored suit, that is, the severe suit, will be used as it has for several seasons. However, the more feminine suits will be still more popular.

Buttons will be moderate in size, not a conspicuous detail of the suit.

Short jackets appear to be more popular, although the longer jacket will be seen.

Pastels will be used, but a conservative color should be chosen for the moderate wardrobe.

SEE COUNTY AGENT ABOUT SOIL SAMPLE

Farmers wishing to have soil analyzed at the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington are advised to see a county agent or write to the Experiment Station for directions for taking samples. Not only should samples be so taken as properly to represent the soil, but information should be supplied about the way the land has been cropped, fertilized, limed and manured for the past five years. Analysis of soil samples are considered of little value in advising what fertilizer to use for tobacco.

CONSTANCE HOMEMAKERS

The regular meeting of the Constance Homemakers was held March 6th at the home of Mrs. Dora Dolwick. There were 15 members, 3 visitors and our Home Demonstration agent, Miss Gillaspie present.

The business meeting was held in the morning. Our Home Beautification chairman, Mrs. Elmer Peeno gave a talk on the care of the lawn and planting of flowers and shrubs. Miss Gillaspie also showed some bookends and letter holders which you can get at a very small price.

At the noon hour a delicious buffet luncheon was served and enjoyed by all. After luncheon we had a group singing, led by Mrs. Freda Kottmeyer. Mrs. Freda Kottmeyer has Elmer Peeno and Mrs. Geo. Kottmeyer gave a very good talk on "Style Trends." Our leaders and Miss Gillaspie gave interesting lesson on "Back-Savers" for the kitchen. Our program chairman had a game which concluded our meeting.

We will meet at the home of Mrs. Margaret Prable, April 3rd. Roll call to be answered with "Observation from my Kitchen Window."

300,000 WOODMEN RECEIVE CHECKS

Nearly 300,000 members of the Woodmen of the World received checks during the past few days for their share of a million-dollar refund of payments. The current refund brings the total of payments returned to members to more than $21 million dollars. A record that is unsurpassed by any similar organization, according to DeEmmett Bradshaw, president.

While the majority of checks were mailed in the United States about 50 are destined for other lands, Haiti, Palestine, France, British West Indies, Scotland, Sweden, Spain, Germany, Japan, Italy, Nicaragua, Hawaii, Canada, Philippine Islands, Australia, Puerto Rico, Bermuda, Cuba, Central America, Canal Zone, Alaska, South Africa, Chile, Colombia, and Mexico.

Mr. Bradshaw reported that the Society has paid to living members and beneficiaries the sum of 317 million dollars in the past 50 years. The financial stability of the Society, with assets in excess of 129 million dollars, places it high among America's leading life insurance organizations.

The amount of each check was determined by the length of time the member's certificate had been in force, and the amount of each annual payment.

Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society was founded in Omaha, Nebraska, on June 6, 1890, and will soon celebrate its golden anniversary. A nationwide membership campaign is now under way, to be climaxed by local celebrations in hundreds of cities on June 6.

It is still a bit too early to hear of plans to celebrate the Glorious Fourth!

TONIGHT and FRIDAY

Two big features will be shown tonight and Friday, "To Busy to Work" and "Meet Dr. Christian." Both of these pictures will be enjoyed throughout. Also cartoon.

SATURDAY

"Joe and Ethel Turp Call on the President" This picture brings two old fictional friends to the screen—Joe and Ethel Turp, Damon Runyon's famous characters from Flatbush, Brooklyn, appear in the persons of Alan Southern and William Gargan in their most celebrated enterprise wherein they visit the President of the United States in behalf of Jim the postman, who lost his job because he destroyed a letter because it would have revealed to a widow on her deathbed that her son had been killed in a prison break.

SUNDAY and MONDAY

Charles Laughton is starred in "Jamaica Inn," which will be shown at the Gayety Sunday and Monday. Don't miss this picture.

TUESDAY

By popular request, the picture, "Her Jungle Love," starring Dorothy Laboure and Ray Millard will be shown Tuesday. This picture has thrilled thousands of moviegoers and will thrill thousands more. It is one of the most entertaining pictures shown in many months.

WED., THURSDAY and FRI., A vivid picture of life in medieval Paris is presented in "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," RKO Radio's spectacular version of Victor Hugo's novel, starring Charles Laughton.

Dealing with a nobleman's persecution of a gypsy girl and how a deformed outcast, the bell-ringer of the cathedral of Notre Dame, rescues her, the tale has long been a favorite with readers all over the world. Maureen O'Hara enacts the role of the gypsy girl and Sir Cedric Hardwicke that of the villain.

The Ballitsville Christian church will have a sunrise service on Easter morning at 6:45 E. S. T. The service will be conducted by the Blue Triangle club of the Hebron school and will consist of pageant, "The Challenge of the Cross" and special music. The public is cordially invited to attend.

LARGE RESPRESS FARM SOLD MON.

TO DR. HARRY C. HOLTON, PROMINENT CINCINNATI DENTIST—WILL RAISE SADDLE HORSES ON FARM.

Dr. Harry C. Holton, prominent Cincinnati dentist has acquired the 330-acre Highland Stock Farm, breeding place of many nationally known thoroughbred race horses. It was reported this week. The real estate transaction was between Mr. Respass' widow, Mrs. Rena Respass and Dr. Holton.

Dr. Holton, owner of a 300-acre stock farm near Falmouth, has a stable of approximately 50 saddle horses. He has shown his horses at many fairs in this vicinity.

According to reports Dr. Holton will take possession of the farm in a short time. It is expected that he will retain the farm's present name and will raise only saddle horses on the place.

The Respass thoroughbreds were sold a short time after Mr. Respass' death last summer.

Mass Meeting To Be Held At Court House

There will be a mass meeting at the court house in Burlington on Thursday evening at 7:00 Central Standard Time, in the interest of securing the services of a County Health Nurse.

J. Russell Cross, Chairman of Boone County Red Cross, urged all citizens of the county interested in this matter to attend the meeting.

Martin L. Aylor

Rev. Martin L. Aylor, passed away at his home, Hebron Wednesday of last week at the age of 83. Mr. Aylor had spent part of his life as a Baptist minister.

He is survived by his widow, Helen Holzkemper Aylor; one daughter, Mrs. Louis Riddell, Florence; four sons, Leslie, Taylorsport, Chester, Florence; Earl, Hebron, and Ed Aylor, of California; two sisters, Mrs. Laura Crisler, Petersburg, and Mrs. Nettie Kelly, of Burlington.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 2 p. m. at the Hebron Lutheran Church. Burial was in Hebron cemetery.

Bullock and Gathman, Ludlow funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

LOCAL FARMERS RECEIVE $36,000

IN A. C. P. PAYMENTS—FEW IMPORTANT JOBS OUTLINED THAT SHOULD BE COMPLETED IN NEAR FUTURE.

Eight hundred twenty-one Boone County farmers have received at the County Office to date $36,000.01 in 1939 benefit payment checks to date, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. $10,000.00 additional benefits for 47 phosphate farmers were advanced farmers last summer in lieu of cash payments.

Benefit checks on approximately 120 farms totalling $13,000.00 for participation in last year's program have not been received to date. Four hundred and fifty new checks were received on Monday of this week and will be delivered growers at community meetings beginning this Friday.

There are a few important jobs on the 1940 program that should be done in the near future by all farmers who have not already done so:

1. All farm plans for participation in the 1940 program must be signed by April 15th. The sooner the better. Several farmers last year lost their payments because of failure to sign up in time.

2. All farms that have been sold or additional land that has been bought should be reported at the county office before April 15, if benefits under the 1940 program are to be received on this land.

3. Order phosphate now if AAA phosphate is to be used this year. The available supply is getting low. Phosphate on experiment fields increased mixed hay yields 132 percent. Hay produced on phosphated fields is richer in minerals.

4. Use limestone now. The 1940 program closes August 31st. Limestone on experiment fields increased corn yields 13.9 percent, wheat 34.8 percent, mixed hay 28 percent. Limestone can be applied on the farm between now and August 31st with a credit for AAA benefit payments of $1.50 per ton on the soil-building allowance. One good application of limestone will last ten years or more.

If you have any questions in reference to the 1940 program, contact the County AAA office at Burlington.

Homemakers To Plan Garden Program March 27

Plans for a "Live at Home Garden and Canning Program" will be made at a meeting to be held in Burlington Wednesday, March 27. The meeting will be held at the courthouse from 10:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m. Local food leaders and club presidents from each of the fourteen Homemakers' clubs have been asked to attend this class, according to Mary Hood Gillispie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Mrs. Pearl Haak, Foods specialist, and Mr. J. S. Gardner, garden specialist, University of Kentucky will meet with the Boone County Homemakers.

Plans for the Homemakers' spring and summer minor project "Live at Home" will be discussed by the University specialists.

SCOUT CAMPAIGN STARTS MARCH 27

R. C. McNAY TO HEAD GUNPOWDER DISTRICT SPONSORING CAMPAIGN—OTHER OFFICERS NAMED.

Boy Scout leaders of the Gunpowder District which includes Boone County, Erlanger and Elmore have completed plans for the annual membership drive with a chairman for each community of the district as follows:

Burlington—Courtney Kelly. Erlanger—Virgil Day. Elmore—Russell White. Boone County—Lewis Sullivan. Walton—Russell Hall. Grant—Edward Rogers. Hebron—Chas. Riley. Verona—Fred Hamilton. Union—Walter Ferguson. Petersburg—Lewis Hartsfield.

During the last year scouting has made great gains in the district, but can only progress as far as funds to carry on the program are available.

An investment in scouting is an investment in citizenship on which we reap a long time reward. Not only Scouts but everyone could well afford to live by the Scout Oath.

Scout Oath

On my honor, I will do my best—

1. To do my duty to God and my Country, and to obey the Scout Law.
2. To help other people at all times.
3. To keep myself physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight.

Friday evening, March 22nd a luncheon will be given at Burke's Restaurant, Erlanger, at 6:00 p. m. The purpose of this meeting is to elect chairmen and workers are expected to be present.

The drive for Boy Scout Campaign starts March 27th and continues for one week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tanner To Return Home Soon

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Tanner, of Youell Pike, who have been enjoying a winter home in St. Petersburg and Miami, Fla., will return to their home the latter part of this month.

They have enjoyed several sightseeing trips to various parts of Florida and adjacent islands.

GALA EVENT IS PROMISED

BY HAMILTON P. T. A. FRIDAY NIGHT, MARCH 22—PIE SUPPER AND SPELLING MATCH TO BE FEATURES OF EVENING.

Final plans have been completed for the spelling match and pie supper to be held in the Hamilton Consolidated school, coming Friday night. Acceptances have been received from the various officials that have been named and a number of entrants have been made. Among them are: Union, Florence, their respective bags of pride aroused, are going to have entrants in the spelling bee, fighting to the last bitter word (both literally and figuratively), for the honor of their home towns.

For the spelling match, a group of educators have prepared a special list of words, words of use (and misuse) in every day speech, and sprinkled among them are some of the tricky ones that the teacher in the little hilltop one-room school used to spell down the big boys with (and sometimes stand the chance of a licking on the road home, unless he were either large or especially fleet of foot). Remember students and teachers are barred from this event.

The pie supper promises to be one of the season's attractions for the whole county. So many fond memories of good times gone by, have been awakened that the good cooks of the surrounding countryside are outdoing themselves in trying out new culinary recipes, in efforts to concoct masterpieces of pie-dom. A very old pie knows, the auctioning of the pies for the privilege of eating with the fair makers was real sport. How many of you remember. The pies were sold one at a time, the name of the maker of each pie supposedly a secret, but wasn't it remarkable how some one had the right buckeye, and the boys all ganged up and pooled their funds to make some poor fellow pay a stiff price for his dead girl friend's pie?

In an attempt to somewhat streamline these old pastimes, a number of questions of every-day interest have been prepared and appear on the night of the affair will compete for the honor of answering the most questions correctly and prizes. The lists on this event are open to any and all comers and contestants from all parts of the county are expected. For example here is one of the questions: "Do cars on English highways drive on the right side of the road?" or for another, "What is a Jennet?" There will be plenty of fun in this.

The bathing beauty contest promises to be a slam-bang hit. The list of entrants which is steadily growing indicates that there will be keen competition for the loving cup. Col. Lute Bradford and Col. Kirtley will have to take plenty of time looking the entrants over to judge correctly.

These same gentlemen with the assistance of Col. Frank Hager will judge the baby contest (which is open to all from ages of 21 to 60) and as a last word now don't you mothers get too mad at the judges if they don't pick your baby as the handsomest one there.

Even if any of the above mentioned sports don't interest you, you will not have a dull time at the Hamilton school Friday night. There will be refreshments, fish ponds, old time fiddling, and a number of added features that space will not permit me to describe here. The whole county invited and arrangements have been made to take care of capacity crowd. The admission is only five cents for ages of one month to 90 years, all over and above that age will be admitted free. This admission will be used to help pay the prizes that are given. Don't forget the date, tomorrow, Friday night March 22, the place Hamilton Consolidated Schoolhouse, 7:00 p. m., and everyone is invited and welcome. For an event out of the ordinary, something that you just can't miss it's tops.

SCHOOL OPENS RENTAL LIBRARY

NUMBER OF BOOKS CAN BE OBTAINED FOR NOMINAL RENT—PROCEEDS TO BE USED FOR PURCHASE OF NEW BOOKS.

Are you interested in reading? Some of us would like to read books which we do not care to buy. In order to circulate some of the newer books among book loving friends, the Hebron school is operating a small rental library which it hopes to build into a larger one as fast as possible.

All money which comes in from book rentals is put into a fund which is to be used to add books to this and the school library. If you have not used the library, you may do so by getting in touch with any student or teacher of the school. Just recently, eight books were added, which were requested by the school.

The school now has the following titles from which you may choose:

All This and Heaven Too, by Rachel Field.

American Doctor's Odyssey, by Victor Heiser.

Alone by Richard E. Byrd.

Betty Zane, by Zane Grey.

Blow for a Landing, by Ben Burman.

Bubbling Waters, by Clark E. Fennell.

The Citadel, by A. J. Cronin.

Christmas Holiday, by Somerset Maugham.

David Copperfield, by Charles Dickens.

Disputed Passage, by Lloyd C. Douglas.

Doctors on Horseback.

Dr. Hudson's Secret Journal, by Lloyd C. Douglas.

Foray the Saga, by John Galsworthy.

Good With the Wind, by Margaret Mitchell.

Good-bye Mr. Chips, by James Hilton.

Good Earth by Pearl Buck.

Grapes of Wrath, by John Steinbeck.

Home Grown, by Della Lutes.

Horse and Bugsy Doctor, by Arthur E. Hertzler.

Invahoe, by Sir Walter Scott.

Jalna, by Mazon de la Roche.

Last Puritan, by Santayana.

Litken the Wind, Ann Morrow Lindbergh.

STUDENT LOAN FUND IS OBJECT

OF FOUR-NIGHT SPEAKING PROGRAM AT ERLANGER—SPONSORED BY ERLANGER ROTARY CLUB.

At a cost of more than $200.00, aside from local expenses, the Erlanger Rotary Club brings to this community four internationally known speakers to be heard at the Lloyd High School auditorium beginning Monday night, March 25.

The four speakers of international fame to be heard on the program are Allen D. Albert, Chicago, Illinois, speaking on "The Struggle for Raw Materials" on Monday night, March 25th. The second will be John A. Morrison, Chicago, speaking on "Development in Soviet Russia," on Monday night, March 26th. The third will be Darrel L. Brady, speaking on "Youth Looks at World Affairs," Monday night, April 8th. The fourth will be Margaret H. Kaiser, formerly from Berlin, Germany, speaking on "Central European Tensions" on Monday night, April 15th.

All these speakers are very well known, each an authority in his or her field. They will each discuss timely themes of the utmost importance in the field of international thought and life. Certainly this is a fine opportunity for persons in this community to broaden their knowledge in timely world affairs.

The Worthy Object

All profits derived from ticket sales will go to establish a student loan fund, which will be administered by the local Rotary Club, to aid worthy students to obtain college training in instances where they would otherwise be denied the opportunity.

Season tickets for all four lectures are being sold for $1.00 and single admission tickets will sell for 35c. You may obtain your tickets at this newspaper office or by seeing any member of the Rotary Club.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

There will be a business meeting at the East Bend Baptist church Saturday night, March 24th immediately following services. All members are requested to be present. Special meeting called for the purpose of voting for a pastor for the coming year.

ALAN DENTON AT ERLANGER

APPOINTED PROMOTIONAL SALES MANAGER FOR ERLANGER LUMBER CO., HOUSING GUILD HEADQUARTERS.

Alan Denton, previously associated with the construction firm of Bass and Company, Inc., Bowling Green, Ky., has been appointed sales manager for the Erlanger Lumber Co., Johns-Manville dealers, it was announced today by Wm. C. Hagemeyer, manager. Mr. Denton will work out of the company's main office and yard at Erlanger, headquarters for the Erlanger Housing Guild.

Mr. Denton's appointment to the firm, Mr. Hagemeyer said, will enable the company to furnish a greater one-stop new home service to northern Kentucky residents, and it is a part of the organization's expansion program which is now being carried out.

The Housing Guild offers a complete home service through central headquarters. It provides in every respect a one-stop service applied to anything and everything in building. The Housing Guild, while national in its scope, is 100 percent local in practice, organized by your local Johns-Manville building material dealer.

Guild members include the leading local architects, material suppliers, realtors, finance agencies, contractors, carpenters, electricians, plumbers, etc.—in short everyone whom the prospective builder or remodeler normally has to deal with.

Mr. Denton is a member of the First Baptist Church of Bowling Green, president of the Warren County Young Men's Democratic Club, Chairman of the Warren County Infantile Paralysis Board, and Chairman of the Organization Committee of the recently organized Junior Chamber of Commerce in Bowling Green.

Mr. Denton is residing at 81 Arcadia Ave., Ft. Mitchell, Ky.

Frank Voshell Suffers Broken Arm

Mr. Frank Voshell, of the village neighborhood, fell last week while feeding his cattle, breaking his right arm above the wrist. He is reported to be improving nicely at this time.

Mrs. Voshell, who has been suffering from a broken leg, is much improved, being able to walk about the house this week, it was reported Tuesday.

Local Boy Called To Join Florida State League

Leslie Voshell, Burlington left Wednesday for Leesburg, Fla., where he will join the Leesburg club for the 1940 baseball season.

Less was a member of the St. Paul club last year, and was one of the outstanding batters of the league. His position is left field with the Leesburg Club. Their opening game will be next Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Snyder, of Madison, Ind., spent the week-end with Mrs. Lella Kite.

BANQUET PLANS ARE COMPLETED

BY BOONE COUNTY FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION—PRELIMINARY BEING MADE FOR LARGE CROWD.

Final plans for the annual banquet given by the Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association were made at a special meeting of the club, held Thursday night of last week at the Burlington courthouse.

The banquet is held each year prior to distribution of quail in Boone county, at which time applications are received by the club from farmers who desire to have quail planted on their farms. The rules for distribution of quail are: That the farm must be open to hunting; this does not mean that farmers are to throw their farms open to Friday night, March 29, at 7:00 p. m. The banquet will be served by the Burlington P. T. A.

Precinct chairmen for the distribution of quail were named by C. G. Kelly, county chairman, at the meeting as follows: D. R. Blythe, Burlington; Lillard Scott, Grant; Lee McNeely, Rabbit Hash; Lennie Busby, Florence; James Head, Union; Allen Gaines and B. W. Franks, Walton and Beaver; Rod Hughes, Verona; Everett Jones, Elmore; Chas. W. Riley, Hebron and Ballitsville; Justin Dolph, Petersburg.

Last year this county received 400 birds from the Division of Fish and Game, Frankfort, and this year have been promised 400 and will probably receive more, depending upon the allotment for Northern Kentucky.

All persons interested in the club and anyone desiring quail to be planted on their farm should attend this banquet. Tickets for banquet are now in the hands of precinct chairmen, county chairman, and can be purchased at the Boone County Recorder, for 75c each.

Your presence at this banquet will show your interest in the club and the work it is doing.

Stephen J. Robbins

Stephen Joel Robbins was born May 1, 1883, departed this life March 15, 1940, at the age of 51, years, 10 months and 17 days.

On September 10, 1891, he was united in marriage to Emma Frances Barlow, who preceded him to the grave 21 years ago.

He was survived by three sons, two daughters, ten grandchildren and three sisters, and a large number of other relatives and friends, who mourn his passing.

He was a faithful member of the Hopeful Lutheran Church for over forty years.

Funeral services were conducted from the Hopeful Lutheran Church last Sunday afternoon by Rev. H. M. Huter in the presence of a large crowd of people. Burial was in Hopeful cemetery.

Chambers and Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

LINE READY FOR CONSTRUCTION

IN SOUTH SECTION OF COUNTY, ACCORDING TO WILL SMITH, COUNTY R. E. A. RIGHT-OF-WAY FOREMAN.

The R. E. A. line in the south section of the county including Verona, Walton and the Mud Lick section has been turned over to the contractor for construction, according to Will Smith, County R. E. A. right-of-way foreman.

All the north section of the county, except the Woolper territory has been staked as far south as Perry Presser's, up to Monday of this week.

Mr. Smith warns customers who are having their houses wired to see that good material is being used. He states that keen competition for house wiring contracts has developed and in a few instances inferior equipment is being used. This equipment, while running the risk of passing inspection, may pass but not give the customers the years of service expected.

Every house should be wired for service as soon as possible after it is tagged. This will help all farmers to get electricity at the earliest possible date.

Ten Community A. C. P. Meetings Scheduled

Boone County farmers who have not signed their 1940 A. C. P. farm plans will have an opportunity to do so at one of ten community sign-up meetings to be held being Friday, March 22, according to John E. Crigler, Secretary of the local association.

The schedule of the meetings is as follows: Hebron, Friday, March 22, all day; Hebron, Saturday, March 23, all day; Florence, Friday, March 22, all day; Florence, Saturday, March 23, all day; Grant, Saturday, March 23, 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 noon, Citizens Deposit Bank.

Petersburg, Saturday, March 23, 1:00 to 3:30 p. m., Farmers Bank. Burlington, Saturday, March 23, all day, County Agent's office.

Union, Tuesday, March 26, all day, Union Deposit Bank.

Beaver, Tuesday, March 26, 1:00 to 3:30 p. m., Orr's Store.

Walton, Wednesday, March 27, 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 noon, Town Hall.

Verona, Wednesday, March 27, 1:00 p. m. to 3:30 p. m., Verona Bank.

Hamilton, Thursday, March 28, 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m., Schoolhouse.

Except for the day schedule, farmers may sign up on week days at the County Office in Burlington.

All 1939 A. C. P. checks that are in the county office and not delivered to date will be at the community sign-up meeting most convenient for the farmer.

INJURIES FATAL TO SALESMAN

FOLLOWING ACCIDENT AT GUNPOWDER BRIDGE NEAR FLORENCE THURSDAY OF LAST WEEK.

Richard V. Green, 54 years old, of Cincinnati, died Sunday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington, of injuries received when the car in which he was riding plunged over an embankment into Gunpowder Creek, south of Florence.

It was thought that Green fell asleep at the wheel of his automobile, and the car missed the bridge over Gunpowder, plunging into the creek.

Green received a punctured right lung and several broken ribs in the accident.

He was a native of La Cyme, Kansas, but had been a resident of the Broadway Hotel, Cincinnati, for approximately a year. He was a salesman.

WE SHOULD BE ASHAMED

The majority of English and French condemn the U. S. for not entering into the war picture and doing something in the great struggle for "liberty." An English bishop makes caustic remarks about our standing aside and profiting on the misery of the other nations engaged in conflict. Perhaps there are some Americans who also feel we are not being loyal and true. There is nothing that riles so as to hear someone who professes love of country and compassion for fellow man, cry for us to go to the assistance of these nations. Being neighborly is good, sacrificing our youth is bad. We are most sympathetic to wards Great Britain and we are grieved nationally over the grave conditions she is facing, but we are not going to do any killing if we can help it.

The English bishop, in condemning us for our guilty consciences which would keep him from having a good night's rest, knows that his country is seizing our mails, holding our boats, disregarding our peace pacts, overlooking past war debts, does he not? We feel we have been most considerate of Great Britain and we aren't overlooking the fact that war is war and Great Britain is taking care of herself. But we are not conscience-stricken about our stand and we are trying to do what is right and what is best for our own country. We are pretty busy with our knitting here in the U. S. bishop.

WE'RE COUNTRY

"Most of our country is in the country," spoke a voice on the radio. And so they look to the small town of the U. S. as a medium in buying and selling.

flitting through many a head. The pictures of 1940 kitchens leave the women a bit envious. But most of today's work-rooms outshine the models of years back when poor lighting, poor ventilation, wooden floors and table-tops to be scrubbed, lamps to be cleaned, coal or wood stoves to be fired, all made housekeeping real labor. With paint cans and family saws busy, many of our kitchens of today resemble yesterday's parlors!

IMPROVED
UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSONBy HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.

THE SEPULCHER: TRIUMPH OVER DEATH

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 27:57-28:9.
Gospel TEXT—But now I Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept.—I Corinthians 15:20.

The inspiration and spiritual renewing of Easter day comes to us again. How thankful every Christian should be for this day of remembrance of our Lord's triumph over death. How much we should praise God that the day for us who are His disciples is not one of outward display but of inward revival. May this Easter bring a real quickening to the Church.

In our series of lessons in Matthew we have followed our Lord in His life and ministry on through Gethsemane to Calvary. Today we find loving hands giving themselves in what they thought to be the final act of devotion to their Lord, and we also see the hands of wicked men given to the executioner. It was a final act of hatred. Then suddenly the Lord Himself breaks through in resurrection power.

I. Love Is Kind (27:57-61).

The women, whose devotion to their Lord never wavered, were joined in the final act of taking the body of Jesus from the cross and burying it by two secret disciples of the Lord who now came out of the tomb. Joseph of Arimathea, a member of the Sanhedrin (Luke 23:50, 51), and Nicodemus (John 19:39, 40). It was a courageous act on their part and undoubtedly the expression of their great love for Jesus.

The two Marys seemed to have stayed to watch the grave even after Joseph had gone to his home. The death of Jesus may have crushed their hopes, for they apparently did not recall His promise of resurrection, but they still loved Him. After all, is not that the ultimate and essential mark of a disciple, love for our Lord? Faith may waver, hope deferred may make the heart sick with discouragement, but nevertheless we will follow the example of these disciples and never let our love for Him grow cold. In due season such faithfulness finds a glorious reward.

II. Hatred Is Relentless (27:62-66).

The wicked men who had brought about the crucifixion of Jesus were not content to let their hatred of Him die at the grave. They hustled after Him and they laid a heavy task upon Him. They made it impossible for Him to lie in peace in the grave, the priests and the Pharisees came to Pilate and called Him "that deceiver" (v. 63) and demanded a special guard to be placed there. They feared that His disciples would perpetrate a fraud, and after stealing the body declare that He was risen. Wicked and deceitful hearts can imagine all sorts of treachery on the part of others.

The hatred of unbelievers toward Christ and toward His followers knows no stopping place. In civilized lands and among cultured people it operates under a cloak of respectability, but it is none the less bitter and relentless in its pursuit of Him and of His Church.

Observe that while the chief priests and Pharisees acted in hatred and unbelief, they unwittingly did the cause of Christ a great service by demanding the guard over the tomb. They made it forever impossible for any charge of fraud to be successfully made against the truth of the resurrection.

III. Christ Is Triumphant (28:1-6).

Victory and praise should be the keynote of Christianity. Why should we be doleful and sad? Our Lord has come back victorious from the grave. We may be glad to sing even in the midst of earth's sorrows and distresses. Let praise be the employ of our lips constantly as we worship Him and work for Him.

The picture that greeted the surprised eyes of the two women as they came to the grave as it began to dawn on the first day of the week was one resplendent with the glory and majesty of God. The earth quaked as the lightning and white angel of the Lord broke through the unbreakable seal of Rome and rolled back the stone which was to have permanently closed the door to the tomb. This was done, not to release Christ—for He had already gone, no grave could hold Him—but that men might see the empty grave and know that He was risen.

To the foes of Christ represented by the keepers, the coming of the angel and the revelation of the power of God brought about their discomfiture. That is still true. Men will argue with theology, church methods, even Christian profession, until they see the power of God revealed, and then they can only be "as dead men."

To the friends of Christ the angel brought comfort and assurance. Their fears were assuaged by his word of comfort, and then their faith was revived by the assurance that Christ was risen. The resurrection declares that He is the Son of God with power, the Saviour of the world.

We call taxes trouble, while a hungry flea bites where a dog can't reach it.

It bothers some girls in Boone County to decide whether to be out of dates.

FIVE MILLION TREES NEEDED IN KENTUCKY

Kentucky gradually is being depleted of its beautiful forest trees. Unless about 5,000,000 trees are set in the next 10 years, Prof. N. R. Elliott, landscape man at the College of Agriculture at Lexington, thinks there will be serious lack of shade trees.

Prof. Elliott suggests setting hardwood trees that live long and are resistant to injury. He especially recommends hard maples, pin oaks, sycamores, tulip poplars and gums. Redbuds, dogwoods and hawthornes are among the better small trees recommended.

March and April are the best spring months for putting out trees. Further suggestions by Prof. Elliott are:

No tree more than 10 feet tall or more than 2 inches in diameter should be set, while six feet tall is the limit for the smaller kinds. A good root system is essential. In setting native trees, do not waste time hunting perfectly straight ones. Reasonably straight ones will be all right.

The soil does not get richer because a tree is planted in it. If poor soil is found in digging the hole, remove that soil and put a good topsoil in instead. Manure should not be placed around the roots, cover the roots thoroughly and then use the manure as a mulch on top. Wrap the trees from branches to the ground with two or three thicknesses of newspapers or burlap, leaving this on until it blows away.

FARM PLAN GIVES AAA INFORMATION

Kentucky farmers who participate in the 1940 AAA program have until April 15 to draw up with a local committeeman individual farm plans which apply the program to their farms.

In working out each farm plan, farm operations will be outlined to bring the greatest benefits to the farmer through his participation in the farm program, it is announced. The farmer will get first-hand information about soil-building practices needed on the farm and how he may be eligible for the maximum assistance under the farm program.

The farm plan, a copy of which each farmer will receive when he talks with his committeeman, also contains valuable information regarding classification of crops, maximum payments, soil-building practice credits, and similar data. Any farm operation who does not have the opportunity within the next few weeks to work out a farm plan should notify his local committeeman or the county office that he wishes to do so. In order to qualify for payment under the 1940 farm program, the farm plan must be filed in the county office on or before April 15.

HOMEMAKERS PLAN SUMMER VACATION

Representatives of Kentucky's 12,000 members of homemakers' clubs this month have attended a series of district meetings making plans for summer camps, and also arranging programs for the annual district homemakers' meetings. The planning sessions were held at Pikeville, Lexington, Mayfield, Madisonville, Bowling Green and Shelbyville.

For the past several years, hundreds of farm women have had a week's vacation attending camp, where a recreational and cultural schedule was followed under the general direction of Miss Myrtle Weldon, state leader of home demonstration work. Folk music, swimming, games, weaving and other handicraft make up the camp programs. For the annual district club meetings, a noted lecturer is engaged to discuss phases of community betterment.

10,000 FARMERS' PAY APPLICATIONS REMAIN UNFINISHED

Approximately 10,000 Kentucky farmers who cooperated with the Agricultural Conservation program in 1939 have yet to sign their applications in county association offices in order to qualify for 1939 payments. It has been announced by the state office of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Lexington.

These applications must be signed on or before March 30, 1940, the closing date for completing 1939 applications, and filed in county association offices.

Through February 29 the Agricultural Adjustment Administration has disbursed to county associations $4,790,921.43 in payment of $3,611 of the 1939 applications of Kentucky farmers. Distribution of the 1939 payments by county offices began early in February.

A total of 141,960 of the 1939 applications had been completed in county offices and forwarded to the state office as of March 7. Of this number 138,873 had been audited by the state office and shipped to the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, Washington, on that date.

The 10,000 applications which remain outstanding, representing less than 7 percent of the Kentucky farmers eligible for payment under the 1939 program, are scattered throughout the state.

"THANKS FOR A LOVELY EVENING..."

A new kind of beer retailing is bringing wholesome recreation to millions of Americans!

America's new kind of beer retailer wants to sell good beer, of course... but he is also keenly aware of his social responsibility to the community. He makes sure that his place is clean and inviting—and scrupulously free of anti-social influences of any kind.

The Brewing Industry wants all of beer's retailers to be of this type. We do not want any other kind. And we are taking action to eliminate any abuses in beer retailing that may occur.

We have instituted a new plan... now in effect in a few states and being extended as rapidly as possible... to protect your right to drink good beer in decent surroundings. May we tell you about it... in an interesting free booklet? Write: United Brewers Industrial Foundation, 19 East 40th Street, New York, N. Y.

Sunday with her grandmother, Mrs. L. M. Howard, of Erlanger.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Jergens and daughter accompanied Mrs. Geneva Souther to Detroit Saturday, to spend the week-end.

The many friends of Mr. A. S. Lucas regret to learn of his illness at his residence.

This scribe received a card from her nephew Willford Baxter who enjoyed a trip with his brother James Baxter of Portland, Ind., to Sioux City, Iowa. He stated that they had a nice trip which was marred only by ice and snow on the roads, which hindered motoring.

COOPER TO OPEN NEW STORE AT 805 MADISON
This issue of the Recorder carries an announcement of the Edw. P. Cooper Radio and Appliance Store's formal opening of their new store at 805 Madison Ave., Covington, next Saturday. Door prizes will be given visitors. The new store is showing Maytag, Norge and Dexter Washers, Electrolux and Norge Refrigerators; RCA Motorolas and Farnsworth radios; Ironite Ironers and other appliances.

LARGE CROWD ATTEND FORMAL OPENING OF IMPROVED SHOE STORE Large crowds were attracted Saturday to the formal opening of the greatly enlarged and improved Quality Sample Shoe Shop, 627 Madison Ave., Covington. The event celebrated the opening of the new mezzanine floor and the consolidation of the ladies' and men's shoe shops. Formerly this store sold only ladies' shoes, the men's-boys' store being at 805 Madison Ave.

Among the various improvements is the installation of the latest and best air-conditioning system.

Don't forget the three-act play entitled "An Adopted Cinderella" to be given by the Petersburg Christian Church, Saturday night, March 30th at the schoolhouse.

Union Services

In Florence March 21
An interdenominational worship service will be held tonight, Thursday, March 21, at the Florence Methodist Church at 8:00 p. m. Rev. Carter of the Christian Church will bring the message of the evening. Special music to be furnished by the combined choir of the Methodist, Christian and Lutheran churches. Everyone is cordially invited to come and worship together.

NEW HAVEN SCHOOL NEWS

A contest sponsored by Mr. Masters, principal, was held last Friday. The contest was the one making best two posters, advertising the movie, which was called "Singing It Professor," received a first prize. Nola Mae and Anna Pearl Smith were the winners. The Homemakers held their regular meeting Friday, March 15 at New Haven school. "Style Trends for Spring and Exterior Beautification" was the subject. An intra-mural basketball tournament is being held by the four upper grades of high school. In Monday's contest the sophomore defeated the freshmen 25-8; Wednesday the Juniors and Seniors will play the final game scheduled for Friday.

HOMEMAKERS' NOTES

The Petersburg Homemakers' Club met at the home of Miss Johnny Mae Terrill last Thursday, March 14th. Fourteen members answered to the roll call. Miss Gillaspie, Miss Nancy Terrill and Mrs. Edgar Snyder were guests. The morning was devoted to business and the exterior beautification. Miss Mary Rector gave a report on the leader's training of Exterior Beautification, under the direction of Dr. N. R. Elliott, which was held at the courthouse in February. At noon we all enjoyed a covered dish luncheon. In the afternoon the leaders, Mrs. Dolly Spang and Mrs. May Snyder gave the lesson on "Kitchen Back Savers." We then discussed what we would like to have for the next meeting.

Our president announced that our publicity chairman, Mrs. R. R. Whitman, had resigned and Miss Mary Rector was appointed to fill her unexpired term. Miss Gillaspie gave the "Style Lesson" which was enjoyed very much. Meeting was then adjourned. The next meeting will be April 11th at the school house. We hope there will not be so much illness and that more of our members will be present.

We have often wondered what a confirmed nudist does in red flannel weather.

Some indications of eye-strain are: Headaches, nervousness, dizziness, blurred vision, drowsiness after reading, discomfort of eyes after reading, squinting, frowning, and wrinkles and crow's feet around the eyes.

If you have any of the above-mentioned symptoms, come to us for a thorough examination of your eyes. Proper glasses will eliminate eye-strain.

FARMERS MUST SIGN FARM PLANS

OR LOSE PAYMENTS, ACCORDING TO COUNTY AGENT, H. R. FORKNER—684 FARMERS YET TO SIGN.

Thirteen hundred twenty-eight farmers are listed as eligible for Agricultural Conservation Program benefits of approximately $77,000 in 1940, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Approximately three-fourths of these payments will be earned through cooperating farmers carrying out soil-building practices, and one-fourth for benefits in not exceeding tobacco, wheat and truck crops and soil-depleting crop allotments.

Six hundred eighty-four farmers to date have not signed their 1940 Farm Plans that are necessary before benefit payments can be made to any individual farmer. These farmers must sign their farm plans before April 15th, the final date or else all 1940 benefit payments that would go to that farm will be lost.

The signing of the farm plan is not a contract, and the farmer accepts no honor-bound obligations in signing. It does express a desire to cooperate in the 1940 County Agricultural Conservation Association, and have his farm checked for farm benefits. Last year a number of farmers lost their benefit payments through failure to sign their farm plans.

Every farmer should sign a farm plan before April 15th, the closing date, according to the County Agent's office. It does not cost the farmer anything and if payments are earned, they can be received. Farmers who have not signed are urged to ACT NOW! Sign up at the County Office in Burlington.

Martha Jane Sleet

Martha Jane Sleet, 81, passed away at her home in Petersburg Monday morning following a few days' illness of pneumonia.

She was a member of the Petersburg Christian Church, and was well known throughout the county. She was one of Petersburg's oldest citizens.

She is survived by one sister, Jo Ann Gordon and a number of nephews and nieces.

Funeral services were conducted from her home Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m., with Rev. Lucas officiating. Interment was in the Petersburg cemetery.

Chambers and Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

LEADERS DISCUSS IMPROVEMENT

OF 1940 FOUR-H CLUB PROGRAM—CONFERENCE TO BE HELD AT BURLINGTON, SATURDAY, MARCH 30.

Boone County 4-H leaders will discuss ways and means of improving the 1940 4-H Club Program in the first 1940 County Conference to be held at Burlington courthouse, Saturday, March 30. Ten community 4-H clubs, including Burlington, Florence, Grant, Hamilton, Hebron, New Haven, Petersburg, Taylorsport, Verona and Walton, have enrolled approximately 425 boys and girls, according to the County and Home Demonstration Agent offices.

Each of these boys and girls, with the help of their parents and under the supervision of 76 adult leaders, will make a special study of one or more agricultural or home economics projects during 1940. They will actually carry out under the supervision of their adult leaders, a definite approved project, keeping complete business account records, and write a narrative story on the results secured.

The great problem of holding together the boys and girls through local community clubs falls back to the local adult leader. The leader brings the 4-H members together, teaches them methods of project improvement through cooperative discussion of problems involved and, in turn, a greater appreciation of rural life.

Special phases of leadership activity for this year will be discussed at the meeting Saturday. All adult leaders are urged to be present.

Phosphate Orders Exceed Last Year

Twelve car loads of 47 percent superphosphate totalling 3513 tons for use on soil-building crops have been ordered through the Boone County Agricultural Conservation Association, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. This exceeds the total amount of 336.85 tons by 14.45 tons ordered in 1939.

Prospects are for at least eight more car loads to be ordered during the next three weeks, provided the available supply is not exhausted. Phosphate has given one of the best increases in crop yields of all fertilizers. It has proven especially valuable when used with limestone on grass and legume crop seedings. Farmers who expect to use phosphate this year should file their order at the County Office immediately. No cash is needed either at the time of ordering or at the time of delivery. The farmer receives his phosphate at the railroad car.

Walton Man Enjoys Interesting Trip

James E. Falls and sister Mabel of Walton are enjoying a ten-day trip visiting in Washington, Baltimore, Ft. Monroe and other points of interest. Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Maples accompanied them to Ft. Monroe, after an extended visit in Walton.

MARCH 29 SET FOR P-T. A. MEET

AT NEW HAVEN HIGH SCHOOL—MARK GOODMAN, OF FRANKFORD WILL BE PRINCIPAL SPEAKER.

The Spring Conference of the Sixth District, Kentucky Branch of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers will be held in the New Haven High School, Union, Ky., on Friday, March 29 beginning at 10:30 a. m. E. S. T.

The annual election of officers will be held during the lunch period when a president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and auditor will be elected. Polls will be open from 12 noon until 1:30 p. m.

The speaker for the day will be Prof. Mark Goodman, Frankfort, High School Supervisor of State Department of Education. The program for the day follows: Call to order by the president, Mrs. A. H. Bates. Invocation will be pronounced by the Rev. J. Russell Cross, pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church. Address of welcome will be given by Mr. John Masters, principal of the New Haven School. Response by Mrs. Robert Reimer, extension chairman for Boone County. Mr. D. H. Norris, superintendent of Boone County Schools will speak on the parent-teacher work.

Mrs. Raymond Neyman, president of the New Haven P-T. A. will introduce the pages. The regular business meeting of the district will then be conducted when reports of the executive committee standing committees and auditor's report will be heard.

Mrs. Oscar Russell, of Silver Grove, chairman for the special committee on student aid will give a report on this project. The report of the nominating committee will be heard, after which the meeting will adjourn for luncheon.

The afternoon session will open with an address by Prof. Mark Goodman, Frankfort, after which the courtesy report will be given by Mrs. Earl Ehbauer, Covington.

James Hayes

James Hayes, 63, passed away at his home on Walton Route in the barn lot last Wednesday evening. His death was caused from heart failure. He was brought to the Chambers & Grubbs Funeral Home for preparation and then removed to the home of Miss Mary Collins at Bratton Station, where the body laid in state until Saturday morning.

Brief funeral services were held at the grave, Brooksville, Ky. He is survived by his widow, three daughters and one son. Chambers & Grubbs were in charge of funeral arrangements.

Hon. Ward Yager, of Warsaw, and Commonwealth Atty. R. L. Vincent, of Williamson were business visitors at the courthouse Tuesday.

HAMILTON GIRL WINS COUNTY BEE

HELD AT BURLINGTON SCHOOL FRIDAY, MARCH 22 — WILL REPRESENT COUNTY IN LOUISVILLE APRIL 18TH.

Miss Mary Lou Jones of the Hamilton school won first honors in the County Spelling Bee held at Burlington School, Friday March 22. In winning the bee, she will represent Boone County in the State Spelling Bee sponsored by the Courier-Journal, Louisville, on April 18th.

The contest was both oral and written spelling and at the end of the first round it was found to be a three-way tie among Bobby Kittle, of Hebron, Rose Austin, of Constance and Miss Mary Lou Jones of Hamilton.

After a hard fought contest the bee was finally won by Mary Lou Jones.

The following pupils represented the different schools of the county: Bellevue, Corinne Walton; Burlington, Rosetta Fae Snow; Constance, Rose Emogene Austin; Florence, Mary June Taylor; Hebron, Bobby Kittle; Hamilton, Mary Lou Jones; New Haven, Mary Katherine Shields; Petersburg, Wyman Stephens; Walton, Thelma Fisher.

Misleading Reports In AAA Tobacco Allotments

There have been many misleading reports in Boone County as to the various 1940 AAA tobacco allotments, according to reports of the County Office. Most of these reports have been started either through misunderstanding or false statements.

These reports in many instances state that farms that never had a previous allotment now have ten acres, certain farms have received marked increases this year, etc. Except for very unusual reasons, all farms have been subjected to uniform allotments according to acreage for determining 1940 quota allotments. There are certain rules whereby certain farms are eligible or justified in limited acreage increases and certain other conditions require slightly more than a 10 percent acreage reduction.

The County Office has always maintained an open house for any questions, the committee has attempted to do an honest sincere job and records are available and open to the public where any particular allotment is in question.

Plans are being made to publish a list of every farm tobacco allotment in the near future.

Tobacco Fertilizer Demonstrations Planned

Four tobacco fertilizer demonstrations have been planned with farmers in two communities, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The demonstrations involve the use of six to eight pounds of manure per acre and 800 pounds of 20 percent phosphate or its equivalent broadcast per acre. These demonstrations have given good results where tried in other counties. The heavy application of manure supplies nitrogen and potash necessary for good growth. The phosphate balances the plant food in the manure, causing the tobacco to ripen more evenly and about two weeks earlier.

A second decided advantage to this treatment is the condition of the soil following the tobacco crop. If an application of limestone following the tobacco crop is made, the land has received the best of fertilizer treatment for alfalfa, clover or whatever grass or legume that is to follow. This plan should prove a sound practice for improving soil fertility in a most economical manner. Lime should always be applied after the tobacco crop and as a general rule never before the tobacco crop.

Petersburg Farm Sold To Cincinnati Realtor Friday

Omer and Francis McGuire, sold their 300-acre farm near Petersburg to Lester Ogden, Cincinnati, realtor. The transaction was closed Friday of last week.

According to reports Mr. Ogden plans to remodel the residence and make many improvements to the farm. The price received for the farm was not disclosed.

Burlington Banker Addresses Utopia Club

Mr. A. B. Renaker, Cashier of the Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, addressed Utopia Club members at their meeting last Thursday night, on "The Essentials of Establishing Sound Credit." He outlined his talk specially for the young man and woman planning to start farming or going into business.

The fundamentals for establishing sound credit may be grouped under the 4 C's according to Mr. Renaker. These 4 C's stand for Character, Capacity, Capital and Collateral. Every young man going into business should attempt to establish sound business credit.

The next meeting of the Utopia Club will be held at Burlington on Thursday evening, April 18th. Dr. T. P. Polk, field agent in Veterinary Science at the College of Agriculture, has been invited to discuss "Animal Diseases and Their Importance to Profitable Farming and to Human Health."

Five Birthday Anniversaries Are Celebrated Sunday

Five birthday anniversaries were celebrated with a dinner Easter Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Schram, Shelby St., Florence, in honor of brothers Jim and John Schram, business and mother-in-law, Charles First and Mrs. May First, of Cincinnati also Mrs. Perry Allen, friend of the family.

The table was cleverly decorated with a huge birthday cake, candy and flowers, carrying out the popular Easter colors of pink and yellow.

Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schram and son Freddie, Mr. and Mrs. Charles First and children, Junior and Beverly, Mrs. May First, Mrs. Perry Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brogan and children, Matha and Woody, of Bellevue, Ind., Mr. Fred Schram and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. John Schram and daughter Bonnie.

Birthdays from March 12th to 24th and ages from 8 to 68 received joyful congratulations and many happy returns.

Maudie Renaker, whose anniversary was March 13th joined them in the evening for pleasant entertainment.

Offutt-Utz

Mrs. Myrtle Offutt, daughter of J. R. Eddins, Burlington and Robt. Utz, also of Burlington, were secretly united in marriage on Wednesday night, March 20th at 8:00 p. m. at the home of Rev. R. D. Martin in Erlanger.

The bride and groom are both graduates of the Burlington High school and both know the county the entire county. They will make their home in the apartment over the J. R. Eddins property, which was completed and ready for use last Saturday.

It is the sincere desire of their many friends that they enjoy much happiness throughout life.

Mrs. Genie Green, who has been spending some time with her sister Mrs. Alice Boyle, of Hamilton, O., spent a few hours at her home Monday. She expects to return to her home in the near future.

BASEBALL CLUBS TO BE ORGANIZED

MEETING TO BE HELD AT BURLINGTON COURT HOUSE MONDAY NIGHT, APRIL 1ST AT 7:00 P. M.

A meeting has been called by baseball supporters throughout the county, to be held at the court house Monday night, April 1st at 7:00 for the purpose of discussing the organization of a Boone County Saturday afternoon baseball club.

C. D. Benson, who has managed several good ball clubs during the past few years stated that if six teams could be organized in the county, he was sure that the league would be successful. There is plenty of good baseball material in all sections of the county. Mr. Benson stated, and if these players are interested they should attend the meeting Monday night. According to reports the teams will play all games on Saturday afternoon.

DEMOCRATS TO STAGE DRIVE

FOR NEW MEMBERS—COMMITTEES SELECTED AT MEETING HELD LAST WEEK—PRIZE OFFERED.

The executive and entertainment committee of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Boone County, held a meeting Tuesday night of last week at Florence, Ky. The committee selected the following men in Boone county to take charge of the Membership drive of Boone County: Bill Rogers, Bellevue; Al Stephens, of Petersburg; Benny Jarrell, Petersburg; Cutler Goodridge, Hebron; Wallace Clore, Burlington; Roscoe Akins, Burlington; Tom Owens, Florence; Charles Dobbin, Florence; Glenn Laws, Walton; D. L. Lushy, Walton; Ervin Rouse, Union; Kenneth Aylor, Big Bone; Wilbur Acra, Rabbit Hash; Harry Moore, Beaver; J. W. Powers, Verona; W. E. Jones, Bullittsville; Wm. (Red) Lane, Constance. These men were elected due to their location and wide popularity in the county.

The committee decided to give the six men that sold the highest number of membership cards, a free ticket to see the Cincinnati Reds play a Sunday game. This drive will continue over a period of two months. Each man that was selected will receive membership cards and instructions thru mail or by personal contact from the Secretary of the club, within the next few days.

The club will hold their monthly meeting: April 8th, 7:30 (central standard time) at the new schoolhouse, Burlington. A program has been arranged to have two widely known wrestlers of Northern Kentucky to hold an exhibition match. The public is invited to attend, free of charge.

Those wishing refreshments and lunch will be accommodated by the Burlington P-T. A. Club.

The April meeting will be a joint session of the ladies and men of the county. So boys, bring out your mother, wife or sweetheart.

Clore-Eddins

Mr. J. R. Eddins, and Mrs. Zelma Clore, both of Burlington, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 8 p. m. at the home of Mr. Joe Walton, in Erlanger. F. E. Walker performed the ceremony.

After the ceremony they journeyed to Cincinnati for dinner and returned to their home in Burlington at 10 p. m.

The bride and groom were at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kelly of the East Bend Road.

Their many friends join in wishing them much happiness together.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Merrick Entertain With Easter Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Merrick entertained with a family gathering last Sunday at their rural home, on the Aurora road. Since the death of Mrs. Merrick's parents, Easter has always been observed at her home.

By noon the table was laden with good eats and the centerpiece of the table was a large bouquet of fresh sweet peas of assorted colors.

A very pleasant time was spent with the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. James Scudder and daughter, Lavena Mae, Mr. and Mrs. William Merrick and son of Aurora, Ind.; Mrs. Paris Kelly and daughter Mary Lou, Louis Edwin, Bobby and Wayne, of Maysville, Ky.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith of near Maple Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hodges and daughter, Wilma of East Bend; Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lotton and daughter Helen Jean, and son, Junior, Robert and Russell Beard, Mrs. James Beard, all of Salem Ridge; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Riggs and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Riggs, of Indianapolis; Paul Koon and Miss Dorothy Dugie, of Rising Sun, Ind.; Misses Frances and Violet Stephens of Burlington; Mr. James West of Rising Sun; and James and Howard Smith.

All remained until a late hour, and each one bidding goodbye expressed their desire to attend the gathering again next Easter.

Don't forget the three-act play entitled "An Adopted Gladiolus" to be given by the Petersburg Christian Church, Saturday night, March 30th at the schoolhouse.

Farmers Grow New Tobacco Variety

Mr. William Waller, leading farmer in the Verona community, has secured seed and completed plant bed plans for sowing Experiment Station No. 48 variety tobacco seed, a new mosaic resistant variety developed by the Kentucky Experiment Station.

Mosaic is a virus disease causing wilting or dry weathering and other disastrous effects on tobacco plants and is one of the most common troubles on tobacco in the field. Infection at setting time will cause stunting of the plants which may reduce their value over 60 percent.

Mr. Waller plans to supply a number of growers with enough plants for three rows or one stick through their tobacco field in order to compare this strain with the commonly grown variety on the farm.

North Bend Bottom Farm Sold To G. Andrews Espy

The 447-acre river bottom farm of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Muntz, located on the Taylorsport-North Bend Road, was sold to G. Andrews Espy Monday. The purchase price of the farm was not made known.

HUNTING LICENSE BILL IS PASSED

BY GENERAL ASSEMBLY—WILL NOT GO INTO EFFECT UNTIL JANUARY 1, 1941—SQUIRREL SEASON CHANGED.

A bill providing for county as well as state-wide hunting licenses fixing the cost of county licenses at $1 and state licenses at $3, and repealing the ban against merchants possessing more than 16 rabbits at one time, passed through the Senate of the legislature the day before adjournment by a vote of 30 to 6.

The bill introduced in the House and passed by that body, has gone to Governor Johnson for his approval. Introduced by Rep. James W. Chapman, Ashland, the bill also increases non-resident licenses from $10.50 to $15.50. It changes the open season on quail, opossum, raccoon, fox, skunk, muskrat from Nov. 1-Dec. 31, to now read Nov. 24 to Jan. 9, inclusive. There will be no open season on otter and beaver.

The open season of squirrels in Kentucky has been changed by the bill to now open on Aug. 15 and close on Oct. 31, inclusive. The rabbit season will remain as last year, that is, opening on Nov. 24 and extending through Jan. 9.

The contents of this bill which includes changes of season on furbearing animals and squirrels, will go into effect 90 days after adjournment of the legislature (March 14) which means that these particular parts of the bill will become effective June 12. The part of the bill pertaining to county and state-wide hunting licenses, will not take effect until Jan. 1, 1941. Major James Brown, director of the Division of Game and Fish stated.

Hemphills Entertain Daughter From Baltimore Sun

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Benthman spent Easter Sunday with Mrs. Benthman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hemphill. Mr. Benthman proved his ability as a real fisherman by bringing with him a fifteen-pound Rock Bass that he caught Friday. No, this is not a fish story, for the writer saw the fish, saw it weighed and helped eat—so what more proof is needed?

Joel Gray In Serious Condition At Christ Hospital

Mr. Joel Gray, Burlington dairyman is in serious condition at Christ Hospital, suffering from a prostate gland condition, and is now fighting pneumonia.

No visitors were allowed Sunday, but Mrs. Gray stated that one hung in bed condition and that preventative pneumonia treatments were being administered.

SPORTSMEN PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

FOLLOWING BANQUET—MOVING PICTURES WILL BE FEATURE OF ENTERTAINMENT—STATE OFFICIALS TO ATTEND.

Plans for an interesting program have been completed by the entertainment committee of the Boone County Fish and Game Club which will follow immediately after the banquet, according to officials.

Featured in the evening's entertainment will be a number of moving pictures, which according to State officials, is very interesting and will prove very entertaining to everyone present.

Steve Wakefield, assistant director of the Division of Fish and Game, Frankfort, is expected to attend the banquet. Mr. Wakefield gave a very interesting talk at the banquet last year, and no doubt will speak on the program this year.

Sportsmen, farmers and everyone interested in wildlife conservation are invited to attend the banquet which will be held at the Burlington school Friday night, March 29 at 7:00 p. m. Tickets are now on sale and can be obtained from anyone of the precinct chairmen of equal distribution or at The Recorder office, Burlington.

Extensive plans have been complete for this annual get-together and a very large crowd is expected to attend. The Burlington P-T. A. will serve the meal, which is assurance that everyone attending will enjoy the best of food, prepared in the very best manner. Reservations must be made not later than Thursday night of this week, and anyone desiring tickets should contact their precinct chairman immediately.

Florence Couple Celebrate Fortieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fulton, of Florence, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary Sunday when they entertained a group of relatives and friends with a lovely turkey dinner.

The table was beautifully decorated in Easter colors. Those present to enjoy the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Kirkland, of Toolburg, Ky.; Miss Frank Appleby, Maysville, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Jones and son Homer, Greensburg, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones and Jennie Jones, of near Florence; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Russ, of Limsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Turner, Florence; Frank House, of Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. George Ryan, Covington; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mullin and family of Midway; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Houchen of Falmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulton were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

$3.00 BILLS ON DISPLAY HERE

BY PEOPLES DEPOSIT BANK—ISSUED IN 1818 BY THE BANK OF BURLINGTON—BILLS ARE QUITE A CURIOSITY.

The Peoples Deposit Bank has in its possession two $3.00 bills issued by "The Bank of Burlington" Kentucky under dates of June 3, 1818 and December 14, 1818. These bills were signed in ink by hand by the President, Case Johnson and the Cashier, Philist Bush and the names of the parties to whom the bills were issued are written in the face of the bills by hand in ink. Little is known about this first bank in Burlington 122 years ago as it has always been understood that the first bank in Boone County was the old Boone County Deposit Bank which was organized in Burlington in 1886 but from the above mentioned bills, evidently a bank in Burlington was in existence as far back as 1818.

These bills also are somewhat of a curiosity aside from the dates issued because of the three dollar denomination.

In addition to these $3.00 bills the bank also has some 10 and 15 cent paper U. S. Treasury fractional bills of the common known as "Shin Plasters" which circulated as money during the Civil War. The bank officials have framed this old money under glass in order to preserve it.

SO AS THE LILY

For lo, the winter is past,
The rain is over and gone;
The flowers appear on the earth;
The time of the singing of birds is come.

These words of Solomon are symbolical of rebirth, of the religious lesson of Easter and the triumph of life over death. With its observance today appears the shadow of slaughter over a people ruled by violence. Those who preach tolerance, gentleness and peace, ask if His death was in vain and if victory was only fleeting.

The teachings of Christ were to men of all stations, shepherds and fishermen, prophets and princes, under starry skies on wooded hillsides, from boats and temples came the prophecies of the savior of man.

Though we are threatened with destruction, though fraud and passion run rampant, freedom of man's spiritual beliefs assailed, through a winter of suffering comes a spring when the Easter lily lifts its bloom as a symbol of new life and hope. Seeds are germinating in the ground to send up shoots which will become fruit and blossoms. That sign of light after darkness, of springtime after winter's cold, of life after death, still stands as an ideal not lost but only misplaced or perhaps overlooked.

The goal of a full life and the ultimate aim of a godly person comes with the resurrection. The doctrine of a life of gentleness is signified by the purity and beauty of the lily which grows from the dirt and dark. The hopelessness of life seems to question the higher principles that are taught us that give joy to living. The disappointments and losses which face the man oftentimes seem unbearable. But as the germinating seed forces its way slowly to the surface and light and to life, blossom and to fruit, so do we forge our way to a clearer conception of life's reason for survival. The lily succeeds in glorifying itself from an ugly bulb to a beautiful plant. Can we not attempt the struggle to satisfy our existence by making life's purpose comparable with the lily?

The end of life is just its beginning they teach us. But the dubious wonder what assurance can be given of this. There is no guarantee if the prophecies of Christ mean nothing to us. If the Book is dismissed as fantasy and its teachings as outmoded. There is no reason if the generous soul who gave his life on a cross did it in vain. Well might we ask the why of it all! But to love and rejoice and serve is the keynote of lives lived in Christian fellowship. Easter is the hand of life on the land of the dead. Flowering spring is not a time for hopelessness but hides the cross and the nails.

ABOUT THIS TIME

Tornadoes, hurricane warnings, storm signals, flooded areas, seem to accompany the lady called Spring. The U. S. Weather Bureau is kept busy prognosticating and citizens are worried whether and control will work hand in hand. Many of the large land are visited with floods during winter thaws, and inundated homes bring sorrow to folks affected and general dismay to the public. Those of us in Boone County who are fortunate to escape these catastrophic events still sympathize with the districts visited by spring entourage of tornado, flood and cyclone.

GOOD FARMING

Wealth in the ground and a farm that can prosper is the dream and becomes the reality to many a man who understands good soil, climate and management. It is not necessary to have relief and subsidies to produce good crops and attain a hearty harvest. Agriculture is not increased in value through government agencies, it only increases the value. The richness of the soil, the fertility of the crop, the resourcefulness of the grower are the fundamentals for prospering farms. A lasting prosperity can be erected on the acres of land that are blessed by nature and nurtured by God and man. Well to bear in mind, "Plant to prosper."

BAGS WILL HELP

To prevent belts from twisting during the laundry in the washing machine, place them (and other small articles) in an old sugar bag. Tie shut so the articles will stay together during the washing. When starch becomes lumpy, pour it in an old sugar cloth bag and squeeze the starch through. The lumps remain in the bag and the bag is easily washed afterwards.

THE CONTINUING TASK

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 28:18-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ye shall be witnesses unto the uttermost parts of the earth.—Acts 1:8.

World conquest! The dream of dictators and of national leaders through the ages is to be accomplished, for there is One who has the authority to claim such a place of leadership who will one day rule, for then "the kingdoms of this world" will have become "the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and He shall reign for ever and ever" (Rev. 11:15). While we await His coming to take the throne are we to sit idly by? No indeed, for even now Christ has all authority and He has commissioned His followers to go out and to serve Him in all the world by making disciples in every nation.

I. The Obedient Disciples (vv. 16, 17).
The Lord never fails to keep His word, but often His followers miss great blessing because they fail to keep their appointments with Him. He had told His disciples that after His resurrection He would meet them in Galilee, and we read that they met Him at the appointed place. One trembles to think of what they and we might have missed if they had failed to meet.

His promise to us is just as true and definite. "Where two or three are gathered in my name, there am I in the midst of them" (Matt. 18:20). Let us apply this to today. If we meet Him at the appointed place, blessing will come to us and will flow out through us to all the world.

Observe that "some doubted," that is, they were perplexed and uncertain about the resurrection. If they persisted in their lack of faith we know that it must have shut them out of a great blessing, but at the same time it did not hinder the Lord's gracious ministry to His other disciples.

II. The All-Powerful Leader (v. 18).
Quietly and without any fanfare, Jesus announced that all power was given unto Him, or as the Revised Version more appropriately translates the word, "all authority." He does have all power, but He has more. He has the supreme authority which gives Him the right to rule over the entire creation, heaven and earth, spiritual as well as material.

No man in his right mind has ever laid claim to authority over even so much as a room, but here is One who without hesitation or qualification declares that to Him has been given all authority in heaven as well as in earth, that is, over the entire universe. Surely it is to God Himself who here speaks to us.

III. The Great Commission (vv. 19, 20a).
"It is the sublimest of all spectacles to see the risen Christ without money or army or state, charging this band of 300 men and women with world conquest and bringing them to believe it possible and to undertake it with serious passion and power. Pentecost is still to come, but dynamic faith rules on this mountain in Galilee" (Dr. A. T. Robertson).

Such faith and such a commission call for a worldwide vision. The church or individual without a worldwide missionary vision assuredly does not have the viewpoint of Christ. Observe also that "it is an evangelistic mission." We are to go out and to evangelize the world, not primarily to improve the social order. Our business is to "make disciples," that is, true followers of Jesus Christ, which they can only become through accepting Him as Saviour and Lord.

Such a ministry will inevitably be a teaching ministry. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17). How foolish is the preacher or evangelist who fails to teach the Word of God. It is His appointed method which cannot fail. Christian baptism is also a vital part of the Great Commission. It was first practiced at Pentecost (Acts 2) and later in the Church (Acts 8 and 10).

IV. The Abiding Presence (v. 20b).
There is no other statement of fact (for it is more than a promise) anywhere or by anyone that can compare with the assurance of Christ that He is with His witnesses always, even unto the end of the age. Consider first of all who is to be with us, namely, the Son of God, the risen Christ, the One with all authority in heaven and earth! Then note that He is to be with His disciples "always." How important the inspiration of even the greatest human leader largely goes with him to the grave. The Lord Jesus, on the other hand, is with each one of His children always. What assurance that fact brings to every witness for Christ as he gives himself joyfully to the carrying out of the Great Commission!

Many a local girl has made a fool of a man who has enjoyed the series of treatments.

There are many of us who wonder if one man has the right to another man's opinions.

WANT TO MAKE A CHANGE FOR THE BETTER?

Here's a man getting ready to take a look at the car he's always wanted to own. Will he buy it?

Now he's discovering that this big, long-wheelbase beauty is priced right down with the lowest!

He's now hearing the story of Pontiac's "long-life" engineering—hearing why and how Pontiac saves his money.

And now the big thrill—10 minutes at the wheel and he's hurrying back to sign the order.

Mr. Harry Acra made a business trip to Burlington Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Padgett and family entertained a number of guests Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Ogden and family entertained several guests Sunday.

Mrs. Levi Pennington and children Lucy, Jimmie, Raymond and Doris spent the week-end in Dayton, Ohio, with Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Pennington and daughter.

Mrs. Leo Flynn and son Dennis are visiting friends at Richmond, Ky.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. Addie Gibson, who has been confined to her home is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wilson had as their guest last Thursday, Mrs. Gilbert Wilson and Mr. Wilson. Lawrence Kendall was recently

LADIES' AID MEET

The Ladies' Aid and W. M. U. of the Union Baptist Church held their regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Omar Black, with twenty-three members and eight visitors present.

The morning meeting was presided over by our president, Mrs. Austin Geschwind. We sang "How Firm a Foundation," repeated our watchword and were led in prayer by Mrs. Coots. We then held a short business session, at which time reports were given on the work of the young people's organizations.

We were dismissed for the social hour and lunch, by Mrs. Sallie Talafiero, of Erlanger.

We were called together by our president at 1 p. m. for the program which was in charge of Mrs. Elaine Greenup and was as follows:

Theme for Year—"Steadfast Purpose in a Changing World."

Topic for Month—"Steadfast in the Homeland."

Hymn—"How Firm a Foundation."

Bible Study—"Questioning God"; A dialogue, Miss Lucy Newman.

Hymn—"America."

Prayer—Mrs. Coots.

Early Witness in the Homeland—Mrs. Elaine Greenup.

Home Mission Beginnings—Mrs. Ota Bristow.

Changing Conditions in the Homeland—Mrs. Kirtley McWethy.

Southern Baptist Steadfast in Home Missions—Mrs. Ray Newman.

Prayer—Mrs. Holden.

It Happened This Way—Mrs. Doretta Rouse.

We were favored with talks by several of the visiting ladies, each one paying high tribute to the Union W. M. U. which was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Coots in her talk, compared life to a perfect star having five points—the points of representing Prayer, Bible Study, Stewardship Personal Service and accepting the command of Jesus, with Christ as the center. She brought out very clearly how imperfect life is with any one of these lacking.

We were dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Myrtle Marshall.

Pub. Chairman.

W. M. U. HOLD MEETING

An all-day meeting of the W. M. U. of the Union Baptist Church was held at the church March 28th to observe the Week of Prayer for Home Missions and for book study.

The book, "Give Ye Them to Eat" was taught by five W. M. U. members, each one giving a chapter.

This was rendered in a very impressive manner and everyone present seemed to have gotten visions they had never before had.

The program for the day of prayer was as follows:

Devotional—Mrs. Pearl Blankenbaker.

Christ's Concern, Our Concern—Mrs. Doretta Rouse.

Appeal for March Week of Prayer and Annie W. Armstrong Offering—Mrs. Ruth Mason.

Song—"Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone?"

Prayer for Missions of our Homeland—Mrs. J. A. Huey.

Modern City, Challenging Mission—Mrs. Anna Smith.

Offering Named for Mrs. Anna W. Armstrong—Mrs. Elaine Greenup.

A Ministry Within the Reach of All—Mrs. Anna Bristow.

Song—"Take the Name of Jesus With You."

Prayer—Miss Lucy Newman.

Reading—"Rithing Eggs" Mrs. J. T. Bristow.

Song—"Throw Out the Lifeline" Dismissal Prayer.

PETERSBURG 4-H CLUB

COMMUNITY MEETING

The second community meeting of the Petersburg 4-H club met last week at the school. Twenty-two members were present. Our president, Billy Eber, presided.

A large crowd of members and several visitors were present to enjoy the day. The morning was taken up with the regular program and business, and the afternoon was devoted to observance of the Week of Prayer.

Mrs. Laura Rogers, president, presided, and all answered the roll call with quotations of, or work done by some Missionary. Then Mrs. Florence McArthur, our program chairman took charge, having a well planned program.

We adjourned by saying the 4-H pledge.

Don't forget the three-act play entitled "An Adopted Cinderella" to be given by the Petersburg Christian Church, Saturday night, March 30th at the schoolhouse.

Gayety Theater News

Friday

Two big features will be shown at the Gayety Friday, "Two Thoroughbreds," and "The Show Goes On."

Sixteen-year-old Jimmy Lydon, and 14-year-old Joan Brodel, film actress of many years' experience, make their debut as a new juvenile team in RKO Radio's "Two Thoroughbreds," heart-stirring story of an orphan boy, a rich man's daughter, and a thoroughbred colt.

The internationally famous juggler, Gaston Palmer, makes an amusing appearance in "The Show Goes On," the brilliant and entraining new Herbert Wilcox production, which Gaumont is releasing.

Gaston finds himself giving an after-dinner speech at a big variety ball held in Paris.

His tongue-tied efforts cause him great embarrassment, and he begins toying with home bread rolls on the table. Before the guests realize what is happening he is giving them a marvellous juggling exhibition—in fact, he "says it with bread-rolls." He is now keeping important engagements in Brussels and Berlin.

Sunday and Monday

Sonja Henle has amazed moviegoers often in the past with her sensational artistry on the ice, but now the blonde champion pulls a new surprise out of the hat and emerges as her latest 20th Century Fox film, "Everything Happens at Night," as a full-fledged, expert dramatic actress. Boasting a timed and danger-spiced story filled as well with gay and romantic elements, this new film presents Sonja with two leading men, Ray Milland and Robert Cummings, and the result of their collaboration in a screen treat indeed.

Tuesday and Wednesday

Experts conducting research for "Rulers of the Sea," new Frank Lloyd picture telling of the triumph of steam over sail with Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Margaret Lockwood and Wanda Fawcett.

Scottish character actor, in co-starring roles, proved that the Scotch are definitely a generous people.

The proof lay in a set reproducing a Scottish public inn of the 18th century. John Goodman, unit art director, declared to be the most difficult set to re-create authentically for the picture.

"There were no Scottish inns of consequence until about 1800," he explained. English inns date back to medieval times. But in Scotland, while they may have been watchful of their pennies, the townfolk cared for wayfarers beneath their own roofs.

Perhaps this pro-Scottish item can be connected with the fact that the producer-director, Frank Lloyd, and one of the stars, Frank Fyffe, are both Scots.

HEBRON HOMEMAKERS

The Hebron Homemakers met at Hebron School March 13. Fourteen members and Miss Gillaspie answered roll call with a Bible verse.

In the morning we had our business meeting and the report of Farm and Home Week. Miss Gillaspie showed us book ends and a very interesting talk on extermination.

She showed several orders to be paid next month. Our goals for 1940 are an increase in membership, improve our attendance and adopt at least one of our approved practices.

Mrs. Bessie Acker gave a very interesting talk on extermination. She suggested we exchange flower seed, also that a thin cloth spread over our newly planted seed beds will help to keep the tiny seed from washing out of ground when we water them.

A list of the new flowers suggested by Prof. N. R. Elliott were Giant Improved Imperial Larkspur, New Tetra Marigold, David Burpee Zinnias, Scarlett O'Hara, and others.

On the trellis with the climbing roses came a good effect and the new dwarf Petunia Creme Star.

Mrs. Norma Aylor and Mrs. David Pope gave a fine lesson what to wear this spring. Our next meeting will be April 10th at the Junior Order Hall.

LOWER GUNPOWDER

(Delayed)

Mr. Steve Robbins passed away at the home of his son Mr. Robert Robbins Thursday night. We extend our sympathy.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Huff, Garland Huff and family, Frank Beebe and wife, Harold Love and wife spent Sunday afternoon with J. E. Ryle and wife.

Mr. John Jones and wife have had the flu and several other families in the community have been suffering from the disease.

We extend sympathy to the Webster and Wallace family in the loss of their father, John Webster of Napoleon Ridge.

The M. W. A. gave an oyster supper Friday evening to its members and their families. There was quite a crowd present.

There will be a pie supper and a spelling match at Hamilton school March 22. Come and enjoy the evening.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The Florence Homemakers' Club recently met at the Town Hall for an all-day meeting. The roll call was answered with "What Makes a Happy Home."

Mrs. Clyde Arnold, our representative to Farm and Home week at Lexington, gave a very interesting report.

After luncheon an interesting lesson on "Back Savers" was presented by our leaders, Mrs. Charlotte Wilson and Mrs. Laverne Willford.

Now that the weather is getting nicer we urge all members to be present at our next meeting, and all visitors are always welcome.

BURLINGTON HOMEMAKERS

The Burlington Homemakers met Thursday, March 7 at the court-house, with 22 members present.

The lesson this month was "Spring Styles" and was discussed by Mrs. Helen Clore.

Mrs. Garnett Tolin presented a paper on flowers and their arrangements.

At noon lunch was served. Our next regular monthly meeting will be held on April 7. Everyone is invited to attend these meetings.

DON'T FLOW TOBACCO BEDS AFTER BURNING

Plowing or other deep stirring of tobacco beds after burning brings unburned weed seeds to the surface and thus destroys the benefits of burning.

Prof. E. J. Kinney of the Kentucky College of Agriculture, Lexington, says that tobacco seeds in the top inch or two of the soil, and when the soil below that depth is brought to the surface unburned weed seeds come along.

A light raking of the soil is all right, Prof. Kinney says, but deep stirring should be avoided.

YOUTH PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED

BY BOONE COUNTY 4-H LEADERS — THIRTY-ONE LEADERS ATTEND MEETING AT BURLINGTON SATURDAY.

Rural youth problems of today were discussed in an all-day conference of Boone County 4-H leaders. Thirty one-leaders attended the meeting held at Burlington Saturday, March 30th.

Special discussions on the program included the importance of the 4-H's, Head, Heart, Health and Hand, and the rewards both to the boys and girls and the adult leaders.

Speakers on the program included Prof. D. H. Norris, president of the 4-H Council and Superintendent of Boone County Schools; A. B. Renaker, cashier of the Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington; Grant Maddox, adult leader of the Florence 4-H Club; Mrs. Sibbie Reimer, adult leader of the Hebron 4-H Club; Prof. J. F. Moore, adult leader of the Grant 4-H Club; E. E. Fish and Dorothy Threlkeld of the State 4-H Department; Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent; H. R. Forkner, County Agent; and H. B. Drake, Assistant County Agent. The conference was considered one of the best 4-H leader's meeting held in the County to date.

Mr. A. B. Renaker, chairman of the Boone County Bankers' Association awarded to James Pennington, leader of the Walton 4-H Club and J. F. Moore of the Grant 4-H Club, the Bankers' Association trophies for the outstanding community work of their clubs in 1939.

Boone Williamson

Boone Williamson, age 75 years, passed away at his home near Waterloo last Thursday, after a week's illness that developed pneumonia. He has lived in Boone County all his life.

He leaves his wife, Bessie, I daughter, Mrs. Slayback, two sons, Lou and Howard, 2 grandchildren and one brother, Mart Williamson.

Services were conducted Saturday afternoon at the Bellevue cemetery by Rev. Raymond Smith, pastor of Bellevue Baptist Church. Steele was in charge of arrangements.

FLORENCE MAN FOUND DEAD

IN BED FOLLOWING SEVERAL MONTHS' ILLNESS—SERVICES HELD TUESDAY AT FLORENCE.

Griffin D. Hoffman, 46-year-old cafe operator, died at his home in Florence Sunday morning, after months' illness.

Mr. Hoffman had been under treatment of Dr. Harry Daugherty of Florence for a heart ailment. He was found dead in bed Sunday by his wife, Mrs. Myrtle Hoffman.

He moved to Florence two years ago, to become proprietor of a cafe there. Before going to Florence, he had operated a farm.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, Neville, Emil and Glenn Hoffman, all of Florence, and his father, Madison Hoffman, of the Burlington Pike.

Services were held at 2 o'clock Tuesday at the Tharp and Smith funeral home, Florence. Burial was in Independence cemetery.

EIGHTY ATTEND BANQUET FRIDAY

GIVEN BY BOONE COUNTY FISH AND GAME PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION—WILDLIFE PICTURES SHOWN.

A large crowd attended the annual banquet given by the Boone County Fish and Game Protective Association at the Burlington schoolhouse Friday night.

The banquet served by the Burlington P. T. A., consisting of baked ham, potatoes, green beans, salad, hot rolls, apple pudding and coffee was well prepared and enjoyed by all present.

Chas. W. Riley, past president of the association gave a brief talk on the purpose of the club, and distribution of quail in this county which project will be carried out this Saturday, April 6th.

Following the banquet, those present were invited to view several films on wildlife, which was shown by James J. Gilpin, publicity chairman of the State Fish and Game Division. These pictures were highly interesting, showing a cartoon of the beginning of time the growth of vegetation and natural resources available to wildlife before the coming of man. Following the picture showed the destruction of these resources by man, and the consequences.

Another film was shown of the various bird holding pens throughout the state and the numerous hatcheries operated by the division. Gilpin also showed a natural picture of bird hunting and fishing, which proved very interesting.

Several new members were added to the club at this meeting. Precinct committee from various parts of the county are requested to call at Burlington Saturday, April 6th for their allotment of birds which are to be distributed on farms in various sections of the county where feed, water and cover is available for the birds.

FLORENCE LADIES TO HAVE BAKE SALE

LOYD SOCIETY TO MEET

The regular monthly meeting of the Lloyd Memorial Society will be held at the Lloyd home on Saturday, April 6th for an all-day session. All members are requested to attend.

WOOL POOL ASS'N. ELECTS OFFICERS

ANNUAL MEETING HELD AT BURLINGTON MONDAY, APRIL 1ST—SALE DATE TO BE ANNOUNCED LATER.

The Boone County Wool Pool held its annual organization meeting at Burlington on Court day, Monday, April 1st.

Officers elected for the new year include H. E. White, president; Lillard Scott, Secretary-Treasurer.

Directors are as follows: Carlton, Orville Kelly; Verona, Walter Johnson; Beaver, J. W. Conley; Walton, E. W. Frank; Union, Alma Riley; Florence, C. F. Blankenbaker; Petersburg, Charles Stevens; Hebron, C. S. Riddell; Constance, L. D. McGlasson; Burlington, H. E. White; Grant, Lillard Scott.

The date for sale of the 1940 wool clip will be set at the next meeting to be held court day, Monday, May 6th. Mr. L. A. Vennes, marketing specialist of the College of Agriculture, will give growers the price outlook for wool and lambs at this meeting. All wool growers are urged to be present.

The wool pool has ordered sacks that will be available in the near future. All growers are urged to sign up with their local committees at the earliest possible date. Last year 90 percent of all growers in the county sold their wool through the county pool.

HEALTH NURSE IS OBTAINED

FOR BOONE COUNTY TO START JULY 1ST—FUNDS APPROPRIATED BY BOONE FISCAL COURT.

At the regular meeting of the Boone Fiscal Court Tuesday, an appropriation was made to help finance a county health nurse for this county, the appointment to be made July 1st.

The appropriation of the court, together with the aid of several other organizations in the county, is said to be sufficient to make this service available to all Boone Countians. The cause is one that has certainly been neglected here, and had it not been for the interest shown by so many persons, it probably would have never been accomplished.

The local chapter of the Red Cross will select the person to fill the post on July 1st. This selection will be made by the local Chapter Red Cross Nurse Committee that will interview recommendations of the National Red Cross.

Grateful indeed is Boone County that the smaller sized town is not the usual hunting ground for the loan shark, that type of lender who demands his pound of flesh accompanied with a ton of interest. Many are the stories of illegal profits taken from the poor, of incidents where a loan of $20 collected as high as a total of $1,053. It seems unbelievable and we might criticize the man who is weak enough to let himself in for this sort of thing. Too often when the life and health of a family depends upon one of these loans where it is impossible to obtain funds through any other means, the victim is led to the slaughter with his eyes open but helpless to defend himself. Times of stress and small loans make the loan sharks thrive. There are many states trying to make it difficult to operate this sort of business but despite the laws the shark gets fat on the customers who reluctantly travel the path to his door. They figure that about one hundred million dollars is paid out to illegal operation on loans

FUNERAL SERVICE

Walton,

Kentucky

official day in many states but recognized as a worthy mention in every state. The importance of our national bird life to man and to agriculture, calls for the protection and nurturing of the song and insectivorous birds. It is well to have these winged friends in mind and join the national bird club in its yearly observance. The school children in Boone County have always had instruction through observation and the printed word of the importance of bird life, and of the oldersters hereabouts who do not share their knowledge of bird lore.

STARTING EARLY

We recently received a report of the increasing number of young marriages which shows that our young people are giving serious thought to matrimony at an earlier age than of a few years ago. There is no certain reason given for this. Perhaps girls of today think in terms of the "early bird." Someone is sure to say, "they may marry earlier but they don't stay married as long." These divorces include many among the older couples if you investigate carefully. Another someone will remark that many husbands and wives are employed today and this makes marriages less of a financial gamble. But this is not true in all early marriages. Perhaps it is wisest to suggest that these young alliances prove that the morals are not as loose as we would have us believe, and that our youth are more courageous which our present economic situation demands.

TREAT WELL

A not so old book and a more recent one is based on the belief that so many families of vagrants who move from one section of the country to another to work the lands and take from the soil without putting anything back into it. A survey of land conditions of this country paints a sad picture. If we do not take better care of the earth, which is most precious to us, and to preserve it with fertilizer and breeding. Those who use its strength and exhaust its possibilities, then move on to new fields are not helping our agricultural set-up. Treat our ground today that it will yield to us tomorrow and tomorrow.

PEOPLE'S FOOT COMFORT

Mother Nature gives the birds microscopic eyes to see tiny grain from a distance, and show she cares for us humans.

For instance, when we bruise our feet by wearing poorly constructed or ill fitted shoes, nature sets up protective layers, corns, callouses and bunions, at the point where the attack is directed and by means of pain, telegraphs the brain that danger is at hand and how do we respond to nature's signal? Usually, by padding these protective layers, or paring them. This, of course, does relieve the pain, but does NOT remove the cause of trouble; corns, callouses and bunions are merely symptoms telling you there is something wrong inside your feet.

Permanent relief will be obtained when you relieve pressure on delicate nerves and tissue; when you straighten up weak, inrolling feet that throw the strain of weight bearing onto the outer arch—Adv.

LIVE AT HOME PROGRAM PLAN

OF BOONE COUNTY HOMEMAKERS FOR 1940—VALUES OF HOME GARDEN LISTED BY COUNTY AGENT.

The old fashioned vegetable garden is due for a revival this year. Local club presidents and foods leaders of the Boone County Homemakers met last week to organize plans for a "Live at Home" program for 1940.

The average person consumes three-fourths of a ton of food yearly according to Mrs. Pearl Haak, foods specialist, University of Kentucky. Mrs. Haak stated that half of the people in the United States are underfed. More natural foods, such as fresh fruits, vegetables and whole grain cereals should be used in the daily diet according to Mrs. Haak.

The value of home garden to the family were listed by H. R. Forkner, County Agent.

The group made a county plan of "The Live at Home" project to include garden, home canning, home storage and home butchering and meat canning. They felt that this project should be stressed in the fourteen clubs in Boone County. Following is the program month by month:

April—Have Homemakers list vegetables raised in their town gardens last year. Ask each Homemaker to select one new vegetable to be grown this year. Distribute bulletins on "The Garden, Month by Month." Ask what information the Homemakers desire on the control of garden insects.

May—Give information on insect control. Each Homemaker fill out canning budget. Give timely information from the vegetable bulletin for May.

June—Have a combination garden tour and canning demonstration in each local club.

September—County demonstration on home storage.

November—Demonstration on home butchering and meat canning.

Non-members of Homemakers clubs are invited to participate in the program according to Mary Hood Gidaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

and defense, Mahan was tournament high scorer.

The local team was given a beautiful trophy and the individual players were awarded gold basketballs.

Reports Successful

Auction At Walton

Bel C. Wayman, Covington Realtor, reports the auction of the James Sharp farm, near Walton, last Saturday, was very successful. The sale, which was advertised in The Recorder attracted a large crowd of prospective buyers. Charles Ransom of Richmond, purchased 87 acres, and Kenneth Mains, of Beaver, bought the other seven acres.

Hamilton Seniors

To Present Play

On April 12 at eight o'clock the Senior class of the Hamilton Consolidated School will present the play "The Antics of Andrew" by Jay Tobias.

The play, a three-act farce, involves the misunderstandings and complications that result from the antics of Andrew Browne, a senior in Cameron College. Andrew's darky cook and Jacques, the French butler and valet, furnish much fun and entertainment. Don't forget the time and date, April 12 at 8 o'clock.

Circuit Court To

Convene Here Monday

The April term of the Boone Circuit Court will convene here Monday, April 8th, with Hon. Ward Yager on the bench and R. L. Vincent as Commonwealth's Attorney. Very few cases are on docket, according to Circuit Clerk A. D. Yelton, and a very short session is expected. He stated that there are several cases to be heard, but that no definite date has been set for their hearing.

The Hebron P-T. A. will meet Tuesday, April 9th at 8 o'clock (fast time) at the school. The main business of the meeting will be to elect a president, after which the new officers will be installed. Every member urged to attend.

NOTICE

The Big Bone baseball team has joined the Campbell County League and all players interested are requested to report next Sunday for practice.

Courtney, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Courtney and family and Helen Kimman, of Glencoe; Otis Courtney, of Norwood, O.; Mrs. Wilford Ayler and son of Aurora, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammond, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bethel and family, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bethel and family, Frank and Leroy Bethel, and Mrs. Owen Bethel, of Florence.

Objection In Powers Will Is Defeated

The objection to the probate of the J. D. Powers will, Verona, was defeated last Thursday before acting County Judge, C. L. Cropper.

Attorneys for the plaintiff filed objections to the will being probated but after hearing four witnesses, the objection was defeated. It is said that the case will probably be carried to higher courts.

Burlington Independents Defeated in Tourney Held At Owenton

The Burlington Independent basketball team, playing in an invitational tournament at Owenton Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of last week, were defeated in the finals by the host team, Owenton, by a 40-37 score. The Burlington quint reached the finals by defeating the favored Williamson five Thursday night by a 39-24 count and Walton Friday night by a 39 to 29 decision. Sparta won the consolation game.

Four members of the local five were named on the tournament all-star team. They were Don Krzyparek, whose scoring was responsible for victory in the Walton game; Charles Benson for his all-around play in the three games; Ralph Bradburn, former Cincinnati Gym star, and Boyd Mahan, known throughout northern Kentucky for his collegiate and independent record, for their great play both on the offense

DEMOCRATS TO ENTERTAIN

MONDAY NIGHT, APRIL 8 WITH WRESTLING MATCH AT NEW SCHOOL BUILDING, BURLINGTON.

The regular meeting of the Young Democratic Club of Boone County will be held Monday, April 8th, at the new school in Burlington. Members and visitors will be entertained with a one-fall 90-minute wrestling match, with Paddy Davenport, of Kansas vs. Hill Billy Hill, of Paducah as the principals. These boys are both welterweights.

The match will be refereed by Sam Kline, of Cincinnati, former Tri-State welterweight champion.

The club will be honored with the presence of Circuit Court Judge Ward Yager and John Just, our representative.

This meeting will be open and free to the public and all men attending are invited to bring their wives or sweethearts. It is not often possible to see a wrestling match of this calibre free of charge, so it would be advisable to come early so as to be sure of getting a seat.

The club will give a minstrel show at Florence high school on April 18th. General admission 15c and 25c and will welcome your wholehearted support.

The P.-T. A. will not serve refreshments as announced in last week's issue.

Mrs. Julius Smith, of Covington called on Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Kelly and family Sunday afternoon.

COOKING PAPER

For a small amount of money you can buy a package of parchment paper, used in cooking vegetables. After seasoning vegetable wrap it in a piece of the moistened parchment, tying shut at top with a piece of string. Into a pan containing water, you could cook three or four vegetables at one time. The juices of value remain in the paper bag and you obtain the full benefit of each vitamin. Wash paper off after using, dry and store away until the next time.

KITES and WIRES

A Dangerous Combination

• Kite-flying is great sport for growing youngsters but danger lurks when kites are flown near electric lines. Every year little lives are needlessly lost in accidents caused by the use of wire for kite strings, attempts to retrieve kites entangled in electric lines and other hazardous practices.

BOYS and GIRLS--PLAY SAFE!

Follow These Safety Suggestions

1. Do not use wire or metallic kite string.
2. Do not fly your kite with wet string or in wet weather.
3. Do not use metal kite sticks.
4. Never try to rescue kites from electric wires by using long sticks or climbing poles.
5. Never try to jerk your kite from an electric wire by pulling on the tail or string.
6. Best of all, fly your kites in open fields clear away from electric wires.

If you see a kite caught in a wire, call our office at once. Our employees know how to remove kites without endangering anyone or causing an interruption in electric service.

WALTON,

"I'VE ADVISED A LOT OF PEOPLE TO BUY A PONTIAC!"

"A lot of people look at the size and quality of a Pontiac and decide without ever investigating that Pontiac's price is beyond their reach."

"They spot me in my big, new Pontiac and inquire how I can afford it. Few realize that Pontiac's price is right down with the lowest."

"I tell them to take a good look at a Pontiac price tag. It's an eye-opener. And that's why I'm driving a Pontiac."

"I never miss a chance to show off my Pontiac. There isn't a smoother engine on earth, and I'm getting three to four more miles a gallon."

IT'S AMAZING the impression of high-priced luxury the low-priced Pontiac has given to the American public. In a recent survey, nine out of ten people guessed the Pontiac price from $100 to $200 higher than the actual figure. And 49% of those who guessed so high said it was worth that difference!

IT'S HUMAN NATURE to let your friends in on a good thing. That's why Pontiac owners are so busy advising their friends to buy the new 1940 Pontiac. They're pointing out that, at a price right down with the lowest, Pontiac delivers you a big, long-wheelbase car—wide-seated and roomy—furnished and finished in luxurious fashion—and powered by a power-packed engine that challenges the gasoline economy of the smallest cars.

Why postpone that big-car, quality-car thrill? What's to stop you, when a big, beautiful Pontiac costs so little?

*Delivered at Pontiac, Mich. Transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), optional equipment and accessories—extra. Prices subject to change without notice. A General Motors Value.

TONIGHT AND FRIDAY

(Two Big Features)

Paris Blackout! The city teneb! Chan commanded! Caught, like so many others he fights danger threatening the lives of thousands... more desperate because it is hidden, more thrilling because it is a great human emergency! Don't fail to see Charlie Chan in "City in Darkness."

"Heaven with a Barbed Wire Fence" comes to the screen as worthwhile entertainment. It's the story of a brave boy who set out to make a place for himself in the world... it glows with humor, drama, romance, suspense and unexpected twists. Under Ricardo Cortez' shrewd direction, newcomers Ford, Nichols Conte and Jean Rogers appear to particularly good advantage. Don't miss these two big features for the price of one.

SATURDAY

Ten men had died behind that badge, was he to be the next? See George O'Brien in "The Marshal of Mesa City," with Virginia Vale. A Pete Smith specialty, cartoon and our serial "Zorras Fighting Legion" will be added attractions.

SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Barbara Stanwyck and Fred Murray in "Remember the Night," is the truest love story the screen has ever told! Every scene, every spoken word so achingly true you find yourself laughing, crying, hoping, for the happiness of the sweetest people you ever met. Torment of a girl struggling to escape from a sordid past... Courage of a boy who gambles everything on her love! That is what you will see in this wonderful picture. Don't miss it.

TUESDAY AND WEDNESDAY
Blazing a musical trail from Petrograd to Paris over the strife-torn Russia of the Czars, the screen opera "Balalaika" presents Nelson Eddy and Flonk Massey, Hollywood's newest singing star, in a thrilling, colorful and romantic musical drama.
It tells a tale of romance between a Colonel of Cossacks and the daughter of a revolutionist in the midst of social upheaval, and gives an opportunity for an expensive musical program that ranges from Russian folk songs to a love song by Franz Lehar, comedy songs by Herbert Stohart and even the operatic version of a Rimsky-Korsakoff ballet suite.

"Balalaika" is based on the London stage musical success by Eric Maschwitz and is heralded as one of the most stirring and colorful musicals of the year.
The cast supporting Eddy and Massey includes Charles Ruggles, Frank Morgan, Lionel Atwill, C. Aubrey Smith, Joyce Compton, Walter Woolf King and Dalles Franz.

CHRISTIAN CHARACTER AND EXTENSION OF THE KINGDOM

R. Lee James
Pastor, Burlington Baptist Church

The Great Commission is the mission of the Church. "Go ye into all the world and disciple the nations." The method to be employed in carrying out this commission is fourfold: prayer, preaching, personal testimony, and Christian living. The exemplification of the principles of Christ is fundamental to prayer, preaching and personal testimony. Prayer is powerless where there is sin in the life. Preaching is "sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal" unless it comes from holy lips. Personal testimony means nothing unless the life reflects Christ. How important, then, is Christian character in extending the kingdom of God!

The Meaning of Christian Character

Let us get a clear idea of the meaning of Christian character. It is not negative. A great many people have the idea that Christian character consists in not dancing, playing cards, going to the theater, drinking, gambling and cussing. A person may leave off all these things, and surely we do not argue that they are right, and still miss being a Christian a million miles. Christian character is positive. It is character having the qualities found in the life of Jesus Christ. To be a Christian is to be Christ-like. I call your attention to two passages that tell us what these qualities are.

The first is the Beatitudes. In the first Beatitude, "Blessed are the poor in spirit," we have the quality of humility—that feeling of lowliness and insufficiency which springs out of dependence upon God and a recognition of weakness and sin. In the second Beatitude, "Blessed are they that mourn," we have the quality of mourning, which means a sensitive heart with reference to the moral imperfections and failures of our selves and others. In the third Beatitude, "Blessed are the meek," we have the quality of meekness, which means submission to God's will, when it is adverse, as meaning our good, and a friendly behavior toward man which is slow to anger and prudent in passion.

In the fourth Beatitude, "Blessed are they who do hunger and thirst after righteousness," we have the idea of desiring above all else to be good. In the fifth Beatitude, "Blessed are the merciful," we have the quality of mercy, which means a compassionate treatment of men in our judgments, of adversaries, and the unfortunate and helpless. In the sixth Beatitude, "Blessed are the pure of heart," we have the quality of purity, which means the absence of unchaste feelings and defiling thoughts. In the seventh Beatitude, "Blessed are the peacemakers," we have the quality of peacemaking, which means a ministry of reconciliation of man to God and man to man. In the eighth Beatitude, "Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness sake," we have the idea of suffering for the sake of goodness, a willingness to suffer, and to die, if necessary, for Christ. Such, according to Jesus, are the characteristics of the members of His kingdom.

The second passage (Gal. 5:22-23) presents Christian character as consisting of nine graces. The first is LOVE. The Christian rests upon God as his supreme object, and links himself, by indissoluble bonds, with every other being who is joined in heart to Him. Love is his motive power. The second is JOY. The Christian finds the things of God as sources of true pleasure and enjoyment. The third is PEACE. The Christian has peace within and peace in respect to others. He always irritating passions and cares, and quiet amities and strife. The fourth is LONG-SUFFERING, that is, he looks upon sin with compassion for the sinner. The fifth is GENTLENESS. Christian character is not harsh, repulsive, and tyrannical. The Christian gives the soft answer. He has an understanding heart and an attractive disposition. The sixth is GOODNESS, that is, a benevolent interest in all beings, desiring them to happiness, and ready to promote it whenever the opportunity presents itself. The seventh is FAITH, that is, believing what God says, and trusting what God says. The eighth is MEEKNESS, defined above. The ninth is SELF-CONTROL (temperance), which means to walk with poise, having the appetites and passions under control.

Such is Christian character. Very positive, is it not? When we give attention to the positive side the negative side will take care of itself. The reason why so many church members spend so much time dancing, playing cards, going to picture shows, drinking, gambling, cussing and the like, is that they have never experienced the Christ-life. When the Christ-life becomes the passion of the soul these other things fade out of the life. For instance, WHEN THE CHRIST-LIFE BECOMES THE PASSION OF THE SOUL THE SUNDAY EVENING SERVICE WILL BE ALL-IMPORTANT AND THE PICTURE-SHOW NOTHING. GET THE POINT?

Some years ago I held a meeting at McRoberts, Ky. From the very start the crowds came. There were conversions the first few days. The first convert was the Chief of Police, and his conversion stirred the town from center to circumference. The only man who did not attend the meeting was the manager of the picture-show. I decided that I would go and invite him to come. When I invited him he answered, "Well, preacher I am glad that you are having a good meeting, but you have sure played havoc with my business. I haven't made one cent for the past week to pay my electric bill." And I answered, "Praise God!" and added, "Now you haven't any excuse for not coming. Just close your show and come on." He didn't but I believe that if he had probably it would have closed that show for good. Friends, if the chief of police members would get so interested in the positive things the other problems would be solved.

How Christian Character Is Produced
But how is Christian character produced? It is not produced by a process of education. Education is good, as far as it goes, making men better citizens, but as yet there has never been one Christian character produced by mere education. Nor is it produced by legislative restraints. Let it be understood once and for all that preachers of the gospel, and Christians in general, do not see on ray of hope in legislating Christian goodness into men. There are reasons for moral legislation, but this is not the reason.

Christian character is produced by the Holy Spirit. It begins in the experience of the New Birth. "Ye must be born again." In our day there is much talk about the Sermon on the Mount to man to imply that anyone can practice the principles therein outlined. Of course, all men should practice those principles. Of course, we find goodness in men who are not Christians, and this goodness may grow. But to a man who is not a Christian the attempt to practice by his own power the principles of Christ is futile. And why?

Sin has had its way in the human heart; it has produced depravity and loss of sonship to God. In the natural heart, self, not God, reigns. The natural heart is in enmity with God. For one to be a Christian he must be born of the Spirit, that is, God must impart to him His nature, that he may be His son, and desire to do His will. The trouble with man is that he doesn't want to be like Christ, and he will never want to be like Christ until he is born anew.

So much for the beginnings of Christian character. What of its development? Its development is in proportion to yieldedness to the Holy Spirit. In the New Birth the Holy Spirit comes into the Christian's life to indwell that life. "Know ye not that ye are a temple of the Holy Spirit?" He indwells that He may reveal to the Christian the things of Christ—to show the Christian Christ's will, to happiness, and ready to promote it

"Am I My Brother's Keeper?"

(The President's message—H. M. Hauter, President Boone County Ministerial Association.)

In the Centennial number of The Recorder, issued Sept. 4, 1930, we read the following beautiful tribute to the Churches of Boone County: "The churches of the county show the predominating and towering strength of the Christian faith of our people. Nearly every community is represented with commanding church edifices, each being presided over by able and influential pastors, who work in harmony to advance the teaching of Christianity."

Is this still true, ten years later? We can definitely answer in the affirmative. Yes, the churches of our county do show the predominating and towering strength of the Christian faith of our people in a Saviour who is "our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." These churches in the last 10 years of stress and difficulties have been true towering monuments of strength and because of these troubled times they have become stronger. Their pastors too, because of sacrifice, are more able to fight the good fight of faith. For together they are seeing Christ as the saviour of all men who will confess Him as the "Lord of Lords and the King of Kings." "Whosoever therefore shall confess Me before men, him will I confess also before My Father which is in heaven. But whosoever shall deny Me before men, him will I also deny before My Father which is in heaven." (Matthew 10:32, 33).

Would you as a citizen of Boone County, vote to close all the churches in the county? Do you feel that you can get along without God? From the amount of support our churches are receiving, and from the size of some of the congregations on a rainy Sunday we are sometimes led to wonder if the people of Boone County really do appreciate the value of their churches! We cannot help but think upon those words of the writer of Epistle to the Hebrews, when he repeats the commandment that says "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy; not forsaking it assembling of yourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another, and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching." Hebrews 10:25. If I willfully refuse to listen to the preaching of the Gospel, I sin against God as truly as if I had taken the name of God in vain or committed murder, for I break one of His commandments and despise preaching and His word.

You recognize the need of our churches and faithful pastors, but what is more Christian, you have heard the command: to teach all peoples the Gospel of Christ, and to make disciples of all nations and races. Inasmuch as our Lord and Master has made that our duty, He has made us our brothers' keepers.

Some prefer the "legislative" way of "keeping" him. They argue that knowing better what is good for our brother than he does himself, we have the keeper's duty of compelling him to live righteously.

Others hold to the "persuasive" method, that is, "pleading" the love of God to him, holding before him by word and example the ideal of the life of righteousness.

This second method is the one which our Lord Himself used, "calling all men to Him"; and which He enjoined on us, His disciples, to be used by us also.

This is the reason for the Churches of Boone County.

SOCIAL SINS HAMPER CHURCH'S EFFECTIVENESS

(By J. H. Talley)
Pastor of Walton Methodist Church

"Abstain from all appearance of evil." I Thes. 5:22.

It cannot be denied that the greatest enemy of all that is good worthwhile in life is SIN. The ranker unbeliever must admit that evil does exist and is in opposition to all that would make for peace and happiness. The church of God has stood down through the ages as against the many things of life that breaks hearts and creates unrest in people, and today has perhaps the greatest challenge it has ever faced to stand erect and seek to put under foot all evil. The church has Christ to offer to a sin-ridden world that does not provide just a better way of living, but offers the only way. Christ's own words are: "I came that ye might have life, and that ye might have it more abundantly." Then we are reminded of that great red letter passage in the 3rd Chapter of St. John's Gospel and the 16th verse, "For God so loved the World that He sent his only begotten son, that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have everlasting life." The true mission of the church is not to do something for itself, but to offer the abundant way of living to all those who will accept it and eternal life to the same group.

Now for the sake of being more definite about this very real thing known as sin we are briefly mentioning several that the writer feels are most obvious and deadly. We must remember that we cannot live to ourselves in this world, that everything we do will affect someone.

I. SALACIOUS LITERATURE: This great evil is affecting every type of mind that is exposed to it. Especially those who have tendencies to be influenced to do wrong. Thousands of minds are being poisoned with this stuff every month. Warden Lawes says, "Salacious magazines are definitely connected with criminal activity toward sex crime." J. Edgar Hoover says, "The publication and distribution of salacious materials is a peculiarly vicious evil." However, it is like all other forces of evil is well organized and it is distributed inspite of efforts even by the government to control. The saddest of all facts is that 8,000,000 people read such literature each month, and that there are about 150 such national publications. The church is trying to clean the minds and hearts of people and this one business alone is dragging the minds of eight million people each month through such a sewer. Fredrick Law says, "For the young it cultivates vulgarity, toward an increase of social evils. Another observation is that many of our

CHRIST IN BOONE COUNTY

Speeding over the highway.
Taking trips and having fun,
How can we spend our evening,
After work at home is done?

We often ask the question,
"Where shall we go?" or "What shall I do?"
By the road are amusement houses
But by the road there are churches too.

Each of us need some pleasure
To lighten everyday gloom,
But he who seeks only pleasure
Finds a very empty life.

It takes more than simply pleasure
To make the world go round.
A stronger One takes hold our hand,
'Tis Christ the best companion

To keep us on solid ground.
Any person ever knew,
He's waiting at your church door,
Just waiting there for you.

—Mary Jane Tanner.

Boone County Ministerial Ass'n.

church people live a great deal of their reading life below such a level that they are not made better by having read. If the church people would so desire, every place where such literature is sold would be cleaned up or closed up and we would say with indignation and determination that such cess pools will not exist as long as the world shall stand.

II. THE MOVIE INDUSTRY:—The wrong use of this industry has created another great menace to our society. It had its beginning in the church, and there is no better means of conveying a message this side of the spoken word, and that lacks the power of illustration. It has popularized divorces which in turn has brought about a let-down in home life, and that has substantially weakened our nation. No nation is stronger than its homes. It has popularized and glorified strong drinks and cigarets, bringing about a prodigy unfit for the responsibilities of life. It has also done much to break down the wholesome attitudes toward the Sabbath day. It has literally walked over all regards for the Lord's day. It clutters the minds of the people so that it is almost impossible to find room for anything elevating, even when the people are exposed to it. My earnest desires are that some day Christian people will again have control of the industry as a whole, and that it may be used for elevating rather than debauching human nature. A hundred twenty-five million dollars was spent last year to make America movie conscious. 30,000,000 attend each week. It seems to be accomplishing its purpose, but that does not mean that we can't accomplish ours.

III. LIQUOR:—The idea has become popular that whatever the government does to license is right. It has not been and will never be right to do anything that will endanger life and make for ruining society. The social drinker creates the greatest problem of all of this business. He is just as likely to be found attending highway driving a car, thinking he can do it better than anyone else, or more so, than being at home taking care of his business. He hits a car and takes the life of innocent people. Oh! what hell that is on earth. Money is spent for liquor that should go for bread and shoes. This can be illustrated scores of times right here in Boone County. Liquor has cost the U. S. since repeal $25,344,509,062. That exceeds the cost of relief 10 billion dollars, as you can see. Saloons would not return they promised us, but an institution many times worse has come into existence and our girls are bartenders. Scores of other promises were made and have been broken. The liquor traffic is an example of the increase of drinking comes from the police court records of Washington, D. C. In 1932 there were 140 women arrested for drunkenness and in 1938 there were 1,465. Are you alarmed? Well, let us do something.

IV. GAMBLING:—My space is all gone, but I must mention this great evil. There is something in our nature that causes us to respond to the idea of taking a chance. Millions are made each year because of it. The first degree is a petty form which is used in many cases for the promotion of business and it goes on to large racing syndicates. A group of negroes would be arrested if they were found in a back alley shooting craps, but types of gambling many times worse goes on unnoticed. May we put teeth in our present laws and get more and better ones. Society should be protected from all of these and other evils. Immorality and many other social sins could be mentioned if we had space, but they are all tightly tied up with the ones mentioned above. May we unite our efforts as Christian people to rid our communities of these sins and we can start that best by cleaning our own lives. May we abstain from the very appearance of evil and seek to lead others to Christ.

"If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from Heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

2 CHRONICLES 7:14

HISTORY OF BOONE COUNTY CHURCHES

HOPEFUL LUTHERAN CHURCH 1806 BOONE COUNTY, KY.

Looking back one hundred and thirty-five years, we see five or six families gathered on the banks of the Rappidan. In their great Conestoga wagons they travelled to New Market, Va. Thence they travelled down the Shenandoah Valley until they came to the Holston River, and they followed up that until they struck the path that Daniel Boone had made thru the forest from North Carolina to Lexington, Ky. From Lexington they took the ridge route (now Route 25) to Kennedy's Ferry (Covington).

From a discourse delivered at the 48th anniversary, Jan. 6, 1854, we read—"The greater part of the country was then a perfect wilderness. These families, however, were furnished with cabins, with the exception of George Rouse, who pitched his tent in the dense forest, not far from where Hopeful Church now stands. Burlington, the county seat of Boone County, consisted of a few houses, a log court house, and a log jail. Florence had no existence. Where Covington is now situated, there was a farm and orchard. Cincinnati consisted of two brick and two frame houses with a number of log cabins."

On Jan. 6, 1806 at the advice of Rev. Carpenter, then pastor of the Hebron Lutheran Church of Madison County, Virginia, a meeting was held and Hopeful "Evangelical Lutheran and Evangelical Reformed" church was organized, and a constitution adopted and signed by ten men whose names now spell the greater part of the population of Boone County. Five of these brethren came in 1806, and five came later. George Rouse gave an acre of ground on which to build a church. Accordingly, in 1807 a cabin church of unwhewn logs and clapboards, with floor of puncheons and seats made of saplings was built to the glory of God.

For nearly eight years weekly services were held without a pastor. Then to the joy of all, Rev. Wm. Carpenter of Madison County, Virginia, moved here in October, 1813 to become the first regular pastor.

A second log church was built in the summer of 1823. It was 25 by 25 feet in the old style with an end gallery and a high pulpit. A third church here in October, in the summer of 1837. This was of brick. The bricks were made on the lot near the church.

The fourth and present church was built in 1917.

HISTORY OF THE SAND RUN BAPTIST CHURCH

On March 20, 1819, because God had greatly blessed the people of Boone County and especially those of the North Bend Settlement, and owing to their remote residence from the meeting-house at Bullsburg, it was therefore decided that the people in the North Bend Settlement form a separate and distinct congregation to be known as the Sand Run Baptist Church, having as its head our blessed Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ. The purpose as stated in their constitution was for the convenience of the people and the glory of God.

There were fifty-five charter members, among whom were the following: Bro. Chichester Matthews and wife, William Montague and wife, Wm. McCoy, Beverly Ward, Jeremiah Kirtley, Lewis Webb and wife, Nancy Watts, and Susan Goodridge. These were all leading members of the church at that time. There were also many negro slaves among the first members who attended the services regularly, sitting in the gallery.

Having thus started, the congregation met in the homes of the different brethren until a meeting-house could be secured. In February, 1820, the church received the deed to three acres of land on which to erect a meeting-house. This building was completed in July, 1820. The cost of it was $2100, part of which was paid in cash and the remainder was paid in tobacco, which was the leading crop in this part of the country at that time. Only one relic remains of this first church building and that is the old chandelier which held the candles for lighting the building.

The first minister of Sand Run

Church was the Rev. Chichester Matthews, who was faithful to the charge until his death in 1828. He was followed by Bro. Whitaker, who also served the church faithfully until his death in 1872. Other pastors of the church in earlier days were Rev. Robert E. Kirtley and Rev. Lee Utz.

Thus they continued to grow and prosper and in 1880 it was decided to enlarge and remodel the meeting-house. This was done at a cost of $1200.

The first Sunday School was organized by Bro. Owen Kirtley in 1872 and this Sunday School has been continued throughout the years. It has been a great blessing and had a great influence on the young lives that it has touched.

In recent years the church has organized a Young People's Union, which, although not as strong as it was in the beginning, is still functioning, and a Woman's Missionary Society which, by their contributions and special prayer seasons, is helping to carry the Gospel unto the uttermost parts of the earth.

In the fall of 1928 the church building needed repairing, so the members decided to again remodel it, adding Sunday School room. Through the faithful and untiring efforts of the pastor, Rev. J. N. Powers, the aid of all the members and friends, and the help of Almighty God they succeeded in completing the building as it now stands.

Since the church has been served by Rev. Avery and Rev. Leo Drake.

UNION BAPTIST CHURCH

Union Baptist Church, a branch of the Big Bone Church, was organized in 1866 with thirty-five members. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Huey and Mrs. Annie Bristow being the remaining members of that number. Rev. Lafayette Johnson served acceptably for several years as the first pastor, followed by Dr. Sam Adams. During the life of the church many splendid men have been called to the pastorate, among whom were Dr. J. P. Stewart, who went as a missionary to Rome, Dr. Bradley Jones, now pastor of University Church, Baltimore, Md.; Dr. J. H. Garber, of Hampton, Va., and Rev. J. S. Wilson. Under the leadership of Godly men many have been added to the membership.

Rev. Henry Beech is now serving as pastor of the church.

THE PETERSBURG CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Nestled beneath the beautiful, wide spreading maples, stands this little Brown church in the vale, whose clear ringing bell has for almost a century called the folks of the village to worship on the Sabbath Day.

In 1826 or '27 Alexander Campbell coming from Virginia on horse back, blazing the trail with his preaching of the Gospel, here on the banks of the beautiful Ohio river, he organized this church body.

In 1840 the present building was erected, over the large doors that leads to the altar, many many rows have been plighted, many sad farewells taken, is the unique tablet bearing this inscription: The Christian Meeting House, Built in A. D. 1840. Lord's Prayer.

"I pray that they all may be one; That the world may believe that thou hast sent me." St. John 17: 21st V.

There has been many noted divines of the Brotherhood who spoke from this pulpit, but space doesn't permit their when names. However, let us say that Edgar DeWitt Jones, of Detroit, Mich., considered one of the twelve greatest preachers of the world and Milo Atkinson of San Diego, Cal., a very able man also one of the finest of the brethren who served their training in this pulpit, and met their wives in this community.

The present pastor of the church is Rev. Noble Lucas.

THE WALTON METHODIST CHURCH

The Walton Methodist Church was organized in 1879 under the leadership of Reverend W. W. Spales. The eight charter members were: Mr. W. Ran Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rouse, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Coffman, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harmon, and another member of the Harmon family.

For a number of years they worshipped in the public school building, and in the Baptist and Christian Churches. In 1886 the congregation erected what was known as "Walls Chapel" under the leadership of Rev. B. F. Bristow. The lot on which the church was erected was located just north of the present high school and was donated by Mr. John Walls Murphy and wife. This was done in memory of Rev. and Mrs. John Walls, of Cincinnati, Ohio. The deed was executed on January 23rd, 1884 to A. M. Rouse, W. R. Rouse and Frank Harmon, as Trustees of the church. The building was dedicated on June 6, 1886, by Rev. W. F. Taylor, then pastor of the Scott Street Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

After 44 years of worship in the old church known as "Walls Chapel" the new church was erected on the site now used by the Methodist Church. The present building was erected in 1930 with Rev. J. H. Lewis the pastor. The building committee was composed of Rev. Lewis, Mr. Horace Simpson, Mrs. Hattie Metcalf, Mrs. Pearl Johnson and Mr. C. T. Hall. This building was dedicated on Aug. 8, 1937 by Rev. R. Rose, assisted by Rev. J. H. Lewis, Rev. D. E. Bedinger, and Rev. J. E. Roberts.

The lot in cost of building and equipment being about $7,350.00. The church also has a modern seven-room house, used for the residence of the pastor. It is located on North Main Street. Since the organization of the church it has had thirty-three pastors, and now has a membership of 119. The same sacrificial spirit that made possible such an edifice, continues to prevail and the Walton Methodist church is glad to have a part with the other churches in the County in this great movement against unrighteousness.

The present pastor of the church is Rev. J. H. Talley.

BIG BONE BAPTIST CHURCH (By Mrs. Ora B. Presser)

In May on the twenty-fifth day of the year of 1843, forty-two members composed the congregation of the Big Bone Baptist Church and were instrumental in the organization and development of this temple of worship.

Brother Robert Kirtley served as pastor from the start until 1874 and the first two deacons were Huey and John C. Riley being ordained the fourth Saturday in 1843.

A building committee was selected who had $1,240.00 to use for such purpose and in 1857 the building was inspected and received. It should be mentioned that Brother Kirtley was assisted by James Kirtley in the preaching, and in 1874 was called as the pastor. James Kirtley served his church for forty-nine years resigning on Nov. 17, 1900.

In October 1926 Rev. R. A. Johnson answered a call to this church and has done a wonderful service, the total enrollment now being 253, and during this period four deacons have been ordained. Everett Jones, J. L. Jones, Lynn Hubbard and Tom Huff.

HUGHES CHAPEL CHURCH

The Hughes Chapel Methodist Episcopal Church, South, located at Beaver Lick, Ky., was organized in 1878 by Rev. Geo. Buffington, a local preacher. The first building was a grange hall purchased from the grangers by J. C. Hughes, Sr. Several of the early members came from the Mt. Zion Methodist Church. The old church was the scene of many revivals.

The present building was built by Rev. George Froh in memory of Joseph C. Hughes, Sr., and dedicated by Bishop H. H. Kavanaugh in August, 1933. The parsonage was built about 1900.

Hughes Chapel was first put on the Petersburg circuit, then changed to the Walton circuit and finally was put with Big Bone and called Hughes Chapel circuit.

THE PETERSBURG BAPTIST CHURCH

Welcome—is the inscription that meets the eye when passing by this little church on the corner of one of our main streets.

This church was organized in 1914 with only eleven members. In 1916 these few decided to build a house for the worship of God, so every man and woman went to work. Today they have 193 members, preaching every Lord's Day, having a large Sunday School and plenty of mid-week services for the young and old.

Rev. Henry Beech is now serving the church as pastor.

FLORENCE BAPTIST CHURCH

The Florence Baptist Church was organized some time before 1858. The old building was erected in

RICHWOOD CHURCH

On the first Sabbath in May, 1834 Richwood Church, within the bounds of Ebenezer Presbytery was organized by the Rev. J. C. Harrison by virtue of an order therefore by said Presbytery on a petition of the following thirteen individuals:

Mr. Elisha Hudson and Mrs. Patsy Hudson.

Mrs. Mary Hughes. Dr. E. Smith Clarkson and Mrs. Caroline F. Clarkson.

Mr. Wm. H. Mezies and Mrs. Eliza M. Mezies.

Mr. Eph. M. Carter. Mrs. Phoebe Ballard.

Miss Armstrong. Mrs. S. Harrison.

Sarah Frances Johnson.

On that same day the church proceeded to elect Eph. M. Carter and Wm. H. Mezies as elders. This was signed by Wm. H. Mezies who was session clerk. Thus read the first page in the record books of the Richwood Presbyterian Church, written ninety-six years ago.

Like the United States, this church was organized with thirteen original members. The first church was organized in a school house and Mr. Harrison engaged for half his time as State Supply on a salary raised by popular subscription. At the same time he was a Missionary employed by the General Assembly Board.

In January, 1835 a protracted meeting was carried on from house to house. When we think of what those county roads must have been at that season of the year we can appreciate the interest that must have been in evidence to carry on a meeting which lasted on week.

The first Richwood Church was started by Rev. Samuel Lynn about 1842, though no accurate record shows exactly when the church was completed. Rev. Lynn served that church from 1837 to 1847 and solicited the funds for the erection of this church by a preaching tour.

From 1866 to 1869 the church was served by Rev. W. G. White who also organized a school called White Haven where many young people for miles around were educated. The buildings are still standing and are owned by Mr. Lynn Frazier of Union.

In 1870 Rev. E. W. Bedinger was called to the pastorage of Richwood and Florence churches. He also has preached at points in Union and Walton. During a protracted meeting while he was pastor over twenty persons were added to the church.

It does not appear in any of the records that Richwood has always been more or less a missionary church, but in looking backward from this point of view we find it was organized by a missionary under the General Assembly Board and that in 1843, nine years after its inception it was ordered that a missionary sermon be preached and that Rev. Charles Foreman preach such a sermon, and a collection was taken for his support as a missionary to be supported by this Presbytery.

The Misses Emily and Mary Foreman, missionaries to India, are descendants of this man. Rev. W. G. White, the founder of White Haven, was the father of Rev. Wm. White, missionary to China. Dr. E. W. Bedinger had three children go as foreign missionaries—Rev. W. L. Bedinger, missionary to Brazil; Miss Sarah Everett Bedinger, missionary to Mexico; and Anna Bedinger, missionary to Korea. Grandson Robert Dabney Bedinger was a missionary to Africa. Also a niece to Mexico.

Rev. Solon T. Hill, called March 1914, pastor for seven years. During his pastorate the first furnace was installed, also the first modern lighting system. Through him was reorganized the Woman's Missionary circle plan, "Woman's Auxiliary" of the church.

Rev. W. T. Spears took up the work as stated supply from January, 1922 to November, 1926. Students from Lane Seminary and other astors filled the pulpit until June 17, 1928, when was called Rev. C. C. Carson. The present pastor of the church is Rev. J. Russell Cross.

BIG BONE METHODIST CHURCH

The Big Bone Methodist Episcopal Church, South, located at Big Bone Springs, Boone County, Kentucky, was organized in 1887. Rev. George Froh came to Big Bone in 1887. He preached in an old barn and organized a church and built the present building in 1888. Brother Froh came to America from Germany. He served throughout the Civil War. After the War he prepared himself for the ministry and served his church for nearly forty-five years.

The present membership numbers about thirty. The oldest member is Mr. John L. Jones, Sr. He has been officially connected with the church from its beginning, hauling the first load of stone for the foundation.

HEBRON LUTHERAN CHURCH—1854

BOONE COUNTY KENTUCKY

Rev. H. M. Hauter, Pastor

On January 21, 1854, Hebron Evangelical Lutheran Church was organized in the home of John J. Crigler, near Hebron. Sixteen members were enrolled; this organization being directed by the Rev. D. Harbaugh, pastor of Hopeful Lutheran Church.

The Hebron Church being less than a month old, Pastor Harbaugh visited the Hebron Church of Madison County, Virginia, who gave him $530 toward building a church. This building, which is the present House of Worship, was dedicated Dec. 3, 1854. Prof. F. W. Conrad, D. D., preaching the sermon, and raising nearly $400 to pay the remaining indebtedness.

Under the efficient leadership of Rev. F. B. Heibert, D. D., on Dec. 22, 1929 a large addition to the building was dedicated. This church, has for 86 years served faithfully the Hebron community.

WALTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The First Baptist Church at Walton was organized about 1866 in a school house on the Beaver Lick road at the fork under Rev. German as pastor. The site of the old church was where the cemetery now stands on Church street.

In 1912 the property of the new church was purchased and one year later the work began on the structure totalling a cost of $18,000 when it was completed. The Walton Lodge of Masons laid the cornerstone which is dated 1913 and in which was placed a list of the church membership, colns. a Boone County Recorder, a Cincinnati Times Star, a Baptist Western Recorder and a brief history of the church and a silver masonic square. Rev. W. H. McMillan was pastor of the church at that time. The church was dedicated November 1, 1914 and more than enough money was subscribed that day to cancel the debt.

The present pastor of the church is Rev. C. J. Alford. The present board of deacons are E. L. Aylor, D. K. Johnson, George W. Sleet, J. B. O'Neil, Ed Hankinson, L. F. Chapman, J. R. Fagan, R. E. Ryle, T. W. Jones, John Myers, S. H. McCart and W. Hodges.

The pastor who served the church: Rev. L. Johnson gave services free for the first five years when the church was built. Rev. German, L. Johnson, Jones, Riley, Fisher, T. C. Ector, George Hill, Andrews, Stewart, H. C. Wayman, McMillan, Rev. C. E. Brown, Rev. Clyde Brelaud and Rev. T. T. Wooten.

BURLINGTON BAPTIST CHURCH

The Burlington Baptist Church was organized December 13, 1842. The first pastor was known as "Elder" Robert Kirtley and preached for this church for several years. He was followed by his son, Rev. Jas. A. Kirtley, who preached for this church for 27 years.

Others who have pastored this church were Vardiman, Dicken, Carney, Fullilove, Utz, Hoover, Spoles, Skillman, Early, Wayman, Baker, Wells, Smith, Campbell, Demolsey, Adams, Wood, Bates and Walker.

The first church house was built in 1843, and remained until the year 1852, when the present building was erected.

The present pastor is Rev. R. L. James and the membership 260.

PETERSBURG METHODIST M. E. CHURCH

Founded 1850

The above inscription is over the door of the oldest church in the little town of Petersburg. The sweet toned bell contains forty percent of silver, and has called many of our older citizens to worship, to these many years.

A few years since it was the leading church in membership and activities, but owing to the deaths and a number of the members of the church moving away the membership is not at present what it has been in many years.

UNION PRESBY. CHURCH

We can't recall the date but some time during the eighteen seventies this building was purchased, having been previously used as a store room.

Through the efforts of Joel B. Frazier, M. C. Norman, with the help of the late Rev. E. W. Bedinger, D. D., a Union Sunday School was organized, with M. C. Norman as superintendent. With a splendid corps of teachers and a famous choir this Union Sunday school did a wonderful work.

Space forbids to tell of the many splendid young people who went to other fields of labor.

From this Union S. S. a good Sunday School was organized in the Baptist chapel.

Through the efforts of Joel B. Frazier, E. B. Norman and others this building was converted into a very comfortable place for worship.

In 1879 W. T. Spears, D. D., was called to the pastorate of the Richwood Presbyterian Church of which Union Church is a daughter. He began preaching at Union twice a month in the afternoon, realizing this was a promising field, and for five years, from 1879-1884, he labored in this field. "And this church owes to his efforts, its rise to its greatest efficiency."

In 1884 the session of Richwood church decided for the good of this work a church should be organized in Union. Just at this time the pastor was called to another field of labor and on the 10th of October, 1885, Rev. J. Walton Graybill came twice a month in the afternoon and perfected the organization at Union with 38 charter members. Elders: J. B. Frazier, M. C. Norman, Jacob Floyd and J. T. Frazier, Deacons: Robert Chambers, Jacob Reib and Everett B. Norman.

Rev. J. W. Graybill organized the Ladies Aid Society in the summer of 1885 with the following officers: Miss Laura Norman, president; Mrs. Robert Chambers, vice president; Miss Nannie Bristow, secretary, and Miss May Norman, treasurer. This organization has in the past, and still is, doing a splendid work for the church and its interests.

Rev. A. S. Rachal, a very successful minister, now of Low Moor, Va., was sent out from this church. This church has been served by seven pastors.

Rev. J. Walton Graybill, Rev. A. D. Tadlock, D. D., Rev. J. M. Broadway, Rev. W. H. Davis, Rev. W. M. C. Miller, Rev. Solon T. Hill, Rev. C. C. Carson.

The present pastor of the church is Rev. J. Russell Cross.

The preaching of that message is quite the biggest business in all the universe of God. If it were given heaven to do, angels would vie with archangels, and cherubim with seraphim in their haste to reach the earth to undertake it. To think of being an ambassador of the Most High God, entrusted with the only message of hope for dying men and women, and that by the preaching of a single sermon some one might be won for Christ, who under God may become the means of turning a whole continent toward the way of eternal life!

"For such a time as this" we need a spiritual revival. It looks like the world is breaking up. Civilization seems to be rocking. The whole social order is trembling. And, worse than all else besides, our moral foundations are being dismantled. Everywhere is unrest and confusion.

It is a new Paganism which confronts us today. The Old Paganism was content to train its artillery on the fundamental doctrines of Christianity; but the New Paganism has lifted its battery not only against the distinctive doctrines of the Christian religion, but makes blatant and blasphemous mockery of the holy ideals of conduct set up by this religion as the standard of moral behavior.

As a result of this, we are confronted today with a very popular code of ethics which is an utter denial of the Bible standard of holiness and an utter repudiation of the pure and wholesome ideals of conduct which we have heretofore held dear as the only source of any real and abiding peace for one's own soul, and as the only safeguard of the security and happiness of our homes, of society, and of our national life.

For such a time as this we need another N. R. A.—not another national recovery act, but a National Religious Awakening—one that will send men to their knees in humble penitence for their neglect of God and for the recovery of His good will and His favor. Have we, as a church, been giving ourselves to this great undertaking—to the call of Christ—as we really ought? Let us pray, let us plan wisely, and execute heroically for such a time as this!

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

AMOS PLEADS FOR JUSTICE

LESSON TEXT—Amos 5:1, 10-15, 21-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate.—Amos 5:15.

Social justice, though much spoken about in recent times, has been the concern of right thinking men ever since sin entered the world and started man's inhumanity toward man. In the prophet Amos we find the eloquent and plain-spoken voice of one crying out against such conditions almost 800 years before Christ.

This lesson is one which is of utmost importance because in our present-day struggle with social injustice we have come to assume that it is primarily a political or economic question. Amos and all other Scripture rightly gets at "the focus of infection," which is sin. Sin in the heart leads to sinful actions, and these inevitably involve others, and bring about social problems. Let us learn from Amos to cure our social ills by bringing man to God.

I. Lamentation—in the Midst of Prosperity (v. 1).

From the little village of Tekoa and out of the wilderness in which he had been a herdsman came Amos, the man of God, to hurl his prophecy of disaster upon the heads of the complacent people of Israel, and to take up a lamentation over those in Israel living in luxury and prosperity.

True it was that the common people were being ground under the heel of cruel oppression, but who cared about the poor as long as they could be squeezed for taxes to support the luxurious comforts and pleasures of the rich? A prosperity which does not reach the homes of the poor is not a real prosperity at all. When in addition thereto it encourages the "haves" to oppress the "have-nots" it becomes a grave danger, a real cause for lamentation.

II. The Reason—Sin Which Hates Reproof (vv. 10-13).

Sin is always a horrible thing, but when men who have fallen into sin are responsive to correction and ready to repent and forsake their sin, there is hope. The thing which made Israel's state so serious in the sight of God and of His prophet was that they had only hatred for those who were bold enough to reprove them or to live among them according to God's standards (vv. 10, 13). "They who will endure no criticism have slammed the door in the face of truth. When we get to the place where we cannot endure having our faults pointed out, we are on the way to moral collapse" (Douglass). The sin which had thus hardened their hearts showed itself in social inequality and injustice which was built upon greed, oppression, corruption in the courts, etc. The shocking picture which Amos paints bears a surprising similarity to conditions in our world today. Let us face the problem and seek its solution.

III. The Cure—Seek Good Not Evil (vv. 14, 15).

God's Word condemns sin, but it always presents a remedy. In Christ we have the perfect, final, and complete answer to the sin question. Amos, speaking centuries before Christ, admonished Israel to repent and to turn away from the evil which they had cultivated with such assiduity and to be equally zealous about doing good, in the hope that "it may be that the Lord God of hosts will be gracious" (v. 15). How favored we are to be permitted not only to urge people to turn from evil to good, but to offer them the One who is the way, the truth, and the life.

Israel did not repent, but in folly depended on their religious ceremonies to satisfy an offended God. The prophet therefore declares that

IV. Religion Is Not a Substitute for Justice (vv. 21-24).

God had no pleasure in their religious observances and rites, because they were presented with unrepentant hearts and by hands which were soiled by the oppression of their fellow man.

Mark it well, God has no delight in the attendance upon church services, beautiful though they may be, does not listen to the sweet strains of sacred music, nor does He accept the rich "offerings" of those who live in unrepentant sin and who pay for magnificent church buildings and beautiful church services with money gotten by crooked dealings and social injustice. God is righteous and God's Word always cuts right through the hypocrisy of men. Let us heed the plea of Amos, that righteousness should run through our personal and national life "as a mighty stream," and then we shall be ready both as individuals and as a people to worship Him aright.

A Gracious Lord

His work is honorable and glorious; and his righteousness endureth forever. He hath made his wonderful works to be remembered; the Lord is gracious and full of compassion.—Psalm 111:3-4.

ROMAN EMPIRE AND U. S. A.

The following appeared in the current number of the New Age, the official publication of the Southern Jurisdiction of Scottish Rite Masonry. It is food for thought.

"Edward Gibbon, in the 'Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire,' gave five reasons for the collapse of that civilization which plunged the world into the Dark Ages. It was a great empire, perhaps the greatest the world has ever known, when the genius of the Caesars picked up the jig-saw puzzle which Alexander the Great had left, and made a Roman Empire. It was the first time the world had unity based upon law and not merely upon force. Wherever the Roman legions went they made roads, they set up courts; and to this day their jurisprudence is a precious legacy of our race.

"Why did the Roman Empire collapse?"
"First, the rapid increase of divorce; the undermining of the dignity and sanctity of the home, which is the basis of human society.

"Second, higher and higher taxes and the spending of public money for bread and circuses.

"Third, the mad craze for pleasure; sport becoming every year more exciting and more brutal.

"Fourth, the building of gigantic armaments when the real enemy was within, in the decadence of the people.

"Fifth, the decay of religion, faith fading into mere form, losing touch with life and becoming impotent to guide it."

This looks like a picture of our day. Should we not do something about it?

THE CHRISTIAN AND THE SABBATH

W. B. Conn, Pastor Florence Methodist Church

However optimistic we may be, however confident of the ultimate triumph of good over evil, we still must face the fact that the answer is not yet applied. Somewhere along the way we have missed our mark, and the result has been a decline in all activities that center themselves in the realm of altruism. Nicholas Murray Butler is credited with saying, that the weakness of our educational system is, that in neglecting the phase of life that deals with ethics, morals and religion, we have depleted our personalities of its resources.

Whether or not this analysis is correct, and we believe it is, the evidence is that something has made our spiritual life sing to a low ebb. There are in the United States 87,000,000 people over 13 years of age. Of this number there are 52,000,000 who are on the rolls of the church. All the social degradation in our land exists in spite of the fact that approximately 60 percent are professed followers of Jesus Christ. The writer does not believe that these professed Christians are deceivers. He thinks that an insignificant proportion are really hypocritical. There is no escape from the fact that a vast majority of them are spiritually irresponsible to God and to spiritual realities. Our souls to the higher things. Our one hope of happiness here or, hereafter, lies in our personal responses to God. This is basic in every ideological concept of the church. It was and is basic in the concept of God himself, even from the beginning. If, then, we permit our souls to become deadened and unresponsive to Him, how shall we hope for an abundant life?

In keeping with His own idea of necessity of man, for man's own welfare, God ordained one day that was hallowed and sanctified, for man's spiritual health. Jesus denied that the purpose of the Sabbath was to control conduct, as its primary motive, the control of conduct, though necessary, was a means to an end, and that end was the life of man himself. The Sabbath was made for men, and not man for the Sabbath." Mk. 2:27.

Our responses are trained responses naturally, and though we can't always control or command new responses, we can make desired responses inevitable by training our whole being to respond, finally. A person cannot make himself, suddenly able to operate her automobile in heavy traffic without excitement, but after continual training, one is able to make the proper responses without strain or stress.

Here is one secret of our spiritual stagnation. We have neglected to condition ourselves to respond harmoniously to Him who is Spirit. We have not taken advantage of the opportunity God has given us in the creation of the Sabbath, that we may deliberately turn our attention away from the superficial and the sordid, and saturate our minds and souls with the thoughts of spiritual things. When Jesus rebuked Peter on one occasion He rebuked him in this manner: "Get behind me, Satan, you are a hindrance to me, because your thoughts are not God's thoughts, but man's." Is not this our transgression also? Are we not thinking like men and not like God would think, under the same circumstances?

It behooves us, who call ourselves Christians, to re-think our customs of using the Sabbath, as it is the day when we may turn from all else, to learn to think like God would think, and to respond to Him. We believe and are sure, that no life is knowing its fullest measure until it has learned to enter reverently into a place of worship on the Sabbath day, and to leave saying within himself: "There is a place of quiet rest, near to the heart of God, a place where sin cannot molest, near to the heart of God."

THE LIQUOR EVIL

(By C. J. Alford)

Pastor Walton Baptist Church

There are many evils that threaten the foundations of our most sacred institutions . . . that is . . . the government, the church, and the home. One of the outstanding evils is that of liquor. When anyone starts seriously to care for the souls of people, he is compelled to go on to care about the social situation, therefore, we cannot allow present conditions to prevail without raising our protest. We shall not give up the fight against the selfish and greedy liquor interest.

They made many promises to a bewildered people in the midst of a panic and depression that swept over our country. We were told that they would do away with the bootlegger and moonshiner, but we have an increase in this field. They promised to solve the unemployment problem, but at the present we have more than 10,000,000 unemployed people. They promised to decrease taxes and balance the budget; neither of these have been done. They promised less drinking and fewer drunks but they have more to drink, more drinking and more drunks.

Why are the liquor interests spending more than $16,000,000 in advertising their wares? Why are the brewers spending many times more? I'll tell you why . . . They expect to reap a large harvest of our young men and women who will consume their liquor, beer and wine. Youth is encouraged to drink. They are told that it is a smart and clever thing to do, but we are told in God's Holy Book, Prov. 23:29-31, "Who hath woe? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contentions? Who hath babbings? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine, they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not upon the wine when it is red for at least it is like a serpent and stingeth like an adder."

This poem was written by a life convict in prison at joliet:

"The Bar"

The saloon is sometimes called a Bar . . . that's true; A Bar to heaven, a door to hell; Whoever named it named it well. A Bar to manliness and wealth, A door to want and broken health. A Bar to honored, useful life, A door to brawling, senseless strife. A Bar to all that is true and brave, A door to every drunkard's grave. A Bar to joys that homes impart A door to tears and broken hearts. A Bar to Heaven, a door to Hell, Whoever named it, named it well.

In Kentucky eighty-one counties have voted on the local option issue. Others will vote in the near future. Fifty-six of the eighty-one voted dry.

Evangeline Booth has well said that "Drink has drained more blood, hung more crepe, sold more homes, plunged more people into bankruptcy, snapped more wedding rings, broken more hearts and dug more graves than any other poisoned scourge that ever swept its death-dealing waves across the world." May we all be much concerned about this deadly evil.

Christian Character

enable the Christian to do Christ's work, and to make the Christian like Christ. Christian character is THE FRUIT OF THE SPIRIT. The fruit develops in proportion to our yieldedness, as so beautifully expressed in the lines:

"Have Thine own way, Lord, Have Thine own way; Thou art the Potter, I am the clay. Mold me and make me, After Thy will; While I am waiting, Yielded and still." We need to remember that salvation past, present and future, is all of grace, through faith. It is God's grace that saves at the very first. It is God's grace that saves all along the way. But as God does not save us at the first apart from our faith, neither does He develop character in us or growth in grace and knowledge, save through faith. In the beginning the Christian responds to the conviction of the Holy Spirit, repenting of sin and believing in Christ, and he is born again. It is just as necessary to respond to the Holy Spirit all along the way in order to grow as a Christian. Else we remain babes in Christ.

Christian Character and Kingdom Extension

There is a great tendency among Christians to look too much away from themselves, and to think that they are to be good to their fellowman, by bustling efforts, bearing directly upon them, without the light of a high and consistent and unsullied example of holiness. "We are the salt of the earth," said Jesus, and the metaphor seems to imply that Christianity is to influence mankind, not so much by its outward and open triumphs in the world, as by the silent and the unseen, and yet more powerful operation of its principles in the hearts and lives of its professors. Oh, that we could realize that the best way to extend the kingdom of our God is to exemplify its principles.

THIS IS EXACTLY WHAT THE PREACHERS OF BOONE COUNTY ARE PLEADING FOR. THIS IS THE MEANING OF THE MORAL CRUSADE. WE ARE STRIVING TO STIR UP THE MINDS OF THE CHRISTIAN PEOPLE TO LIVE CHRIST THAT OTHERS MAY COME TO KNOW HIM. IT IS THE ONLY WAY THAT WE CAN ACCOMPLISH THIS OBJECTIVE.

O fellow Christians, we need a revival of Christian living. Our age needs it as no other ever did. And when that revival comes, and we verily believe that it is near, then we shall reap a glorious harvest. Let's begin it now. Let's begin it now. Let's begin right here in Boone County. Let's begin by falling on our knees, confessing our sins, forsaking our wicked ways, yielding our all to God. Let's begin it by faithful attendance upon the preaching of the gospel.

Let's begin it by faithful contributions to the Lord's work. Let's begin it by having family altars. Let's get back to apostolic living and we will have apostolic power. God grant it! Amen and Amen!

THE BOONE COUNTY RECORD

ESTABLISHED 1875

BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1940

VOLUME 64

NUMBER 45

FIRE DESTROYS OUTBUILDINGS

ON FARM OF ELMORE RYLE SATURDAY AFTERNOON—SEVERAL GRASS FIRES IN COUNTY REPORTED.

Fire destroyed the poultry and meat house of Elmore Ryle, on his farm seven miles east of Burlington, off the East Bend Road, Saturday.

A spark from a rubbish fire, which Mrs. Ryle had started, ignited the shingle roof of the meat house, causing the fire. Loss was estimated at $400.00.

Several people who were attending the Pope sale, formed a bucket brigade to extinguish the blaze.

Several grass fires throughout the county have been reported to this office during the past week, which have caused considerable loss.

Last Saturday a grass fire starting on the farm of Jacob Van Velzel, and spreading to the farm of Arthur Jones was reported to have caused considerable damage, burning over approximately 300 or 400 acres of ground. Three hay stacks and a large amount of fence posts were destroyed by the blaze. These farms are located on the East Bend road.

The Hebron fire department was called and arrived on the scene eight minutes after receiving the call. These boys deserve much credit for their splendid work and brought the fire under control a short time after their arrival.

Elmore Ryle Honored At Eastern State Teachers College

The record of Elmore Ryle, Burlington boy who is a student of Eastern State College, Richmond, ranks high according to releases from the publicity department of that institution. Young Ryle is president of the following organizations: Alpha Zeta Kappa, public speaking organization; Christian Endeavor, and the sophomore class (now a junior).

He is also a prominent member of the Y. M. C. A., Future Teachers of America, and the Social Science Club, and is key man on Eastern's outstanding debate club which has a bright record against such competition as University of Kentucky, Asbury, Georgetown, Kentucky Wesleyan, Harvard and Kalamazoo Teachers.

In the next three weeks Ryle will have part in three assembly programs appearing with social science club, division of languages, and in the Regents Oratorical Contest. He was winner of the Regents medal last year, one of the most coveted awards given at Eastern.

He was a graduate of the local high school in 1936.

The sale of personal property of Mrs. Carrie Botz, which was postponed, will be held Saturday, April 13th at Petersburg, it was announced this week.

4-H CLUB PLANS COLT SHOW

AT BOONE COUNTY 4-H FREE FAIR—ANY REGULAR ENROLLED 4-H MEMBER WILL BE ELIGIBLE TO ENTER.

The Boone County 4-H Club Council is planning to add a 4-H colt show to the list of attractions at the County 4-H Free Fair, according to H. B. Drake, Assistant County Agent. This decision was reached because of increased interest shown in the colt project by 4-H club members.

Any regularly enrolled 4-H club member will be eligible to participate in the show if he has a 4-H colt project started by June 1st or at the date of birth of the colt. It will not be necessary for the club member to own the dam of the colt. A complete written project record will be expected as a condition for eligibility. In all cases the 4-H member should inform the county agent's office of his intention to participate in this project before June 1st.

Thieves Loot Meat House Of Kirkpatrick Store Wednesday

Thieves broke into the meat house of W. L. Kirkpatrick's store Wednesday night or early Thursday morning of last week, taking several hams and three sides. The exact amount of meat stolen was unknown, due to the fact that a considerable amount was being smoked in this room.

The thieves made their entrance by breaking a lock on the door, and left no trace as to their identity.

Girls Of Room Improvement Project To Be Visited April 16

Four-H club girls enrolled in the Room Improvement project will be visited next Tuesday, April 16th. Miss May Hutchinson, specialist in Junior Home Economics, University of Kentucky, and Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent, will score the room of each girl enrolled in the project. The majority of work by the girls will start after completion of the spring term of schools.

Plans have been made for the completion of the project by the time of the 4-H and Utopia Club County Fair, the latter part of August.

Mrs. Hickey, 68, died Wednesday at her home following an illness of three months. She was a member of the Erlanger Christian Church.

She leaves her husband, Joseph Hickey, retired Erlanger dairy operator; three daughters, Mrs. C. F. Adams, Mrs. Jacob Hopkins and Mrs. Paul Perkins, all of Erlanger; two sons, George Hickey, Erlanger, and Bruce Hickey, of Boone county and 17 grandchildren.

WELL KNOWN COVINGTON FIRM MOVES TO NEW BUILDING

The Penn Optical Company and Duane Jewelers have moved from 717 Madison Ave. to 8 East Eighth St., Covington. "Good glasses at reasonable prices" is the slogan of the former company, and the latter does watch, clock and jewelry repairing.

The two enterprises are owned by C. E. Duane and J. H. Duane, both of whom have been in the jewelry business for 35 years. They were located at 717 Madison Ave. for more than 10 years.

Attractive Kitchens Studied By Homemakers

Homemakers consider convenience first and beauty second when planning their kitchen. Leaders representing thirteen Homemakers' Clubs of Boone County, met last week to study ways of making a kitchen attractive. This was the fifth in a series of six leader's classes being held on "The Modern Kitchen" project.

The group felt that the use of cool and warm colors was important for the food center of the home. Many new ideas for wall finishes, floor covering, cabinets and curtains were given by Miss Hagman, Home Improvement specialist University of Kentucky. The lesson on "Attractive Kitchens" will be given in local clubs during April, according to Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent.

MRS. SAM SLEET TO PRESIDE

AT DISTRICT MEETING TO BE HELD IN LEXINGTON BY FEDERATION OF HOMEMAKERS, APRIL 30TH.

Mrs. Sam Sleet, chairman of the Bluegrass District Federation of Homemakers, will preside at the meeting in Lexington, April 30th. Plans for the District Program have been announced according to Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent. Local Homemakers representing each of the fourteen clubs of Boone County are planning to attend the all-day meeting to be held at Memorial Hall on the University of Kentucky campus.

Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton, lecturer and author, will be the principal speaker. Mrs. Overton's subject will be "Women in Today's World." During the past three years, Mrs. Overton has been called to Kentucky several times by church groups and clubs to discuss her special field, which is sociology and religion. In January she lectured before the women's session of the Farm and Home Convention.

Mrs. H. L. Crafton, Henderson, State president of the Federation will be on the program.

An account of the meeting of the Associated Country Women of the World in London will be given by Mrs. T. M. Johnson, former president of the Kentucky Federation. Special music will be furnished by Homemakers.

Boone County Homemakers have chartered special buses to take them to Lexington. Anyone wanting bus or luncheon reservations are asked to get in touch with Mary Hood Gillespie by April 22nd.

How To Be Happy—Though Married, Is Subject Of Sermon

On next Sunday, April 14, at 7:30 o'clock Rev. R. Lee James, pastor, will speak at the Burlington Baptist Church on "How to Be Happy—Though Married, Is Subject Of Sermon."

A special invitation is given all married couples to attend this service. A present will be given to the couple that has been married the longest; also a present will be given to the couple most recently married.

An enjoyable and profitable evening is promised to all. This service is one of ten special Sunday evening services of a Ten-Week Loyalty Campaign. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Ninety-Five 4-H Girls Enrolled In Foods Project

The art of planning and cooking meals is being practiced by 4-H club girls in Boone County. Seven 4-H clubs have a total of 95 girls enrolled in the food project, according to Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent, at the 4-H leader's conference last Saturday.

Menu planning and the preparation of food is practiced at weekly meetings held by the clubs at the local schools. Scrapbooks are being made in most of the clubs. Each club plans to have a supper or tea as the final group meeting for the year.

Local leaders meet with the foods project group. Following is a list of adult foods leaders:

Burlington Blue Ribbon Club, Mrs. Margaret Stephens. Florence K-L All Club—Mrs. Orville Wilford and Mrs. Lillian Schram.

Major Projects Are Discussed By Homemakers Advisory Council

Home Improvement projects were voted most popular by the Advisory Council at a meeting held last week in Burlington. Clothing and foods major projects were placed second and third respectively.

The council decided to ask each local Home-maker at meetings in April to state what work they would like in Home Improvement for the new year beginning September 1st.

Mrs. George Kotzmyer, president of the Boone County Homemakers, presided at the council meeting, attended by representatives of the census takers this week.

Each of the county project chairman that each local president appoint a citizenship chairman during April.

Miss Lullie Logan, Assistant State Leader of Home Demonstration Agents, told the council about the district meeting to be held in Lexington April 30th.

May 6th was set for the date of the next Advisory Council meeting, according to Mary Hood Gillespie, Home Demonstration Agent.

FSA FARMERS BOOST INCOME

23 PERCENT—BUYING POWER OF BORROWERS IN KENTUCKY INCREASED $1,164,709 BY PROGRAM.

Kentucky Farm Security Administration borrowers boosted their income last year 23 percent, according to results of a survey released by County FSA Supervisor, W. O. Blackburn, Independence, Ky.

The survey which includes progress figures from the forty-five borrowers in Boone County as well as other Kentucky counties, shows a total income increase for this year before they came on the FSA program. The figures applied to the 9,614 Kentucky farm families who got standard rehabilitation loans last year.

The survey shows that the same families have increased their net worth over and above what they owe—$3,262,414 or 25 percent.

"These figures represent a favorable expansion in purchasing power," said Blackburn. "FSA borrowers produced $3,273,068 worth of goods for home consumption last year, as compared with only $2,585,878 worth before they came into the program. Live-at-home production this past year included 2,834,428 quarts of canned fruits and vegetables, or 274 quarts per family; 5,403,454 gallons of milk, or 562 gallons per family; 92,679 tons of forage, on nearly 10 tons per family; and a great quantity of other food and feed supplies."

Some 2,800 tenants and share-croppers in the state improved their tenure, or leasing arrangements—1,885 tenants obtained written leases in place of verbal agreements. 131 share-croppers have advanced to tenant status; and 157 tenants have bought farms of their own under FSA's gradually expanding Bankhead-Jones tenant purchase program. The figures show that the farm purchase loans for the present year but money is available this year for 224 more of these loans in Kentucky, it was pointed out.

Kentucky farmers the first of the year already had paid back $1,242,706 of the $3,935,972 borrowed. The survey shows, although much of the money loaned does not fall due for four or five years and all loaned in the first place to families unable to get adequate credit elsewhere.

Grants in this state, made only to a few families in extreme need and to get them off to a sound start, averaged 35.69 per family, and this figure covers a four-year period, it was pointed out.

Sarah Alice Craddock

Mrs. Sarah Alice Craddock, passed away at her home near Burlington, Tuesday, April 9th following several weeks' illness. The body was removed to Chambers & Grubbs funeral home for preparation and returned to the home Wednesday morning.

She is survived by her husband, one son, one daughter and one sister, besides a host of other relatives who will mourn her passing.

Funeral services will be held today (Thursday) at 2:00 p. m. at the Burlington Baptist Church, of which she was a member. Burial will be in Burlington cemetery.

Chambers & Grubbs, Walton funeral directors were in charge of arrangements.

Judge N. E. Riddell will leave next week for Indiana where he will spend sometime fishing. We expect to hear from the Judge telling about some of the larger catches.

Twelve Enumerators Working In Boone Co.

Citizens of Boone county are answering the numerous questions of the census takers this week. The enumerators for this county are as follows:

Mrs. Wilbur H. Bodie, Union, Ky. Miss Mary E. Burcham, Grant; Mrs. Martha J. Carpenter, Walton; Mrs. Iva P. Belknap, Union; Mr. Carvin Goodridge, Hebron; Mrs. Ruth B. Hall, Walton; Mrs. Sarah C. Dr. George Sperti Returns From Very Successful Fishing Trip

Dr. George Sperti, noted scientist and incidentally a farmer of near Burlington, has just returned from a fishing trip off the coast of Fort Lauderdale, Florida. He, in company with his friend, Dr. F. G. Puzo, caught 1,000 pounds of kingfish in 6 hours. The exceptional catch caused wide comment along the east coast of Florida.

Dr. Sperti admitted that it was great fun, but at the end of the day he was thoroughly fatigued. He said that he will confine his fishing to Gunpowder Creek this summer.

Chiplew-Sullivan

Mr. Cassius Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cad Sullivan, Burlington, and Miss Alberta Chiplew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chiplew, Burlington, were quietly united in marriage at the home of Rev. R. H. Carter, Edgewood, Saturday evening at 6:00 p. m.

They were accompanied by Mr. Russell Loomis, Miss Corinne Williams, Mr. Wm. Sullivan and Miss Dorothy Aylor.

After the ceremony the party enjoyed lunch at Doc's Place, Dixie Highway and from there to Cincinnati for an excursion on the Island Queen.

The young couple will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Cad Sullivan for the present.

G. S. Kelly Appointed Representative Of Mutual Fire Ins. Co.

Galen S. Kelly, assistant cashier of the Peoples Deposit Bank, Burlington, has been appointed as representative of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York.

It was announced by Roger Bourland, District Manager this week. If you have any insurance problems Mr. Kelly will be glad to advise you on any changes or deficiencies that may arise in connection with the policies of this company.

Grover C. Jett

Grover Cleveland Jett, died at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richardson, Erlanger County, Tuesday. Funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at 11 a. m. at the Richardson home, with interment in Independence cemetery. Chambers & Grubbs are in charge of funeral arrangements.

Fitz Harris Farm To Be Sold At Auction

Walter Whitson has contracted Rel C. Wayman, Covington, real estate agent, to sell his property at public auction Saturday, April 20, 1 p. m.

The property consists of 50 acres, two and one-half miles west of Walton, Ky., and two and one-half miles east of Beaver Lick, known as the Fitz Harris farm, four-room house, barn, chicken and meat houses; mostly in grass, and with a tobacco base.

A store room and three garages on North Main street, Walton, now occupied by the Simpson & Johnson feed store and coal yard, will be sold at 3 p. m. the same day. Prizes will be awarded and Col. Rome Kinman will be the auctioneer.

The county committee on livestock marketing problems appointed for 1940 consists of S. B. Scott, Reuben Kirtley, J. C. Bedinger, E. J. Aylor, Albert Parker, W. A. Brown, F. L. McGlasson, Edgar Graves, S. D. Ransom, J. J. Klopp, Vernon Scott, H. E. White, C. L. Tanner, Albert Willis, S. S. Brantow, Wm. Ryle, and J. O. Pennington.

450 BOB WHITE QUAIL PLANTED

IN BOONE COUNTY LAST SATURDAY—ALL BIRDS WERE NATIVE BOB WHITES—DAY IS IDEAL.

Four hundred fifty native Bob White quail were distributed in the various precincts of Boone County last Saturday. The birds were hatched in the Butler and Shelbyville hatcheries.

Courtney Kelly, chairman of the distribution committee conveyed the birds from Butler to Burlington by truck, where the various precinct committeemen called for their allotment.

Every precinct committeemen with the exception of one called for their birds. Each committeemen distributed the birds in his community, placing them where applications had been made and on farms that were open for legal hunting.

The day was ideal for the planting of the birds, and sportsmen throughout the county were highly pleased with the fine condition the birds were in upon their arrival. They were very healthy and fairly large in size. Plantings were made in one and two pairs.

There is little doubt that these birds will live, and multiply. With a favorable season and the supply left from last year, this county should be well stocked with birds on opening day this year.

Farmers and landowners throughout the county are asked to cooperate with the club and the local conservation officer. If at any time you should see anyone hunting on your property out of season you are asked to call either Edwin Johnson, Walton or Linnie Busby, Florence, who will investigate the matter at once.

Walton Man Takes 5-Pound Bass From Walton Reservoir

Ward Rice, Walton, took a 5½ pound bass from the Walton reservoir Sunday afternoon, it was reported Monday by Edwin Johnson, State conservation officer.

Mr. Johnson also reported that another bass, weighing 5½ pounds was caught by a Cincinnati man. Both fish were taken during the afternoon.

Anglers from all sections of Northern Kentucky have flocked to the Walton reservoir, and many fine catches have been reported since the opening, April 1st. The lake is stocked with bass, bream, newlights, and channel cats.

Music Leaders Attend Training Class Here

Music leaders representing Boone County and 4-H clubs attended a training class last week in Burlington. Techniques of directing group singing were discussed by Miss Florence Catadoris, music specialist from the University of Kentucky. She told how to direct a group in part singing.

The sixth and last in the series of training classes will be held May 7th.

879 FARMERS SIGN ACP PLANS

FOUR HUNDRED AND FORTY-ONE ADDITIONAL FARMS ARE ELIGIBLE TO SIGN BEFORE APRIL 15TH.

Eight hundred and seventy-nine farmers signed 1940 Agricultural Farm Plans through last Saturday, April 6th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Four hundred and forty-one additional farms are eligible to sign before April 15th, and receive benefit payments under the program.

The County and Community Committees met at Burlington Tuesday morning and advised that farmers who have not signed must do so by next Monday, April 15th, or lose the benefits to be derived from the program. They ordered a final notice mailed all unsigned cooperators.

Farmers are rendering splendid cooperation within the program. All farmers are interested in their soil-building practices and practically every farmer has completed plans for saving 100 percent of his soil-building allowance.
